Executive Manager Of Chamber Resigns

E. CHARLES ALFT

E. Charles Alft last week resigned as executive manager of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce.

Alft's resignation, submitted Aug. 2, was officially accepted by the chamber board at a meeting Friday.

Eager to dispel any rumors of friction between himself and the board, Alft tagged his move a "friendly separation" and an "amicable understanding between the board and myself."

"I love the people," he added, "I love everybody there. My heart has been in Arlington Heights for a number of years and remains there still."

FOLLOWING THE meeting Friday, the board issued a brief prepared statement which said, "It is with great regret that the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors announce that E. (Chuck) Alft has tendered his resignation as executive manager."

The statement also said a commitee had been appointed to interview applicants to replace Alft.

Alft's resignation became effective Monday.

Though the resignation was filed early last week, the board put off action on it until Friday. On the day the resignation was received, board members met, reportedly to consider the matter, but Robert Walters, board president said the session was informal.

THERE WERE some reports after that meeting indicating Alft had withdrawn his resignation. However, the reports proved to be false when the board's action was announced.

Alft, 68, has served as executive manager of the chamber since July, 1963. He terminated his retirement to take the position.

Formerly, he had been a freelance market researcher and analyst. He also worked for 10 years as manager of sales education at the Hotpoint Co.

Record Rains Deluged Village Sewer System

Flooded basements during the July 27 rainstorm were due to a number of factors, say Arlington Heights village engineers.

Following the rainstorm with its consequent rash of flooded basements, engineers conducted a study to determine the cause of the flooding.

L. A. Hanson, village manager, referring to the engineers' report, said that the primary problem was volume of water that had to be carried. The rainstorm, he said, was one such as could be expected about once in 10 years. The village sewers are not adequate to carry the runoff from such a downpour.

AT THE TIME the bond issue on the sewers was passed, Hanson said, this problem was brought up. It was decided, he continued, that it would not be economical to build sewers to carry so much storm water when rain storms of this magnitude are so infrequent.

However, the flooding was not due entirely to the inadequacy of the sewer system.

In some cases, Hanson said, water pipes were hooked into the sewer system illegally. This added an unplanned volume of water to enter the system.

The flooding of Weller Creek caused further complications. The flooded creek built up pressure on the outside of the water gates that normally open to allow the sewers to drain. The pressure kept the gates closed and also trapped the water in the sewer.

Hanson said that in many individual cases the storm problem was increased by water running from downspouts on buildings into the sewer. He said that a home might have as many as six downspouts, each six inches in diameter. The water from all of them was pouring into the six-inch sewer pipe. It was only natural, he said, for the water to end up in the basement.

HANSON SAID that homeowners with downspouts that are connected to the sewer system might find that disconnecting these pipes from the system would alleviate their individual basement flooding problem.

In answer to questions about flooded sanitary sewers, Hanson said that in the older parts of town the storm and sanitary sewers are combined.

"To separate the two," he said, "would cost an astronomical amount."

BUILDING A CIRCUS TENT IS quite an ordeal, especially when you have to read 10 books just to earn the parts, but that's what about 1700 Arlington Heights youngsters are trying to do. Here Erin Williams, 834 N. Patton Ave., Linda Hawkins (a library staff member), 721 S. Chestnut Ave., and Chris Marquis, 824 N. District 214 Security Force May Set Suburban Precedent

by MARY SCHLOTT
Staff Writer

A school in another state is High School District 214's closest model in planning to draw a school safety force from village police ranks.

Flint, Mich., which will send two men here for a special 7:30 p.m. District 214 board meeting Monday on the safety officer question, is that model.

A check of five comparable suburban school districts—Evanston, Glenbrook, Niles, New Trier and Maine — shows that none of them has security forces quite like that proposed for here.

In the Flint, Mich., school system, regular police officers in the schools as part of a counseling team bent on catching delinquency in its early stage. Wearing street clothes but carrying guns and handcuffs, the policemen start their work in junior high and emphasize counseling rather than strict supervision.

NONE OF FIVE north suburban school systems queried this week by Paddock Publications takes quite that approach, either with manning the force or utilizing it.

Two of the five schools—Glenbrook and Niles—have no daytime security force at all.

The other three hire their own security men directly. Only one — New Trier's — has men with some police powers and that is, in general, regarding traffic.

A school official at Glenbrook, in the Glenview area, admitted that he was watching with interest District 214's plans for having village policemen stationed in the schools.

He said that lower administrative officials consider Glenbrook to be "a year or two" away from needing a similar security force.

A SPOKESMAN at Niles Township Community School District 219 said that the school hires municipal policemen to help supervise special events at the schools. Other than that, the spokesman stressed, "we have never felt the need."

Arlington Heights Police Chief L. W. Calderwood had previous experience in Evanston in working with school-police forces. His support of District 214's proposal for school safety officers, based on his Evanston days, has favorably influenced both village and District 214 personnel.

E. J. Scott, Evanston school system's business manager, says that Evanston hires retired police officers as safety officers. Carried directly on the Evanston school payroll and responsible to the school, they still maintain good rapport with the Evanston police because of past friendships and knowledge of police ways.

Evanston's two daytime men supervise parking, handle accidents, help keep student behavior "in line" during the noon period, and are the contact with the police force regarding youngsters who are in trouble.

Erwin Weingartner, new dean of students at New Trier East, says the North Shore school district handles its safety problems in two ways. Uniformed non-certificated employees, given some police training, handle traffic control around the buildings.

ANOTHER MAN, assigned to patrol corridors and assist in keeping order, has some broader police powers, Weingartner said, "This has been reasonably satisfactory," the New Trier official stated.

A Maine Township school official described their security force as consisting of three men, one in each school, paid by the school and with some previous police experience. They assist with traffic control, act as couriers for school officials, but have few duties within the buildings.

Officials in the three schools having safety officers stressed the need for choosing "the right kind of man."

"The man is the key to the whole thing," said Evanston's Scott. He must get along with young people and know how to handle them."

SCHOOL DISTRICT 214 has stressed the need for continued good communication with local police forces as one of the key reasons for going to a security force drawn from municipal ranks.

The need for such rapport, was stressed, too, by the suburban school officials queried. Just one — New Trier — has close-to-official links between their school system and the local force, in this case Winnetka. All three school systems' officials, however, said they thought communication between their administration and the police was satisfactory. So did school officials at Niles and Glenbrook, which have no security forces at this time.

Museum Campaign In Seventh Week

Ice tongs and documents, old letters and books, rockers and lamps and a thousand more things. . .these are a few of our favorite things.

But, although Arlington Heights has a large number of "favorite things," the fact that there is as yet no place to house them haunts members of the historical society.

Monday the society's board of directors met to discuss "dreams and hopes and could we this and could we that." The directors took a practical look at their alternatives in going ahead with the museum project.

THEY ADJOURNED with a big "go ahead" sign for the fund drive and the realization that their role in directing it will be practical as well as historical.

The drive to raise the $40,000 needed to carry out the proposed project of restoring the 95-year-old Heller home which now stands at 514 N. Dunton Ave. on the library site, enters its sixth week tomorrow. Total funds on deposit Tuesday were reported by treasurer Melvin L. Kurtz to be $3,485.

Virgil Horath, chairman of the "Friends of a Museum for Arlington Heights," a special fund raising group donated $1,000 to the drive last week. His donation was accompanied by the statement, "I made my living in Arlington Heights for over 30 years. So the people of Arlington Heights have been kind to me.

Defend Change In Boundaries

by NANCY BENCO
Staff Writer

Elementary School District 25 took its first courtroom action Tuesday to counter a law suit challenging revised school-attendance boundaries set earlier this year by the board of education.

The action came in the form of a motion to dismiss the suit sponsored by the Prospect Meadow Home Owners Association and filed in the name of Richard Mateja of 629 Bob-o-Link Road, Mount Prospect. Mateja is registered as the plaintiff in the case because only a citizen has legal standing in such a suit.

Three school board members and District 25 Supt. Ralph Clabaugh were in court Tuesday to hear their attorneys answer the suit charges.

Their stay was short. Attorneys for both sides agreed with Judge Daniel A. Cavelli's postponing the case until next Thursday, when Judge John J. Lupe—who was originally assigned the case — can hear it.

PRESUMABLY, Judge Lupe's first action next Thursday will be to rule on a motion to dismiss filed for the school board by their attorney, Charles Franke of Norman, Englehardt, Zimmermann, Franke and Lauritzen.

Franke's answer to the parents' suit cites the school code as giving the school board broad discretionary powers regarding redistricting.

The response asserts, "If the action taken is legal, the reason that may have motivated the act does not convert the action taken from legal to illegal."

The Prospect Meadows group's suit called the board's actions "arbitrary," "capricious" and "prejudicial." It charged that the transfers showed prejudice against the residents because their area lies outside Arlington Heights boundaries.

The suit further charged that the bussing of Prospect Meadows children to North School was being done in order to make it possible for St. James parochial students to be bussed free.

THE ANSWER filed by Franke refers to the parochial bussing issue only once. The response states, "It is not arbitrary, capricious or discriminatory for a school board to set up a bus route for transporting public school students that will at the same time provide transportation for Catholic school children free of charge."

Supt Clabaugh said Tuesday that the administration of Dist. 25 was "surprised" at the suit.

"We realize that the people who filed the suit were sincere in their attitude," he said. "We were surprised at some of the accusations in the charge."

He pointed out that the school board recommendation for children to attend North School was approved before it had heard from parochial families to bus their children.

"The action was taken by the administration as a means of equalizing classroom size in the district and for no other reason," he continued.

CLABAUGH SAID that, in addition to a public hearing in June, he personally met with Mrs. Mateja to show her the school board's reasons for making its decision of boundary changes. He said that board president Harold Sortor wrote a letter to Mrs. Mateja inviting her to meet with him for further discussion pertaining to the matter.

The Prospect Meadows suit charges District 25 with acting in an "arbitrary and capricious" manner by refusing to give sufficient information to explain its decision to reassign the Prospect Meadows children to North School.

Andrew Leahy, attorney for Mateja, said Tuesday, his clients would like to see the case resolved before Labor Day. He said that otherwise, if the suit were ruled in their favor, children would have to be transferred from one school to another in the school year.

Mrs. Mateja says reaction to the suit within her neighborhood has been mixed. The specific complaints included in the homeowner association-backed suit challenging the school system's right to transfer their children from Kensington School to North School were not known to most subdivision residents until publication Sunday in the Paddock Publications' Suburbanite.

APPROVAL of homeowner members to provide association budgeted funds for the legal action was given in June at a time when the final charges had not been firmed up by attorney Andrew Leahy.

Since the news of the suit was published, Mrs. Mateja has received some phone calls favoring the action and some phone calls that were sharply critical. Other committee members' telephone lines have also been kept busy.

Although 25 signatures of Wedgwood Terrace residents were among those filed with the school board in protest of the pupil transfer plan, support is not being given the suit by residents of that subdivision.

Some Prospect Meadows residents speculated the reason was because Wedgewood Terrace children had to cross both Rand Road and Kensington Roads to get to Kensington School and now will be bussed — probably improving their safety.

DIST. 25 school board members Monday night formally authorized Charles Franke to defend its case. No other comment from board members was made at that time.

Notice of the suit was served on the school board Monday.

The suit asks the court to restrain the board from enforcing its boundary-change resolution, to restrain it from transporting or assigning any Prospect Meadows pupils to North School, and to restrain the board from providing transportation to the St. James pupils.

Advisory Post For Bukowski

Robert Bukowski, a member of the Elementary District 25 school board, Monday was named to the advisory committee of the Tri-County Division of the Illinois Association of School Boards for 1966-67.

On a rotating basis an elementary school board in each high school district is asked to appoint a member to serve on the committee.

The organization serves 250 school boards in Cook, DuPage, and Lake counties.

CLEAR WATER—That's the way it should be. But some Arlington Heights residents lately have noticed their tap water was rather cloudy. The cloudiness is nothing to be alarmed about. It is merely caused by some air that has seeped into the village's water system because of low levels in reservoirs. (Staff photo)

Park District Approves A Decreased Tax Rate

The Arlington Heights Park Board Monday night approved a levy ordinance for 1966 that calls for a tax rate of 28.3 cents per $100 assessed valuation. This figure is 1.7 cents per $100 less than last year's assessment.

Park Supt. Thomas Thornton explained the rate is lower because the cost of a bond fund was included in last year's ordinance and there is none in this year's levy.

If a bond issue were to be passed this fall, the tax rate would probably go higher than last year's, he said.

THE TOTAL OF the levy ordinance passed by the board was $410,405.06.

The board also ratified Thornton's suggestion that $662.00 be expended for four basketball goals and two pair of tennis posts to be installed in the Volz Park game courts.

The park board spent the major portion of its meeting in executive session discussing land acquisition. Final facts but, according to Thornton, they should be made public at the next regular park board meeting.

Plans being discussed by the board involve two larger parks with swimming pools and a number of neighborhood parks. Some of these parks may be ready for use next summer.

The park board's plans may call for a bond issue some time this fall. (A

Murky Water Is Only Air

Arlington Heights residents alarmed because their tap water has been murky during the past two weeks can relax—it's only air.

There had been some concern among residents that the cloudy water might be unfit for consumption or might indicate a flaw in the homeowner's water system.

Public Works Supt. Gene Willroth, however, said this week the cloudiness was caused by air that had seeped into the village system because of heavy water usage.

VILLAGE MGR. L. A. Hanson explained that most of the water supply had cleared up.

"Now that we have the new sprinkling regulations we're not pushing so much water at one time and there is no problem," he said.

The sprinkling regulations were enacted two weeks ago after the village's elevated reservoir went dry because of overuse by residents.

Hanson said compliance with the regulations has generally been good. He indicated they probably would remain effective for the remainder of the summer.

Free Chest X-Rays Are Scheduled

Arlington Heights residents 18 years or older can get free chest x-rays beginning Monday.

Monday and Tuesday, the Christmas Seal mobile unit will be in front of the Ben Franklin Store, 9 W. Campbell St. X-raying will be from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday and from 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday.

WEDNESDAY through Friday the unit will be located in front of the Walgreen Drug store, 2 S. Dryden Ave. Hours are 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Wednesday, 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Thursday and 1:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Friday.

Mrs. Marie Coburn, village director of health services, urges all residents to get their annual chest x-ray while the mobile unit is at the two convenient locations.

The summer chest x-ray survey is a joint project of the Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitarium District and the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County. (A

Chesterfield Development Has Planners' Informal OK

Arlington Heights Plan Commission last week gave informal approval to a major portion of the revised plans of Chesterfield Builders' developm e n t on the far north side of the village.

Commission members favored the single family zoning (184.5 acres), business zoning (7.4 acres), multiple family use (82.4 acres), and public land dedication (25.8 acres). Commissioners okayed about 60 per cent of the 44.8 acres requested for two-family dwellings.

Chairman Harold Carlson emphasized that the voting was an indication of intent and was not final approval of the rezoning petition by the plan commission.

Because Chesterfield's new plans called for more intense use of land in certain areas, the builders will have to republish notice of the request and schedule another hearing.

HOWARD BORDE, attorney for Chesterfield, said Monday that the builders would meet later this week to decide on their next steps in regard to the development. He said no date had yet been slated for another hearing.

A relocation of the duplex zoning was one of the changes Chesterfield Builders presented to the commission last Wednesday. The duplex zoning was moved from the northwest side of the property to the east side bordering Buffalo Grove Road. The new plans also called for a reduction of four acres to 31 acres in the duplex zoning.

Borde said that the change in location of the duplexes would "create a transition from village (Arlington Heights) to village (Wheeling)."

The Wheeling Zoning Board of Appeals recently rezoned the property just east of Buffalo Grove Road from single family to a combination of apartment, commercial, and single family zoning.

At an earlier plan commission meeting, commissioners had questioned the builders' use of duplex housing along the northwest boundary, saying that it created an unnecessary buffer. The adjoining land is presently undeveloped farm property.

SINGLE FAMILY zoning is now indicated for the entire western half of the Chesterfield development north of Hintz Road. The builders are asking for multiple-family zoning for this 38-acre strip.

According to revised plans, the duplex zoning is concentrated along the eastern part of the property, bordering Buffalo Grove Road, with an extension west below the proposed park-school site. The duplex zoning is buffered to the south by apartment zoning, which encircles a small business zone at the corner of Hintz and Buffalo Grove Roads.

In the property south of Hintz Road, the revised plans show a zone of apartment houses in the northwest corner. The remainder of the property to the east is zoned for single family with the exception of a six acre school site in the southeast corner abutting Windy Lane.

At the meeting Chesterfield builders presented some changes to the public land dedications. The new plans call for a 500-foot frontage for the 20-acre park-school site north of Hintz Road. Previous plans called for a 250 ft. frontage, which was unacceptable to the park board.

THE PUBLIC land dedication will be used to build an elementary and a junior high school for Wheeling Community Consolidated District 21.

Commission member Norval Stephens confronted the builders with a question of adequate water supply for the area.

He said, "L. A. Hanson, village manager, told me the village will have to install another well in that area. This will cost about $250,000. Mr. Hanson said Borde's offer was not acceptable." Stephens was referring to a reported offer made by Chesterfield to donate some money to the village for drilling a well.

Borde replied he did not make an offer to Hanson. He said that some figures were mentioned in preliminary discussions but no final decision was made.

"If Hanson feels that the builders should give an additional quarter of a million dollars for a well, we will withdraw our petition request tonight," he said. Borde pointed out the builders were donating about $400,000 in land donations and improvements already.

IN THE FIRST Chesterfield hearing, Don Gustafson an engineering expert, testified that additional water suppl ywould not be necessary for two or three years. He said the need was dependent upon both the development of the industrial park west of Arlington Heights Road and the Chesterfield property.

Chesterfield representatives, have met with the plan commission for three hearings.

The bulk of the property is located north of Hintz Road and west of Buffalo Grove Road. An 80-acre parcel is located south of Hintz Road. (A

Chesterfield Development Has Planners' Informal OK

Arlington Heights Plan Commission last week gave informal approval to a major portion of the revised plans of Chesterfield Builders' development on the far north side of the village.

Commission members favored the single family zoning (184.5 acres), business zoning (7.4 acres), multiple family use (82.4 acres), and public land dedication (25.8 acres). Commissioners okayed about 60 per cent of the 44.8 acres requested for two-family dwellings.

Chairman Harold Carlson emphasized that the voting was an indication of intent and was not final approval of the rezoning petition by the plan commission.

Because Chesterfield's new plans called for more intense use of land in certain areas, the builders will have to republish notice of the request and schedule another hearing.

HOWARD BORDE, attorney for Chesterfield, said Monday that the builders would meet later this week to decide on their next steps in regard to the development. He said no date had yet been slated for another hearing.

A relocation of the duplex zoning was one of the changes Chesterfield Builders presented to the commission last Wednesday. The duplex zoning was moved from the northwest side of the property to the east side bordering Buffalo Grove Road. The new plans also called for a reduction of four acres to 31 acres in the duplex zoning.

Borde said that the change in location of the duplexes would "create a transition from village (Arlington Heights) to village (Wheeling)."

The Wheeling Zoning Board of Appeals recently rezoned the property just east of Buffalo Grove Road from single family to a combination of apartment, commercial, and single family zoning.

At an earlier plan commission meeting, commissioners had questioned the builders' use of duplex housing along the northwest boundary, saying that it created an unnecessary buffer. The adjoining land is presently undeveloped farm property.

SINGLE FAMILY zoning is now indicated for the entire western half of the Chesterfield development north of Hintz Road. The builders are asking for multiple-family zoning for this 38-acre strip.

According to revised plans, the duplex zoning is concentrated along the eastern part of the property, bordering Buffalo Grove Road, with an extension west below the proposed park-school site. The duplex zoning is buffered to the south by apartment zoning, which encircles a small business zone at the corner of Hintz and Buffalo Grove Roads.

In the property south of Hintz Road, the revised plans show a zone of apartment houses in the northwest corner. The remainder of the property to the east is zoned for single family with the exception of a six acre school site in the southeast corner abutting Windy Lane.

At the meeting Chesterfield builders presented some changes to the public land dedications. The new plans call for a 500-foot frontage for the 20-acre park-school site north of Hintz Road. Previous plans called for a 250 ft. frontage, which was unacceptable to the park board.

THE PUBLIC land dedication will be used to build an elementary and a junior high school for Wheeling Community Consolidated District 21.

Commission member Norval Stephens confronted the builders with a question of adequate water supply for the area.

He said, "L. A. Hanson, village manager, told me the village will have to install another well in that area. This will cost about $250,000. Mr. Hanson said Borde's offer was not acceptable." Stephens was referring to a reported offer made by Chesterfield to donate some money to the village for drilling a well.

Borde replied he did not make an offer to Hanson. He said that some figures were mentioned in preliminary discussions but no final decision was made.

"If Hanson feels that the builders should give an additional quarter of a million dollars for a well, we will withdraw our petition request tonight," he said. Borde pointed out the builders were donating about $400,000 in land donations and improvements already.

IN THE FIRST Chesterfield hearing, Don Gustafson an engineering expert, testified that additional water suppl ywould not be necessary for two or three years. He said the need was dependent upon both the development of the industrial park west of Arlington Heights Road and the Chesterfield property.

Chesterfield representatives, have met with the plan commission for three hearings.

Lower License Fees Slated for Cellar

The Arlington Heights Village Board approved an ordinance modification Monday which will significantly cut down licensing costs for The Cellar.

The ordinance, as amended, will require Cellar owner Paul Sampson to pay an annual fee of $500 plus $5 each night the dance hall is open.

Until now, Sampson had paid the village $50 for each night the Cellar was open. Thus, the license, issued weekly by the village, was costing either $100 or $150, depending on whether the night club was open two or three nights a week.

ANNUALLY, SAMPSON estimated, license fees running as high as $5,000. Under the new provision, the cost will be approximately $4,000 less, he explained.

Sampson's club, still classified as a public dance, was the object of controversy in June when the village withheld an operating license for more than three weeks.

It was during this controversy that the issue of licensing arose. Sampson's attorney contended the night club should be regulated under the ordinance governing public entertainment. Under this classification, the annual license fee is $100.

In presenting the amendment to the board, Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson recalled, "When this ordinance was first established it was on the basis of a one-night stand. Until a year ago (when the Cellar opened), we didn't have regularly scheduled dances such as we have now."

The $50 fee still is required for dances not held regularly in the same location.

Hanson said the fees merely are to cover costs of administration and do not bring in a profit.

BEFORE THE board unanimously approved the amendment, Village Pres. John G. Woods remarked, "This seems like a reasonable amount to cover administration costs."

Sampson said Tuesday he was pleased with the board's action.

"Obviously, I'm happy," he commented. "The other regulation, I guess, was unfair or they wouldn't have changed it." He said he still feels the Cellar should be regulated under the public entertainment ordinance, but added that this was a legal matter being considered by his attorney.

"However, I think this is a step in the right direction," Sampson stated regarding the new provisions. (A

Deputy Clerk Retires

Mrs. Dorothy Valladares, 1003 N. Burke Drive, Arlington Heights, retired last week as deputy village clerk.

Her retirement came after she served 10 years at the post. Mrs. Jeanne Novotny, village clerk, expressed regret over Mrs. Valladares' decision and said interviews are being held to find a replacement.

"I REGRET HER decision to leave," commented Mrs. Novotny. "But I understand she wants to stay home and take care of her family. It was a great help to me when I began office to find someone who could be of such value."

Mrs. Valladares, who has been a resident of Arlington Heights for more than 15 years, lives with her husband, James, and four children.

Mrs. Novotny gave no indication of when she hoped a replacement would be hired. (A

Discontent Spurs Drive for Change

by DAVE CRIPPEN

If reports currently being circulated are true, village officials may face a problem almost identical to that now confronting Mount Prospect leaders.

The reports—best described as confirmed rumors—indicate a movement is afoot to change the form of local government to mayor-alderman system. Generally, those who know anything about the reports are remaining tight-lipped.

CRIPPEN

Whether the secrecy stems from lack of knowledge or lack of hard-core forces to spear-head a drive is difficult to say at this stage.

But the fog of obscurity has cleared away enough to make clear several reasons behind discontent over the present village system. Most obvious is that many residents feel Arlington Heights is large enough—both in geographic area and in population—to justify a more sophisticated, "representative" form of government.

Under the reported plan, the village would be divided into wards. Each ward would elect two aldermen to the governing body which would be known as a council rather than a board of trustees. The council would be presided over by a mayor, who would likely serve full-time.

The term "village"—somewhat a misnomer for a community as large as Arlington Heights—would be dropped and replaced by that of "city." The distinction between the two terms is more legal than definitive, depending upon the form of government.

Many proponents of the city system contend they have not gotten a fair shake under the existing form of government. Some of them point to the .5 per cent utility tax, passed last week by village board, as an example of poor representation nutured by a village administration.

The validity of this argument is, at best questionable, but it is likely that the heated controversy over the utility tax precipitated some serious thinking about changing the system.

The fact that Mount Prospect is officially weighing such a change has fanned some fires of discontent in Arlington Heights. As one resident stated, the Mount Prospect issue has provided "food for thought."

But those in Arlington Heights encouraged by events in Mount Prospect should beware of finding this mental cuisine too tempting, for it is mildewed with politics.

Out of our neighboring village's attempt to change the form of government has emerged political hard-feelings that characterized Mount Prospect's municipal elections last year.

Lost somewhere in this stale political wrangle are the pertinent facts which would justify either acceptance or rejection of a plan to initiate a city form government.

Such political animosities are not likely in Arlington Heights. But it is possible that residents who constantly have a bone to pick with village administration will let resentment get in the way of reason. The result would be a situation no better than Mount Prospect's.

A proposal for a new form of local government might very well be worthwhile. But those behind such a move should not view it as a means of "punishing" the village board.

Report Drop In Building For July

Construction permits for $2,250,400 worth of buildings were issued by the Arlington Heights building department during July, according to building commissioner H. C. Best's monthly report.

The report shows a marked decrease over the July, 1965 figure of $4,480,501 for new buildings. According to Best, the decrease in construction was due primarily to an excavators' strike which caused delay in work on building foundations.

The total valuation of new structures since January is $21,014,350.

HIGHEST VALUATION of $1,376,500 was assigned to 55 single family residences.

A two-unit condominium apartment house in Regent Park brought the multi-family residence valuation to $580,000. This shows an increase over last July's $336,000 valuation for multi-family units.

The report also showed permits issued for: residential garages, $15,100 valuation; home alterations and additions, $41,300 valuation; business buildings, $96,000 (this includes construction of the new WNWC radio station building); and business alterations and additions, $137,500 valuation (including an addition to Roto Mercury Sales, Inc., 1410 E. Northwest Hwy.)

Concern for Rights Motivates Crusader

By DAVE CRIPPEN

It was a small but ugly display of racial prejudice Nathaniel Leighton, 746 S. Mitchell Ave., Arlington Heights, saw that day in 1946.

Leighton, who at the time lived in Chicago, watched in shocked disbelief as a group of his neighbors barred a Negro family from moving into a newly-purchased home. They even had gone as far as to urge their children to set fires under the porch of the home, Leighton said.

"It confused the heck out of me," Leighton recalls, "to see these people—people I knew through church — change like this."

"It happened so fast it didn't even make the papers," he explains.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS movement at that time was not in the national spotlight and, in fact, would have to wait until the next decade before rising to importance.

But this little demonstration of neighborhood bigotry had its impact on Leighton. And since that day, he has spent much time and energy attempting to do his part in improving human relations.

Soft-spoken and mild-mannered, Leighton gives a deceptive first impression. But conversation soon brings out his strong concern for not only the Negro, but for the socially oppressed of all races and ethnic backgrounds.

NATHANIEL LEIGHTON

Leighton, personnel director for Skil Saw Corporation in Chicago, puts professional talents to use in his personal drive for human dignity.

Recently, for instance, he took an active part in a Chicago "employment fair" designed to inform Negroes of job opportunities and how education plays a key role in opening up these opportunities.

LEIGHTON MAINTAINS the current labor shortage has contributed a great deal to discourage discriminatory employment practices in industry.

"The manpower shortage has done more to let down barriers of discrimination than any other factor," he explains. Leighton is credited as being the driving force behind the progressive fair-employment practices of Skil Saw.

The corporation enacted non-discriminatory guidelines for hiring about two years before fair employment became federal law.

His knowledge of employment problems, combined with his insight into the complex world of human relations, has earned him membership on the employment committee of the Chicago Commission on Human Relations and on the Industry Advisory Committee.

He recently wound up an active role in selecting a staff for the newly-organized Illinois Migrant Council. The council, financed by an $800,000 federal grant, has kicked off several educational programs for underprivileged Spanish-speaking persons in northern Illinois.

Leighton, working with other personnel experts, meticulously selected staff members to run the various programs.

CAYETANO Santiago, chairman of the project, praised Leighton's insight to human problems and his ability as a personnel technician.

"He is a very efficient man," Santiago remarked. "And he has maintained very efficient qualities without losing the quality of human understanding."

Leighton served on the Northwest Suburban Human Relations Council and is a charter member of the Arlington Heights Human Relations Committee. He no longer is on the council, but his wife, Sally, continues her membership.

Leighton's activity in the Arlington Heights committee still is strong. He was one of the group's first members.

He says he sees a need to awaken the social conscience of many residents in Arlington Heights and elsewhere in the northwest suburban area.

A firm proponent of open housing, Leighton stresses his concern over the problems confronting Negroes who wish to live in the suburbs.

"I'm not trying to move a Negro into Arlington Heights," he explains. "I am just trying to see that they have the same opportunity that you or I do."

"This is supposed to be a land of equal opportunity. I don't see everyone around me getting equal opportunity," he adds.

A SOLID Democrat residing in an area characterized by solid Republicanism, Leighton has been, at least, mildly active on the political ring.

He did some campaigning in 1960 for John F. Kennedy and, more recently, did some legwork in Eugenia Chapman's bid for the Illinois House.

In 1962 he served on the caucus in the village elections. He says he thinks he was one of the few Democrats in caucus history to be named to the post.

And to top off his busy schedule—a schedule that keeps him on the go an average of two nights a week—Leightor is an active member of Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic Church where he also is in his third year as a Cub Scout master.

Leighton and his wife have eight children, ranging in ages from four to 21. The family has lived in Arlington Heights since 1959. (A

Planners to Hear Development Plan

The Arlington Heights Plan Commission will hold a planned development hearing Wednesday for a 39-acre tract at the southeast corner of Central and Wilke Roads.

The developer of the property, Joseph Bernstein, is asking for 30 acres for multiple family dwellings (R-5) and nine acres for commercial zoning (B-2). He is also requesting a special use permit for a service station.

The development proposal was considered by the plan commission and board of trustees in Feb. and March of this year. At that time Wilke Road was relocated to take out a sharp jog at Central Road, and the number of apartment units was established.

However, the new layout has to be considered and approved by both the commission and the board of turstees.

EARLIER PROPOSALS outlined plans for four apartment buildings of 117 units each, for a total of 468 units. As proposed, each building would be 53 feet high—13 feet over present limits under requested R-5 zoning.

No specific plans were revealed then for the commercial section.

The total project was estimated to cost about $9 million with a rental scale ranging from about $150 to $220. (A

Union Rail Depot Slated in Chicago

65 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

Herald, August 17, 1901

A $40,000,000 union railroad station, combining both passenger and freight facilities and equipped to make it the finest structure of its kind in the world, is soon to become a reality in Chicago.

Plans for the station, prepared by the special committee of the city council . . . have already been approved by 18 of the 22 railroads having terminals in Chicago.

50 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

Herald, August 11, 1916

The street paving is progressing rapidly. The graders expect to finish their work on the north side next week. Over three miles of curbing is finished; State Road, Dunton and Evergreen Avenues, Fremont, St. James, Eastman, Miner and Chestnut Streets will have their curbing all in this week and the concrete work will probably start the middle of next week. The sooner it is done, the better.

25 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Herald, August 8, 1941

The Arlington Heights village board went on record Monday evening for a government-owned post office building. Admitting that Uncle Sam may be too busy at the present moment to authorize the structure, members of the village board are of the opinion that it is not too early to ask for it.

Arlington Heights trustees poured ethyl into the municipal bulldozer this week in a hurry-up effort to clear away obstacles in the way of two parking lots with a combined capacity of 430 autos.

Monday night, trustees met to hear bids on the $240,000 bond issue to finance the two lots.

Lions Schedule Country Outing

A country outing has been scheduled for this Sunday by the Arlington Heights Lions Club.

Members and friends of the Lions are invited to the family outing at Camp Lions for the Blind, Hastings Lake, Ill.

A car caravan will form at the Arlington High School parking lot and will leave at 9:30 a.m. for the camp. Guests are invited to bring a picnic lunch. Reservations for a chicken dinner ($2.25) or a steak dinner ($3.50) may be made by calling Floyd Burns at CL 3-7726 or Vic Beisler at CL 3-7467.

THE ARLINGTON Heights club will dedicate a new cabin at the camp in the afternoon. The cabin will contain a plaque honoring the late Dr. Elfeld, a former member of the Arlington Lions Club. Part of the funds for the cabin ha e come from a scholarship fund Dr. Elfeld established.

Camp Lions is a summer retreat for visually handicapped children. Lions Clubs from the northeastern section of Illinois sponsor blind children for a free week at the camp.

JOE SCHNELLER, public relations chairman, encouraged as many people as possible to attend, and said, "This is a wonderful experience to talk to these blind children."

Camp Lions gives blind children a chance to attend week-long camping activities, including boating, swimming, fishing, hiking and horseback riding. It stresses self-reliance and physical activity not normally available to blind children. (A

Tag Days Set Friday, Saturday

The Chicago Missionary Society will hold its annual tag day Friday and Saturday in downtown Arlington Heights to raise money for children and mothers from broken homes.

The organization, founded during the depression, is for emergency help for destitute families, providing food, shelter and clothing to them.

The religion-oriented organization is headquartered at 1338 N. Damen, Chicago.

THE SOCIETY supports The Illinois Missionary Children's Home at Lake Zurich. This eight-building "home" provides help to mothers and children with difficulties.

"Today the broken home is the primary cause for the need of what we are doing," said the Rev. Carl P. Nelson, director of the society. He pointed out that one out of every 2½ marriages ends in divorce and there are eight million broken homes.

"THE FOLKS from Arlington Heights have always been kind and responded generously," he said, adding, "We're anxious to be of service."

Nelson said that the society has helped some families from the Arlington Heights area.

There will be 20 to 25 volunteers with the paper tags from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Saturday. (A

Apartment Request Wins Planners' Nod

A recommendation to approve a planned development for a two-story apartment building at the southeast corner of Thomas and Evergreen Avenues will go before the Arlington Heights board of trustees.

The plan commission last Wednesday unanimously approved the rezoning request of the six-lot parcel from single family to multiple family use.

BUILDER DAVID Shoberg told commission members that he planned a 15-unit apartment building of one and two bedroom units. He approximated that construction of the building and a 24-car parking lot would cost between $125,000 and $150,000.

The property is adjacent to the Northwest Medical Center on the south and east boundaries and to an apartment complex on the north boundary. Shoberg said he got a "very favorable reaction" to his plans from the five residential homeowners adjacent to the west side of his property.

Architectural sketches of the building envision a modernistic design.

THE SCHEDULED plan commission hearing for a 48-acre tract north of Rand Road and west of Arlington Heights Road was continued to Nov. 16. In a letter to the plan commission, the petitioners, Hollywood Builders, said they were unable to gather data in time for the meeting. They are asking for rezoning from single family to multiple family use. The land is just south of the Edison Co. highline. (A

Area News Roundup

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS—Elementary School District 25 in court Tuesday countered a law suit, filed against it by residents of Prospect Meadows, with a motion that the action be dismissed. The suit challenges revised-school attendance boundaries set earlier this year by the board of education. The court, however, took no action, postponing a decision on the motion until next Thursday.

PALATINE—A Palatine resident is suing three village policemen for $1 million for conspiracy, false arrest, and false imprisonment. The suit is being filed by Ramon Dropp of Palatine, who was arrested in connection with the burning of a policeman's garage last July. A judge ruled that there was "no prabable cause" for Dropp's arrest.

WHEELING—The village board last Monday again tabled a rezoning request for a 61-acre tract of land in the south part of the village. Trustees say they need clarification of ownership of the land and details of the builder's plan. Ralph Markus is the planner of the development.

ROLLING MEADOWS—A referendum has been scheduled Oct. 18 on the purchase of a downtown civic center site, and aldermen have discussed including in the vote a bond issue for construction of a new municipal building.

MOUNT PROSPECT—State approval of a $65,000 bridge over Weller Creek is expected any moment by village officials. Planned for Emerson Street, the structure would provide the village with five thoroughfares through the southern half of Mount Prospect not blocked by Weller Creek.

ELK GROVE VILLAGE—Development of family type activities is a need in the village, the executive director of the Community Services Project said in his preliminary report to the board. Glenn Powell cited lack of activities for teenagers as another area for work.

STREAMWOOD—The five per cent utility tax imposed last month in Streamwood did not go in effect Aug. 1 as planned. Village trustees decided to hold off the tax for a month to allow for adjustments in the bookkeeping of the three companies involved. The move, approved at last week's meeting, was made at the request of the companies.

SCHAUMBURG TOWNSHIP—The resignation of School's Supt. Kenneth E. Underwood caught the township by surprise this week. Work begins Thursday toward finding a successor.

ITASCA—An Itasca police officer shot and wounded a 15-year-old boy who failed to heed a command to stop Tuesday morning. The youth, who is in fair condition at St. Alexius Hospital, was one of three Villa Par kboys who were riding in a stolen auto.

WOOD DALE—The Wood Dale Grade School District 7 awarded a half-million dollar contract for construction of its new junior high school, which is expected to take a year to build. The structure, planned for an eventual 21 classrooms, may open to all grades when the first 12 or 13 classrooms are completed.

BENSENVILLE—A comprehensive report summarizing the condition of village streets and sewers, and establishing a plan for general improvement, has been received by the Bensenville Village Board. The report is expected to be used as a guideline for future street and sewer projects.

ADDISON—District 4 School Board voted Monday to put back some of the bus routes which had been eliminated in June. The board's action came after a group of parents protested the elimination of the transportation.

COMPLETION OF BUILDING CONSTRUCTION at the new Ivy Hill School is slated for the end of this week. Here a grading machine landscapes the school grounds. Additions to Dist. 25's Greenbrier, Patton, and Dunton Schools are in the final stages of completion. (Staff photo)

Seek Federal Funds

Youth Corps Wins Approval of Board

High School District 214's application for federal financing of a continued Neighborhood Youth Corps program was sent on to Washington Tuesday after weathering a school board vote that might have pulled the application back.

The District 214 board voted 5-1 Monday to approve continuation of the NYC employment-and-counselling program for needy youngsters.

Their action was backed unanimously by lay members of a citizens' committee asked to study this and other school vocational programs.

BOARD MEMBER William Griffith of Arlington Heights cast the lone dissenting vote but he told Paddock Publications Tuesday that his "No" vote did not stem from criticism of the program's operation.

Rather, he emphasized, he voted "No" because of:

—Personal belief that local schools should not turn to the federal government for assistance in handling local problems.

—Concern about an increased federal deficit in prosperous times.

George Theodore, who directed the NYC program during its initial (and sometimes stormy) first year of operation, will continue to direct the Neighborhood Youth Corps during 1966-67.

THE BUDGET submitted to the U.S. Department of Labor, federal supervisor of the NYC programs, provides for an expenditure of $78,880 during regular school session and $33,500 next summer.

Of the total $112,380 budget, $89,520 would come from federal anti-poverty funds and $22,860 from local sources.

Theodore plans for an NYC enrollment next year of about 110 students. This year some 130 students were identified as eligible for NYC's job-and-counselling program, although only some 70 were on the payroll at any one time.

On-job counselling is an integral part of the NYC program and most board members have indicated they consider the work-oriented counselling to be the heart of the program.

IN ENDORSING continuation of the NYC program, lay members of the citizens committee were emphatic in their comments.

Robert Luedke of Illinois Bell Telephone's Arlington Heights office asserted, "NYC fills a need that industry cannot fill. I feel very strongly about its continuance."

Wilfred Wolf of The Bank of Arlington Heights said, "I feel the NYC should be continued. It has the support of educators. We hire them to do a job, and if they feel the NYC is worthwhile, I have to go along with them. They are in the best position to judge the program's value."

Robert Schopps of Ecko Containers, Wheeling, told Val Erickson, committee chairman, "Because of the nature of the problem, the schools are in a much better position to work with these students in NYC than is industry. This is more sociological than vocational and the educators are better trained to work with it."

Taxicabs Proposed For Pupil-Workers

Use of taxicabs to haul Neighborhood Youth Corps (NYC) enrollees to replacement jobs in industry was suggested Monday by High School District 214 board member William Griffith.

He said that area cab companies told him they would provide lowered rates to haul students to part-time jobs if asked.

School officials working with the NYC program, which provides in-school jobs for needy students through a federal grant, have stressed lack of transportation as a key factor in preventing most NYC enrollees from getting after hours employment.

THEY HAVE ALSO cited the students' need for on-job guidance to teach good work habits. NYC director, added another Monday George Theodore, problem—age. Most of the NYC students are under 18 (though they must be over 16 by federal regulation) and it is extremely difficult to find jobs for them because of this.

Pressed by Griffith on the transportation question, Theodore at first estimated 75 per cent were able to take outside jobs if transportation were supplied, then worked the answer down to 20 students—less than one-fourth—of those underage or needing on-job guidance were excluded.

Griffith did not suggest that the school system pick up the full tab for taxi transportation. He recommended the school and students share the cost or that students travelling together split the fare.

School Budget Hearing

Elementary District 25's 1966-67 budget, described as an "austere financial blueprint," will get a final going-over at a public hearing Monday before members of the board give it official approval.

The hearing is set for 7:30 p.m. in the district administration building, 301 W. South St.

The budget projects expenditures for the coming fiscal year at $5,536,438, with most of the funds—$4,217,992 — going to the educational fund. Approximately, $470,375 will be set aside for the building fund.

THE TOTAL BUDGET represents an increase of almost $1 million over last year's of $4,559,338. Though the expenditures for the building program are down almost $20,000 from last year, the educational fund is far above 1965 budget and accounts for the bulk of the increase.

Commenting on the decrease in building fund appropriations, District Supt. Ralph Clabaugh said, "we just told everybody we're passing this year." He said no major remodeling of penses of building rejuvenation and improvement and does not include construction of new structures. Clabaugh said none of the planned expenditures is based on the assumption that the tax rate referendum, scheduled for Sept. 24, will pass.

However, if the referendum passes, some of the tax funds could be collected before the 1966-67 fiscal year closes, he said. Clabaugh said some of this money could be used to avoid going after tax anticipation warrants.

HE SAID BOTH the increased budget and the referendum funds are needed to meet costs arising from heavy enrollments in local schools. He noted that the enrollments have increased, disproportionately with assessed valuation.

If passed the referendum would up the District 25 tax rate by 33.5 cents, bringing to $1.71 the amount paid per $100 assessed valuation.

Clabaugh said there are no capital improvement projects, such as new schools or building additions, anticipated for the coming year.

Sidewalks On Board Agenda

Members of the Arlington Heights Board of Local Improvements (BOLI) will bring their individual recommendations for sidewalk paving in the northwest quadrant of the village to a special meeting tonight (Thursday).

Each BOLI member has been charged with determining what portions of the sidewalk should go in by special assessment. A public hearing will be held at a later date after BOLI has agreed on which sidewalks are needed.

SIDEWALK installation is being considered by the BOLI on a quadrant by quadrant basis to simplify matters.

Bids on the Olive Street improvement project will be opened at 8 p.m. at the meeting.

South End Residents To See Clinic Plans

Surrey Ridge and Airy Trace residents in Arlington Heights will be the first to see the working drawings and plans for the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Association's clinic at an unveiling next Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Forest View Elementary School.

"Because our land is adjacent to the Surrey Ridge School, which is now under construction, and because our clinic will be part of the school-park-cultural center, use of this parcel of Surrey Ridge, we thought that our new neighbors were entitled to be the first to see the plans for our clinic," said Harrison Hanson, president of the association.

Hanson said that the association's architect, Ron Dirsmith, has styled the outside of the building to blend with the neighborhood.

ALTHOUGH THE unveiling is primarily for Surrey Ridge and Airy Trace residents, anyone may attend the meeting.

The clinic, the only mental health clinic of its kind in the area, has been operating at 1711 W. Campbell St., Arlington Heights, since March, 1962. An out-patient clinic, it operates on the basis that no one should be denied psychiatric help because of his inability to pay.

The professionally staffed clinic is operated by a medical director and is supported by funds from the state of Illinois, the townships served and local contributions.

THE LARGEST number of referrals to the clinic, Hanson said, are children from the school districts in the seven communities it serves. Many patients are referred by their physicians, ministers or lawyers.

The seven areas served are Arlington Heights, Elk Grove Village, Hoffman-Schaumburg, Mount Prospect, Palatine, Rolling Meadows and Wheeling-Buffalo Grove. Each of them is represented on the association's committees and board of directors.

The clinic states its reason for operation as:

"Prolonged or extreme behavior problems, like the fevers of physical ailments, are signals that all is not going well for a child or an adult.

"EARLY DIAGNOSING and treatment, locally, is not only easier and quicker for the patient and his family, but, in most cases, it erases the need for longer, more expensive care later.

"Prompt, local mental health care eases family and community disturbances which may follow the first signs of mental unhealth. Nowhere is the old adage 'a stitch in time saves nine' more true than in the field of mental health."

Report on School Building Progress

Building construction on four elementary schools is expected to be completed this week, Elementary District 25 School Board members were told Monday.

In a building progress report, Steve Tucka of the architectural firm Ganster & Henninghausen said that the additions to Thomas Junior High and South Junior High schools would be partially completed by September.

According to Tucka, the Thomas school gymnasium and shop floors will not be finished in time for fall classes. Progress on the South Junior high addition was not given as school board members will tour the site during the board meeting Monday.

PROGRESS ON the elementary schools was as follows:

—Greenbrier: grass has to be planted. The interior will be finished Friday.

—Patton: grading has to be done outside. The interior will be completed Friday.

—Dunton: topsoil has to be completed and bicycle racks installed. The interior will be finished by Friday.

—Ivy Hill School: landscaping and grading have to be completed. The interior will be completed by Friday.

At Olive School, acoustic tiling and light fixtures have yet to be installed. Outside the building, grading has to be completed. Tucka estimated that construction would be finished by August 21.

IN REFERRING TO Thomas School, Supt. Ralph E. Clabaugh said, "That tiling saved us. (He was referring to a switch in subcontractors to install acoustic tiling.) I still would like to see the contractors keep the buildings clean but they haven't been able to."

Clabaugh said he was anticipating difficulty with broom-sweeping the two junior high schools after the building operation was completed. He said that there was not sufficient labor to clean up the buildings after the building contractors left.

Board president Harold Sortor ended the discussion by saying, "We're pleased witn the expediting done in the last month. I'm personally pleased with the report we got tonight as compared to the one received a month ago," he said.

Schools Map Vote Appeal

A series of meetings and programs face Elementary District 25 school officials as they prepare "to inform the public" and "encourage voting" for the September 24 referendum.

In the first step, board members volunteered Monday to help line-up precinct chairmen for each of the 13 elementary school attendance areas (precincts).

On Aug. 24, precinct chairmen will attend a meeting with members of the school board and the superintendent to discuss suggested procedures for informing people in each area and for a briefing on the need for the tax rate increase.

AFTER THAT meeting, precinct chairmen will select, with the help of school principals, an area captain for each of several numbered areas in the precinct. Between Sept. 6 and 9, area captains would be briefed on their responsibilities.

District 25 school board members approved the referendum, which will hike taxes by 33.5 cents, at its July 11 meetings.

Supt. Ralph E. Clabaugh submitted plans at the Monday meeting to devote the entire space of the September newsletter "Dispatch" to the referendum and to prepare an illustrated program to be used at service club meetings, PTA and teacher meetings.

Letters are being sent to community organizations asking for some time for school officials to present referendum information to the groups. A representative from the administration and the school board would make presentations at the meetings.

CLABAUGH ALSO suggested holding a dinner meeting Sept. 7 with presidents of community organization and official village bodies and precinct captains. He referred to a similar dinner meeting held before the 1964 referendum.

Monday Clabaugh stressed the importance of personal contacts.

Board member Mrs. Marian Malcolmson said, "This kind of referendum is a lot harder than a building referendum. You can see the need for classrooms but not an increase in an educational fund."

Voting will take place in all elementary schools Sept. 24 from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Report Burglary Attempt at Home

Mrs. Walter Wilgrube of 316 S. Dale Ave., Arlington Heights, reported to police an attempted burglary of her home late Tuesday night.

Investigation of the home disclosed someone apparently tried to break in by forcing out the molding around a door, police said. Nothing was reported missing.

Mrs. Wilgrube told police she had left her house for a short time about 11 p.m. and returned to find evidence of the attempted break-in.

Theft of Tool Chest Reported

A tool chest valued at $200 was reported stolen from Walt's Texaco Service, Euclid and Hicks Road, Rolling Meadows, Sunday morning.

Walt Tuttle Jr. notified police of the missing equipment when he arrived to open the station early Sunday. Police found a broken window in the station.

Other tools and valuables in the station were not disturbed. (K

Stansbury In Line for College Job

Donn Stansbury, former Arlington High School director of pupil personnel, is expected to be hired today (Thursday) for an administrative position at William Rainey Harper Junior College.

Stansbury is being considered for registrar and director of admissions while the college is organizing. His duties will be split later, according to college president Robert Lahti.

STANSBURY resigned from School District 214 this week to accept the junior college position.

The junior college board will meet at 8 p.m. today at 799 Kensington Road. (B10

Area News Roundup

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS—Elementary School District 25 in court Tuesday countered a law suit, filed against it by residents of Prospect Meadows, with a motion that the action be dismissed. The suit challenges revised-school attendance boundaries set earlier this year by the board of education. The court, however, took no action, postponing a decision on the motion until next Thursday.

PALATINE—A Palatine resident is suing three village policemen for $1 million for conspiracy, false arrest, and false imprisonment. The suit is being filed by Ramon Dropp of Palatine, who was arrested in connection with the burning of a policeman's garage last July. A judge ruled that there was "no prabable cause" for Dropp's arrest.

WHEELING—The village board last Monday again tabled a rezoning request for a 61-acre tract of land in the south part of the village. Trustees say they need clarification of ownership of the land and details of the builder's plan. Ralph Markus is the planner of the development.

ROLLING MEADOWS—A referendum has been scheduled Oct. 18 on the purchase of a downtown civic center site, and aldermen have discussed including in the vote a bond issue for construction of a new municipal building.

MOUNT PROSPECT—State approval of a $65,000 bridge over Weller Creek is expected any moment by village officials. Planned for Emerson Street, the structure would provide the village with five thoroughfares through the southern half of Mount Prospect not blocked by Weller Creek.

ELK GROVE VILLAGE—Development of family type activities is a need in the village, the executive director of the Community Services Project said in his preliminary report to the board. Glenn Powell cited lack of activities for teenagers as another area for work.

STREAMWOOD—The five per cent utility tax imposed last month in Streamwood did not go in effect Aug. 1 as planned. Village trustees decided to hold off the tax for a month to allow for adjustments in the bookkeeping of the three companies involved. The move, approved at last week's meeting, was made at the request of the companies.

SCHAUMBURG TOWNSHIP—The resignation of School's Supt. Kenneth E. Underwood caught the township by surprise this week. Work begins Thursday toward finding a successor.

ITASCA—An Itasca police officer shot and wounded a 15-year-old boy who failed to heed a command to stop Tuesday morning. The youth, who is in fair condition at St. Alexius Hospital, was one of three Villa Par kboys who were riding in a stolen auto.

WOOD DALE—The Wood Dale Grade School District 7 awarded a half-million dollar contract for construction of its new junior high school, which is expected to take a year to build. The structure, planned for an eventual 21 classrooms, may open to all grades when the first 12 or 13 classrooms are completed.

BENSENVILLE—A comprehensive report summarizing the condition of village streets and sewers, and establishing a plan for general improvement, has been received by the Bensenville Village Board. The report is expected to be used as a guideline for future street and sewer projects.

ADDISON—District 4 School Board voted Monday to put back some of the bus routes which had been eliminated in June. The board's action came after a group of parents protested the elimination of the transportation.

Youth Corps Wins Approval of Board

High School District 214's application for federal financing of a continued Neighborhood Youth Corps program was sent on to Washington Tuesday after weathering a school board vote that might have pulled the application back.

The District 214 board voted 5-1 Monday to approve continuation of the NYC employment-and-counselling program for needy youngsters.

Their action was backed unanimously by lay members of a citizens' committee asked to study this and other school vocational programs.

BOARD MEMBER William Griffith of Arlington Heights cast the lone dissenting vote but he told Paddock Publications Tuesday that his "No" vote did not stem from criticism of the program's operation.

Rather, he emphasized, he voted "No" because of:

—Personal belief that local schools should not turn to the federal government for assistance in handling local problems.

—Concern about an increased federal deficit in prosperous times.

George Theodore, who directed the NYC program during its initial (and sometimes stormy) first year of operation, will continue to direct the Neighborhood Youth Corps during 1966-67.

THE BUDGET submitted to the U.S. Department of Labor, federal supervisor of the NYC programs, provides for an expenditure of $78,880 during regular school session and $33,500 next summer.

Of the total $112,380 budget, $89,520 would come from federal anti-poverty funds and $22,860 from local sources.

Theodore plans for an NYC enrollment next year of about 110 students. This year some 130 students were identified as eligible for NYC's job-and-counselling program, although only some 70 were on the payroll at any one time.

On-job counselling is an integral part of the NYC program and most board members have indicated they consider the work-oriented counselling to be the heart of the program.

IN ENDORSING continuation of the NYC program, lay members of the citizens committee were emphatic in their comments.

Robert Luedke of Illinois Bell Telephone's Arlington Heights office asserted, "NYC fills a need that industry cannot fill. I feel very strongly about its continuance."

Wilfred Wolf of The Bank of Arlington Heights said, "I feel the NYC should be continued. It has the support of educators. We hire them to do a job, and if they feel the NYC is worthwhile, I have to go along with them. They are in the best position to judge the program's value."

Robert Schopps of Ecko Containers, Wheeling, told Val Erickson, committee chairman, "Because of the nature of the problem, the schools are in a much better position to work with these students in NYC than is industry. This is more sociological than vocational and the educators are better trained to work with it."

Taxicabs Proposed For Pupil-Workers

Use of taxicabs to haul Neighborhood Youth Corps (NYC) enrollees to replacement jobs in industry was suggested Monday by High School District 214 board member William Griffith.

He said that area cab companies told him they would provide lowered rates to haul students to part-time jobs if asked.

School officials working with the NYC program, which provides in-school jobs for needy students through a federal grant, have stressed lack of transportation as a key factor in preventing most NYC enrollees from getting after hours employment.

THEY HAVE ALSO cited the students' need for on-job guidance to teach good work habits. NYC director, added another Monday George Theodore, problem—age. Most of the NYC students are under 18 (though they must be over 16 by federal regulation) and it is extremely difficult to find jobs for them because of this.

Pressed by Griffith on the transportation question, Theodore at first estimated 75 per cent were able to take outside jobs if transportation were supplied, then worked the answer down to 20 students—less than one-fourth—of those underage or needing on-job guidance were excluded.

Griffith did not suggest that the school system pick up the full tab for taxi transportation. He recommended the school and students share the cost or that students travelling together split the fare.

School Budget Hearing

Elementary District 25's 1966-67 budget, described as an "austere financial blueprint," will get a final going-over at a public hearing Monday before members of the board give it official approval.

The hearing is set for 7:30 p.m. in the district administration building, 301 W. South St.

The budget projects expenditures for the coming fiscal year at $5,536,438, with most of the funds—$4,217,992 — going to the educational fund. Approximately, $470,375 will be set aside for the building fund.

THE TOTAL BUDGET represents an increase of almost $1 million over last year's of $4,559,338. Though the expenditures for the building program are down almost $20,000 from last year, the educational fund is far above 1965 budget and accounts for the bulk of the increase.

Commenting on the decrease in building fund appropriations, District Supt. Ralph Clabaugh said, "we just told everybody we're passing this year." He said no major remodeling of penses of building rejuvenation and improvement and does not include construction of new structures. Clabaugh said none of the planned expenditures is based on the assumption that the tax rate referendum, scheduled for Sept. 24, will pass.

However, if the referendum passes, some of the tax funds could be collected before the 1966-67 fiscal year closes, he said. Clabaugh said some of this money could be used to avoid going after tax anticipation warrants.

HE SAID BOTH the increased budget and the referendum funds are needed to meet costs arising from heavy enrollments in local schools. He noted that the enrollments have increased, disproportionately with assessed valuation.

If passed the referendum would up the District 25 tax rate by 33.5 cents, bringing to $1.71 the amount paid per $100 assessed valuation.

Clabaugh said there are no capital improvement projects, such as new schools or building additions, anticipated for the coming year.

Sidewalks On Board Agenda

Members of the Arlington Heights Board of Local Improvements (BOLI) will bring their individual recommendations for sidewalk paving in the northwest quadrant of the village to a special meeting tonight (Thursday).

Each BOLI member has been charged with determining what portions of the sidewalk should go in by special assessment. A public hearing will be held at a later date after BOLI has agreed on which sidewalks are needed.

SIDEWALK installation is being considered by the BOLI on a quadrant by quadrant basis to simplify matters.

Bids on the Olive Street improvement project will be opened at 8 p.m. at the meeting.

Sanitarian For Village Is Approved

The Arlington Heights Public Health Department will have a sanitarian again beginning August 22.

Filling the post vacant since May 1 is Richard Dawson. He comes to Arlington Heights from the DuPage County Health Department.

Dawson is experienced in sanitation work. Before his work with the DuPage department he worked with the George Neely and the Rice Well Drilling Co. drilling and inspecting private and public wells and water supplies. He also worked for the Pick and Save Food Suppliers inspecting and butchering.

HE IS A GRADUATE of Glenbard High in Glen Ellyn and has taken courses in the technical and environmental health fields.

Dawson now lives in Wheaton but plans to move to Arlington Heights.

With the hiring of Dawson, the village's public health staff has three members. Mrs. Coburn, director of the department and public health nurse, has been handling the sanitation work since May.

Dawson replaces Mrs. Jane Terbell. (A

School Board Votes To Retain Architect

Arlington Heights Elementary School Board approved a recommendation to retain its present architects, Ganster and Hennighausen of Waukegan, for the 1967 building program.

The 1967 building program, to get under way with a building referendum early next year, will provide additional classrooms for the fall of 1967.

Supt. Ralph E. Clabaugh told the board that contract drawings would have to be ready "at the time of the referendum." In addition, the administragion plans to prepare a new enrollment projection this September and to project a building program which will be carried through at least 1968-69 and 1969-70. These plans will be submitted to the board at the regular October meeting.

CLABAUGH outlined three building projects which tentatively are included in the 1967 program. They are the six classrooms at Dryden School, a project dropped from the present building program because of lack of funds; the second phase of Ivy Hill School; and the first phase of Rand Junior High School, to be located west of Arlington Heights Road, and north of Rand Road.

Clabaugh said, "Ganster and Hennighausen have already been commissioned to do the Dryden addition. In fact, their preliminary floor plan for this addition has already been approved by the board. However, if the contract drawings are to be ready at the time of the referendum, a contractual arrangement will have to be worked out with Mr. Ganster."

He told board members that though no architect had been commissioned for the second phase of Ivy Hill, Ganster and Hennighausen originally prepared a preliminary floor plan for the whole structure.

"And I assume," he said, "the board would expect them to handle this project if it is included in the program."

HE SAID that no discussions had been held with architects in regard to the Rand Junior High School building.

Board member Charles Bennett praised Ganster and Hennighausen for their past work. He said that though the new buildings were not elaborate, but "brick and mortar" schools, the district was getting as much as possible for its money.

In other business, the school board approved the recommendation that Ganster and Hennighausen be authorized to develop a complete plan for the development of the Wilson School site.

Because of the development of a street along the east side of the grounds, Clabaugh said, some accesses must be built. Also, relocation of the play areas will eventually have to be made, he noted.

Assistant superintendent Robert Campbell announced that District 25 is still short about seven teachers. He said there was a shortage in the "critical areas" and listed the need for an industrial arts teacher, two librarians, a psychologist, and a science and a math teacher.

"We don't regard a shortage of five or seven teachers critical at this time of the year," he said.

THE BOARD approved recommendations for the employment of 12 new teachers, including one psychologist. Six former teachers were released from their contracts.

Three building service employes were hired, bringing the custodial staff to "full capacity" according to Campbell. Ten clerical employes were hired in preparation to meet the opening of school.

The board went into an executive session to discuss personnel recommendations, prior to the voting. (A

Distinguish between CONTINUAL (implying a close succession or recurrence) and CONTINOUS (implying an uninterrupted continuity). Thus: "There was a continual rain, and our work required continuous attention."

Avoid such expressions as, "You'd better figure on twenty guests," and, "When does he figure on making the next payment?" Much better to say, "You'd better PLAN on (or, ARRANGE FOR) twenty guests," and, "When does he PLAN on making the next payment?"

ECONOMIC PUZZLE

by ED LANDWEHR

Maybe our evaluations are wrong at LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, but we cannot understand how the cost of one of those scanty two piece bathing suits that the gals wear on the beaches can be twice and three times more than the average service and maintenance job that we do.

Maybe we don't look that good but phone CLearbrook 5-0700 for TV and radio services anyway. You'll enjoy our fine workmanship and the splendid picture on your TV set.

NOW...KILL CRAB GRASS quickly with

NEW, POTENT. ORTHO Liquid Crab Grass Killer contains Amine Methyl Arsonates, proved far superior to previously known crab grass controls. Used by professional greenskeepers.

WORKS FAST. As few as two sprays 5 to 7 days apart, give quick control of crab grass seedlings and immature plants.

WON'T KILL TURF. Won't kill ordinarily used lawn grasses when adequate soil moisture is maintained and other cautions are followed.

EASY TO APPLY. Simply use an ORTHO Spray-Ette attached to your hose, or a tank type sprayer, or sprinkling can.

THE ABC'S OF CARPETING... ACCENT, BLEND or CONTRAST

Wall-to-wall carpet is the color foundation of your home interior. And there are three ways of using color with your carpet.

ACCENT . . . the color scheme most difficult to plan. Choose several shades of a subdued color and then accent with one or more bright, contrasting accessory colors. Turquoise, tangerine or maize paired with warm brown tones is an example.

BLEND . . . the color scheme most frequently used. Carpet and walls provide the predominate shade and accessories are chosen from the harmonious neighboring tints on the color chart.

CONTRAST . . . this color scheme is accomplished by selecting two opposite colors for dominant use with shades and tints of the basics providing a harmonious whole.

Many stunning colors are available in wall-to-wall carpeting at MAYFAIR CARPET. We'll be glad to show you how to obtain new and strikingly different interiors. Come see us now.

Sanitarian For Village Is Approved

The Arlington Heights Public Health Department will have a sanitarian again beginning August 22.

Filling the post vacant since May 1 is Richard Dawson. He comes to Arlington Heights from the DuPage County Health Department.

Dawson is experienced in sanitation work. Before his work with the DuPage department he worked with the George Neely and the Rice Well Drilling Co. drilling and inspecting private and public wells and water supplies. He also worked for the Pick and Save Food Suppliers inspecting and butchering.

HE IS A GRADUATE of Glenbard High in Glen Ellyn and has taken courses in the technical and environmental health fields.

Dawson now lives in Wheaton but plans to move to Arlington Heights.

With the hiring of Dawson, the village's public health staff has three members. Mrs. Coburn, director of the department and public health nurse, has been handling the sanitation work since May.

Dawson replaces Mrs. Jane Terbell. (A

School Board Votes To Retain Architect

Arlington Heights Elementary School Board approved a recommendation to retain its present architects, Ganster and Hennighausen of Waukegan, for the 1967 building program.

The 1967 building program, to get under way with a building referendum early next year, will provide additional classrooms for the fall of 1967.

Supt. Ralph E. Clabaugh told the board that contract drawings would have to be ready "at the time of the referendum." In addition, the administragion plans to prepare a new enrollment projection this September and to project a building program which will be carried through at least 1968-69 and 1969-70. These plans will be submitted to the board at the regular October meeting.

CLABAUGH outlined three building projects which tentatively are included in the 1967 program. They are the six classrooms at Dryden School, a project dropped from the present building program because of lack of funds; the second phase of Ivy Hill School; and the first phase of Rand Junior High School, to be located west of Arlington Heights Road, and north of Rand Road.

Clabaugh said, "Ganster and Hennighausen have already been commissioned to do the Dryden addition. In fact, their preliminary floor plan for this addition has already been approved by the board. However, if the contract drawings are to be ready at the time of the referendum, a contractual arrangement will have to be worked out with Mr. Ganster."

He told board members that though no architect had been commissioned for the second phase of Ivy Hill, Ganster and Hennighausen originally prepared a preliminary floor plan for the whole structure.

"And I assume," he said, "the board would expect them to handle this project if it is included in the program."

HE SAID that no discussions had been held with architects in regard to the Rand Junior High School building.

Board member Charles Bennett praised Ganster and Hennighausen for their past work. He said that though the new buildings were not elaborate, but "brick and mortar" schools, the district was getting as much as possible for its money.

In other business, the school board approved the recommendation that Ganster and Hennighausen be authorized to develop a complete plan for the development of the Wilson School site.

Because of the development of a street along the east side of the grounds, Clabaugh said, some accesses must be built. Also, relocation of the play areas will eventually have to be made, he noted.

Assistant superintendent Robert Campbell announced that District 25 is still short about seven teachers. He said there was a shortage in the "critical areas" and listed the need for an industrial arts teacher, two librarians, a psychologist, and a science and a math teacher.

"We don't regard a shortage of five or seven teachers critical at this time of the year," he said.

THE BOARD approved recommendations for the employment of 12 new teachers, including one psychologist. Six former teachers were released from their contracts.

Three building service employes were hired, bringing the custodial staff to "full capacity" according to Campbell. Ten clerical employes were hired in preparation to meet the opening of school.

The board went into an executive session to discuss personnel recommendations, prior to the voting. (A

Bible Church Guest Speaker

The Rev. J. Omar Brubaker, an instructor of Christian education at Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, will be guest speaker at the Mount Prospect Bible Church, 505 W. Golf Road, Sunday at the 10:45 a.m. worship service and the 7 p.m. gospel service.

Rev. Brukaker is a 1950 graduate of Moody Bible and attended Millersville State Teachers College, Olivet Nazarene College, and Wheaton College where he earned his BA degree. He is presently working toward his MA in Christian education at Wheaton. (A (M

OFTEN MISUSED

Distinguish between CONTINUAL (implying a close succession or recurrence) and CONTINOUS (implying an uninterrupted continuity). Thus: "There was a continual rain, and our work required continuous attention."

Avoid such expressions as, "You'd better figure on twenty guests," and, "When does he figure on making the next payment?" Much better to say, "You'd better PLAN on (or, ARRANGE FOR) twenty guests," and, "When does he PLAN on making the next payment?"

October 10-15 Is 'ZIP Code Week'

Postmaster Virginia F. Dodge announced Friday that October 10-15 has ben designated as ZIP Code Week for Arlington Heights.

The village is one of 302 major cities selected by Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien to participate in National ZIP Code Week.

The project will dramatize the need for greater public cooperation in the acceptance of ZIP Code to help the Post Office Department cope with today's mail volume.

"We hope to get our ZIP Code message across to every facet of our community life," Postmaster Dodge said. "This means the home, the schools, the churches and the business and social activity of the community.

"I CANNOT overemphasize the importance of using ZIP Code in our village." Mrs. Dodge said. "It will mean better, more efficient mail service for everyone. During our planned week, we hope to make our mailers more aware of this and give them a better understanding of how ZIP Code can help them in speeding their mail."

Postmaster Dodge said she had been informed by Postmaster General O'Brien that individual use of ZIP Code increased markedly in 12 cities where ZIP Code Week has already been conducted on an experimental basis.

The experiment was first held in Alexandria, Va. The next tests involved six cities along the Florida Gold Coast. Five cities in the San Francisco Bay Area participated in the third test.

ARLINGTON Heights and all other communities observing National ZIP Code Week will submit reports to the Postmaster General's office to indicate the extent of increase in individual ZIP Coded letters, Mrs. Dodge said.

"I hope all the citizens of Arlington Heights will join me in showing the rest of the country that we can do a better job than any other community," she said. (A

Field Trip Readies 2 College Students

Two Arlington High School graduates are taking part in a summer college-bound development program at Robert Morris Junior College in Carthage, Ill.

James F. Hannum, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hannum, 525 S. Bristol Lane, and Dianne Irene Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wallace, 620 S. Beverly Lane, recently participated in a field study trip to the Mormon ruins at Nauvoo.

AFTER EACH FIELD trip, the college-bound students write a 1,000-word essay on the trip as part of a program to accelerate studies to meet higher entrance requirements at the college. In addition, they take courses in mathematics and English.

Hannum, a 1966 graduate, was active on the swimming team and stage crew at Arlington High.

Miss Wallace, also a 1966 graduate, participated in the Triple S, the Girls Athletic Association, the Business Editors Club and was an office guide. She is planning a career in retailing and wholesaling.

More than 100 college bound students have taken other field trips to the wine and cheese factories at Nauvoo, the historic Mark Twain home, strip mine operations, and to potteries and manufacturing plants in western Illinois. The college expects an enrollment of 550 students this

Library Hit By Burglars Second Time

For the second time in a month, the Arlington Heights Public Library was broken into and about $15 was stolen, police said.

Mrs. Mary Ewald, head librarian, told police that about $15 was taken from the cash drawer along with two wooden money trays Wednesday evening. She said some books had been thrown on the floor but they were not damaged.

Another theft of about $15 from the library's change drawer was reported July 22.

Police said the intruder apparently gained entrance into the building by breaking a window in the basement door. Two other windows in the building were also broken, police said.

Morgan Finishes NDEA Institute

Charles Morgan, 1104 W. Alexandria St., Arlington Heights, has just completed study at a National Defense Education Act (NDEA) Institute in Geography at Concordia Teachers College, River Forest.

He was one of 40 participants selected from over 300 qualified applicants. Participants in the institute came from both public and private schools with 18 states and the Department of Defense Dependents Schools in Germany represented.

MORGAN WILL BE an instructor in social studies and in charge of the world geography program at the Addison Trail High School beginning in September.

The Concordia Institute, one of 42 geography institutes supported this year by the U. S. Office of Education and the NDEA, was held to provide teachers with a special opportunity to learn more about geography.

Dr. Elizabeth Eiselen, professor of geography at Concordia, was director of the seven-week institute. (A

Norwegian Outing Is August 21

Arlington Heights residents will add both music and culinary grace to the 71st annual summer outing for Chicago area residents of Norwegian descent, Sunday, August 21.

The 75-voice Arlingtones Barber Shop Chorus will present an hour concert as part of the picnic's program. This musical group, under the direction of David Kublank, was Illinois State Champion in 1963, 1964 and 1965 and has been an international finalist in the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America competitions.

PREPARING THE "flotegrot"—a rare Norwegian pudding—for the celebration will be Arthur Anderson, 603 S. Dunton Ave., and his mother, Mrs. Hilda Anderson, Villa Park. They and their two assistants will cook 10 batches of the pudding to provide 1,500 servings. This will be the 11th year the Andersons have prepared the flotegrot for the picnic.

The picnic, sponsored by the Norwegian Old People's Home Society, will be held on the grounds of the Norwood Park Home for the Aged, 6016 Nina Ave., Chicago. (A

New Office Is Opened By Dentist

Dr. Lucius M. Conrad, a Franklin Park dentist, will open a new office Monday in the Northwest Medical Center, 1430 N. Arlington Heights Road in Arlington Heights. His office telephone number is 259-2461.

He received a bachelor of philosophy degree from DePauw University. He graduated from Loyola University Dental College in 1950 with a doctorate in dental surgery. He has had special training in children's dentistry.

DR. LUCIUS M. CONRAD

DR. CONRAD has been a general practitioner in Franklin Park since 1953. Prior to that, he practiced dentistry in Chicago.

His former office, located in the Leyden Savings and Loan Association building in Franklin Park, was damaged in the recent bombing.

His home is at 2146 S. Thorntree Lane in Palatine. (A

Stonegate Studies Street Light Need

Stonegate residents have begun their study of alternatives available to them in solving the subdivision's street lighting problems.

John Gillen, president of the Stonegate Association, said Tuesday night that, although the group has met, it has yet to make any definite decisions.

HOWEVER, HE said he is going to point out a portion of the Motor Fuel Tax Law to the Arlington Heights village board when his group makes its presentation in November. The clause of the law to which he refers, he said, stipulates that motor fuel tax monies will provide for maintenance as well as the installation of street lights.

At the July 5 village board meeting the Stonegate group was told that the "mushroom" lamps, which it suggested as an alternative to the 25-foot "luminaire" lights proposed by the village, would be too expensive to install and maintain.

At that time the association was given four months to come up with alternative solutions. The association will make its presentation at the November 25 board meeting. (A

Need 1,000 United Fund Campaigners

The Arlington Heights United Fund campaign has been computerized, enlarged and simplified this year.

Stressing the "unite" of the United Fund, John Gillen, head of the campaign, said Tuesday that eight new agencies have been added to the 12 agencies that the campaign served last year.

"We're saying," he said, "that the Arlington Heights United Fund is a once-a-year drive."

This single appeal, he added, will eliminate the constant door-to-door soliciting involved in separate campaigns by the individual agencies.

HOWEVER, TO reach this year's goal, he said, 1,000 workers will be needed. Last year, Gillen said, there were only 400 workers.

No worker will be asked to contact more than 12 homes. Each campaigner will be given a computer card for each family that he is to contact. These cards will contain the family's name, address and phone number.

Volunteers interested in working with the United Fund to insure the support of its 20 agencies, should call CL 9-2007, the United Fund's new number.

THE EIGHT new agencies that Gillen said have been added to the fund drive are: Cancer Research, Heart Research, Cystic Fibrosis, Cerebral Palsy, Multiple Sclerosis, Leukemia, Muscular Dystrophy and the Northwest Community Hospital Free Bed Fund.

General campaign chairman for this year's drive is William J. Pailey, 700 S. Belmont Lane.

October 10-15 Is 'ZIP Code Week'

Postmaster Virginia F. Dodge announced Friday that October 10-15 has ben designated as ZIP Code Week for Arlington Heights.

The village is one of 302 major cities selected by Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien to participate in National ZIP Code Week.

The project will dramatize the need for greater public cooperation in the acceptance of ZIP Code to help the Post Office Department cope with today's mail volume.

"We hope to get our ZIP Code message across to every facet of our community life," Postmaster Dodge said. "This means the home, the schools, the churches and the business and social activity of the community.

"I CANNOT overemphasize the importance of using ZIP Code in our village." Mrs. Dodge said. "It will mean better, more efficient mail service for everyone. During our planned week, we hope to make our mailers more aware of this and give them a better understanding of how ZIP Code can help them in speeding their mail."

Postmaster Dodge said she had been informed by Postmaster General O'Brien that individual use of ZIP Code increased markedly in 12 cities where ZIP Code Week has already been conducted on an experimental basis.

The experiment was first held in Alexandria, Va. The next tests involved six cities along the Florida Gold Coast. Five cities in the San Francisco Bay Area participated in the third test.

ARLINGTON Heights and all other communities observing National ZIP Code Week will submit reports to the Postmaster General's office to indicate the extent of increase in individual ZIP Coded letters, Mrs. Dodge said.

"I hope all the citizens of Arlington Heights will join me in showing the rest of the country that we can do a better job than any other community," she said. (A

Four Suburban Montessori Schools Among 25 in Area

Montessori Schools are popping up like mushrooms these days.

Two new schools using the Montessori method of pre-school training will open this September in Park Ridge.

They bring to 25 the number of Montessori schools that have opened in the Chicago area since 1961. Four of these are in the northwest suburbs.

Popularity of the Montessori training method is shown in the fact that both Park Ridge schools each with a capacity of 100 students, are already two-thirds filled for fall. The two-year-old Dawn Gate School at 728 S. Wilke Road, Palatine, also has some openings.

The Northwest Suburban Montessori school at Rand and Central in Des Plaines has a two-year waiting list.

OF THE FOUR area Montessori schools, just one—the new San Lorenzo Montessori School in Park Ridge—plans education past the pre-school years.

Mrs. James Bychowski, its spokesman, says the parent-organized school will continue with Montessori-oriented training through the elementary grades, adding a teacher with each increase in grades.

Because this will be their initial year of operation, the two Park Ridge Montessori schools will accept students from two years nine months to four years nine months. After the beginning year, they will accept only students of 3½ years or less, in order to keep the classes the same size.

THOUGH THE area's Montessori schools are new, their teaching methods aren't. The unique approach to pre-school training was pioneered 50 years ago in the Italian slums by Dr. Maria Montessori.

She started pre-school education at the three-year-old level because she considered it the prime learning age—an age in which the child has attained a working ability in his language, adequate muscular coordination and has an overpowering urge to use his senses in learning about the world.

Discipline, according to the Montessori approach, is developed within the child rather than imposed from without. Each child at school chooses whatever equipment he wishes and works at his own pace. A minimum of adult intervention aids the child in relating directly to the learning material rather than the "teacher."

MONTESSORI directresses do not "teach," according to the approach pioneered by the Italian educator. They aid the child to develop self-motivation, to learn for the love of learning and not for the love of the teacher—or for fear of her. Directresses have special training, either abroad or in the U.S.

Information about the San Lorenzo Montessori School, Park Forest, is available from Mrs. Ronald Shipka, 966-5080, or Mrs. Bychowski, 296-7382. Information about the other Park Ridge Montessori school may be obtained from Mrs. Janet Bowes, 823-6695.

Inquiries about the Dawn Gate Montessori School, Palatine, should be directed to Miss Evelyn Stenzel, 259-5463. (B10

MORE THAN A PLACE TO LIVE—IT'S HAPPINESS YOU CAN GIVE YOUR FAMILY TODAY

Live the life of Riley—(Kowalski and Swenson, too)! Coventry is where people who know a good thing when they see it come to enjoy the good life. There's lots to love in Crystal Lake . . . so wonderfully healthful for the kids, relaxing for Mom, unwinding for Dad. 185 acres of parks, playgrounds and sandy beaches along the only natural spring-fed lake between Chicago and Wisconsin. One of the best school systems anywhere, fine shopping, golf courses, fast commuter trains—all city services, small-town friendliness, unquestioned prestige. Choose from six value-packed, fully-warranteed Ladd-built homes. Better Homes and Gardens award-winning designs, 3-5 bedrooms, as low as $20,500. (Including big, beautifully-improved site). F.H.A. and V.A. terms available; down payments from $700; monthly payments from $154.25. (Includes principal, interest, taxes, insurance). Captivating Coventry is definitely a 'must see' for YOU this week-end. Enter from U.S. 14 in Crystal Lake.

World Famous Parker Pen Co., Janesville, Wisconsin

Wisconsin has an abundance of room in which industry can expand . . . 37 cities with populations of 5 to 10 thousand; 26 from 10 to 25 thousand; 12 from 25 to 50 thousand; and 7 with populations over 50 thousand. There are 83 cities of 5,000 population or over. And did you know that Wisconsin Power and Light Company, with an operating area of 15,000 square miles, serves more than 400 communities of all sizes? More good news, an impressive total of 292 progressive cities in Wisconsin have established controlled land for industrial parks, 73 of which are incorporated industrial site areas already developed and awaiting your inspection.

Forest View News

Sunday the Robert Englehardts, West Algonquin Road, entertained Dorothy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lynn; grandfather, Frank Wohlfeil of Chicago; and great aunt, Mrs. Telia Gunderson — who flew in from San Pedro, Calif., on Saturday — to celebrate Bob's birthday with dinner and to spend the day.

Tuesday Dorothy gave a surprise picnic supper for Bob. Guests from Des Plaines were the families of Raymond Projahn, Sam Fields and Leonard Krumpolz; from Arlington Heights, the Don Larson family; from Geneva, the Willard Johnson family and Bob's sister and nephew, Mrs. George Holtz and son, Paul.

Dennis Bartelt, South Patton, graduated Friday from De Vry Technical Institute. He received an associate degree in electronic engineering technology in applied science and was graduated as an honor student.

Sunday the Chris Hilgeman family, South Busse Road, drove to Grand Rapids, Mich., for lunch. On Friday Mary and the children and neighbors, Mrs. Otto Gorgius and Laurie, had luncheon at Sweden House in Elgin.

THE NEXT board meeting of the Forest View Elementary School Parent's Club will be held at Maureen Long's home, Martha Lane, on Aug. 30 at 1:30 p.m.

Birthday greetings this week go to Modene Rucci, Francine Rucci, Gerry Kingsborough, Marion Kay, Jane Ann Mendenhall and Margo Wilkens.

Best wishes on their anniversaries to the Phil Buffas, Joe Vyletas, Marty Borons and Al Purzyckis.

COLONIAL HEIGHTS

Pamela, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kingsborough, Rusty Drive, celebrated her fourth birthday Aug. 6 with a party. Her guests were Lynda, Leslie and Joyce Hill; Bonnie and Joey Trznadel; Angie Rosiak; Phillip Menard; and Buddy, Karen and Sharon Kirkwood — all of Rusty Drive — Tommy Kolder of Kim Avenue, and Kristen Baardsen of Estates Drive. The children enjoyed individual birthday cakes with a candle for each. Mrs. Trznadel and Mrs. Kingsborough relaxed over coffee and cake while the children played games.

Sunday Pamela had a second birthday party with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. George Nyberg of Chicago, and aunt, uncle and cousins, the Clifford Kingsboroughs of Fort Williams, Ontario, Canada, who arrived last week for a two weeks' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. George Menard and children, Rusty Drive, were sorry to say good-by to Mrs. Menard's mother, Mrs. Worester of Ohio, when they took her to the airport Saturday for a trip to Washington, D. C.

We are happy to report that John Menard, George's father, is recovering at Alexian Brothers Hospital in Chicago.

MR. AND MRS. L. Trznadel and children, Bonnie and Joey, Rusty Drive, spent four days at the Wisconsin Dells recently. Their older daughters, Kathy and Pat, are spending two weeks in New York, where they are visiting their father's relatives.

Sunday dinner guests of the Trznadels were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Twigg of Naperville.

The D. Cipriani family, Estates Drive, spent Thursday and Friday in Baraboo, Wis., where they camped over-night and took the children to the Circus World Museum, also stopping at Devil's Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clement, Hatlen Avenue, had out-of-town guests for the weekend. They were Mrs. Clement's sisters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Glantz and son, Paul, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fleharty, all of Michigan.

The Carl Baardsens, Estates Drive, are a very happy family, as they have as their house ugests Carl's parents, the senior Carl Baardsens, who arrived here Tuesday after living for the past 14 months in Haugesund, Norway. Grandma and Grandpa were especially thrilled with 5-month-old Carl Henry. The senior Baardsens arrived in time to help Carl Jr. celebrate his Aug. 8 birthday. Other guests were the Henry Nystroms of Chicago.

THE BAARDSENS celebrated again on Sunday, picnicking at the Sons of Norway picnic grove at Cedar Lake.

The Kenneth Paul Kazmars, Lonnquist Blvd., had a very busy and enjoyable weekend, which began when the George Schaaf family of Killeen, Tex., and the Carl Baardsens were Friday evening guests. On Saturday Dave and Judy Hanson of Chicago were their guests and on Sunday the Kazmars attended a belated graduation party in Chicago for Marlene and Darlene Heble, who graduated from Taft High School in June.

Saturday evening found Mr. and Mrs. Dave Anderson, Kim Avenue, enjoying dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Marion Drelicharz of Des Plaines at Poppy's Alpine Lodge, where they celebrated Marion's birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Al Mozalewski and children of Chicago were Sunday afternoon guests at the Anderson residence.

Saturday the Al Morey family, Kim Avenue, went to Bloomington to visit Ro's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Burnham. They spent the weekend swimming, sunning and barbequing, and on Saturday night went dancing at The Place.

Ed, Judy, Joey and Danny Wuchterl, Kim Avenue, spent Sunday at Brookfield Zoo. On Wednesday Ellen Markwell and Mark, Kim Avenue, enjoyed going to Bozo's Circus and having lunch out. Thursday evening the Wurchterl family attended a dinner party for Jim Brophy, recently arrived from Dallas, Tex., at the home of Judy's aunts, Tess and Catherine Brophy in Chicago. Also attending the dinner were Judy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Carroll, Mrs. F. Allen, Marge Allen, and H. Brophy, all of Chicago, and Joe Brophy of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wunar, Martha Lane, had dinner with friends and neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. B. Douglas and Mr. and Mrs. J. Long, at Henrici's Restaurant Monday evening. After dinner they went to see "Dr. Zhivago" at the Bismarck Theatre. (AME

Art Student Takes Part In Program

An Arlington High student was one of about 240 art students to participate in special summer Art Schools at Allerton House, University of Illinois conference center.

Robert Stluka, 932 N. Highland Ave., spent the week of July 17-23 in the intensified art program that offered instruction in drawing, design and painting. The students, high school juniors and seniors, attended two classes daily.

THE SUMMER Art Schools were arranged in cooperation with the Illinois State Federation of Women's Clubs and the University of Illinois Division of University Extension. Stluka, the only participant from Arlington Heights, was awarded a room and board scholarship by the local Woman's club.

Stluka said that he plans to continue his study of art after graduating from high school.

FALSE TEETH
Chewing Efficiency Increased up to 35%
Clinical tests prove you can now chew better — make dentures average up to 35% more effective—if you sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. FASTEETH is the alkaline (non-acid) powder that holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. No gummy, pasty taste. Doesn't sour. Checks denture odor. Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Get FASTEETH at all drug counters.

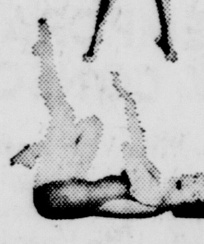
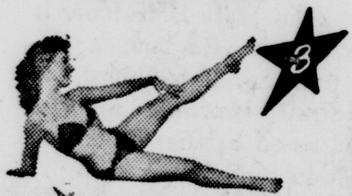
in this concentrated program that does so much so fast! It takes inches off without any time-consuming ado. You'll have the use of special apparatus that makes 12 QUICK MINUTES DO THE WORK OF AN HOUR OF STRENUOUS EXERCISE!

1 • WAIST
Take 2 to 4" off. Give the mid-riff that lean look. It'll make everything above and below look 50 per-cent curvier.



2 • HIPS
A treacherous area. Absorbs added weight like a sponge. Take 2 to 4" off. See how much younger you look!



3 • THIGHS
Because new short skirts bare the knee so mercilessly, exercises include knee-tapering ones, too. Trim 1 to 3" from thighs.

4 • TUMMY
No matter how out of shape it is, you'll see beautiful results here fast. Go flat as a pancake if you like.

5 • BUSTLE MUSCLE
Inspires the career girl's lament. (Look at the stretched-out back of your skirts. That's what sitting all day does to this area). The sooner one gets to the seat of the problem, the better.

Ed, Judy, Joey and Danny Wuchterl, Kim Avenue, spent Sunday at Brookfield Zoo. On Wednesday Ellen Markwell and Mark, Kim Avenue, enjoyed going to Bozo's Circus and having lunch out. Thursday evening the Wurchterl family attended a dinner party for Jim Brophy, recently arrived from Dallas, Tex., at the home of Judy's aunts, Tess and Catherine Brophy in Chicago. Also attending the dinner were Judy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Carroll, Mrs. F. Allen, Marge Allen, and H. Brophy, all of Chicago, and Joe Brophy of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wunar, Martha Lane, had dinner with friends and neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. B. Douglas and Mr. and Mrs. J. Long, at Henrici's Restaurant Monday evening. After dinner they went to see "Dr. Zhivago" at the Bismarck Theatre. (AME

Art Student Takes Part In Program

An Arlington High student was one of about 240 art students to participate in special summer Art Schools at Allerton House, University of Illinois conference center.

Robert Stluka, 932 N. Highland Ave., spent the week of July 17-23 in the intensified art program that offered instruction in drawing, design and painting. The students, high school juniors and seniors, attended two classes daily.

THE SUMMER Art Schools were arranged in cooperation with the Illinois State Federation of Women's Clubs and the University of Illinois Division of University Extension. Stluka, the only participant from Arlington Heights, was awarded a room and board scholarship by the local Woman's club.

Stluka said that he plans to continue his study of art after graduating from high school.

FALSE TEETH
Chewing Efficiency
Increased up to 35%

Clinical tests prove you can now chew better — make dentures average up to 35% more effective—if you sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. FASTEETH is the alkaline (non-acid) powder that holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. No gummy, pasty taste. Doesn't sour. Checks denture odor. Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Get FASTEETH at all drug counters.

ACCELERATED SHAPE-UP PROGRAM

LOSE UP TO 20 POUNDS IN 20 VISITS

in this concentrated program that does so much so fast! It takes inches off without any time-consuming ado. You'll have the use of special apparatus that makes 12 QUICK MINUTES DO THE WORK OF AN HOUR OF STRENUOUS EXERCISE!

1 • WAIST

Take 2 to 4″ off. Give the mid-riff that lean look. It'll make everything above and below look 50 per-cent curvier.

2 • HIPS

A treacherous area. Absorbs added weight like a sponge. Take 2 to 4″ off. See how much younger you look!

3 • THIGHS

Because new short skirts bare the knee so mercilessly, exercises include knee-tapering ones, too. Trim 1 to 3″ from thighs.

4 • TUMMY

No matter how out of shape it is, you'll see beautiful results here fast. Go flat as a pancake if you like.

5 • BUSTLE MUSCLE

Inspires the career girl's lament. (Look at the stretched-out back of your skirts. That's what sitting all day does to this area). The sooner one gets to the seat of the problem, the better.

20 VISITS $20

PROUD PARENTS Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Placek of Rolling Meadows discuss boating with Suboycar captain Frank Rus (left). Son John Placek was leading salesman for Paddock Publications' July Jamboree. He sold 68 subscriptions.

CARRIERS' TRIP up the Chicago River was interesting to the parents, too, as they gained unique views of the buildings near the Loop. A practiced eye can pick out the Wrigley Building, Equitable Insurance structure, and Tribune Tower.

Old Swimming Hole Target For Subscription Salesmen

Swimming in the middle of Lake Michigan' was one of the highlights of the all - day outing aboard Suboycar IV Sunday when winning carriers and their parents enjoyed a relaxing day (for the parents) aboard a deluxe power yacht. About 20 persons were aboard, including crew and guests.

The trip was the climax of Paddock Publications' carrier subscription drive conducted in July, with almost 500 new subscribers added to the rolls of the local newspaper. Officially representing the publishing firm were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Y. Paddock. Captain and owner of the boat was Frank Rus, whose Suburban Boy Carriers organization of 3,500 suburban boys delivers most everything ever banded to the door.

THE WEATHER was near perfect for the trip with sun prevailing long enough for healthy tans, and brief rains.

The 50-plus foot yacht with every conceivable accomodation on board drew oohs and ahs from everyone arriving at Slip 44 in Burnham barbor.

Automatic pilot was a big help to the captain as he was able to lounge around with the group, telling fresh water tales.

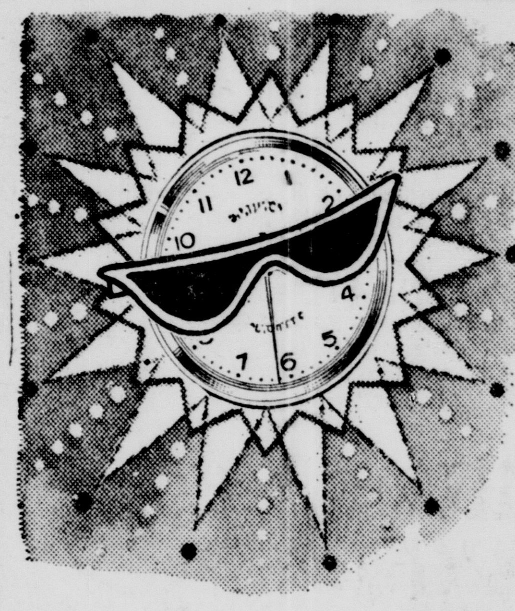
FIRST DESTINATION of the trip was 'the old swimming hole' several miles out into Lake Michigan where the boys and some of the dads dove in. The parade of up the ladder, across the deck, and off the side, was likened to an ant hill with everyone going every which way at once.

Hors d'oeuvres were later served while parked at Montrose Harbor. Fancy dinner with salads and piping hot barbecues was served while docked at the foot of State Street, in the Chicago River.

SEVEN HOUR excursion was a success for everyone, rest from preparing dinner for the mothers, dreamy relaxation for the dads, and excitement aplenty for the kids.

Leading carriers in the recent subscription drive who were present included John Placek of Rolling Meadows, Richard Willis of Elk Grove, Steve Hall of Schaumburg, Dan Thompson of Hanover Park and Fred Mitchell of Prospect Heights. (A15

RIDING ON TOP with captain Frank Rus of the power yacht Suboycar were carriers Richard Willis and Bobby Mitchell (front), and Dan and Andy Thompson. Scene was during the carriers' all-day excursion into Lake Michigan.



summer is hard on watches

It's amazing what summer with its intense heat and humidity does to a watch. It can rust the case and generally play havoc with the movement. We'll be happy to give your watch an inspection and show you how we can "summerize" it for you at a very reasonable price.

Sometimes people don't know Paddock Publications is one of the best suburban newspapers anywhere. They think we print racing dope sheets, or even the invoices and restaurant menus for the race track. One even accused us of owning the Post and Paddock club.

We're not surprised, for we've never blown our own horn enough. We neglect to tell people we've won 195 awards since 1956, including the Will Loomis trophy in 1964 as the best suburban newspaper in the state.

Come to think of it, we do publish sort of a local dope sheet, the inside story of all the local happenings in your community, so why don't you race right down to the newsstand and buy a copy?

Hesse Appoints Deputy, Township Area Chairmen

A new deputy committeeman and Republican area chairmen for Palatine Township have been announced by Robert L. Hesse, recently-elected G.O.P. committeeman.

CHARLES ALLEN, 2208 Fulle St., Rolling Meadows, has been named first deputy committeeman, replacing Ted Meyers, who is moving to Florida.

In appointing area chairmen, Hesse said, "The growth of the township requires a new system for keeping on top of the problems. The area chairmen will work with the precinct captains and be able to know the local needs in the areas assigned to them."

BERNARD Pedersen, 220 S. Hale, will be chairman for the precincts in central Palatine, including Palanois Park subdivision.

Fred L. Walter, 2400 Flicker Lane, will be chairman for election precincts in Rolling Meadows, and James E. Nolan, 743 Bennett St., will serve as chairman for southwest Palatine and Plum Grove.

Arthur B. Jicha, 1426 Reynolds Drive, is chairman of northeast Palatine, which area includes Winston Park and Reseda.

HAROLD G. VanTassel, 677 Wren, Palatine, will serve as chairman for precincts in the western end of the township, including North View subdivision, Inverness, Barrington Woods and the part of Barrington that is in Palatine Township.

Preparations Made for Playground Track Games

The seventh week of activities sponsored by Palatine Park District was designated "Olympic Week" and featured running in preparation for the district's track meet Saturday. Mile-a-day clubs were formed for ambitious youngsters.

Prizes were awarded to the various playgrounds for their work in painting cabinets and trash cans. Oak Street School won the award for the best trash can, while Jane Addams and Paddock shared honors for the best cabinet.

Jane Addams set aside a Western Day, which featured a bike rodeo, marshmallow roast and a "fight at the fort." Four boys from the playground, Kevin, Brian and Pat Fitzgerald and Mike Sparacino, have run more than five miles a day to become leaders of the mile club.

AT WINSTON activities included a party for newly-engaged playground leader Jodie Alberts, and a spook house. Eve Lindstrom won the most brownie points for the week, and Lance Gackowski, Susan McWilliams and Betsy Lawrence were mile club leaders.

For their special event, Sanborn youngsters had a water fight, and a costume contest, won by Terry Nasby, Robby Piotrowski, Becky Hestrup and Bill Stevenson.

A bicycle skill contest at Pleasant Hill was won by Charles Pease, Sue Luhr, Ann Maloney, Rob Mitchell and David Cromar. Kathy Angelos, Sharon Purcell, Kim Abott and Steven Dwyer collected the most "fool's gold"; Kim Kmiecik, Darcy Zimmer, Mike Johnson, Dawn Cutler, Pam Ahlgrim, Joan and Ellen DePaolis and Christi Adams were winners of a talent show; Bill Luhr, Kim Kmiecik, and James Pease were "toober" champs.

AT PADDOCK, new helpers Karen Magnus and Jim Hanks helped with the marshmallow roast, peanut hunt and base running contest. The boys and girls also made a 1920 car for the playground pageant. Ernie Ippolito was "toober" champ, and Jerry Blaine had the winning boat in the Paddock regatta.

Often, when he wrote checks like this one for cash to meet White House running expenses, President Lincoln must have recalled earlier years when $800.00 would have seemed a fortune indeed!

History tells us that a younger Lincoln was frequently embarrassed by many small debts. And what a help it might have been if the banks in those days had offered low-cost "budget-balancer" loans, as we do now!

We figure it is the job of a modern bank to make money management as easy as possible for our customers.

For their special event, Sanborn youngsters had a water fight, and a costume contest, won by Terry Nasby, Robby Piotrowski, Becky Hestrup and Bill Stevenson.

A bicycle skill contest at Pleasant Hill was won by Charles Pease, Sue Luhr, Ann Maloney, Rob Mitchell and David Cromar. Kathy Angelos, Sharon Purcell, Kim Abott and Steven Dwyer collected the most "fool's gold"; Kim Kmiecik, Darcy Zimmer, Mike Johnson, Dawn Cutler, Pam Ahlgrim, Joan and Ellen DePaolis and Christi Adams were winners of a talent show; Bill Luhr, Kim Kmiecik, and James Pease were "toober" champs.

AT PADDOCK, new helpers Karen Magnus and Jim Hanks helped with the marshmallow roast, peanut hunt and base running contest. The boys and girls also made a 1920 car for the playground pageant. Ernie Ippolito was "toober" champ, and Jerry Blaine had the winning boat in the Paddock regatta.

Often, when he wrote checks like this one for cash to meet White House running expenses, President Lincoln must have recalled earlier years when $800.00 would have seemed a fortune indeed!

History tells us that a younger Lincoln was frequently embarrassed by many small debts. And what a help it might have been if the banks in those days had offered low-cost "budget-balancer" loans, as we do now!

We figure it is the job of a modern bank to make money management as easy as possible for our customers.

How Are People Paying for Long Vacations?

High Costs Don't Faze Vacationers

by LINDA HUGHES
Staff Writer

"People are taking longer and more expensive vacations every year, but we can't figure out how they are doing it. Price doesn't seem to phase them anymore."

That is the statement of Kay Toscano of Wayne Griffin Travel Agency.

How are they doing it? And where are they going on those longer and more expensive vacations?

Just notice how many signs there are in windows of banks and finance companies advertising money loaned for vacations.

Household Finance and Local Loan reports as many as 60 per cent of their loans in the summer are for vacations. Occasionally, with complete refinancing of other loans, the amount borrowed is up to $2,000, with two years to pay, Household reports.

WHAT THOSE people do the next year, when they are still paying on last year's vacation, isn't known.

But the loan business for vacations has doubled in the last three years, both finance companies say. And it appears that getting a loan for a vacation is as easy, depending on one's credit, as getting a loan for any other purpose.

First Arlington National Bank says it classifies them as personal loans. Although there are some large ones, most are for $200 to $300.

Most airlines now offer their own credit cards or will accept others. "Fly now — Pay later" is the slogan of one.

WINTER vacations are definitely becoming more prominent, says Miss Toscano. On these the children are usually left behind.

Popular spots for winter vacations are of course those which offer either sun, skiing or both.

Mexico, the Caribbean, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Jamaica, South America — all are popular foreign winter vacation spots, many times with an ocean tour. And Hawaii has picked up this past year, the travel agent says.

Winter domestic vacations are often to dude ranches and other resorts in Arizona or Florida.

IN FACT, Florida is usually more popular with people from this area in the winter than in the summer, although a loan executive at Household notes a freakish trend this summer toward Florida.

"I can't understand it," he says. Its high humidity, higher even than Chicago's, usually keeps summer vacationers away.

Las Vegas picked up last winter, Wayne Griffin's agent says. People are attracted to Nevada resort spots principally for the gambling, but they will usually include Los Angeles in their itinerary.

Skiing attracts many to Colorado and Michigan.

BUT, SUMMER or winter, travel agents say travel to foreign spots has increased 50 per cent over the past five years.

"President Johnson's 'See America First' campaign has done just the reverse," Miss Toscano remarked.

Whereas people used to go to Miami for sun, now it has just become a jumping-off place. Islands not far from it, like Nassau, get many of the former Florida vacationers.

Yet, despite the increasing prominence of exotic foreign vacations, many families with school-age children still like roughing it in the mountains or near lakes.

They go to relax, fish, swim, sunbathe, water ski, picnic, camp, play golf, ride horseback, or just take in the cooling breezes afforded by tall evergreens.

THEY LOAD the car, very often including a rack on the top or a small trailer behind — if not a boat — and set out for two or three weeks.

Wisconsin lakes are by far the most popular with people in this area. There, they will either rent a cottage — if they do not own one — or pitch a tent.

Missouri, Indiana, Minnesota, and the northeastern states are also popular.

A few will go west, but they have to spend more time on the road than relaxing. The Grand Canyon, Yosemite, Yellowstone, Black Hills, Petrified Forest and Painted Desert are popular with both young and old.

Travel agents say their bookings to the northwest have been slow this summer. Retired people with more time often include that area in a planned bus tour, but apparently younger people looking for cool spots, who have only two or three weeks, prefer Wisconsin. (A15

Brothers Win Top Awards

Director's Day, a special event for youngsters at Hasbrook Park in Arlington Heights, featured chess, checkers, ping pong and tennis tournaments.

The August 4 event saw Dave Kman, 615 Maude Ave., winning the 11 years and younger checkers, ping pong and tennis championships, while his older brother, George, won the 12-16 years checkers and ping pong tournaments.

CHESS CROWNS went to Dave Sjogren. 1802 N. Walnut Ave., with Mark Carroll second in the younger age group. In the older group, Jim McEnerney, 1727 N. Chestnut Ave., was the victor, and Bob Alan Suchy came in second.

Other second place awards went to Ron Trahan, 528 N. Ridge Ave., in 12-16 years checkers and ping pong. Robby Skiera, 616 W. Thomas Ave., took second place in the same two events in the 11 years and younger category. (A

Readers' Deadline Is Friday

The last push is on for Arlington Heights youngsters who are working to complete the library's summer reading program.

The deadline for completion of the required 10 books is Friday. At that time, the gradeschoolers who have fulfilled the requirement will be given tickets to a special children's movie to be shown at the Arlington Theater at 10 a.m. Wednesday. The name of the movie is to be a surprise.

MORE THAN 1,700 children have enrolled in the program, and about 400 have already completed the reading Monday. "About half of the children who enrolled last year completed the reading," said Jeanne Zimmerman, head of the program at the village library.

Children participating in the program have been given a part of a circus tent mobile for each two books that they have read. When 10 books are read, the mobile is complete.

The reading program was set up to encourage children to read during the summer months. (A

Summer Program Teaches Residents Art of Relaxation

Sidelights Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate

Natalie Fairhead

Mary O'Leary

This week again finds scores of Sidelighters returning from vacations. It seems that whether our local Arlington Heighters wander near or far, and whether they spend their vacations taking in the usual tourist attractions or doing something out of the ordinary, they seem to have a great capacity for enjoying themselves.

Five weeks of vacationing showed how talented the Edward McKowns are in the fine art of fun and relaxation. Mr. and Mrs. Edward McKown and their two children, Karyl and Ted, flew to Washington, D. C., on July 5. While there they toured the Capitol and Mount Vernon and took the last flight out of Washington before the air strike.

From then on they travelled by car—first to St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn., where they saw the Minnesota golf tournament. While in Minnesota, they stayed at the Holiday Inn, from which they could see the capitol building and St. Paul Cathedral. While dining in St. Paul, they met the Herbert Haynsworths of Arlington Heights.

In Leech Lake, Minn., Mrs. McKown visited her sister, Mrs. J. D. Phelps, and met her new niece, Joyce, her three nephews, and her niece from Seattle, Valery Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dean.

IN APPLETON, Wis., the McKowns visited Mrs. McKown's ex-roommate and fellow-stewardess, Mrs. John Lindbergh, and met her husband and four children.

The rest of the vacation was spent visiting local attractions such as Brookfield Zoo and a ball-game.

Last Sunday morning, the Forestell family, 1200 Wheeling, returned from their two-week vacation. Their last stop in Peterborough, Canada, a city 80 miles northeast of Toronto, was the site of a family reunion at the home of Mr. Forestell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lauren Forestell. The Forestells, with their daughter, Kathy, and son, Kerry, visited Mr. Forestell's sisters and got acquainted with a few nieces and nephews they had never seen before.

Returning from a visit with relatives in Florida for two weeks were Mr. and Mrs. Nordin, 1211 North Rand. The Nordins stayed with Mr. Nordin's "in-laws", the R. H. Barbours (former Arlington Heights residents) in their home in Sarasota, Fla. Accompanying the Nordins on this fifth trip to Florida were Mr. Nordin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Nordin of Palatine, who stayed in a cottage along the Gulf of Mexico. In addition to visiting with relatives, the Nordins took in a number of tourist attractions, such as the Jungle Gardens, Tampa, Floridaland, and the Ringling Museum.

"BUSINESS before pleasure" can hurt a little sometimes, especially if business upsets plans for very pleasurable vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Strathearn, 720 Bristol, were forced to abandon plans for a second trip to Europe with their two children as a result of pressing matters. Although she is understandably disappointed, Mrs. Strathearn's hopes are high that they will eventually be able to carry through on their plans.

Currently visiting the Strathearn home for a week is Mrs. Strathearn's mother, Mrs. Arthur Brown, from Brookfield, Wis. Gregory Brown, the Strathearns' nephew (also from Brookfield), spent last weekend at the Strathearns' visiting their son John. Both boys will be college freshmen in the fall —Gregory at the University of Wisconsin and John at DePauw at Greencastle, Ind.

Houseboat cruising on Rainy Lake kept the Zwisslers, 114 S. Brighton, afloat and awhirl with activity for a week. The lake is located near International Falls, a point between northern Minnesota and Canada. Meeting the Zwisslers and their two children, Bruce and Carol, was their other son, Douglas, who flew in from southern California. Later, in International Falls, the Zwisslers met their parents, the senior Zwisslers, who drove up from southern California. Once all were aboard, the Zwissler clan set out for their week-long cruise of fishing and visiting.

MR. AND MRS. Spacapan and their children, Shirlynn, Edward, Keith, and Kevin, recently returned from a camping trip at Cape Hattaras, a very long scenic seashore preserved by the federal government in its natural state. As The Spacapans left three weeks was a noticeable absence of the commercialism found at so many other seashore vacation spots. Connected to the cape is a series of islands linked together by bridges, with the last island attainable only by ferry. The Spaca,ans left three weeks ago for their tent-trailer tour and returned last week.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Goldthwaite, Burt Goldthwaite, visited his parents' home at 426 E. Park en route to his new home. Burt, his wife, Jane, and their son, John, left their home in San Francisco to put down stakes in New York. The reason behind their cross-country move was his promotion to buyer for Saks Fifth Avenue.

The Goldthwaites' daughter, Mrs. Donald Martell, along with her husband, their three children, Danny, Paul, and Laura, and a friend, Miss Olive Rich, is visiting her parents this week. The Martell entourage came in from Elkhart, Ind.

Mr. Ray Erickson, 601 S. Burton, recently attended a Field Enterprise area management conference at the Blackstone Sheraton in Chicago.

Bob Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Meyer, 1911 N. Chestnut, spent five weeks this summer at Camp Strongheart for Boys, Lake Tomahawk, Wis. An outstanding feature of the camping experience was a guided fishing trip in the Lake of the Woods region of Ontario, Canada, where an outpost is operated in connection with the camp.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. James J. Bruscatto, 504 S. Mitchell, whose mother, Mrs. Frances Lucchetti, died Aug. 1. (A

Woman Driver Hurt in Crash

Two cars collided Tuesday morning at the corner of Haddow Avenue and Euclid Street in Arlington Heights when one driver failed to yield the right of way at the stop sign there.

The front of an automobile driven by E. Marvin Buehler, 615 N. Haddow Ave., struck the left side of a car operated by Mary Therens, 706 N. Drury Lane, Arlington Heights.

Buehler was charged with failure to yield the right of way after a stop.

Mrs. Therens was treated and released from Northwest Community Hospital. (A

Notes from Arlington Acres

A belated welcome to Arlington Acres is extended to Dr. and Mrs. Richard La Veau, 1815 E. Grove, formerly of Glenview, and their boys, Ricky, 5, Randy, soon 4, and year-old Robbie. Dr. La Veau is a podiatrist with offices in downtown Arlington Heights.

Recent guests of the family were the senior La Veaus of Spokane, Wash., who stopped en route to their summer home in Michigan. Plans to take Ricky and Randy to Michigan with them for a vacation had to be cancelled when the La Veaus were unexpectedly called back to Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Fran Conway and children, Jimmy and Sharon, 513 S. Prindle, have so enjoyed their trips to Florida over the years that they again chose Fort Lauderdale for their annual vacation. Among the attractions drawing them back so often are ocean swimming for everyone and deep sea fishing for Fran and Jimmy, who caught a 4½-foot dolphin weighing 19 pounds. Sightseeing in the immediate area has been thoroughly covered by the family in previous years but the trip home afforded a few new places to see such as the oldest schoolhouse in the United States and an old Spanish fort at St. Augustine as well as the Fountain of Youth.

THE RALPH VERLEY family, 436 S. Prindle, is back home after a week spent visiting Irene's parents, the Anthony Ambrosias in Iron Mountain, Mich., and friends in St. Paul, where the Verleys previously lived. Bill and Theresa accompanied their parents and Bill stayed on for a short while when the rest of the family returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Post and their six children, 2105 E. Park, have joined the growing ranks of campers and spent two weeks at the Rafter J. Bar Ranch at Hill City, S. D. The Posts fanned out each day from their campsite and took in as many of the sights as time would permit, including a trip to Mt. Rushmore, a tour of an operating gold mine, swimming at Hot Springs and a trip through Jewel Cave, which has not been modernized and requires visitors to carry lanterns while crawling on all fours through narrow openings.

While most vacationers need at least a short rest period after a trip, not so the Posts whose first act on reaching home was to plan a multiple birthday party Sunday. Guests were the children's grandmother, Mrs. Charlotte Post, and great-grandmother, Mrs. Florence Molt of Evanston, who was a guest of honor along with Jim, 12 Aug. 3, and Laura, 9 Aug. 10.

A HOUSEGUEST of the Frank Jenkos, 440 S. Prindle, for the past week, was Miss Rose Serson, a lifelong friend of Betty's from her hometown of Virginia, Minn. Although Miss Serson had been here before, it was shortly after the Jenkos themselves arrived and did not know the area well enough to show a visitor around. They are now more qualified to act as guides and took the guest sightseeing in the Chicago area, including Old Town, and more locally Arlington Park. The visitor's Aug. 8 birthday was celebrated at a family affair, with a festive dinner and birthday cake.

The John Brunsfeld and the Ray Fritz families, next door neighbors at 416-420 S. Phelps, rented a cottage near Eagle River, Wis., and spent 10 carefree days enjoying swimming and other water fun, as well as attending the water skiing show at Minoqua. Although the heads of both families were still working men and couldn't get away for the entire period, they drove up over the weekends to be with their families and to enjoy some fishing.

MIKE BRUNSFELD is to be congratulated on winning a second prize in the jazz division at the World Teen Show in McCormick Place July 27. Mike plays with a combo known as "The Downbeats" and their prize was a half hour recording session.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Leistikow and son, Tommy, 512 S. Forrest, are campers from way back. When vacation time came around this year, they packed their gear and headed for California. They have friends at San Raphael whom they visited, as well as a cousin.

Kay's mother, Grandma Carnahan, spent a month with another daughter in Jackson, Mich., and the Leistikows drove up there last weekend to bring her home.

Mark Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanson, 429 S. Prindle, was too busy to celebrate his 16th birthday other than with his family at a dinner in his honor Aug. 6.

MARK PLAYS in two combos and spends most of his time practicing. After his birthday dinner he was scheduled to attend a practice session with "The Conspirators," a group of five musicians, mostly from Cary. Mark is also a member of "The Lords" along with Doug Soderberg, which last month played at McCormick Place, although not in competition.

Deryn Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robinson, celebrated her third birthday at a luncheon given in her honor Friday by her mother, with an assist from Barbara Jenko, at the Robinson home, 504 S. Prindle. Guests were Laura and John Schneider, Jack Hulse and Laurie and Mary Ellen Steffens.

A happy 14th birthday was wished to Susan Thorstad, daughter of the James Thorstads, 412 S. Phelps, at a family dinner Sunday. Joining the festivities was an aunt, Miss Mary Kelly of Skokie.

Mrs. Thorstad was hostess Thursday evening to the Birthday Club members who planned to stretch the celebration of the Aug. 3 birthday of Mrs. William Jahnke, 2024 E. Park, to include a surprise baby shower for Mrs. Larry Wendt, 2023 E. Grove. The zeal to keep the shower a secret was so great that an invitation to the guest of honor was kept secret too, and her presence at the party was touch and go while the guests waited for her return home from an evening out.

MARCIA LONGRIE, 429 S. Forrest, got in the swing of things with a "swinging" slumber party Friday night to celebrate her 12th birthday. Most of her gifts were records to add to the stack to be played for hours on end while her guests, Margi and Kris Knutsen, Teresa Verley and a cousin, Joan Karkocki, danced until a late pizza supper was served. Then it was time to bed down for more endless hours of talk and giggling.

Marcia is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Longrie.

Dickie Christiansen and his mother, Mrs. Richard Christiansen, share an Aug. 1 birthday and received felicitations together at a family dinner at the Christiansen home, 428 S. Waterman.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Niebuhr, 424 S. Forrest, marked their 31st wedding anniversary Aug. 3. They were joined for the day by their son and daughter-in-law, Ken and Kathy, and took their grandchildren, Julie and Kenny, to the zoo in the afternoon and then to Hapsburg Inn in Des Plaines for dinner.

Frank Marshall, 432 S. Forrest, had his Aug. 4 birthday celebration at a cook-out that day. Present to offer best wishes were his daughter and son-in-law, the Stan Koys of Des Plaines with their daughter, Margaret, a sister and brother-in-law, the Larry Burkes of Elmhurst, and close friends, the Norman Greenacres of Arlington Heights.

Donna Dwyer, daughter of the James Dwyers, 516 S. Forrest, has taken an apartment in Chicago, but came home Sunday to be with her family at a dinner to celebrate her Aug. 7 birthday.

FROM RIDGE PARK

On July 28, the Richard Lanzons drove to St. Joseph, Mich., to pick up their sons, Greg and Larry, who had been in Detroit visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Dorothy Barber, and to also get Dick's Niece, Cheryl Lanson who was their houseguest for two weeks at 814 N. Patton.

The following day friends of the Lanzons, the Robert Foster family, arrived from Detroit to spend a few days visiting. The boys enjoyed themselves tenting overnight in the backyard while the company was here. The two couples enjoyed dinner out at Ignatz and Mary's on Aug. 1.

The Mickey Danes family of 725 N. Harvard helped celebrate Frank's first birthday July 26.

The Danes drove to Westfield, Wis., the July 29 weekend to visit Mickey's brother, Carl Dwayczi.

A BIRTHDAY luncheon was held at 945 N. Ridge on Aug. 6 in honor of Barbara Bensinger who turned 6. Guests included Susie and Jimmy Blizzard, Curt Burkhardt, Cathy Zember, Russ and Sandy Elenz, Carol Tsarchala, Coralee Carlson and Barb's nephew, Joey Klask.

The Norman T. Walls are home again at 936 N. Ridge after two weeks of relaxation in Wisconsin and Michigan. Starting July 24, they were guests at the Woodside Ranch in Mauston, Wis., where they indulged in horseback riding, swimming and an old-fashioned Sadie Hawkins chase and dance. After a week's stay there, they went on to the upper peninsula of Michigan to Houghton and Wakefield to visit friends for a few days.

For Julie Jensen's seventh birthday, her parents, Vernon and Gwynne, 935 N. Kaspar, treated her to dinner at Scot's in Mount Prospect.

Arriving home at 1005 N. Race on Aug. 5 was the Frank Lude family, after a week at a resort motel by the Lake-of-the-Ozarks. Barbara invited a friend, Kay Johnson of Mount Prospect, to join them on their trip, so she had some company while she went swimming and horseback riding. Besides touring Jesse James Cavern, the Ludes enjoyed Aquarama, the Ozark Opry and others.

Mrs. George Wojtkiewicz and her children were guests of her brother, the Ken Rhode family of Norridge Park, on Aug. 2 so the children could have a party in honor of G. B. who was celebrating his fourth birthday. On Sunday, the Wojtkiewiczes hosted a party at their home at 920 N. Ridge for G. B. at which Joan's parents Mr. and Mrs. Bud Petersen, her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leipzig, all of Chicago, and the James Hahns of Arlington Heights were among the guests.

THE JAMES Starkey family of 907 N. Ridge left July 24 for St. Clairsville, Ohio to spend a week visiting Jim's sister and to attend a family reunion July 30. Afterwards they left on a sightseeing tour through Virginia, Washington D.C., where they visited the Senate among other things and on to historic Gettysburg, Pa., to see the battlefield and the various museums, returning home Aug. 7.

Houseguests of the Jack Spauldings at 1106 W. Elm for a week were friends from Northfield, Ohio, the Bob Selmons family.

A double birthday celebration was held Aug. 6 at the William Thrashers', 919 N. Kennicott. Their son, Barry, came down from La Crosse for his birthday bringing his girl friend, Pat Zein. His grandmother, Mrs. Jeanette Tortorici celebrated her birthday at the same time. Also arriving for the day were Mel's sister, brothers and other members of the family.

Friends and neighbors will be glad to know that the cast is off Mel's leg, after almost three months, and she is rapidly gaining the use of her leg.

THE ROBERT Kleiners, 914 N. Yale, are home after a three-week visit in Sante Fe, N. M., with Kathryn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Essington, former Mount Prospect residents. While there, they attended the Rodeo, which was a highlight of their trip.

Also back from the west are the Les Schranks of 908 N. Ridge. They spent two weeks in Grand Lake, Colo., at the Winding River Guest Ranch, where they spent most of their time enjoying the scenery on horseback.

Newcomers to Ridge Park are the Ernest Carlsons and the Harvey Brunings.

The Carlsons moved to 911 N. Harvard from Zion with their children, Chris, 4, and Terri Lynn, 3. Ernest is a store controller with Montgomery Ward and Co. in Waukegan. They are members of St. James Church in Arlington Heights.

Eileen and Harvey Bruning, now at 1010 N. Race, are from Chicago. They have a daughter, Janice, 4. Mr. Bruning is a radio technician with United Air Lines.

The following week Isabelle and Robert went to Boston to visit all the historical spots, including Beacon Hill. They also spent some time with her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Andre Sampou in Cherbourn, Mass. (A

Home Picketing Cut Short by Sunday Plans

Would-be Berkley Square resident Charles Liebl picketed the subdivision's sales office again last Sunday for about 30 minutes.

Arlington Heights policemen were called to the scene but took no action, and Liebl had his picture taken by one of the Berkley Square salesman.

MRS. LIEBL accompanied her husband. She explained Monday their stay was short primarily because they had another engagement that afternoon.

Berkley Square sales manager James Siegrist said the photographs are for his scrapbook.

School Board Grants Village Use of Pond

Permission for Mount Prospect to drain Colonial Heights storm water into Forest View High School's retention pond was given Monday by the District 214 board.

Ben Hemmeter, Mount Prospect village engineer, told the board that if the high school's drainage ditch could be utilized, two objected to drainage basins in the Colonial Heights area would not be needed.

Residents of the subdivision have opposed the addition of the small retention ponds, calling them both a hazard and a nuisance.

School board members, while giving an informal go-ahead to the project, did express one reservation.

THEY FORESAW a dilemma, if at some later date, an expanded storm sewer drainage system was available to Forest View and the school wished to fill the ditch and use the land for other purposes.

Hemmeter agreed that would pose a problem. But he predicted that by that time Mount Prospect would be in a better position to handle its own storm drainage.

The informal okay given by the school board will make it possible for Hemmeter to negotiate with the village of Arlington Heights, which must also approve the dual-drainage use since the east boundary of the school runs along the boundaries between the villages.

Hemmeter told the school board that Mount Prospect would clear the ditch of weeds, put a wire cage over the mouth of the 30-inch storm sewer into which it feeds, and build a retention dam to slow the water's flow into the piping.

Anxiously awaiting completion of the arrangement are two Colonial Heights contractors whose building permits have been held up until the Metropolitan Sanitary District approves their arrangements for holding back storm water. The sanitary district had recommended the two small retention basins but will accept the high school basin-sharing in their place. The contractors are Colonial Heights, Inc., and Kaplan & Braun Builders.

HEMMETER said that the high school drainage pond should be adequate. It has a capacity of 3.5 to 4 acre-feet of water now and is about half-ful after a good rain. The Mount Prospect water diversion would only add about a half acre-foot more.

The Mount Prospect official told the school board that the two subdividers have agreed to help finance improvements of the high school pond in place of having to put in the two small ponds.

This could, Hemmeter said, include fencing the ditch, which school board member William Griffith of Arlington Heights felt was a necessity. Griffith pointed to hazards the pond might present to area children.

Arlington Softball Continues

Four leagues continued action last week in the Arlington Heights Park District Softball program, with two units from Pioneer Park holding down first place in the A and B Leagues.

There wasn't much action in the A League, with a pair of forfeits recorded. Recreation no. 1 received credit for a win over Evergreen, as did Recreation no. 2 over Pioneer no. 2.

In B League games, Pioneer extended its winning streak to nine in a row with an 11-1 pasting of Recreation no. 1 and an 18-2 trampling of Hasbrook. Greenbrier also took a pair of games, defeating Virginia by forfeit and downing Hasbrook 17-5.

In the Ponytail League, Recreation moved into a first-place tie with Pioneer with a narrow 5-4 victory over them. Hasbrook rolled over Greenbrier, 24-10.

The Girls Junior High School League saw the Arlington squad finish the season with a 7-1 record. They beat River Trails Park District by forfeit before Des Plaines ruined their perfect season with a 14-2 victory.

The show is open to dogs of all sizes and breeds. Awards will be made in five classifications: best groomed, best trick, largest, smallest and best costumed.

Co-sponsor with the Mount Prospect Plaza Merchants Association is Quaker Oats Co., maker of Ken-L-Ration dog food, who will give awards to the first, second and third best dogs in each category plus a grand prize for the best dog of the show.

Every child who enters will receive a prize and a ribbon. Entry blanks are available in every store in the shopping center. (B10

Summer Program Teaches Residents Art of Relaxation

Sidelights
Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate

Natalie Fairhead 392-5654
Mary O'Leary CL 9-3827

This week again finds scores of Sidelighters returning from vacations. It seems that whether our local Arlington Heighters wander near or far, and whether they spend their vacations taking in the usual tourist attractions or doing something out of the ordinary, they seem to have a great capacity for enjoying themselves.

Five weeks of vacationing showed how talented the Edward McKowns are in the fine art of fun and relaxation. Mr. and Mrs. Edward McKown and their two children, Karyl and Ted, flew to Washington, D. C., on July 5. While there they toured the Capitol and Mount Vernon and took the last flight out of Washington before the air strike.

From then on they travelled by car—first to St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn., where they saw the Minnesota golf tournament. While in Minnesota, they stayed at the Holiday Inn, from which they could see the capitol building and St. Paul Cathedral. While dining in St. Paul, they met the Herbert Haynsworths of Arlington Heights.

In Leech Lake, Minn., Mrs. McKown visited her sister, Mrs. J. D. Phelps, and met her new niece, Joyce, her three nephews, and her niece from Seattle, Valery Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dean.

IN APPLETON, Wis., the McKowns visited Mrs. McKown's ex-roommate and fellow-stewardess, Mrs. John Lindbergh, and met her husband and four children.

The rest of the vacation was spent visiting local attractions such as Brookfield Zoo and a ball-game.

Last Sunday morning, the Forestell family, 1200 Wheeling, returned from their two-week vacation. Their last stop in Peterborough, Canada, a city 80 miles northeast of Toronto, was the site of a family reunion at the home of Mr. Forestell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lauren Forestell. The Forestells, with their daughter, Kathy, and son, Kerry, visited Mr. Forestell's sisters and got acquainted with a few nieces and nephews they had never seen before.

Returning from a visit with relatives in Florida for two weeks were Mr. and Mrs. Nordin, 1211 North Rand. The Nordins stayed with Mr. Nordin's "in-laws", the R. H. Barbours (former Arlington Heights residents) in their home in Sarasota, Fla. Accompanying the Nordins on this fifth trip to Florida were Mr. Nordin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Nordin of Palatine, who stayed in a cottage along the Gulf of Mexico. In addition to visiting with relatives, the Nordins took in a number of tourist attractions, such as the Jungle Gardens, Tampa, Floridaland, and the Ringling Museum.

"BUSINESS before pleasure" can hurt a little sometimes, especially if business upsets plans for very pleasurable vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Strathearn, 720 Bristol, were forced to abandon plans for a second trip to Europe with their two children as a result of pressing matters. Although she is understandably disappointed, Mrs. Strathearn's hopes are high that they will eventually be able to carry through on their plans.

Currently visiting the Strathearn home for a week is Mrs. Strathearn's mother, Mrs. Arthur Brown, from Brookfield, Wis. Gregory Brown, the Strathearns' nephew (also from Brookfield), spent last weekend at the Strathearns' visiting their son John. Both boys will be college freshmen in the fall—Gregory at the University of Wisconsin and John at DePauw at Greencastle, Ind.

Houseboat cruising on Rainy Lake kept the Zwisslers, 114 S. Brighton, afloat and awhirl with activity for a week. The lake is located near International Falls, a point between northern Minnesota and Canada. Meeting the Zwisslers and their two children, Bruce and Carol, was their other son, Douglas, who flew in from southern California. Later, in International Falls, the Zwisslers met their parents, the senior Zwisslers, who drove up from southern California. Once all were aboard, the Zwissler clan set out for their week-long cruise of fishing and visiting.

MR. AND MRS. Spacapan and their children, Shirlynn, Edward, Keith, and Kevin, recently returned from a camping trip at Cape Hattaras, a very long scenic seashore preserved by the federal government in its natural state. As The Spacapans left three weeks was a noticeable absence of the commercialism found at so many other seashore vacation spots. Connected to the cape is a series of islands linked together by bridges, with the last island attainable only by ferry. The Spaca,ans left three weeks ago for their tent-trailer tour and returned last week.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Goldthwaite, Burt Goldthwaite, visited his parents' home at 426 E. Park en route to his new home. Burt, his wife, Jane, and their son, John, left their home in San Francisco to put down stakes in New York. The reason behind their cross-country move was his promotion to buyer for Saks Fifth Avenue.

The Goldthwaites' daughter, Mrs. Donald Martell, along with her husband, their three children, Danny, Paul, and Laura, and a friend, Miss Olive Rich, is visiting her parents this week. The Martell entourage came in from Elkhart, Ind.

Mr. Ray Erickson, 601 S. Burton, recently attended a Field Enterprise area management conference at the Blackstone Sheraton in Chicago.

Bob Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Meyer, 1911 N. Chestnut, spent five weeks this summer at Camp Strongheart for Boys, Lake Tomahawk, Wis. An outstanding feature of the camping experience was a guided fishing trip in the Lake of the Woods region of Ontario, Canada, where an outpost is operated in connection with the camp.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. James J. Bruscatto, 504 S. Mitchell, whose mother, Mrs. Frances Lucchetti, died Aug. 1. (A

Woman Driver Hurt in Crash

Two cars collided Tuesday morning at the corner of Haddow Avenue and Euclid Street in Arlington Heights when one driver failed to yield the right of way at the stop sign there.

The front of an automobile driven by E. Marvin Buehler, 615 N. Haddow Ave., struck the left side of a car operated by Mary Therens, 706 N. Drury Lane, Arlington Heights.

Buehler was charged with failure to yield the right of way after a stop.

Mrs. Therens was treated and released from Northwest Community Hospital. (A

Notes from Arlington Acres

A belated welcome to Arlington Acres is extended to Dr. and Mrs. Richard La Veau, 1815 E. Grove, formerly of Glenview, and their boys, Ricky, 5, Randy, soon 4, and year-old Robbie. Dr. La Veau is a podiatrist with offices in downtown Arlington Heights.

Recent guests of the family were the senior La Veaus of Spokane, Wash., who stopped en route to their summer home in Michigan. Plans to take Ricky and Randy to Michigan with them for a vacation had to be cancelled when the La Veaus were unexpectedly called back to Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Fran Conway and children, Jimmy and Sharon, 513 S. Prindle, have so enjoyed their trips to Florida over the years that they again chose Fort Lauderdale for their annual vacation. Among the attractions drawing them back so often are ocean swimming for everyone and deep sea fishing for Fran and Jimmy, who caught a 4½-foot dolphin weighing 19 pounds. Sightseeing in the immediate area has been thoroughly covered by the family in previous years but the trip home afforded a few new places to see such as the oldest schoolhouse in the United States and an old Spanish fort at St. Augustine as well as the Fountain of Youth.

THE RALPH VERLEY family, 436 S. Prindle, is back home after a week spent visiting Irene's parents, the Anthony Ambrosias in Iron Mountain, Mich., and friends in St. Paul, where the Verleys previously lived. Bill and Theresa accompanied their parents and Bill stayed on for a short while when the rest of the family returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Post and their six children, 2105 E. Park, have joined the growing ranks of campers and spent two weeks at the Rafter J. Bar Ranch at Hill City, S. D. The Posts fanned out each day from their campsite and took in as many of the sights as time would permit, including a trip to Mt. Rushmore, a tour of an operating gold mine, swimming at Hot Springs and a trip through Jewel Cave, which has not been modernized and requires visitors to carry lanterns while crawling on all fours through narrow openings.

While most vacationers need at least a short rest period after a trip, not so the Posts whose first act on reaching home was to plan a multiple birthday party Sunday. Guests were the children's grandmother, Mrs. Charlotte Post, and great-grandmother, Mrs. Florence Molt of Evanston, who was a guest of honor along with Jim, 12 Aug. 3, and Laura, 9 Aug. 10.

A HOUSEGUEST of the Frank Jenkos, 440 S. Prindle, for the past week, was Miss Rose Serson, a lifelong friend of Betty's from her hometown of Virginia, Minn. Although Miss Serson had been here before, it was shortly after the Jenkos themselves arrived and did not know the area well enough to show a visitor around. They are now more qualified to act as guides and took the guest sightseeing in the Chicago area, including Old Town, and more locally Arlington Park. The visitor's Aug. 8 birthday was celebrated at a family affair, with a festive dinner and birthday cake.

The John Brunsfeld and the Ray Fritz families, next door neighbors at 416-420 S. Phelps, rented a cottage near Eagle River, Wis., and spent 10 carefree days enjoying swimming and other water fun, as well as attending the water skiing show at Minoqua. Although the heads of both families were still working men and couldn't get away for the entire period, they drove up over the weekends to be with their families and to enjoy some fishing.

MIKE BRUNSFELD is to be congratulated on winning a second prize in the jazz division at the World Teen Show in McCormick Place July 27. Mike plays with a combo known as "The Downbeats" and their prize was a half hour recording session.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Leistikow and son, Tommy, 512 S. Forrest, are campers from way back. When vacation time came around this year, they packed their gear and headed for California. They have friends at San Raphael whom they visited, as well as a cousin.

Kay's mother, Grandma Carnahan, spent a month with another daughter in Jackson, Mich., and the Leistikows drove up there last weekend to bring her home.

Mark Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanson, 429 S. Prindle, was too busy to celebrate his 16th birthday other than with his family at a dinner in his honor Aug. 6.

MARK PLAYS in two combos and spends most of his time practicing. After his birthday dinner he was scheduled to attend a practice session with "The Conspirators," a group of five musicians, mostly from Cary. Mark is also a member of "The Lords" along with Doug Soderberg, which last month played at McCormick Place, although not in competition.

Deryn Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robinson, celebrated her third birthday at a luncheon given in her honor Friday by her mother, with an assist from Barbara Jenko, at the Robinson home, 504 S. Prindle. Guests were Laura and John Schneider, Jack Hulse and Laurie and Mary Ellen Steffens.

A happy 14th birthday was wished to Susan Thorstad, daughter of the James Thorstads, 412 S. Phelps, at a family dinner Sunday. Joining the festivities was an aunt, Miss Mary Kelly of Skokie.

Mrs. Thorstad was hostess Thursday evening to the Birthday Club members who planned to stretch the celebration of the Aug. 3 birthday of Mrs. William Jahnke, 2024 E. Park, to include a surprise baby shower for Mrs. Larry Wendt, 2023 E. Grove. The zeal to keep the shower a secret was so great that an invitation to the guest of honor was kept secret too, and her presence at the party was touch and go while the guests waited for her return home from an evening out.

MARCIA LONGRIE, 429 S. Forrest, got in the swing of things with a "swinging" slumber party Friday night to celebrate her 12th birthday. Most of her gifts were records to add to the stack to be played for hours on end while her guests, Margi and Kris Knutsen, Teresa Verley and a cousin, Joan Karkocki, danced until a late pizza supper was served. Then it was time to bed down for more endless hours of talk and giggling.

Marcia is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Longrie.

Dickie Christiansen and his mother, Mrs. Richard Christiansen, share an Aug. 1 birthday and received felicitations together at a family dinner at the Christiansen home, 428 S. Waterman.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Niebuhr, 424 S. Forrest, marked their 31st wedding anniversary Aug. 3. They were joined for the day by their son and daughter-in-law, Ken and Kathy, and took their grandchildren, Julie and Kenny, to the zoo in the afternoon and then to Hapsburg Inn in Des Plaines for dinner.

Frank Marshall, 432 S. Forrest, had his Aug. 4 birthday celebration at a cook-out that day. Present to offer best wishes were his daughter and son-in-law, the Stan Koys of Des Plaines with their daughter, Margaret, a sister and brother-in-law, the Larry Burkes of Elmhurst, and close friends, the Norman Greenacres of Arlington Heights.

Donna Dwyer, daughter of the James Dwyers, 516 S. Forrest, has taken an apartment in Chicago, but came home Sunday to be with her family at a dinner to celebrate her Aug. 7 birthday.

School board members, while giving an informal go-ahead to the project, did express one reservation.

THEY FORESAW a dilemma, if at some later date, an expanded storm sewer drainage system was available to Forest View and the school wished to fill the ditch and use the land for other purposes.

Hemmeter agreed that would pose a problem. But he predicted that by that time Mount Prospect would be in a better position to handle its own storm drainage.

The informal okay given by the school board will make it possible for Hemmeter to negotiate with the village of Arlington Heights, which must also approve the dual-drainage use since the east boundary of the school runs along the boundaries between the villages.

Hemmeter told the school board that Mount Prospect would clear the ditch of weeds, put a wire cage over the mouth of the 30-inch storm sewer into which it feeds, and build a retention dam to slow the water's flow into the piping.

Anxiously awaiting completion of the arrangement are two Colonial Heights contractors whose building permits have been held up until the Metropolitan Sanitary District ap proves their arrangements for holding back storm water. The sanitary district had recommended the two small retention basins but will accept the high school basin-sharing in their place. The contractors are Colonial Heights, Inc., and Kaplan & Braun Builders.

HEMMETER said that the high school drainage pond should be adequate. It has a capacity of 3.5 to 4 acre-feet of water now and is about half-ful after a good rain. The Mount Prospect water diversion would only add about a half acre-foot more.

The Mount Prospect official told the school board that the two subdividers have agreed to help finance improvements of the high school pond in place of having to put in the two small ponds.

This could, Hemmeter said, include fencing the ditch, which school board member William Griffith of Arlington Heights felt was a necessity. Griffith pointed to hazards the pond might present to area children.

Arlington Softball Continues

Four leagues continued action last week in the Arlington Heights Park District Softball program, with two units from Pioneer Park holding down first place in the A and B Leagues.

There wasn't much action in the A League, with a pair of forfeits recorded. Recreation no. 1 received credit for a win over Evergreen, as did Recreation no. 2 over Pioneer no. 2.

In B League games, Pioneer extended its winning streak to nine in a row with an 11-1 pasting of Recreation no. 1 and an 18-2 trampling of Hasbrook. Greenbrier also took a pair of games, defeating Virginia by forfeit and downing Hasbrook 17-5.

In the Ponytail League, Recreation moved into a first-place tie with Pioneer with a narrow 5-4 victory over them. Hasbrook rolled over Greenbrier, 24-10.

The Girls Junior High School League saw the Arlington squad finish the season with a 7-1 record. They beat River Trails Park District by forfeit before Des Plaines ruined their perfect season with a 14-2 victory.

Vandals Paint Doors, Windows

Some uncommissioned artist decorated the west windows and glass doors of Dryden School, 722 S. Dryden Place, Arlington Heights, with gold paint last weekend.

Raymond J. Lloyd, 638 S. Dryden Place, reported that the Blackstone Rangers had spray painted 10 of the school's windows. It is believed that the vandalism was done Saturday.

Bomb Explodes On Park Street

A bomb that exploded on south Park Street Sunday evening startled but did not injure a group of people standing at the corner of Vail Avenue and Grove Street in Arlington Heights.

The aerosol bomb container which held the explosives was found, but the person who planted the bomb has not been located.

Walter Glander, 16 W. South St., reported the happening. (A

OFFICIAL PUBLICATION

NOTICE OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to law in such case made and provided, public notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendments to the Illinois Constitution will be submitted on a separate blue ballot to the electors of the State of Illinois for adoption or rejection at the General Election to be held on November 8, 1966.

REVENUE ARTICLE AMENDMENT

ARTICLE IX

Section 1. The General Assembly shall provide such revenue as may be needful by levying taxes, or by authorizing the levy of taxes, in accordance with the provisions of this Article.

Real estate shall constitute one class except as provided in this Article.

The General Assembly may classify tangible personal property into the following classes: (a) household goods and personal effects not used in the production of income, (b) business and farm inventories, including grain, livestock and poultry, (c) motor vehicles, ships, boats and aircraft, and (d) all other tangible personal property; and may abolish property taxes on any or all classes thereof.

Subject to the provisions of the succeeding paragraph of this Section, any tax upon real estate and personal property shall be levied by valuation, such value to be ascertained by some person or persons to be elected or appointed in such manner as the General Assembly shall direct and not otherwise.

The General Assembly may levy a use, privilege or franchise tax, uniform throughout the State, upon ships, boats and aircraft, and upon motor vehicles, or upon any class or classes thereof, in lieu of all property taxes thereon, provided, however, that the proceeds of any tax so levied shall be distributed to local taxing districts and for such purposes as the General Assembly may direct by general law.

The General Assembly may classify intangible property for taxation and may abolish taxation of any or all classes thereof. Classifications of intangible personal property shall be reasonable and based solely upon the nature and characteristics of the property and not on the amount or number owned, and each class may be taxed in such manner as the General Assembly may direct by general law, uniform as to the class upon which it operates. Intangible personal property not employed in carrying on any business by the owner shall be deemed to be located at the domicile of the owner for purposes of taxation; and if such intangible personal property is held in trust, the owner for the purpose of taxation shall be deemed to be the person or persons, according to their respective interests, who have the present beneficial enjoyment of such property. However, intangible personal property employed in or resulting from carrying on a trade or business outside the state shall be deemed to be located outside the state for the purposes of taxation, notwithstanding that the domicile of the owner thereof is within the state.

No class of personal property in any county shall be assessed for the taxation at a percentage of actual value greater than the percentage used in assessing real property, other than in Cook county.

Section 2. The General Assembly may levy or authorize the levy of occupation, sales, use, inheritance, privilege and franchise taxes, uniform as to the objects and subjects taxed within the jurisdiction of the authority levying the tax and uniform as to exemptions granted from any such tax. Any such tax on or measured by gross receipts shall be nongraduated and shall be imposed uniformly upon persons and corporations.

The General Assembly may levy a tax on or measured by income, the rate of which tax shall be nongraduated and shall be levied only by the State uniformly upon corporation and persons with deductions, exemptions and credits not to exceed those permitted from time to time under the Internal Revenue Code of the United States and with credits for taxes and fees as the General Assembly may direct by general law and shall not exceed the rate of 3% unless and until the question whether such a tax should be levied at a rate exceeding 3%, including the maximum rate of tax which might be so levied, has been submitted as a proposition at a general election to the people of the state and has received a majority of the votes cast at such election for or against such proposition. No such tax shall exceed in any event the rate of 6%. Except as provided in this paragraph, the General Assembly shall neither levy nor authorize the levy of any tax on or measured by income. If an income tax is levied, the General Assembly shall fix a date, not later than 4 years after the effective date of the Act levying such tax, after which no ad valorem tax shall be levied on any tangible or intangible personal poperty; and the proceeds of not less than 1% of any such income tax shall be distributed to local taxing districts and for such purposes as the General Assembly may direct by general law.

Section 3. The property, both real and personal, and the income of the state, counties and other municipal corporations, intangible personal property and the income therefrom held for the purpose of providing pension or welfare benefits, and such other property or part thereof as may be used exclusively, as defined by general law, for agricultural or horticultural societies, school, religious, cemetery or charitable purposes, and the income of organizations organized for such purposes, may be exempted from taxation, but such exemption shall be only by general law. In the assessment of real estate encumbered by public easement, any depreciation occasioned by such easement may be deducted in the valuation of such property.

Section 9. The General Assembly may vest the corporate authorities of cities, towns and villages, with power to make local improvements by special assessment or by special taxation of contiguous property, or otherwise. For all other corporate purposes, all municipal corporations may be vested with authority to assess and collect taxes, but such taxes shall be uniform, in respect to persons and property, within the jurisdiction of the body imposing the same, except as otherwise authorized by Sections 1 and 2 of this Article.

Section 10. The General Assembly shall not impose taxes upon municipal corporations, or the inhabitants or property thereof, for corporate purposes, but shall require the corporate authorities to levy taxes for the payment of debts contracted under authority of law. Private property shall not be liable to be taken or sold for the payment of the corporate debts of a municipal corporation. The General Assembly may distribute in whole or in part, the proceeds of any tax levied by the state to such local governments and for such purposes as it may direct by general law.

Section 12. No county, city, township, school district, or other municipal corporation, shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner or for any purpose, to an amount, including existing indebtedness, in the aggregate exceeding 5% or in the case of school districts maintaining grades 1 through 12 exceeding 10%, on the value of the taxable property therein, to be ascertained by the last assessment for state and county taxes, previous to the incurring of such indebtedness. Any county, city, school district, or other municipal corporation, incurring any indebtedness as aforesaid, shall before, or at the time of doing so, provide for the collection of a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such debt, as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof within 20 years from the time of contracting the same. In the event the tax on all personal property is abolished, the foregoing limitations of 5% and 10% shall be increased to 6% and 12%, respectively.

Section 13. Any classification of real property for purposes of taxation in effect in the County of Cook on January 1, 1965, shall continue in effect unless modified as hereinafter provided.

The County Assessor of Cook County may abolish existing classes, and may create new and additional classes as may be reasonable and equitable; but no property shall, by reason of the creation of a new or additional class or by the abolition of any existing class, be placed in a class assessed at a higher percentage of actual value than the class in which such property was previously assessed.

The County Assessor of Cook County may change the level of assessment of any class of real property provided that the difference between the percentage of actual value used in the County of Cook for taxation of the lowest taxed class of real property and the percentage of actual value used in the assessment for taxation of any other class of real property is not greater than the difference in effect on January 1, 1965.

The substance of procedures in effect on January 1, 1965, with respect to real property assessed for taxation by the State of Illinois shall continue in effect without modification.

Any person or corporation aggrieved by any violation of this Section shall be entitled to appropriate relief at law or in equity.

The classification of real property herein provided for may be abolished by a vote of registered voters of Cook County in the following manner. The county board of such county shall, upon petition signed by 33% of the registered voters in the county, cause a proposition for the abolition of such classification of real property, to be submitted to the registered voters of the county at a general election or at a special election called for such purpose. If two-thirds of all of the registered voters of such county vote affirmatively upon the proposition, then such classification shall thereupon be abandoned.

SCHEDULE

Paragraph 1. This Amendment of Article IX, if adopted, shall become effective on July 1, 1967, hereinafter called the "Effective Date." After the adoption of this Amendment of Article IX, the General Assembly shall enact such laws and make such appropriations as may be necessary or proper to give effect to its provisions.

Paragraph 2. All laws in force on the Effective Date of this Amendment of Article IX and consistent therewith shall remain in full force and effect until amended or repealed by the General Assembly. All laws in force on the Effective Date of this Amendment of Article IX and inconsistent therewith, unless sooner repealed or amended to conform with this Amendment, shall remain in full force and effect until July 1, 1968.

Paragraph 3. All fines, taxes, penalties and forfeitures levied, due or owing prior to the Effective Date of this Amendment of Article IX shall continue to be as valid as if this Amendment had not been adopted.

Form of Ballot

The proposed amendment to Article IX will appear upon the constitution ballot in the following form:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTIONS 1, 2, 3, 9, 10, 12 AND 13 OF ARTICLE IX

(Revenue Article)

EXPLANATION OF AMENDMENT

This Amendment would:

a. Make no change in the present manner of taxing real estate.

b. Permit various kinds of personal property to be taxed at different rates and also permit the elimination of taxes on any or all types of personal property, for example, household goods and personal effects.

Permit the legislature to abolish the present retailers' occupation tax and use tax, and replace them with a true sales tax, under which such items as food and medicine could then be exempted.

Limit any income tax, if enacted, to a maximum of 3%, unless the people at a later election vote to increase the limit, but even then, not beyond 6%. If an income tax were adopted, all personal property taxes would be abolished. Further, the proceeds of at least the first 1% rate of income tax, if enacted, shall be distributed to local governments to replace the revenue from the personal property tax.

e. Equalize the bonding power of school districts.

"Place an X in the blank square opposite "Yes" or "No" to indicate your choice."

	YES	For the proposed Amendment to Sections 1, 2, 3, 9, 10, 12 and 13 of ARTICLE IX (REVENUE ARTICLE).
	NO

COUNTY OFFICERS' RE-ELECTION AMENDMENT

ARTICLE X

Section 8. In each county there shall be elected the following County Officers at the general election to be held on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November A.D. 1966, a County Clerk, Sheriff and Treasurer and at the election to be held on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November A.D. 1968, a Coroner. Unless a method of selection by the Judges is provided by law, at the election to be held on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November A.D. 1968, a Clerk of the Circuit Court shall be elected. The County Clerk may be ex-officio Recorder of Deeds, except in counties having 60,000 and more inhabitants, in which counties a Recorder of Deeds shall be elected at the general election in 1968. Each of said officers shall enter upon the duties of his office, respectively on the first Monday of December, after his election, and they shall hold their respective offices for the term of four years, and until their successors are elected or selected and qualified.

Form of Ballot

The proposed amendment to Article X will appear upon the constitution ballot in the following form:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTION 8 OF ARTICLE X

(County Officers' Re-Election)

EXPLANATION OF AMENDMENT

The purpose of the amendment is to allow county sheriffs and county treasurers to run for re-election and succeed themselves in office, now prohibited by the Illinois Constitution. The amendment will place county sheriffs and county treasurers under the same elective process as other county officers. This amendment further clarifies the method of election or selection of circuit court clerks.

"Place an X in the blank square opposite "Yes" or "No" to indicate your choice."

	YES	For the proposed Amendment to Section 8 of ARTICLE X of the Constitution (County Officers' Re-election).
	NO

CAPITOL BUILDING

SPRINGFIELD, ILLINOIS

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE

I, PAUL POWELL, Secretary of State of the State of Illinois, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the proposed amendments and the form in which said amendments will appear upon a separate blue ballot at the General Election to be held on the Eighth day of November, A.D. 1966, pursuant to House Joint Resolution No. 71, Senate Joint Resolution No. 16 and Senate Joint Resolution No. 40 of the Seventy-fourth General Assembly, the originals of which are on file in this office.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I hereunto set my hand and affix the Great Seal of the State of Illinois. Done at my office in the Capitol Building, in the city of Springfield, this 28th day of January A.D. 1966, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and ninetieth.

OFFICIAL PUBLICATION

NOTICE OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to law in such case made and provided, public notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendments to the Illinois Constitution will be submitted on a separate blue ballot to the electors of the State of Illinois for adoption or rejection at the General Election to be held on November 8, 1966.

REVENUE ARTICLE AMENDMENT

ARTICLE IX

Section 1. The General Assembly shall provide such revenue as may be needful by levying taxes, or by authorizing the levy of taxes, in accordance with the provisions of this Article.

Real estate shall constitute one class except as provided in this Article.

The General Assembly may classify tangible personal property into the following classes: (a) household goods and personal effects not used in the production of income, (b) business and farm inventories, including grain, livestock and poultry, (c) motor vehicles, ships, boats and aircraft, and (d) all other tangible personal property; and may abolish property taxes on any or all classes thereof.

Subject to the provisions of the succeeding paragraph of this Section, any tax upon real estate and personal property shall be levied by valuation, such value to be ascertained by some person or persons to be elected or appointed in such manner as the General Assembly shall direct and not otherwise.

The General Assembly may levy a use, privilege or franchise tax, uniform throughout the State, upon ships, boats and aircraft, and upon motor vehicles, or upon any class or classes thereof, in lieu of all property taxes thereon, provided, however, that the proceeds of any tax so levied shall be distributed to local taxing districts and for such purposes as the General Assembly may direct by general law.

The General Assembly may classify intangible property for taxation and may abolish taxation of any or all classes thereof. Classifications of intangible personal property shall be reasonable and based solely upon the nature and characteristics of the property and not on the amount or number owned, and each class may be taxed in such manner as the General Assembly may direct by general law, uniform as to the class upon which it operates. Intangible personal property not employed in carrying on any business by the owner shall be deemed to be located at the domicile of the owner for purposes of taxation; and if such intangible personal property is held in trust, the owner for the purpose of taxation shall be deemed to be the person or persons, according to their respective interests, who have the present beneficial enjoyment of such property. However, intangible personal property employed in or resulting from carrying on a trade or business outside the state shall be deemed to be located outside the state for the purposes of taxation, notwithstanding that the domicile of the owner thereof is within the state.

No class of personal property in any county shall be assessed for the taxation at a percentage of actual value greater than the percentage used in assessing real property, other than in Cook county.

Section 2. The General Assembly may levy or authorize the levy of occupation, sales, use, inheritance, privilege and franchise taxes, uniform as to the objects and subjects taxed within the jurisdiction of the authority levying the tax and uniform as to exemptions granted from any such tax. Any such tax on or measured by gross receipts shall be nongraduated and shall be imposed uniformly upon persons and corporations.

The General Assembly may levy a tax on or measured by income, the rate of which tax shall be nongraduated and shall be levied only by the State uniformly upon corporation and persons with deductions, exemptions and credits not to exceed those permitted from time to time under the Internal Revenue Code of the United States and with credits for taxes and fees as the General Assembly may direct by general law and shall not exceed the rate of 3% unless and until the question whether such a tax should be levied at a rate exceeding 3%, including the maximum rate of tax which might be so levied, has been submitted as a proposition at a general election to the people of the state and has received a majority of the votes cast at such election for or against such proposition. No such tax shall exceed in any event the rate of 6%. Except as provided in this paragraph, the General Assembly shall neither levy nor authorize the levy of any tax on or measured by income. If an income tax is levied, the General Assembly shall fix a date, not later than 4 years after the effective date of the Act levying such tax, after which no ad valorem tax shall be levied on any tangible or intangible personal poperty; and the proceeds of not less than 1% of any such income tax shall be distributed to local taxing districts and for such purposes as the General Assembly may direct by general law.

Section 3. The property, both real and personal, and the income of the state, counties and other municipal corporations, intangible personal property and the income therefrom held for the purpose of providing pension or welfare benefits, and such other property or part thereof as may be used exclusively, as defined by general law, for agricultural or horticultural societies, school, religious, cemetery or charitable purposes, and the income of organizations organized for such purposes, may be exempted from taxation, but such exemption shall be only by general law. In the assessment of real estate encumbered by public easement, any depreciation occasioned by such easement may be deducted in the valuation of such property.

Section 9. The General Assembly may vest the corporate authorities of cities, towns and villages, with power to make local improvements by special assessment or by special taxation of contiguous property, or otherwise. For all other corporate purposes, all municipal corporations may be vested with authority to assess and collect taxes, but such taxes shall be uniform, in respect to persons and property, within the jurisdiction of the body imposing the same, except as otherwise authorized by Sections 1 and 2 of this Article.

Section 10. The General Assembly shall not impose taxes upon municipal corporations, or the inhabitants or property thereof, for corporate purposes, but shall require the corporate authorities to levy taxes for the payment of debts contracted under authority of law. Private property shall not be liable to be taken or sold for the payment of the corporate debts of a municipal corporation. The General Assembly may distribute in whole or in part, the proceeds of any tax levied by the state to such local governments and for such purposes as it may direct by general law.

Section 12. No county, city, township, school district, or other municipal corporation, shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner or for any purpose, to an amount, including existing indebtedness, in the aggregate exceeding 5% or in the case of school districts maintaining grades 1 through 12 exceeding 10%, on the value of the taxable property therein, to be ascertained by the last assessment for state and county taxes, previous to the incurring of such indebtedness. Any county, city, school district, or other municipal corporation, incurring any indebtedness as aforesaid, shall before, or at the time of doing so, provide for the collection of a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such debt, as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof within 20 years from the time of contracting the same. In the event the tax on all personal property is abolished, the foregoing limitations of 5% and 10% shall be increased to 6% and 12%, respectively.

Section 13. Any classification of real property for purposes of taxation in effect in the County of Cook on January 1, 1965, shall continue in effect unless modified as hereinafter provided.

The County Assessor of Cook County may abolish existing classes, and may create new and additional classes as may be reasonable and equitable; but no property shall, by reason of the creation of a new or additional class or by the abolition of any existing class, be placed in a class assessed at a higher percentage of actual value than the class in which such property was previously assessed.

The County Assessor of Cook County may change the level of assessment of any class of real property provided that the difference between the percentage of actual value used in the County of Cook for taxation of the lowest taxed class of real property and the percentage of actual value used in the assessment for taxation of any other class of real property is not greater than the difference in effect on January 1, 1965.

The substance of procedures in effect on January 1, 1965, with respect to real property assessed for taxation by the State of Illinois shall continue in effect without modification.

Any person or corporation aggrieved by any violation of this Section shall be entitled to appropriate relief at law or in equity.

The classification of real property herein provided for may be abolished by a vote of registered voters of Cook County in the following manner. The county board of such county shall, upon petition signed by 33% of the registered voters in the county, cause a proposition for the abolition of such classification of real property, to be submitted to the registered voters of the county at a general election or at a special election called for such purpose. If two-thirds of all of the registered voters of such county vote affirmatively upon the proposition, then such classification shall thereupon be abandoned.

SCHEDULE

Paragraph 1. This Amendment of Article IX, if adopted, shall become effective on July 1, 1967, hereinafter called the "Effective Date." After the adoption of this Amendment of Article IX, the General Assembly shall enact such laws and make such appropriations as may be necessary or proper to give effect to its provisions.

Paragraph 2. All laws in force on the Effective Date of this Amendment of Article IX and consistent therewith shall remain in full force and effect until amended or repealed by the General Assembly. All laws in force on the Effective Date of this Amendment of Article IX and inconsistent therewith, unless sooner repealed or amended to conform with this Amendment, shall remain in full force and effect until July 1, 1968.

Paragraph 3. All fines, taxes, penalties and forfeitures levied, due or owing prior to the Effective Date of this Amendment of Article IX shall continue to be as valid as if this Amendment had not been adopted.

Form of Ballot

The proposed amendment to Article IX will appear upon the constitution ballot in the following form:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTIONS 1, 2, 3, 9, 10, 12 AND 13 OF ARTICLE IX

(Revenue Article)

EXPLANATION OF AMENDMENT

This Amendment would:

a. Make no change in the present manner of taxing real estate.

b. Permit various kinds of personal property to be taxed at different rates and also permit the elimination of taxes on any or all types of personal property, for example, household goods and personal effects.

Permit the legislature to abolish the present retailers' occupation tax and use tax, and replace them with a true sales tax, under which such items as food and medicine could then be exempted.

Limit any income tax, if enacted, to a maximum of 3%, unless the people at a later election vote to increase the limit, but even then, not beyond 6%. If an income tax were adopted, all personal property taxes would be abolished. Further, the proceeds of at least the first 1% rate of income tax, if enacted, shall be distributed to local governments to replace the revenue from the personal property tax.

e. Equalize the bonding power of school districts.

"Place an X in the blank square opposite "Yes" or "No" to indicate your choice."

	YES	For the proposed Amendment to Sections 1, 2, 3, 9, 10, 12 and 13 of ARTICLE IX (REVENUE ARTICLE).
	NO

COUNTY OFFICERS' RE-ELECTION AMENDMENT

ARTICLE X

Section 8. In each county there shall be elected the following County Officers at the general election to be held on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November A.D. 1966, a County Clerk, Sheriff and Treasurer and at the election to be held on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November A.D. 1968, a Coroner. Unless a method of selection by the Judges is provided by law, at the election to be held on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November A.D. 1968, a Clerk of the Circuit Court shall be elected. The County Clerk may be ex-officio Recorder of Deeds, except in counties having 60,000 and more inhabitants, in which counties a Recorder of Deeds shall be elected at the general election in 1968. Each of said officers shall enter upon the duties of his office, respectively on the first Monday of December, after his election, and they shall hold their respective offices for the term of four years, and until their successors are elected or selected and qualified.

Form of Ballot

The proposed amendment to Article X will appear upon the constitution ballot in the following form:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTION 8 OF ARTICLE X

(County Officers' Re-Election)

EXPLANATION OF AMENDMENT

The purpose of the amendment is to allow county sheriffs and county treasurers to run for re-election and succeed themselves in office, now prohibited by the Illinois Constitution. The amendment will place county sheriffs and county treasurers under the same elective process as other county officers. This amendment further clarifies the method of election or selection of circuit court clerks.

"Place an X in the blank square opposite "Yes" or "No" to indicate your choice."

	YES	For the proposed Amendment to Section 8 of ARTICLE X of the Constitution (County Officers' Re-election).

An Ordinance

IMPOSING A MUNICIPAL UTILITY TAX

WHEREAS, the Village of Arlington Heights has heretofore suffered extensive storm damage including, but not limited to, the destruction and injury of many trees in the parkways and other public places of the Village; and

WHEREAS, in order to provide essential municipal services to the citizens of this community and to promptly and effectively deal with extensive storm damage, it was necessary for the Village to incur large unanticipated expenses; and

WHEREAS, in order to meet the obligations incurred and to be incurred as a result of said storm damage, it is necessary to secure funds not heretofore appropriated or provided for in the normal operation of the Village; and

WHEREAS, the President and Board of Trustees have thoroughly investigated all sources of possible funds to meet the emergency and unanticipated costs of said storm damage; and

WHEREAS, the President and Board of Trustees have determined that the best interests of the Village require the imposition of the municipal utility tax in order to secure funds necessary to meet obligations incurred by reason of said storm damage, but the President and Board of Trustees wish to limit the imposition of said tax to the sole purpose of raising funds adequate to defray the cost of the storm damage and to terminate said tax at the earliest possible opportunity;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS:

SECTION ONE: A tax is imposed on all persons engaged in the following occupations or privileges:

1. Persons engaged in the business of transmitting messages by means of electricity at the rate of five per cent of the gross receipts from such business originating within the corporate limits of the Village of Arlington Heights;
2. Persons engaged in the business of distributing, supplying, furnishing, or selling gas for use or consumption within the corporate limits of the Village of Arlington Heights, and not for resale, at the rate of five per cent of the gross receipts therefrom;
3. Persons engaged in the business of distributing, supplying, furnishing, or selling electricity for use or consumption within the corporate limits of the Village of Arlington Heights, and not for resale, at the rate of five per cent of the gross receipts therefrom.

SECTION TWO: No tax authorized by this ordinance is imposed with respect to any transaction in interstate commerce or otherwise to the extent to which the business may not, under the Constitution and Statutes of the United States, be made the subject of taxation by this State or any political subdivision thereof; nor shall any persons engaged in the business of distributing, supplying, furnishing, or selling gas or electricity, or engaged in the business of transmitting messages be subject to the taxation under the provisions of this ordinance for such transactions as are or may become subject to taxation under the provisions of the "Municipal Retailers' Occupation Tax Act," authorized by Section 8-11-1 of the Illinois Municipal Code, 1961, as amended.

SECTION THREE: The taxes enumerated in this ordinance shall be in addition to the payment of money, or value of products or services furnished to the Village of Arlington Heights by the taxpayer as compensation for the use of its streets, alleys, or other public places, or installation and maintenance therein, thereon or thereunder of poles, wires, pipes or other equipment used in the operation of the taxpayer's business.

SECTION FOUR: For the purpose of the taxes enumerated in this ordinance, the following definitions shall apply:

a. "Gross Receipts" means the consideration received for the transmission of messages, the consideration received for distributing, supplying, furnishing or selling gas for use or consumption and not for resale, and the consideration received for distributing, supplying, furnishing or selling electricity for use or consumption and not for resale, and for all services rendered in connection therewith valued in money, whether received in money or otherwise, including cash, credit, services and property of every kind and material and for all services rendered therewith, and shall be determined without any deduction on account of the cost of transmitting such messages, without any deduction on account of the cost of the service, product or commodity supplied, the cost of materials used, labor or service cost, or any other expenses whatsoever.

b. The words "transmitting messages," in addition to the usual and popular meaning of person to person communication, shall include the furnishing, for a consideration, of services or facilities (whether owned or leased), or both, to persons in connection with the transmission of messages where such persons do not, in turn receive any consideration in connection therewith, but shall not include such furnishing of services or facilities to persons for the transmission of messages to the extent that any such services or facilities for the transmission of messages are furnished for a consideration, by such persons to other persons, for the transmission of messages.

c. "Person" means any natural individual, firm, trust, estate, partnership, association, joint stock company, joint venture, corporation, municipal corporation or political subdivision of this State, or a receiver, trustee, conservator or other representative appointed by order of any court.

SECTION FIVE: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect on October 1, 1966, and the tax provided herein shall be based on the gross receipts as herein defined actually paid to the taxpayer for services billed on or after the first day of October, 1966.

SECTION SIX: On or before the last day of January, 1967, each taxpayer shall make a return to the Village Treasurer for the months of October, November and December, 1966, stating:

1. His name;
2. His principal place of business;
3. His gross receipts during those months upon the basis of which the tax is imposed;
4. Amount of tax; and
5. Such other reasonable and related information as the corporate authorities may require.

On or before the last day of every third month thereafter, each taxpayer shall make a like return to the Village Treasurer for a corresponding three month period.

The taxpayer making the return herein provided for shall, at the time of making such return, pay to the Village Treasurer the amount of tax herein imposed; provided that in connection with any return the taxpayer may, if he so elects, report and pay an amount based upon his total billings of business, subject to the tax during the period for which the return is made (exclusive of any amounts previously billed) with prompt adjustments of later payments based upon any differences between such billings and the taxable gross receipts.

SECTION SEVEN: If it shall appear that an amount of tax has been paid which was not due under the provisions of this ordinance, whether as the result of a mistake of fact or an error of law, then such amount shall be credited against any tax due, or to become due, under this ordinance from the taxpayer who made the erroneous payment; provided that no amounts erroneously paid more than three years prior to the filing of a claim therefor shall be so credited.

SECTION EIGHT: No action to recover any amount of tax due under the provisions of this ordinance shall commence more than three years after the due date of such amount.

SECTION NINE: Any taxpayer who fails to make a return, or who makes a fradulent return or who wilfully violates any other provisions of this ordinance is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than two hundred dollars ($200) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500), and in addition shall be liable in a civil action for the amount of tax due, plus interest and costs.

SECTION TEN: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect on October 1, 1966, and shall expire on March 31, 1967. After March 31, 1967, the tax herein provided shall no longer be imposed upon the occupations and privileges described in Section One of this ordinance and the obligation of the taxpayer to make the return required in Section Six shall terminate following the filing of the return covering the month of March, 1967.

An Ordinance

IMPOSING A MUNICIPAL UTILITY TAX

WHEREAS, the Village of Arlington Heights has heretofore suffered extensive storm damage including, but not limited to, the destruction and injury of many trees in the parkways and other public places of the Village; and

WHEREAS, in order to provide essential municipal services to the citizens of this community and to promptly and effectively deal with extensive storm damage, it was necessary for the Village to incur large unanticipated expenses; and

WHEREAS, in order to meet the obligations incurred and to be incurred as a result of said storm damage, it is necessary to secure funds not heretofore appropriated or provided for in the normal operation of the Village; and

WHEREAS, the President and Board of Trustees have thoroughly investigated all sources of possible funds to meet the emergency and unanticipated costs of said storm damage; and

WHEREAS, the President and Board of Trustees have determined that the best interests of the Village require the imposition of the municipal utility tax in order to secure funds necessary to meet obligations incurred by reason of said storm damage, but the President and Board of Trustees wish to limit the imposition of said tax to the sole purpose of raising funds adequate to defray the cost of the storm damage and to terminate said tax at the earliest possible opportunity;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS:

SECTION ONE: A tax is imposed on all persons engaged in the following occupations or privileges:

1. Persons engaged in the business of transmitting messages by means of electricity at the rate of five per cent of the gross receipts from such business originating within the corporate limits of the Village of Arlington Heights;
2. Persons engaged in the business of distributing, supplying, furnishing, or selling gas for use or consumption within the corporate limits of the Village of Arlington Heights, and not for resale, at the rate of five per cent of the gross receipts therefrom;
3. Persons engaged in the business of distributing, supplying, furnishing, or selling electricity for use or consumption within the corporate limits of the Village of Arlington Heights, and not for resale, at the rate of five per cent of the gross receipts therefrom.

SECTION TWO: No tax authorized by this ordinance is imposed with respect to any transaction in interstate commerce or otherwise to the extent to which the business may not, under the Constitution and Statutes of the United States, be made the subject of taxation by this State or any political subdivision thereof; nor shall any persons engaged in the business of distributing, supplying, furnishing, or selling gas or electricity, or engaged in the business of transmitting messages be subject to the taxation under the provisions of this ordinance for such transactions as are or may become subject to taxation under the provisions of the "Municipal Retailers' Occupation Tax Act," authorized by Section 8-11-1 of the Illinois Municipal Code, 1961, as amended.

SECTION THREE: The taxes enumerated in this ordinance shall be in addition to the payment of money, or value of products or services furnished to the Village of Arlington Heights by the taxpayer as compensation for the use of its streets, alleys, or other public places, or installation and maintenance therein, thereon or thereunder of poles, wires, pipes or other equipment used in the operation of the taxpayer's business.

SECTION FOUR: For the purpose of the taxes enumerated in this ordinance, the following definitions shall apply:

a. "Gross Receipts" means the consideration received for the transmission of messages, the consideration received for distributing, supplying, furnishing or selling gas for use or consumption and not for resale, and the consideration received for distributing, supplying, furnishing or selling electricity for use or consumption and not for resale, and for all services rendered in connection therewith valued in money, whether received in money or otherwise, including cash, credit, services and property of every kind and material and for all services rendered therewith, and shall be determined without any deduction on account of the cost of transmitting such messages, without any deduction on account of the cost of the service, product or commodity supplied, the cost of materials used, labor or service cost, or any other expenses whatsoever.

b. The words "transmitting messages," in addition to the usual and popular meaning of person to person communication, shall include the furnishing, for a consideration, of services or facilities (whether owned or leased), or both, to persons in connection with the transmission of messages where such persons do not, in turn receive any consideration in connection therewith, but shall not include such furnishing of services or facilities to persons for the transmission of messages to the extent that any such services or facilities for the transmission of messages are furnished for a consideration, by such persons to other persons, for the transmission of messages.

c. "Person" means any natural individual, firm, trust, estate, partnership, association, joint stock company, joint venture, corporation, municipal corporation or political subdivision of this State, or a receiver, trustee, conservator or other representative appointed by order of any court.

SECTION FIVE: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect on October 1, 1966, and the tax provided herein shall be based on the gross receipts as herein defined actually paid to the taxpayer for services billed on or after the first day of October, 1966.

SECTION SIX: On or before the last day of January, 1967, each taxpayer shall make a return to the Village Treasurer for the months of October, November and December, 1966, stating:

1. His name;
2. His principal place of business;
3. His gross receipts during those months upon the basis of which the tax is imposed;
4. Amount of tax; and
5. Such other reasonable and related information as the corporate authorities may require.

On or before the last day of every third month thereafter, each taxpayer shall make a like return to the Village Treasurer for a corresponding three month period.

The taxpayer making the return herein provided for shall, at the time of making such return, pay to the Village Treasurer the amount of tax herein imposed; provided that in connection with any return the taxpayer may, if he so elects, report and pay an amount based upon his total billings of business, subject to the tax during the period for which the return is made (exclusive of any amounts previously billed) with prompt adjustments of later payments based upon any differences between such billings and the taxable gross receipts.

SECTION SEVEN: If it shall appear that an amount of tax has been paid which was not due under the provisions of this ordinance, whether as the result of a mistake of fact or an error of law, then such amount shall be credited against any tax due, or to become due, under this ordinance from the taxpayer who made the erroneous payment; provided that no amounts erroneously paid more than three years prior to the filing of a claim therefor shall be so credited.

SECTION EIGHT: No action to recover any amount of tax due under the provisions of this ordinance shall commence more than three years after the due date of such amount.

SECTION NINE: Any taxpayer who fails to make a return, or who makes a fradulent return or who wilfully violates any other provisions of this ordinance is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than two hundred dollars ($200) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500), and in addition shall be liable in a civil action for the amount of tax due, plus interest and costs.

SECTION TEN: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect on October 1, 1966, and shall expire on March 31, 1967. After March 31, 1967, the tax herein provided shall no longer be imposed upon the occupations and privileges described in Section One of this ordinance and the obligation of the taxpayer to make the return required in Section Six shall terminate following the filing of the return covering the month of March, 1967.

AN ORDINANCE GRANTING A SPECIAL USE

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF BUFFALO GROVE, COOK AND LAKE COUNTIES, ILLINOIS, AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1: Pursuant to Article VI of the Buffalo Grove Zoning Ordinance, and to the recommendation of the Plan Commission after a public hearing held thereon on July 28, 1966, in all respects held and notice thereof given pursuant to law, a special use is hereby granted permitting a privately-owned, limited membership recreation building and community center with accessory uses including swimming pool, tennis courts, bathhouse, restaurant and bar facilities, on the following described territory, lying West of Cambridge Countryside Unit One along Dundee Road, zoned R-9 and consisting of approximately 1.366 acres:

The South 350 feet of the North 400 feet of the West 170 feet of the East 776.01 feet of the West one-half of the Northeast one-quarter, Section 9, Township 42 North, Range 11, East of the Third Principal Meridian, all in Cook County, Illinois, and for the use of such property consistent with such special use.

SECTION 2: This special use is granted upon condition that such use commence on or before October 7, 1970. If such use is not commenced by said date, the permission for such use herein granted shall thereafter be of no further force or effect.

SECTION 3: It is hereby found and declared that the evidence presented to the Plan Commission at the aforesaid public hearing is such to establish beyond reasonable doubt:

a. That the proposed use at the particular location requested is necessary or desirable to provide a service or a facility which is in the interest of public convenience and will contribute to the general welfare of the neighborhood or community;

b. That such use will not, under the circumstances of the particular case, be detrimental to the health, safety, morals, or general welfare of persons residing or working in the vicinity or injurious to property values or improvements in the vicinity;

c. That the proposed use will comply with the regulations and conditions specified in this ordinance for such use, and with the stipulations and conditions made a part of the authorization granted by the Village Board of Trustees.

Counselor Chosen For Harvard Post

Floyd Hillman, Forest View High School college counselor, has been selected by Harvard University to fill a one-year liaison position in their admissions office.

He will be the first high school counselor to serve a one-year hitch at Harvard under a new university admissions staff program designed to provide better communications — on both sides — regarding school needs and problems.

Approval for Hillman's 10-month leave of absence was given by the High School District 214 board Monday.

IN TELLING school board members of the Harvard invitation, Dr. Edward H. Gilbert, new superintendent, called it "a great opportunity, both for Hillman and District 214."

Lawrence Jenness, Forest View High School principal seconded those sentiments Tuesday. "We are pleased and thrilled at the honor accorded Mr. Hillman. He exemplifies the fine caliber of instructor on our staff."

Under the arrangement proposed, Harvard will pay five-sixths of Hillman's salary during the coming year and the local school system will pay the other sixth.

FLOYD HILLMAN

ALREADY looking forward to the one-year move to Cambridge, Mass., the Hillmans were busy this week making arrangements for their trip.

Their home at 38 S. Ridge, Arlington Heights, will be rented furnished while they are gone. (ACME

Set Aug. 23 Test For 'Lay Leaders'

Lay readers are being sought again this year by High School District 214.

A qualification test, designed to show capabilities of applicants for the part-time positions, will take place Tuesday, Aug. 23, at 1:30 p.m. at Arlington High School.

Application blanks are available now at the Slichenmyer Administration Center, 799 Kensington Road, Mount Prospect.

Persons hired as lay readers are paid $2 an hour to assist English teachers by giving students' written assignments their first going-over.

BY USING LAY readers to help with the "paper work," the local high schools are able to give all English students a written assignment weekly despite a student-teacher ratio of better than 125 to 1.

Without the lay reader program, authorities say, a once-a-week writing schedule can only be maintained with a lower, 100 student per teacher class load.

Persons applying for lay reader positions should have a knowledge of grammar, sentence structure and writing organization.

AN APPLICANT must have a college degree with major or minor in English, though experience in journalism is a possible substitute. Preference is given to applicants with previous experience in teaching English.

Because the work can be done at home, a sizeable number of the lay readers are mothers of pre-school children. (ACME

School Events Free To Senior Citizens

Wheeling and Elk Grove Township's senior citizens are entitled to free admission to all high school events under a new program approved by the District 214 board Monday.

They will be able to get free passes to school events by joining a free Gold Card Club, open to all area citizens 65 years of age or older.

Persons wishing to enroll may do so by calling Jack Martin, assistant to the superintendent, at 259-5300 or by writing him at the Slichenmyer Administration Center, 799 Kensington Road, Mount Prospect.

AS DESCRIBED to the board, the Gold Card Club carriers would be admitted free to plays, concerts, athletic events and programs.

They would also be able to attend adult school classes tuition-free.

Martin said the school plans to publicize the Gold Card Club opportunities by contacting area elder citizens' clubs and churches.

Members would receive mailings notifying them of upcoming school events so that ticket arrangements can be made in advance for events which normally require reserved seating. (ACME

College Has Orientation For Parents

Four couples from northwest suburbs recently "enrolled" in college for one day when they attended a unique parent orientation program on the campus of Monmouth College.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Snyder of Arlington Heights; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Vihon of Mount Prospect; Mr. and Mrs. William Holland of Palatine; and Mr. and Mrs. John Powell of Prospect Heights were among the more than 220 parents present at the day-long session to introduce fathers and mothers of incoming freshmen to the college's academic program, traditions, regulations, physical facilities and counseling program.

Purpose of the meeting, according to Monmouth's dean of students, Dr. William Crafts, was to brief parents on "the great changes which have taken place in higher education since they themselves were college students." (B10

Insurance Bid Report Corrected

Wheeling Township Supervisor Albert C. Peters said Monday that he was in error last week in reporting on insurance bids to the township auditors.

Peters had asked approval of Kehe Foy and Snelten's $136 bid for three-year coverage of plate-glass window breakage in the township hall because, he said, two other firms asked to bid had not responded.

He said he had since learned that because of a misunderstanding neither of the other firms, Beisler Insurance and Carl M. Behrens, had been contacted about the insurance coverage.

THE ERROR was called to his attention by Behrens, who had previously carried the three-year coverage with a $111 premium.

Behrens said his files show that twice, in June and July, his office sent letters notifying Peters that the earlier policy was expiring and asking when bids would be taken on the coverage.

New bids on the plate-glass coverage will probably be considered at the auditors' Sept. 6 meeting. Since Kehe Foy and Snelten's bid has been made public, Peters said that firm will have the opportunity to submit a changed bid at that time. (ACME

Government Guide Revised By League

The local League of Women Voters will print this month a revised edition of their "Local Government Guide," a directory of local officials.

The 20-page booklet, listing names of elected public municipal, school and park officials in Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Wheeling and Elk Grove Village, is provided published free as an LWV service to citizens.

Some 9,000 copies of the yellow-backed booklet were distributed by the League last year — and quickly snapped up by area citizens.

NOW THE LEAGUE plans to provide an updated booklet, including new appointees and school board members who took office after last April's election.

Organizations wishing to provide their members with copies of the booklet should make their requests now, LWV president Mrs. Frank Moore of Arlington Heights said today.

"We want to make sure that every person who wants one will be able to get a copy of our Guide," she said.

Requests should be directed to Mrs. Moore at 392-6540.

The booklet itself will be put together by a League committee that includes Mrs. Earl Burdsall of Prospect Heights, Mrs. Ernest Beal of Mount Prospect, Mrs. Tom Lunak of Des Plaines, Mrs. Herbert Andersen of Wheeling, and Mrs. R. J. Schlott, Mrs. Dwight Walton, Mrs. W. J. Marier and Mrs. Moore, all of Arlington Heights.

Bus Issue Backfires

An intended "bombshell," in the form of a letter calling a proposed District 214-Davidsmeyer Bus purchase arrangement illegal, backfired Monday.

Presentation of the letter, from Illinois School Bus Co. vice president John Benish via school board member William Griffith, brought sharp criticism from both Board Pres. Hal Armstrong and Supt. Edward H. Gilbert for not being called to the administration's attention before the meeting.

The letter from N. E. Hutson, legal advisor to the state superintendent of public instruction, calls illegal a school-bus company purchasing agreement described by Benish.

THE AGREEMENT was purported to be like that proposed to District 214 by Davidsmeyer Bus service advisor A. M. (Bud) Bernstein.

Bernstein told the board Benish's letter described a different arrangement and was written "to evoke a negative response."

But school board members voted to postpone decision on the Davidsmeyer request, calling for the school board to lend its name to bus titles so that more favorable financing terms could be obtained. Superintendent Gilbert was asked to check again with school attorneys, who have previously assured the board that the Davidsmeyer proposal was not illegal.

Counselor Chosen For Harvard Post

Floyd Hillman, Forest View High School college counselor, has been selected by Harvard University to fill a one-year liaison position in their admissions office.

He will be the first high school counselor to serve a one-year hitch at Harvard under a new university admissions staff program designed to provide better communications — on both sides — regarding school needs and problems.

Approval for Hillman's 10-month leave of absence was given by the High School District 214 board Monday.

IN TELLING school board members of the Harvard invitation, Dr. Edward H. Gilbert, new superintendent, called it "a great opportunity, both for Hillman and District 214."

Lawrence Jenness, Forest View High School principal seconded those sentiments Tuesday. "We are pleased and thrilled at the honor accorded Mr. Hillman. He exemplifies the fine caliber of instructor on our staff."

Under the arrangement proposed, Harvard will pay five-sixths of Hillman's salary during the coming year and the local school system will pay the other sixth.

Set Aug. 23 Test For 'Lay Leaders'

Lay readers are being sought again this year by High School District 214.

A qualification test, designed to show capabilities of applicants for the part-time positions, will take place Tuesday, Aug. 23, at 1:30 p.m. at Arlington High School.

Application blanks are available now at the Slichenmyer Administration Center, 799 Kensington Road, Mount Prospect.

Persons hired as lay readers are paid $2 an hour to assist English teachers by giving students' written assignments their first going-over.

BY USING LAY readers to help with the "paper work," the local high schools are able to give all English students a written assignment weekly despite a student-teacher ratio of better than 125 to 1.

Without the lay reader program, authorities say, a once-a-week writing schedule can only be maintained with a lower, 100 student per teacher class load.

Persons applying for lay reader positions should have a knowledge of grammar, sentence structure and writing organization.

AN APPLICANT must have a college degree with major or minor in English, though expeience in journalism is a possible substitute. Preference is given to applicants with previous experience in teaching English.

Because the work can be done at home, a sizeable number of the lay readers are mothers of pre-school children. (ACME

School Events Free To Senior Citizens

Wheeling and Elk Grove Township's senior citizens are entitled to free admission to all high school events under a new program approved by the District 214 board Monday.

They will be able to get free passes to school events by joining a free Gold Card Club, open to all area citizens 65 years of age or older.

Persons wishing to enroll may do so by calling Jack Martin, assistant to the superintendent, at 259-5300 or by writing him at the Slichenmyer Administration Center, 799 Kensington Road, Mount Prospect.

AS DESCRIBED to the board, the Gold Card Club carriers would be admitted free to plays, concerts, athletic events and programs.

They would also be able to attend adult school classes tuition-free.

Martin said the school plans to publicize the Gold Card Club opportunities by contacting area elder citizens' clubs and churches.

Members would receive mailings notifying them of upcoming school events so that ticket arrangements can be made in advance for events which normally require reserved seating. (ACME

Retarded Persons 'Can Be Productive'

Four Agencies Help Locally

by DAVE HANKS
Staff Writer

Representatives of four agencies which offer programs for the retarded in the northwest suburbs say "public awareness of the problem" has grown a lot in recent years.

School officials also indicate that the community attitude toward retarded persons has improved.

Byrn Witt, director of Clearbrook School for Retarded Children in Rolling Meadows, says there are more than 50 persons waiting for placement.

"There was none on the waiting list just three years ago," said Witt. This indicates there has been an improvement of public knowledge on the retarded, he added.

Other agencies in the area which offer programs for mentally and physically retarded include DOOR, Inc. in Wheeling.

DIRECTOR LEON Brownstein said "people are beginning to learn that retarded persons can be productive." They used to just sit in front of television and "vegetate."

Northwest Suburban Aid for the Retarded in Park Ridge and Countryside School for the Retarded in Palatine Township also offer programs.

Clearbrook School is the oldest, formed in 1956, by a group of parents who realized that their children could not be provided for in the public schools.

Today there are about 25 in the sheltered workshop for vocational training. During the school year, starting in September, there will be 50 or more, said Witt.

DAY SCHOOL at Clearbrook starts in September and continues through June. It is more of an academic program for the educable retarded youngsters.

Presently the day school and the sheltered workshop for vocational training serves five townships in the northwest suburbs. They are Maine, Wheeling, Palatine, Schaumburg and Elk Grove Townships.

In day school classes are for pre-schoolers with mild to severe retardation, age 3-6. Also offered is a class for the multiple handicapped to severely retarded, aged 7-15.

THERE IS another class for the trainable mentally handicapped any age up to near 20.

DOOR, Inc. in Wheeling is a sheltered workshop for retarded persons 16 and older. Started three years ago it is designed to train or rehabilitate retarded individuals so that they can be useful in our society.

Director Brownstein says there are 10 persons who do projects in the workshop. DOOR has contracts with various industrial establishments in the Wheeling area.

AS AN EXAMPLE they assemble drain plugs for boats. The workers at DOOR assemble other things and stamp things which are sent out by industry.

DOOR also prepares sample boxes of materials for Ekco Containers to send out to prospective customers.

Brownstein says DOOR works with physical and emotional problems of the mentally retarded.

The organization serves primarily the northwest area. Brownstein, appointed in March, has worked toward getting referrals to DOOR from the Illinois Division of Vocational Rehabilitation.

This will now be a reality, and most of those referred to DOOR by IDVR will be from this area.

At Countryside Farm School for the Retarded in Palatine Township the enrollment of retarded persons has grown to about 35, says Mrs. Rae Branch, workshop director.

The response has been good, she said. The retarded from McHenry and several townships in north Cook County are served by the school.

PRESENTLY the sheltered workshop has three contracts and is completing work for three area industries. They are doing packaging and boxing for Sellstrom Manufacturing of Palatine.

At the same time, they are doing assembly work for Intern Tag Co. of Chicago and putting together movie film boxes for Berkey Photo Service of Des Plaines.

The persons at the school who range from 16 - 25, are paid monthly for the amount of work they do, said Mrs. Branch. More recreation programs for those attending the school are also offered in the summer, she added.

"The exciting thing about the school is seeing these persons become productive citizens in our society," Mrs. Branch said.

The people in the area have become more aware of the problems of the retarded, she continued, and want to do something to make them a part of our society.

A FOURTH agency is in Park Ridge, Northwest Suburban Aid for the Retarded. Its aim is to develop the personalities and potentialities of children and trainees to the highest degree possible and make them more accepted in the community.

It offers a program that gives meaning to retarded persons' lives and makes them less of a burden on their relatives.

Retarded problems are being tackled by school districts in the northwest suburban area.

The Northwest Suburban Special Education Organization coordinates special education programs in 10 high and elementary school districts in Elk Grove, Wheeling, Palatine and Schaumburg Townships.

Through the combined effort of these school districts there are EMH classes for retarded persons at pre-primary, primary, lower intermediate, intermediate, junior high and senior high school levels.

THE SCHOOLS also have programs for trainable mentally handicapped for primary and intermediate children, according to Ray McHatton of NWSSEO.

By the combined effort of these school districts, classes are held in various communities to help retarded children become educated.

McHatton said the residents of the area are becoming more alert to the problems of retardation. "Their attitude never was bad," but it has improved.

Ten years ago there were few places in the northwest suburbs which offered help or training or an education for the retarded. But now with the help of these four agencies, and the sensitivity of school officials, persons with retarded afflictions can be made a part of our society. (B10

Cameramen Open Office Building

The first and only building in the world dedicated to professional photography was officially opened last Friday in Des Plaines.

The new building, national headquarters of the 9,000-member Professional Photographers of America, Inc., also houses a photography hall of fame dedicated to pioneers and scientists who have made significant contributions to the photographic arts.

SPECIAL features are the Daguerre garden, honoring the famous French scientist, Louis Daguerre, and the patio wall made of bricks bearing the names of more than 450 persons who contributed to the construction of the building. (B10

Issue 3 Gaming Stickers

The Bureau of Internal Revenue has announced that three federal permits for gaming devices were issued in Wheeling Township, near Wheeling, for June, 1965, to June, 1966.

The report showed permits issued to: Andrew J. Lachowiscz, Dame Inn, 1000 S. Milwaukee Ave., Martin L. DeFoor, Mark DeFoor's Restaurant and Lounge, 968 S. Milwaukee Ave. and Thomas Bruecks, Tom's Place, 960 Milwaukee Ave.

The report released by the Internal Revenue indicated that the businesses were located in the village; actually they only have a Wheeling mailing address. (B10

Documentary Film Slated For Parents

A timely documentary film, "The Dropout," will be shown Friday at the meeting of Northwest Suburban Chapter 168, Parents Without Partners, Inc., held at the Bank of Rolling Meadows, 3250 W. Kirchoff Road, at 8:15 p.m.

For its second meeting this month on Friday, Aug. 26, Chapter 168 has scheduled small discussion groups to deal with the question "Parents Without Partners—What Is It to You?" The talks are planned as an appraisal of the organization's contribution toward assisting members in their dual mother-father role, as well as members' contributions to the functioning of the organization.

Visitors are welcome at both meetings. Refreshments and a social hour will follow the programs. (B10

Retarded Persons 'Can Be Productive'

Four Agencies Help Locally

by DAVE HANKS
Staff Writer

Representatives of four agencies which offer programs for the retarded in the northwest suburbs say "public awareness of the problem" has grown a lot in recent years.

School officials also indicate that the community attitude toward retarded persons has improved.

Byrn Witt, director of Clearbrook School for Retarded Children in Rolling Meadows, says there are more than 50 persons waiting for placement.

"There was none on the waiting list just three years ago," said Witt. This indicates there has been an improvement of public knowledge on the retarded, he added.

Other agencies in the area which offer programs for mentally and physically retarded include DOOR, Inc. in Wheeling.

DIRECTOR LEON Brownstein said "people are beginning to learn that retarded persons can be productive." They used to just sit in front of television and "vegetate."

Northwest Suburban Aid for the Retarded in Park Ridge and Countryside School for the Retarded in Palatine Township also offer programs.

Clearbrook School is the oldest, formed in 1956, by a group of parents who realized that their children could not be provided for in the public schools.

Today there are about 25 in the sheltered workshop for vocational training. During the school year, starting in September, there will be 50 or more, said Witt.

DAY SCHOOL at Clearbrook starts in September and continues through June. It is more of an academic program for the educable retarded youngsters.

Presently the day school and the sheltered workshop for vocational training serves five townships in the northwest suburbs. They are Maine, Wheeling, Palatine, Schaumburg and Elk Grove Townships.

In day school classes are for pre-schoolers with mild to severe retardation, age 3-6. Also offered is a class for the multiple handicapped to severely retarded, aged 7-15.

THERE IS another class for the trainable mentally handicapped any age up to near 20.

DOOR, Inc. in Wheeling is a sheltered workshop for retarded persons 16 and older. Started three years ago it is designed to train or rehabilitate retarded individuals so that they can be useful in our society.

Director Brownstein says there are 10 persons who do projects in the workshop. DOOR has contracts with various industrial establishments in the Wheeling area.

AS AN EXAMPLE they assemble drain plugs for boats. The workers at DOOR assemble other things and stamp things which are sent out by industry.

DOOR also prepares sample boxes of materials for Ekco Containers to send out to prospective customers.

Brownstein says DOOR works with physical and emotional problems of the mentally retarded.

The organization serves primarily the northwest area. Brownstein, appointed in March, has worked toward getting referrals to DOOR from the Illinois Division of Vocational Rehabilitation.

This will now be a reality, and most of those referred to DOOR by IDVR will be from this area.

At Countryside Farm School for the Retarded in Palatine Township the enrollment of retarded persons has grown to about 35, says Mrs. Rae Branch, workshop director.

The response has been good, she said. The retarded from McHenry and several townships in north Cook County are served by the school.

PRESENTLY the sheltered workshop has three contracts and is completing work for three area industries. They are doing packaging and boxing for Sellstrom Manufacturing of Palatine.

At the same time, they are doing assembly work for Intern Tag Co. of Chicago and putting together movie film boxes for Berkey Photo Service of Des Plaines.

The persons at the school who range from 16 - 25, are paid monthly for the amount of work they do, said Mrs. Branch. More recreation programs for those attending the school are also offered in the summer, she added.

"The exciting thing about the school is seeing these persons become productive citizens in our society," Mrs. Branch said.

The people in the area have become more aware of the problems of the retarded, she continued, and want to do something to make them a part of our society.

A FOURTH agency is in Park Ridge, Northwest Suburban Aid for the Retarded. Its aim is to develop the personalities and potentialities of children and trainees to the highest degree possible and make them more accepted in the community.

It offers a program that gives meaning to retarded persons' lives and makes them less of a burden on their relatives.

This car, at Ormond, Fla., Jan. 21 to 28, 1906, establishing the following World's Records:

1 Kilometre	.18 2/5
1 Mile	.28 1/5
1 Mile in Competition	.31 1/5
5 miles	2.47 1/5
2 Miles (World's record for cars eligible under the rules)	.59 3/5

Former Records

Darracq	.21 2/6
Napier	.34 2/5
	.41 2/5
Napier	3.17

The 5-mile record was made in competition, with a scoring start, and was at the rate of a mile in 33 2/5 seconds, which is faster than any gasoline car built according to A.A.A. rules ever made for a single mile.

The Power-plant in this car is exactly like that in the regular Stanley cars, except that it is larger, of about twice the power as the touring Cars (Model F). It weighs 1,600 pounds, and has margin enough for another boiler of the same size (512 pounds) without passing the racing weight-limit of 2,204 pounds. The boiler is 30 inches in diameter and 18 inches deep. It contains 1,475 tubes, and has a total heating surface of 285 square feet. A steam pressure of 800 to 900 pounds is carried. The engine is 4½x6½, and makes 350 revolutions to the mile. The wheels are 34 inches in diameter, and make 600 revolutions to the mile. They are equipped with 3-inch G. and J. tires. The body is so designed that the largest cross-section it presents, including the wheels, is only 9 square feet.

Brown County State Park Rated Highly

For more than a half-century, visiting artists have been painting and sketching nature scenes in beautiful Brown County State Park, and their works have made the Indiana park nationally known, according to the touring department of the Chicago Motor Club.

Located in south central Indiana, the park spreads out over an area of 15,332 acres and rates as the state's largest, as well as one of its most popular tourist attractions. The park season runs from April through October, during which time accommodations and meals are available.

Brown County State Park now is known as a memorial to artist Kin Hubbard, creator of the cartoon character Abe Martin, a kind of vagabond philosopher who made the Brown County hills famous.

Abe Martin Lodge, formidably constructed from native stone and timber, stands on Kin Hubbard Ridge. The meals are excellent and guests dine in a provincial atmosphere, surrounded by paintings of park scenes done by members of the local art association.

ALTHOUGH the lodge itself provides no overnight accommodations, it operates a number of nearby cabins. These bear the quaint names of some of Hubbard's legendary characters: Squire Marsh Swallow, Gabe Crow, Pinky Kerr, Tilford Moots, Tawney Apple and Grandma Pash.

An especially convenient feature of the park is its 27 miles of paved roads which enable groups to tour much of the area by auto. Shutterbugs are advised to bring along their cameras, for almost every turn in the meandering road reveals new and colorful landscapes, pastoral scenes, here and there a real log cabin or a stretch of old rail fence and a pair of peaceful lakes.

The road winds uphill and down, sometimes moving through thickly wooded sections until you get the feeling you are passing through mountain country.

Another good way to view the park is by horseback. Mounts suitable for every family member can be hired at the stable, and there are about 100 miles of bridal path stretching out into all sections of the park.

There are also seven different nature trails for hikers. You may go off on your own, or join an organized hike led by the park naturalist. He will describe the land and point out the various species of birds and small animals which help enhance this unspoiled land.

The Chicago Motor Club suggests that visitors who plan to tour the park should first obtain official trail maps. These are well marked and will lead you to the points of interest.

KIDS ESPECIALLY enjoy the wildlife exhibit operated by the park. A small zoo, it houses owls, pheasants, and other bird species, small animals such as the fox, possum and raccoon and a few big buffalo, elk and deer.

Just north of the park lies the fascinating little town of Nashville (pop. 489), a village right out of the past, with buildings more than a century old. Here one of the country's largest art colonies invites visitors to inspect the studios of some resident artists.

The little antique shops and general stores sell the products of local artisans — pottery, metalcraft, woodworking, weaving and dolls. (CR

Your Car: Safe Spot in Squall

Unless the rainfall that accompanies a summer electrical storm is so severe as to limit driver visibility, there is no need for a motorist caught driving in the midst of such a storm to stop his car, according to Gordon Lindquist, director of Chicago Motor Club's safety and traffic engineering department.

"Even if you are forced to pull over and wait the storm out, one of the safest places to be is right in your car," he pointed out.

Lindquist said that since rubber tires insulate a car and keep the current from becoming grounded, there is little danger that lightning can harm the passengers. "Of course, if there is a sturdy building nearby, it is much better to seek shelter there," he added.

If you do decide to pull over and wait out a storm in your car, the motor club offered the following safety tips:

—Don't park under a tree or pole which, if struck by lightning, may fall on top of the car.

—Try, if possible, to avoid parking under overhead power lines strung along the roadside. During severe storms many of these wires are downed.

—Park on high land where water won't accumulate.

—Although you are safe when you remain in the car, it is impossible to tell whether a downed wire is "live" or "dead." To be on the safe side, simply sit tight and wait, but avoid touching any metal parts inside the car.

—If you have to summon help, use a wooden or plastic object to depress your car's horn button or ring. (CR

Auto Production In Japan Ranks Fourth in World

Japan's Ministry of International Trade and Industry (MITI) is quoted in the Japan Motor Press of predicting that the country's automotive manufacturers will produce 2,195,000 motor vehicles in the industry's 1966 fiscal year which began in April.

This is 28,500 more units than predicted by the Japanese Automotive Industrial Association (AIA) in February and represents 13.3 per cent production increase over the 1965 fiscal year.

Japan vaulted into the world's top five auto makers in 1965, when she followed only the United States, West Germany and England in auto production to become the world's fourth largest automotive manufacturing nation.

Pacing the Japanese automotive industry, according to MIT will be the Toyota Motor Company with 548,000 units, representing slightly over 25 per cent of the country's total automotive production. (CR

Steam Threshers Shown in Rockford

Over 75 pieces of old equipment will be in use and on display at the 10th Annual Steam Power Threshing Show to be held August 11-14.

The four-day event, sponsored by the Northern Illinois Steam Power Club, will be held at the Case Power and Equipment Co. and National Lock Co. grounds on the south edge of Rockford near U.S. 51 at the cloverleaf of the U.S. 20 by-pass.

IN ADDITION to the displays of old equipment, there will be a ladies' hobby tent, souvenirs, antique exhibits, outdoor camping, kiddie rides, oxen and teams of horses and mules. There will be a parade daily at 2 p.m.

Meals will be served daily, and there will be an outdoor church service Sunday morning at 9:30 a.m. There is a $1 admission charge for adults. (A15

Brown County State Park Rated Highly

For more than a half-century, visiting artists have been painting and sketching nature scenes in beautiful Brown County State Park, and their works have made the Indiana park nationally known, according to the touring department of the Chicago Motor Club.

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS
Auto Section

Located in south central Indiana, the park spreads out over an area of 15,332 acres and rates as the state's largest, as well as one of its most popular tourist attractions. The park season runs from April through October, during which time accommodations and meals are available.

Brown County State Park now is known as a memorial to artist Kin Hubbard, creator of the cartoon character Abe Martin, a kind of vagabond philosopher who made the Brown County hills famous.

Abe Martin Lodge, formidably constructed from native stone and timber, stands on Kin Hubbard Ridge. The meals are excellent and guests dine in a provincial atmosphere, surrounded by paintings of park scenes done by members of the local art association.

ALTHOUGH the lodge itself provides no overnight accommodations, it operates a number of nearby cabins. These bear the quaint names of some of Hubbard's legendary characters: Squire Marsh Swallow, Gabe Crow, Pinky Kerr, Tilford Moots, Tawney Apple and Grandma Pash.

An especially convenient feature of the park is its 27 miles of paved roads which enable groups to tour much of the area by auto. Shutterbugs are advised to bring along their cameras, for almost every turn in the meandering road reveals new and colorful landscapes, pastoral scenes, here and there a real log cabin or a stretch of old rail fence and a pair of peaceful lakes.

The road winds uphill and down, sometimes moving through thickly wooded sections until you get the feeling you are passing through mountain country.

Another good way to view the park is by horseback. Mounts suitable for every family member can be hired at the stable, and there are about 100 miles of bridal path stretching out into all sections of the park.

There are also seven different nature trails for hikers. You may go off on your own, or join an organized hike led by the park naturalist. He will describe the land and point out the various species of birds and small animals which help enhance this unspoiled land.

The Chicago Motor Club suggests that visitors who plan to tour the park should first obtain official trail maps. These are well marked and will lead you to the points of interest.

KIDS ESPECIALLY enjoy the wildlife exhibit operated by the park. A small zoo, it houses owls, pheasants, and other bird species, small animals such as the fox, possum and raccoon and a few big buffalo, elk and deer.

Just north of the park lies the fascinating little town of Nashville (pop. 489), a village right out of the past, with buildings more than a century old. Here one of the country's largest art colonies invites visitors to inspect the studios of some resident artists.

The little antique shops and general stores sell the products of local artisans — pottery, metalcraft, woodworking, weaving and dolls. (CR

Your Car: Safe Spot in Squall

Unless the rainfall that accompanies a summer electrical storm is so severe as to limit driver visibility, there is no need for a motorist caught driving in the midst of such a storm to stop his car, according to Gordon Lindquist, director of Chicago Motor Club's safety and traffic engineering department.

"Even if you are forced to pull over and wait the storm out, one of the safest places to be is right in your car," he pointed out.

Lindquist said that since rubber tires insulate a car and keep the current from becoming grounded, there is little danger that lightning can harm the passengers. "Of course, if there is a sturdy building nearby, it is much better to seek shelter there," he added.

If you do decide to pull over and wait out a storm in your car, the motor club offered the following safety tips:

—Don't park under a tree or pole which, if struck by lightning, may fall on top of the car.

—Try, if possible, to avoid parking under overhead power lines strung along the roadside. During severe storms many of these wires are downed.

—Park on high land where water won't accumulate.

—Although you are safe when you remain in the car, it is impossible to tell whether a downed wire is "live" or "dead." To be on the safe side, simply sit tight and wait, but avoid touching any metal parts inside the car.

—If you have to summon help, use a wooden or plastic object to depress your car's horn button or ring. (CR

Auto Production In Japan Ranks Fourth in World

Japan's Ministry of International Trade and Industry (MITI) is quoted in the Japan Motor Press of predicting that the country's automotive manufacturers will produce 2,195,000 motor vehicles in the industry's 1966 fiscal year which began in April.

This is 28,500 more units than predicted by the Japanese Automotive Industrial Association (AIA) in February and represents 13.3 per cent production increase over the 1965 fiscal year.

Japan vaulted into the world's top five auto makers in 1965, when she followed only the United States, West Germany and England in auto production to become the world's fourth largest automotive manufacturing nation.

Pacing the Japanese automotive industry, according to MIT will be the Toyota Motor Company with 548,000 units, representing slightly over 25 per cent of the country's total automotive production. (CR

Steam Threshers Shown in Rockford

Over 75 pieces of old equipment will be in use and on display at the 10th Annual Steam Power Threshing Show to be held August 11-14.

The four-day event, sponsored by the Northern Illinois Steam Power Club, will be held at the Case Power and Equipment Co. and National Lock Co. grounds on the south edge of Rockford near U.S. 51 at the cloverleaf of the U.S. 20 by-pass.

IN ADDITION to the displays of old equipment, there will be a ladies' hobby tent, souvenirs, antique exhibits, outdoor camping, kiddie rides, oxen and teams of horses and mules. There will be a parade daily at 2 p.m.

Meals will be served daily, and there will be an outdoor church service Sunday morning at 9:30 a.m. There is a $1 admission charge for adults. (A15

Local Taxes Growing in Giant Strides

Property Levy Chief Reliance

by JACK NEUKOM
Staff Writer

With school districts taking more and more of the real estate tax dollar to bolster their burgeoning systems, cities and counties throughout the country are pondering new ways to balance their own budgets.

The rush to legislatures for state aid is on in all the "50," and statehouses arehelping in various degrees.

Five states have levied new sales taxes — New York, Idaho, Virginia, Massachusetts, and New Jersey — and seven others have raised their old taxes.

Other states have raised their income taxes, 23 states have upped cigaret taxes, and 13 states have voted raises on liquor or gasoline taxes. Much of this revenue is being returned to local governments.

What is now concerning government economists is the fact that cities and counties are being prodded into tax systems that produce short-term relief and long-term headaches instead of solving financial difficulties with reasonable, efficient tax plans.

IN ILLINOIS, many municipalaties were thirsting last year for the legislature to raise the state sales tax to five cents, allowing local municipalities a one-cent take instead of the present half-cent.

The proposal was beaten back in the state senate and the search for new sources of revenue had to be renewed.

The crux of the spiraling advances in financing local government is easily documented, according to these same economists who preach "reasonability and efficiency" in setting up taxing systems.

For long years prior to World War II, cities, counties and all local governments provided adequate services (for the times) with total annual tax revenues of only $4.5 billion. The present costlier services since the end of World War II has forced city, county and school district taxes up over the $25 billion a year mark.

Even more remarkable is the astronomical climb in direct general spending by these local governments, from $6.5 billion in 1940 to $55.9 billion last year.

It's no wonder that new sources of revenue are eagerly sought, with more and more local governments turning their eyes to state officials for financial aid.

In fact, the 1965 report of the Illinois Cities and Villages Municipal Problems Commission, says "the second most repeated problem brought to the attention of the commission is the problem of municipal revenue." (Number one request: more home rule.)

Municipal revenue, the way that local government units raise money for expenditures, was of little consequence to the over-all national economic policies back in 1940 when total spending of all local governments peaked at $6.5 billion.

Now, with expenditures of cities, counties, and school districts over the $50 billion mark, and expected to be at $100 billion by 1975, the impact of local tax policies upon the national economy is becoming much more strongly felt.

TO DRAMATIZE the rising cost of local government (including state government), former Gov. John Anderson of Kansas wrote in an article appearing in Saturday Review:

"By 1970 or thereabouts, barring drastic changes in the international situation, annual state and local expenditures will have passed total federal expenditures including those for defense and foreign aid. In the fiscal year 1963, federal expenditures for civilian government totaled about $30 billion, in comparison to state and local outlays of $64 billion. I would guess that by 1971 state and local expenditures will have reached $130 billion, compared with a federal budget of $110 to $115 billion by that time."

The property tax provides by far the major amount of local government revenues — Eighty per cent, to be exact.

But, do you know that the estimated value of real property in the United States — land and improvements — is approximately $1.8 trillion?

This enormous base now yields some $17 billion or about 1 per cent of the total value, according to an article in the April issue of the Illinois Municipal Review magazine, written by Howard McMahan, city manager of Littleton, Colo.

McMahan feels the one per cent yield is low, indicating that the property tax in many areas could carry a greater burden than it does today and is far from exhausted as a potential source of revenue.

IN ILLINOIS, over one half of property tax is levied by school districts, while slightly over one-fifth is levied by municipal governments, according to 1962 state financial figures.

Opponents of having property taxes pay nearly the full revenue load argue that such a tax based on property value may work a serious hardship on taxpayers in years of low income business firms with large fixed investments and fluctuating incomes and retired persons trying to maintain their home.

To back up McMahan's argument that the property tax could carry a bigger burden than it does is word from the government's Committee for Economic Development (CED) that "there is injustice and waste" in administrating property tax collections.

One example: In Clark County (Las Vegas), Nev., cities, schools, and the county in 1963 were so squeezed for funds that officials and newspapers built a figurative fire under the county assessor's office. The result was that assessed valuations jumped from $400 million to $560 million in one year.

The CED suggests that national reform would help relieve the fiscal woes of local governments: "Unequal assessment and underassessment are two major sources of inequity. In view of the primary reliance on real-property taxes, it is quite shocking that in most parts of the country — whether urban or rural — its administration may be accurately described as inequitable, inefficient, incompetent or corrupt. There is no more vivid illustration of the need for reform of local institutions."

NO MATTER what the conclusions of government bodies, state legislatures, big city politicians and lobbyists, the property tax will continue to be the single most important source of revenue to local government units in the United States.

But the "thinkers" on Capitol Hill are right in describing the administration of property tax as "inequitable, inefficient, incompetent and corrupt."

Equitable administration could help local government achieve goals now only thought of as pipe dreams.

(First of two articles. Next: Other avenues of taxation open to local governments.)

Old Wade House— By Twilight Tour

Old Wade House, historic stagecoach inn, will resound to the clop-clop of horses hoofs and the rumble of stagecoach wheels each Tuesday evening in August, Mrs. Fay Dooley, curator of the historic site, announced today. The gleaming, black coach, which will carry up to 16 passengers, will provide rides to all visitors to the inn from 7 to 9 p.m. during the annual twilight tours.

The stagecoach is a part of the famous carriage collection of Wesley Jung of Sheboygan. A museum is being planned at Old Wade House where the Jung collection, rated as one of the finest in the nation, will be displayed.

The twilight tours are festive occasions at Old Wade House, built 115 years ago on the plank road between Fond du Lac and Sheboygan. The Methodist Church holds an old-fashioned ice cream social, serving also hamburgers and bratwursts and homemade pie and cake. The Chord-a-lettes, a well - known women's singing group from Plymouth, sings a program of Civil War music in the inn's ballroom, and a barbershop quartet, also from Plymouth, harmonizes in the tap room. Many residents of the little village of Greenbush add atmosphere to the occasion by dressing in costumes of a hundred years ago.

Old Wade House, operated by the State Historical Society of Wisconsin, is open seven days a week through Oct. 31. (CR

Orphans' Auto Day Outing Wednesday

More than 5,000 orphans, retarded and crippled children, and aged people will be entertained Aug. 17 at the 62nd annual Orphans' Automobile Day outing in Lincoln Park.

Inaugurated in 1904 by the late A. J. Banta, a southside Locomobile dealer, and a board member of the Chicago Automobile Trade Association, the yearly event has mushroomed into the largest activity of its kind in the nation.

Accordng to W. M. Mack, Mack Cadillack Corp., 333 W. Rand Road, Mount Prospect, the association's guests will be entertained by 13 clowns led by Coco the Clown, in addition to a two-hour stage show in which many prominent entertainers currently appearing in Chicago will volunteer their performance. Guests will also be treated to miniature train rides and a baseball game. Box lunches, ice cream and soft drinks will be provided.

The Orphans' Automobile Day Association is a non-profit organization comprised of 50 business and professional men who donate their time and effort to the annual project.

The Chicago Automobile Trade Association is made up of some 380 franchised new car dealers who take an active interest in the affairs of their community. Many dealers are directly involved with neighborhood fund-raising drives, anti-poverty programs, as well as serving on local city councils and school boards.

Private individuals wishing to provide transportation may call BElmont 5-2330 to make arrangements for the use of their automobile. (CR

After Record Year

Halt Production of Pontiacs-Tempests

Production of 1966 model Pontiacs and Tempests ended Aug. 3 after breaking all the records which were established just last year.

At the close of production, a total of 831,331 cars had been assembled during the model year, breaking the record of 802-000 units set last year by nearly 4 per cent.

The 1966 total includes 472,233 Pontiacs and 359-098 Tempests.

John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and Pontiac general manager, also listed three other production records set this year:

* A monthly record of 89,123 cars built in June. This broke the record of 88,903 set three months earlier in March.

* A WEEKLY mark of 22,004 cars built during the week of Feb. 7, erasing the record 21,019 assembled during the week of Dec. 7, 1964.

* A one-day record was set on April 21 when 4,207 cars were built, breaking a record that was set just one week earlier of 4,156 on April 14.

The division's biggest production gains were established with the Tempest. The 359,098 units built this year was an increase of 52,015 cars or 17 per cent greater than the 1965 model run.

"OUR 1966 model production was maintained at a consistantly high level throughout the entire year to keep abreast of our sales pace," DeLorean said.

The majority of Pontiac's 16,500 production employes will be furloughed for a short period of inventory. After completion of this inventory, production of parts for the 1967 model run will begin on a gradual basis.

Pontiac assembly operations are expected to resume on Aug. 29 with the production of 1967 models. (CR

Goodyear Experts Offer Safety Tips

How often do you glance at your rear view mirror to check traffic behind you when you're driving?

Professional tire test drivers of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. do it about 12 times a minute — once every five seconds — as they road-test tires for greatest safety and durability, reports Fletcher Carroll, manager of the Goodyear auto center at 102 E. Rand Road, Mount Prospect.

"IT'S ONE BIG reason they have never suffered a fatal accident in 220 million miles of public highway travel," Carroll said. "Compare their record with the national rate of 12.5 deaths for the same mileage on the same variety of roads."

A large percentage of car collisions are tail-enders, he points out. With cars travelling at the legal speeds of 88 to 103 feet per second — 60 to 70 mph — sudden trouble can sneak up fast from behind.

If an apparent victim of "highway hypnosis" is closing in on you, Carroll says, increase your speed a bit and give a vigorous left arm signal to pass. Another trick is to alternate your turn signals and blink taillights to protect your rear. If this doesn't work, pull over to the shoulder — if it's firm enough — without slowing down until off the pavement.

"What advice you may want to offer the other driver at this point," Carroll says, "is a matter for you and your conscience to decide!" (CR

Local Taxes Growing in Giant Strides

Property Levy Chief Reliance

by JACK NEUKOM
Staff Writer

With school districts taking more and more of the real estate tax dollar to bolster their burgeoning systems, cities and counties throughout the country are pondering new ways to balance their own budgets.

The rush to legislatures for state aid is on in all the "50," and statehouses arehelping in various degrees.

Five states have levied new sales taxes — New York, Idaho, Virginia, Massachusetts, and New Jersey — and seven others have raised their old taxes.

Other states have raised their income taxes, 23 states have upped cigaret taxes, and 13 states have voted raises on liquor or gasoline taxes. Much of this revenue is being returned to local governments.

What is now concerning government economists is the fact that cities and counties are being prodded into tax systems that produce short-term relief and long-term headaches instead of solving financial difficulties with reasonable, efficient tax plans.

IN ILLINOIS, many municipalaties were thirsting last year for the legislature to raise the state sales tax to five cents, allowing local municipalities a one-cent take instead of the present half-cent.

The proposal was beaten back in the state senate and the search for new sources of revenue had to be renewed.

The crux of the spiraling advances in financing local government is easily documented, according to these same economists who preach "reasonability and efficiency" in setting up taxing systems.

For long years prior to World War II, cities, counties and all local governments provided adequate services (for the times) with total annual tax revenues of only $4.5 billion. The present costlier services since the end of World War II has forced city, county and school district taxes up over the $25 billion a year mark.

Even more remarkable is the astronomical climb in direct general spending by these local governments, from $6.5 billion in 1940 to $55.9 billion last year.

It's no wonder that new sources of revenue are eagerly sought, with more and more local governments turning their eyes to state officials for financial aid.

In fact, the 1965 report of the Illinois Cities and Villages Municipal Problems Commission, says "the second most repeated problem brought to the attention of the commission is the problem of municipal revenue." (Number one request: more home rule.)

Municipal revenue, the way that local government units raise money for expenditures, was of little consequence to the over-all national economic policies back in 1940 when total spending of all local governments peaked at $6.5 billion.

Now, with expenditures of cities, counties, and school districts over the $50 billion mark, and expected to be at $100 billion by 1975, the impact of local tax policies upon the national economy is becoming much more strongly felt.

TO DRAMATIZE the rising cost of local government (including state government), former Gov. John Anderson of Kansas wrote in an article appearing in Saturday Review:

"By 1970 or thereabouts, barring drastic changes in the international situation, annual state and local expenditures will have passed total federal expenditures including those for defense and foreign aid. In the fiscal year 1963, federal expenditures for civilian government totaled about $30 billion, in comparison to state and local outlays of $64 billion. I would guess that by 1971 state and local expenditures will have reached $130 billion, compared with a federal budget of $110 to $115 billion by that time."

The property tax provides by far the major amount of local government revenues — Eighty per cent, to be exact.

But, do you know that the estimated value of real property in the United States — land and improvements — is approximately $1.8 trillion?

This enormous base now yields some $17 billion or about 1 per cent of the total value, according to an article in the April issue of the Illinois Municipal Review magazine, written by Howard McMahan, city manager of Littleton, Colo.

McMahan feels the one per cent yield is low, indicating that the property tax in many areas could carry a greater burden than it does today and is far from exhausted as a potential source of revenue.

IN ILLINOIS, over one half of property tax is levied by school districts, while slightly over one-fifth is levied by municipal governments, according to 1962 state financial figures.

Opponents of having property taxes pay nearly the full revenue load argue that such a tax based on property value may work a serious hardship on taxpayers in years of low income business firms with large fixed investments and fluctuating incomes and retired persons trying to maintain their home.

To back up McMahan's argument that the property tax could carry a bigger burden than it does is word from the government's Committee for Economic Development (CED) that "there is injustice and waste" in administrating property tax collections.

One example: In Clark County (Las Vegas), Nev., cities, schools, and the county in 1963 were so squeezed for funds that officials and newspapers built a figurative fire under the county assessor's office. The result was that assessed valuations jumped from $400 million to $560 million in one year.

The CED suggests that national reform would help relieve the fiscal woes of local governments: "Unequal assessment and underassessment are two major sources of inequity. In view of the primary reliance on real-property taxes, it is quite shocking that in most parts of the country — whether urban or rural — its administration may be accurately described as inequitable, inefficient, incompetent or corrupt. There is no more vivid illustration of the need for reform of local institutions."

NO MATTER what the conclusions of government bodies, state legislatures, big city politicians and lobbyists, the property tax will continue to be the single most important source of revenue to local government units in the United States.

But the "thinkers" on Capitol Hill are right in describing the administration of property tax as "inequitable, inefficient, incompetent and corrupt."

Equitable administration could help local government achieve goals now only thought of as pipe dreams.

(First of two articles. Next: Other avenues of taxation open to local governments.)

Old Wade House—By Twilight Tour

Old Wade House, historic stagecoach inn, will resound to the clop-clop of horses hoofs and the rumble of stagecoach wheels each Tuesday evening in August, Mrs. Fay Dooley, curator of the historic site, announced today. The gleaming, black coach, which will carry up to 16 passengers, will provide rides to all visitors to the inn from 7 to 9 p.m. during the annual twilight tours.

The stagecoach is a part of the famous carriage collection of Wesley Jung of Sheboygan. A museum is being planned at Old Wade House where the Jung collection, rated as one of the finest in the nation, will be displayed.

The twilight tours are festive occasions at Old Wade House, built 115 years ago on the plank road between Fond du Lac and Sheboygan. The Methodist Church holds an old-fashioned ice cream social, serving also hamburgers and bratwursts and homemade pie and cake. The Chord-a-lettes, a well - known women's singing group from Plymouth, sings a program of Civil War music in the inn's ballroom, and a barbershop quartet, also from Plymouth, harmonizes in the tap room. Many residents of the little village of Greenbush add atmosphere to the occasion by dressing in costumes of a hundred years ago.

Old Wade House, operated by the State Historical Society of Wisconsin, is open seven days a week through Oct. 31. (CR

Orphans' Auto Day Outing Wednesday

More than 5,000 orphans, retarded and crippled children, and aged people will be entertained Aug. 17 at the 62nd annual Orphans' Automobile Day outing in Lincoln Park.

Inaugurated in 1904 by the late A. J. Banta, a southside Locomobile dealer, and a board member of the Chicago Automobile Trade Association, the yearly event has mushroomed into the largest activity of its kind in the nation.

Accordng to W. M. Mack, Mack Cadillack Corp., 333 W. Rand Road, Mount Prospect, the association's guests will be entertained by 13 clowns led by Coco the Clown, in addition to a two-hour stage show in which many prominent entertainers currently appearing in Chicago will volunteer their performance. Guests will also be treated to miniature train rides and a baseball game. Box lunches, ice cream and soft drinks will be provided.

The Orphans' Automobile Day Association is a non-profit organization comprised of 50 business and professional men who donate their time and effort to the annual project.

The Chicago Automobile Trade Association is made up of some 380 franchised new car dealers who take an active interest in the affairs of their community. Many dealers are directly involved with neighborhood fund-raising drives, anti-poverty programs, as well as serving on local city councils and school boards.

Private individuals wishing to provide transportation may call BElmont 5-2330 to make arrangements for the use of their automobile. (CR

After Record Year

Halt Production of Pontiacs-Tempests

Production of 1966 model Pontiacs and Tempests ended Aug. 3 after breaking all the records which were established just last year.

At the close of production, a total of 831,331 cars had been assembled during the model year, breaking the record of 802-000 units set last year by nearly 4 per cent.

The 1966 total includes 472,233 Pontiacs and 359-098 Tempests.

John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and Pontiac general manager, also listed three other production records set this year:

* A monthly record of 89,123 cars built in June. This broke the record of 88,903 set three months earlier in March.

* A WEEKLY mark of 22,004 cars built during the week of Feb. 7, erasing the record 21,019 assembled during the week of Dec. 7, 1964.

* A one-day record was set on April 21 when 4,207 cars were built, breaking a record that was set just one week earlier of 4,156 on April 14.

The division's biggest production gains were established with the Tempest. The 359,098 units built this year was an increase of 52,015 cars or 17 per cent greater than the 1965 model run.

"OUR 1966 model production was maintained at a consistantly high level throughout the entire year to keep abreast of our sales pace," DeLorean said.

The majority of Pontiac's 16,500 production employes will be furloughed for a short period of inventory. After completion of this inventory, production of parts for the 1967 model run will begin on a gradual basis.

Pontiac assembly operations are expected to resume on Aug. 29 with the production of 1967 models. (CR

Goodyear Experts Offer Safety Tips

How often do you glance at your rear view mirror to check traffic behind you when you're driving?

Professional tire test drivers of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. do it about 12 times a minute — once every five seconds — as they road-test tires for greatest safety and durability, reports Fletcher Carroll, manager of the Goodyear auto center at 102 E. Rand Road, Mount Prospect.

"IT'S ONE BIG reason they have never suffered a fatal accident in 220 million miles of public highway travel," Carroll said. "Compare their record with the national rate of 12.5 deaths for the same mileage on the same variety of roads."

A large percentage of car collisions are tail-enders, he points out. With cars travelling at the legal speeds of 88 to 103 feet per second — 60 to 70 mph — sudden trouble can sneak up fast from behind.

If an apparent victim of "highway hypnosis" is closing in on you, Carroll says, increase your speed a bit and give a vigorous left arm signal to pass. Another trick is to alternate your turn signals and blink taillights to protect your rear. If this doesn't work, pull over to the shoulder — if it's firm enough — without slowing down until off the pavement.

"What advice you may want to offer the other driver at this point," Carroll says, "is a matter for you and your conscience to decide!" (CR

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS POLICE quelled a minor disturbance on the 900 block of north Gibbons Avenue late Tuesday night. A group of youths reportedly got out of hand and police rushed in before the incident could become serious. It was the second consecutive night of such disturbances. No arrests were made. Police Break Up Teen Disturbances

A group of teenagers caused a minor disturbance Tuesday night in the 900 block of N. Gibbons Avenue. No arrests were made.

Arlington Heights police patrolled the Campbell-Vail intersection carefully that night in response to reports that trouble was expected.

The Tuesday night incident followed two similar teen disturbances on Monday night.

In the first of these, 40-50 teenagers reportedly from Palatine, were dispersed by police from the corner of Campbell Street and Vail Avenue. There were no arrests or charges in this stir either.

ALTHOUGH there were no arrests made in the second incident which occurred at the corner of Grove Street and Dwyer Avenue just 10 minutes after the Campbell-Vail disturbance, five youths were taken to the police station.

They later were released to their parents. The five youths and their parents spoke with the Arlington Heights juvenile officer Tuesday nights. (A

IT WAS ALL FUN AND GAMES Sunday at the ninth annual Wheeling Township Democratic Picnic, as shown by these youngsters enjoying the baseball throw activity. More than 500 suburban Democrats attended the day-long affair, including such leading candidates as State Rep. Eugenia S. Chapman of Arlington Heights; Harry R. Semrow, candidate for county board president; and Adlai Stevenson III, candidate for state treasurer. Also present were Wheeling village officials and James Stavros, Democratic township committeeman. Semrow Seeks Suburb Votes

Harry H. Semrow, Democratic candidate for president of the Cook County board, last week launched his campaign in the suburbs.

He will be visiting shopping centers, business districts and tour the area with local candidates for Congress and the state legislature.

Semrow will visit Elk Grove Township on Aug. 9, Palatine and Wheeling townships on Aug. 11, Schaumburg and Hanover townships on Aug. 17, and Barrington Township on Aug. 25.

Young GOPs Plan Picnic

The Wheeling Township Young Republicans will hold their annual picnic Sunday at the Land of Oz Farm, 85 W. Palatine Road, Wheeling. The event will begin at 1:30 p.m.

The day's activities will include pony rides, games, races, socializing and a baseball game against the Maine Township Young Republicans. The game will begin at 2 p.m.

Any boy or girl who brings this news article to the picnic will be given a free pony ride.

3-Cent Bus Cost Increase Costs Griffith's Support

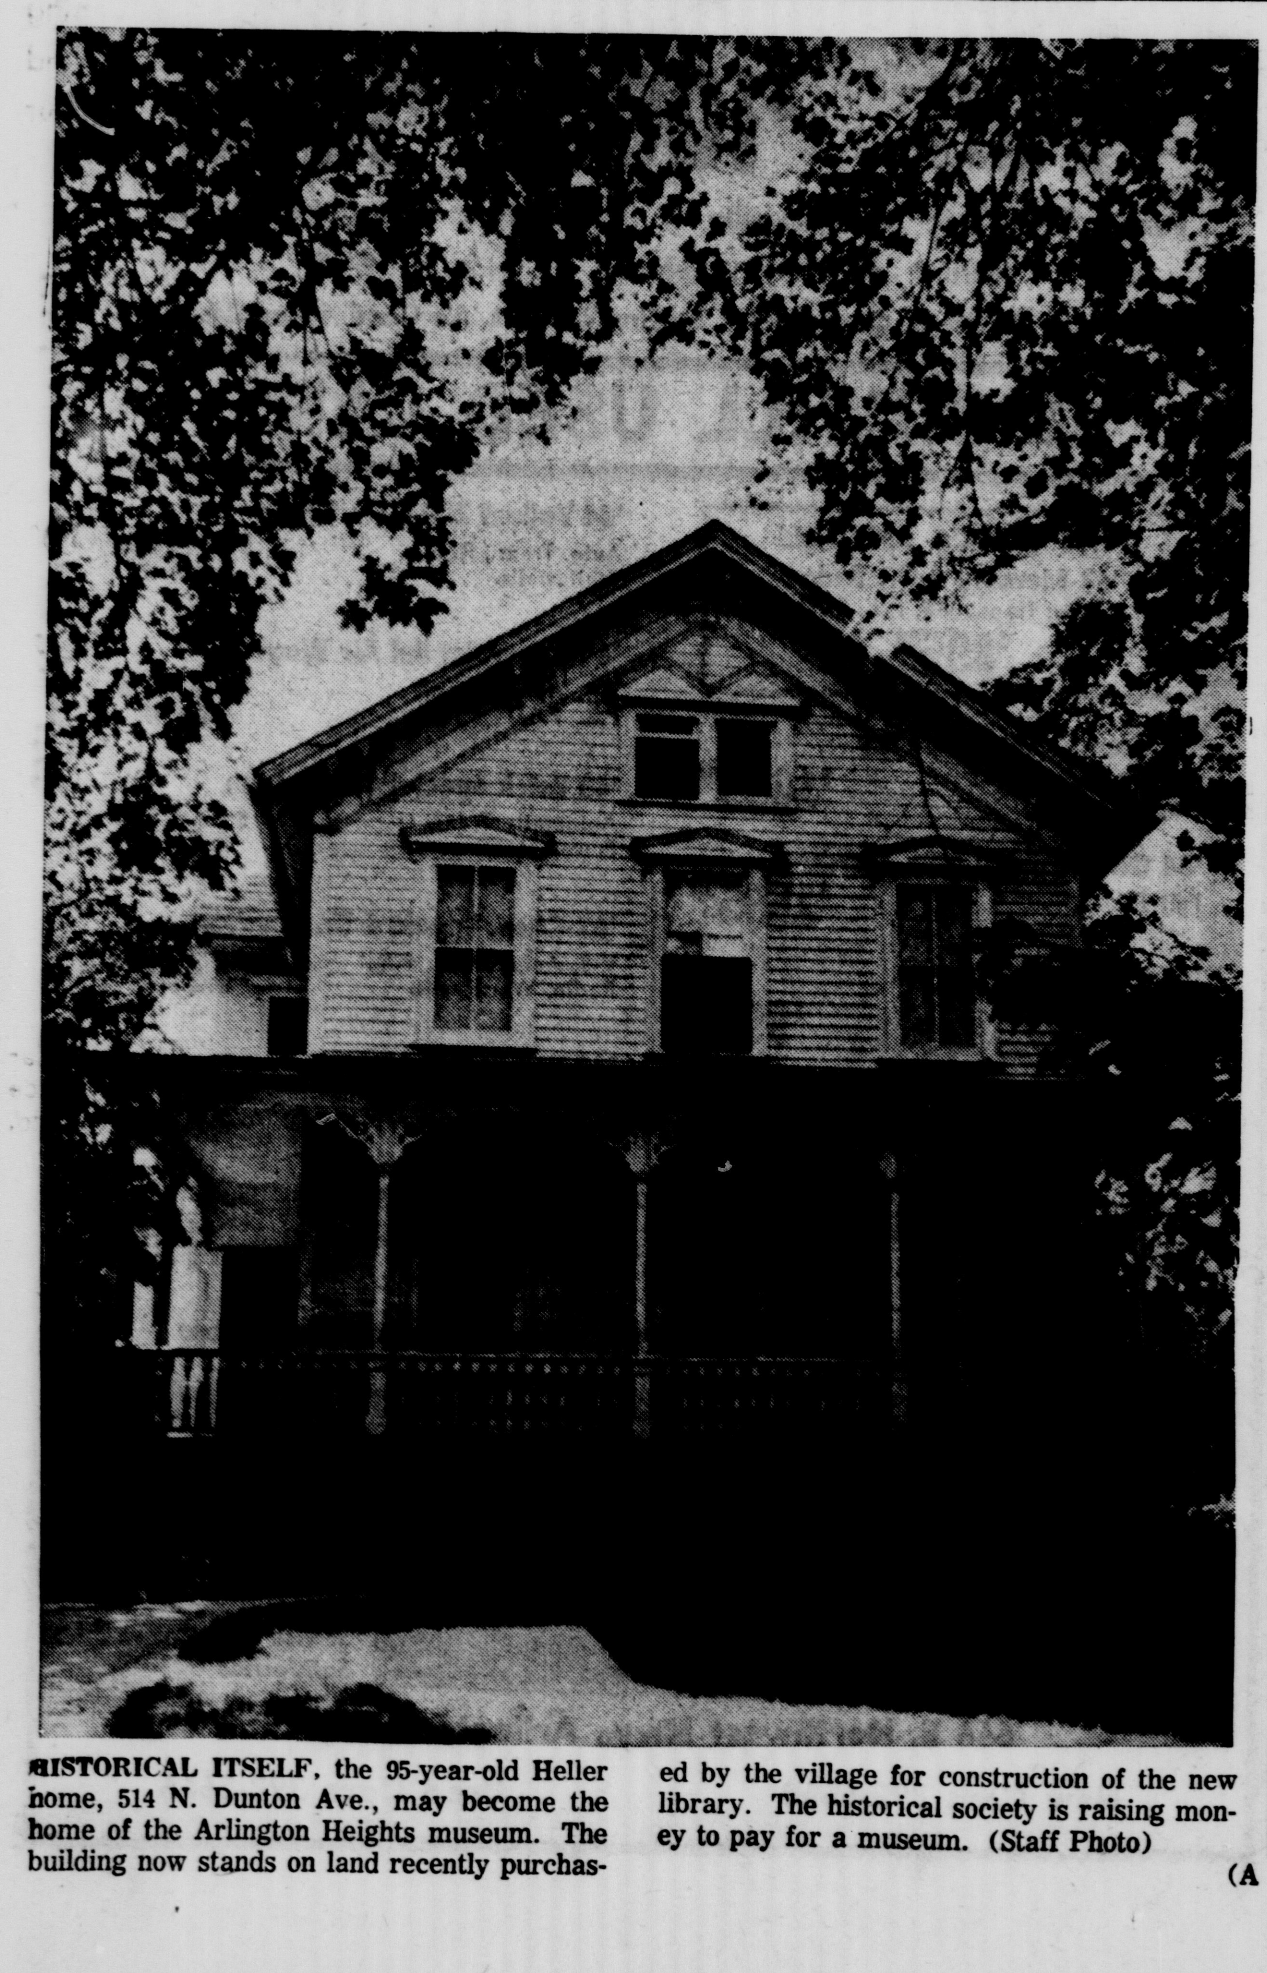
Objection to increased busing costs brought a lone "no" vote by William Griffith Monday as High School District 214 approved a 1966-67 budget calling for a 12-cent tax raise.

The budget, based on estimated costs of school operation in 1967-68, will provide the basis for the 1966 property tax levy collected next spring and fall.

GFIFFITH SAID his negative vote was based on opposition to a three-cent increase in the transportation tax caused, in part, by higher costs from school district diversification of bus service.

Of the three-cent transportation tax increase, half will cover higher hauling costs in 1967-68. The rest of the levy increase will be used to reimburse other school funds borrowed from to meet higher costs this year, the first year that Davidsmeyer Bus Service will be hauling Elk Grove High School students. Increases caused by that additional contract had not been anticipated last year at budget time.

BOARD ACTION on the budget was taken after a public hearing, which brought only one question — and no objections to the budget — from citizens at the meeting.



HISTORICAL ITSELF, the 95-year-old Heller home, 514 N. Dunton Ave., may become the home of the Arlington Heights museum. The building now stands on land recently purchased by the village for construction of the new library. The historical society is raising money to pay for a museum. (Staff Photo)

State Tax Speakers Offered by League

"The Illinois Tax Picture" is one of five programs being offered to community groups this year by the Speakers Bureau of the local League of Women Voters.

The league, a nonpartisan organization working in the field of government, presents the five topics as a citizens service free of charge.

The tax program is especially timely in light of the November Blue Ballot referendum. League members will present an explanation of the provisions of the present revenue article in the Illinois Constitution and the proposed amendment which will be on the November ballot along with historical background and factual information on taxing procedures in our state.

IN 1964 THE local League made 20 Speakers Bureau appearances before approximately 1,200 persons interested in election issues. That year stress was on the at-large ballot.

Other programs being offered are "City and Suburb — Past and Future," which discusses problems of the Chicago metropolitan area; "Focus on State Government," telling how Illinois government works; "Your Hidden Political Power" which explains what one can do as an individual to be an effective citizen, and "Your Vote Makes A Difference."

Mrs. George E. Schroeder of Arlington Heights, chairman of the league's speakers bureau, says that since other organizations, like the LWV, are concerned with the responsibilities of citizenship, perhaps by working together the League and they can contribute to a greater understanding of government and an awareness of how citizens can effectively influence it.

Organizations interested in booking one of the League programs should call Mrs. Schroeder at 392-0145. (ACME

Estimates Are Sought On Shelters

Architects' estimates of the cost of providing a radiation-shielded shelter in the new Willow High School are being sought by High School District 214 following a civil defense presentation at Monday's board meeting.

Wallace Daughtry, Arlington Heights civil defense chairman, requested the estimates.

He urged a mass shelter be provided in the school for use in natural disasters — like June's tornado — as well as nuclear attack.

DAUGHTRY ASKED the school board to look into the possibility of providing shielding to cut down outside radiation by 1/100th. He told the board that if ventilation were properly controlled the school would be a useful shelter against bacteriological and chemical warfare, too.

He said the air-conditioned sixth school, planned with few windows and a second story over the academic wing, should be easier to shield than present District 214 schools have been.

New Wieboldt's Store Gala Opening Aug. 18

There will be a gala ribbon cutting ceremony at Wieboldt's in Randhurst Center at 10 Thursday morning, Aug. 18, to mark completion of the vast rebuilding program which has transformed the four-year-old store.

Allen E. Neil, president of Wieboldt Stores, Inc., will conduct brief ceremonies at the new "porte-cochereon" on the west side of the store. He will hand the giant golden shears to a child whose name will be announced shortly as winner of a letter writing contest. The youngster will have the honor of cutting the ribbon.

To win the contest, which offered a deluxe bicycle as prize, the child will have written a letter (judged best by panel of judges not associated with Wieboldts) detailing memories of the day he or she pressed their palm prints into cement at the entrance to Wieboldts in July, 1962, prior to the grand opening of the store.

ALL OF THE children whose prints are in the floor outside the entranceway will have special invitations to next week's ribbon cutting ceremony.

The crowd flowing into the store after the doors open next Thursday will find a happy air of celebration throughout the store. Bouquets of flowers will be everywhere, and popular organist Adele Scott will be playing throughout the event.

Wieboldt junior fashion board members will hostess the open house in the junior department on the fashion floor from 1 to 4 p.m. Thursday through Saturday, Aug. 18-20. They will be easily identifiable from plum colored print pantsuits.

All visitors to the new Wieboldt's in Randhurst will have an opportunity to win one of the more than $25,000 worth of prizes to be given away on Wednesday, Aug. 24, including color television, furniture and appliances.

Professional fashion models will parade down fashion isle on the second floor several hours each day during the opening celebration.

WIEBOLDT'S in Randhurst is practically a new store since the extensive rebuilding program of the past six months has ended. The store now occupies 225,000 square feet of space, and has the distinction of being the largest store in Randhurst Center, Neil said. Every department has been enhanced and many enlarged.

"Everything has been planned for customer convenience," Neil said recently in commenting on the expansion. He explained that many departments have been moved to gain more space and to become more inviting. He said additional space comes from an extension of the second floor, making it a spacious fashion floor—richly carpeted and graced by mannequins along a fashion isle.

A customer convenience center on the lower level combines all the service facilities, including credit sales, cashier, will call, adjusting and giftwrapping. Also on the lower level is the home furnishing department with decorating ideas for every room in the home.

Arlington Leads Area With Fines

Arlington Heights led towns in this area for fines collected in June with $3,059 received, according to a recent report by Circuit Court Clerk Joseph J. McDonough.

Other local towns listed in the report for the north suburban 2nd Municipal District of the Circuit Court of Cook County were Wheeling, with $2,163 collected; Palatine, with $1,436; Rolling Meadows, $271; Buffalo Grove, $153; and Inverness, with no fines received.

SUCH MONIES, mainly the result of traffic offenses, are returned by the court to the municipalities in which they were incurred.

For this year Arlington Heights leads in the area with fines totaling $23,427; Palatine is next, with $11,900; and Wheeling ranks third with $9,004. Rolling Meadows received $4,100; Buffalo Grove, $976; and Inverness, $113. (B10

Police Break Up Teen Disturbances

A group of teenagers caused a minor disturbance Tuesday night in the 900 block of N. Gibbons Avenue. No arrests were made.

Arlington Heights police patrolled the Campbell-Vail intersection carefully that night in response to reports that trouble was expected.

The Tuesday night incident followed two similar teen disturbances on Monday night.

In the first of these, 40-50 teenagers reportedly from Palatine, were dispersed by police from the corner of Campbell Street and Vail Avenue. There were no arrests or charges in this stir either.

ALTHOUGH there were no arrests made in the second incident which occurred at the corner of Grove Street and Dwyer Avenue just 10 minutes after the Campbell-Vail disturbance, five youths were taken to the police station.

They later were released to their parents. The five youths and their parents spoke with the Arlington Heights juvenile officer Tuesday nights. (A

3-Cent Bus Cost Increase Costs Griffith's Support

Objection to increased busing costs brought a lone "no" vote by William Griffith Monday as High School District 214 approved a 1966-67 budget calling for a 12-cent tax raise.

The budget, based on estimated costs of school operation in 1967-68, will provide the basis for the 1966 property tax levy collected next spring and fall.

GFIFFITH SAID his negative vote was based on opposition to a three-cent increase in the transportation tax caused, in part, by higher costs from school district diversification of bus service.

Of the three-cent transportation tax increase, half will cover higher hauling costs in 1967-68. The rest of the levy increase will be used to reimburse other school funds borrowed from to meet higher costs this year, the first year that Davidsmeyer Bus Service will be hauling Elk Grove High School students. Increases caused by that additional contract had not been anticipated last year at budget time.

BOARD ACTION on the budget was taken after a public hearing, which brought only one question — and no objections to the budget — from citizens at the meeting.

State Tax Speakers Offered by League

"The Illinois Tax Picture" is one of five programs being offered to community groups this year by the Speakers Bureau of the local League of Women Voters.

The league, a nonpartisan organization working in the field of government, presents the five topics as a citizens service free of charge.

The tax program is especially timely in light of the November Blue Ballot referendum. League members will present an explanation of the provisions of the present revenue article in the Illinois Constitution and the proposed amendment which will be on the November ballot along with historical background and factual information on taxing procedures in our state.

IN 1964 THE local League made 20 Speakers Bureau appearances before approximately 1,200 persons interested in election issues. That year stress was on the at-large ballot.

Other programs being offered are "City and Suburb — Past and Future," which discusses problems of the Chicago metropolitan area; "Focus on State Government," telling how Illinois government works; "Your Hidden Political Power" which explains what one can do as an individual to be an effective citizen, and "Your Vote Makes A Difference."

Mrs. George E. Schroeder of Arlington Heights, chairman of the league's speakers bureau, says that since other organizations, like the LWV, are concerned with the responsibilities of citizenship, perhaps by working together the League and they can contribute to a greater understanding of government and an awareness of how citizens can effectively influence it.

Organizations interested in booking one of the League programs should call Mrs. Schroeder at 392-0145. (ACME

'Political' Postmasters Not Bad-Postmasters

Rumsfeld Bill Not Needed, They Say

by KATHY GOSNELL
Staff Writer

Post office officials from his own and nearby districts don't think much of U. S. Rep. Donald Rumsfeld's bill to remove postmasters from politics.

Rumsfeld, in presenting his bill last month on the floor of the House of Representatives, used comments by Donald Ledbetter, secretary of the National Association of Postal Supervisors in his attempt to draw support for his bill.

Ledbetter and Rumsfeld believe that politics in managerial and supervisory appointments is "one of the major reasons for inadequate mail service."

POSTMASTERS in this area, however, deny that political appointments are bad. And most of them deny that service is deteriorating.

Those who do see some slack in postal service blame it on insufficient funds, on lack of dedication, and on greatly increased volume.

One reason why postmasters don't believe in the evil of the system, aside from the fact that the system got them their jobs, is the fact that all appointees to the position are only acting postmasters until they qualify under civil service.

A spokesman in the office of the regional director of the post office, located in Chicago, explained that appointed postmasters hold their positions only "temporarily," pending the civil service examination.

In most cases a competitive open exam is given, said the spokesman, and selection of the permanent postmaster must come from the three highest scorers on the test.

HOWEVER, HE added that there is no time limit between the date of the appointment and the date of the test. It depends on how busy examiners are, he said.

The spokesman also said he did not know of any removal from the office of postmaster because of political affiliation.

Any removal from office must result from "valid cause," he said, and the validity is determined by the postmasters and rural carriers division of the civil service.

He said also anyone removed from such office would have the right of appeal to either the civil service or the post office department.

Donald Swanson, Arlington Heights resident who is regional director of the post office, was on vacation. The man who spoke in his place asked that his name not be used.

Mrs. Virginia Dodge, who for 31 years has served as Arlington Heights postmaster, is one who can agree to neither of Rumsfeld's points.

SHE SAID SHE sees nothing wrong with political appointments ("I can't see why it's bad. We have to take the civil service test and pass it.") and she does not believe the postal system is deteriorating.

She sees two problems in the post office. Employes are "not as dedicated as they were years ago," and they are underpaid for this area.

She said the problem of dedication is not limited to the post office, but can be seen in other businesses as well.

And as far as pay is concerned, in this area the cost of living is too high for the postal pay scale, she said.

She said that possibly "cost of living" adjustments should be made in some areas for postal employes. As it is, the employes are paid the same rate, based on service, across the country.

BUT "DEDICATED" people, she said, do the job regardless of pay.

Edward Swan, postmaster in Wheeling, had about the same opinion about what's ailing the post office.

The volume of mail increases about three to four per cent annually, he said, but it is difficult to find personnel.

Some post offices can't expand to meet volume because of the low pay, he said.

But Swan finds no fault with political appointments within the postal system.

In politics a person must have knowledge of good public relations, and the same knowledge is necessary in the post office, he said.

He said he does not think the method of appointment makes a difference in the quality of the work.

Arthur Petersen, Bensenville postmaster, said he believes a sound background in business and management is necessary to the postmaster, because of the increasing complexity of the job.

Asked if he thought political patronage were the best way to attain this level of business acumen in the department, he replied, "now you're putting me on the spot."

HARRY SEMROW, who has just left the position of Chicago postmaster to campaign for Cook County board president, said he did not think Rumsfeld's bill would pass.

"Congressmen and senators cherish the thought of appointing postmasters. Some have very little else to offer," he said.

And as for deterioration, Semrow said he would like to take the Congressman on a tour of the Chicago Post Office.

"He would say, 'It's one of the finest operations I've ever seen in my life.' He would walk out the most amazed Congressman in the world," Semrow said.

Years away from your first luxury car?

Meet the Mind-Changer.
(Ambassador 990)

Our young scientist pinched his pocketbook—and figured his first luxury car was a couple of years away. Then he met the Mind-Changer: an Ambassador 990 with a brawny 327-cube V-8*. Its lavish interior included plush cut-pile carpeting, inlays of simulated walnut, elegant coil-spring reclining seats*. On the road, it was a revelation. ("Very smooth, very, very quiet.") When he heard the low, low price tag for all this Ambassador luxury, he changed his mind for keeps. Wouldn't you? American Motors . . . where quality is built in, not added on. *Optional.

Dr. Ruggie Is Promoted By Hospital

Dr. Alexander M. Ruggie has been appointed medical director of Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge. He was formerly director of medical education at Lutheran General.

As medical director he will direct and coordinate medical care in the hospital in cooperation with medical staff department heads and the medical staff executive committee. He will also direct and coordinate the hospital's program of medical education.

DR. RUGGIE received his B. A. and M. D. degrees from the University of Illinois. He interned at St. Luke's Hospital, Chicago, and served his residency in internal medicine at Hines Veterans Administration Hospital.

He is certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine. He serves as clinical assistant professor in the department of medicine at the University of Illinois Medical School.

Dr. Ruggie has been a member of the Lutheran General Medical staff since the hospital opened in 1960. He served as president of the medical staff for two years and was head of the department of medicine for two years. (B10

Judge Reports

Personal Injury Case Backlog Diminishing

Chief Judge John S. Boyle of the Cook County Circuit Court said last week that the data processing system of the court will be fully automated in six months.

Judge Boyle told the National Conference of State Trial Judges, one of the preliminary meetings of the American Bar Association, that the court's only backlog is in personal injury cases.

"We are assigning every lawyer in Cook County an identification number and we will be able to press a button to find out how many cases each lawyer has," the chief judge said.

"If he has more cases than he can reasonably handle, we will indicate to him that he must hire additional lawyers so that his cases will not tie up the operation of the court."

When the new court setup came into being in 1964, judges were trying personal injury cases filed in 1954, Judge Boyle said.

In 2½ years the court has cut down the backlog so that the judges are now trying cases filed in 1961 and 1962.

"In 2½ years we have shown a net gain of five to six years despite the fact that our personal injury filings increased 25 per cent in 1965 over 1964, and, based on the filings in the first quarter of 1966, will increase an additional 30 per cent in 1966," the judge said.

JUDGE BOYLE credited some of the decrease in the backlog to automated processing which has been introduced into the court's operations. As a result of this automation, he said, "we will also know how many cases are at what stages at any given time."

The court attacked the backlog with a change in the procedure for trying personal injury cases, Boyle declared. The court initiated a summer program of pre-trial and settlement of cases where the defendants were indemnified by insurance companies.

In this program each participating insurance company is assigned to a particular judge for intensive pre - trial of cases which are expected to be ready for trial within the next year, ' representative of the insurance company is present with full authority to settle each case. During the summer of 1964 we settled approximately 3,200 cases, which was 38 per cent of all such cases pre-tried.

"DURING the summer of 1965, we settled an additional 2,600 cases and during the summer of 1966 we expect to close 3,000 such cases," Judge Boyle said.

When the Judicial Article was passed to modernize the court system in Illinois it was feared that many cities and villages would lose money from fines and costs as a result of centralized control.

"The contrary has proved to be true," Judge Boyle said.

"In 1963 the cities and villages lying outside of Chicago within Cook County collected fines amounting to $319,000 and costs amounting to $193,000.

"In 1964 the fines increased to a little more than $2,000,000 and costs to $1,700,000.

"In 1965, the fines collected rose to more than $2,300,000 and the projected amount of fines collected for 1966 will be more than $2,500,000, while the costs are expected to be a little more than $2,000,000." (B10

Virginia Macdonald Renamed to GOP Post

County Republicans stressed the need for participation of more women in politics and government as they hailed the reappointment of Mrs. Alan H. (Virginia) Macdonald as county Republican chairwoman.

Mrs. Macdonald, 515 S. Belmont Ave., Arlington Heights, was named to fill a second two-year term as chairman of the women's division of the Republican Central Committee of Cook County earlier this week. She will be assisted by Mrs. Gerold O. (Mary) McDonald of Lincolnwood.

Timothy P. Sheehan, GOP county chairman, announced the two appointments.

MRS. MACDONALD

COMMENTING on Mrs. Macdonald's leadership, Sheehan said, "Under the leadership of Ginny Macdonald, more women than ever before are volunteering for service in Republican ranks.

"She has a unique ability to convince other women that working for the Republican cause and Republican principles is one of the best ways to fight for a better future for their families and for the nation.

"Women now hold positions of importance at all levels of the Republican party, and we pledge wholehearted support and assistance to the continuation of Mrs. Macdonald's successful program and leadership," he said.

Mrs. Macdonald is a former township committeewoman and is a founding member of the Wheeling Township Republican Women's Club.

Her other Republican jobs have included treasurer and membership chairman for the Wheeling Township Regular Republican Club, co-chairman of the campaign for township GOP committeeman by Thomas J. Houser in 1962 and headquarters coordinator of volunteers for Percy in the 1964 primary. She was also on the Wheeling Township Regular Republican Club's budget committee.

THE CHAIRWOMAN has also been active in non - political groups. She is past president of both the Episcopal Churchwomen of St. Simon's Episcopal church and the Northwest suburban alumnae association of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

She is also a member of the University Guild of Northwestern University and a volunteer worker for the Northwest chapter of the American Cancer Society.

She and her husband have two children, Susan, 23, and Alan H. Jr., 21. (B10

Graduation Ceremony For Nurses Aug. 21

Graduation services for 26 seniors at the Lutheran General and Deaconess Hospitals School of Nursing, Park Ridge, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 21, in St. Mark Lutheran Church Mount Prospect.

Dr. Alving Rogness, president of Luther Theological Seminary, St. Paul, Minn., and member of the board of governors of the Lutheran Institute of Human Ecology, will be the commencement speaker. Liturgist for the service will be the Rev. David Quill of St. Mark Lutheran Church, Mount Prospect.

Greetings will be given by T. L. Jacobsen, executive vice president of Lutheran General and Deaconess Hospitals, and by Pastor Quill.

FOLLOWING the presentation of the class by Miss Erna M. Rueggeberg, director of the school, N. M. Nesset, president of the board of trustees of both hospitals, will present the diplomas. Miss Marguerite Paetznick, director of nursing at Lutheran General and Deaconess Hospitals, will give pins to the new nurses.

A baccalaureate service for the class will be held at 10 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 14 in the chapel at Lutheran General Hospital.

The Rev. Martin Zulauf, member of Lutheran General's department of pastoral care, will be the speaker. The Rev. Arne K. Jessen, campus pastor and associate director of the pastoral care department, will be the liturgist.

A total of 839 nurses have been graduated from the school of nursing since it was founded in 1906 at Lutheran Deaconess Hospital, Chicago. In 1960 the school, with facilities for 100 students, was moved to its present site near Lutheran General.

Retain Nutrients In Serving Cabbage

Have you been throwing away the best part of your cabbage? The dark green outer leaves of all vegetables are more nutritious than inner leaves, stem or midribs. When you discard the green outer leaves of cabbage, you are throwing away parts of the vegetable containing vitamin C and other nutrients.

Cooking "strong-flavored" vegetables such as cabbage in a large amount of water was once thought to make them milder. That wastes nutrients. Even "strong-flavored" vegetables can be cooked in a small amount of water if they are cooked briefly—just long enough to make them tender.

Be sure to cover the pan with a tight lid so the cabbage will retain its natural color. Season boiled cabbage (green) with onion, celery seed or paprika. Try allspice or tarragon with red cabbage.

OF COURSE, when cabbage is served raw you need not worry about losing nutrients. Cole slaw is a year-round favorite for enhancing meals. Try it fruited for summer menus.

CREAMY FRUIT SLAW

4 c. chopped Illinois cabbage
½ c. chopped pitted dates
1 c. drained, chilled canned pineapple chunks, halved; or 1 c. orange sections
½ c. sliced celery
¼ c. mayonnaise
¼ c. commercial sour cream
2 Tbsp. syrup drained from pineapple; or 2 Tbsp. orange juice
1 Tbsp. vinegar
½ tsp. sugar
½ tsp. salt

Toss cabbage with dates, pineapple and celery. Mix mayonnaise with rest of ingredients; add cabbage; toss and serve. Makes 4 servings.

Illinois-grown cabbage is now coming from Cook, Lake and McHenry Counties. Harvesting will continue through October. (A15

Rumsfeld Proposes New Poverty Plan

Congressman Donald Rumsfeld, R-13th, this week introduced in the House of Representatives a bill to provide jobs, training and education for the disadvantaged.

Known as The Opportunity Crusade Act of 1966, the bill — if passed by the House and Senate — would correct many of the abuses found in the Johnson Administration's "War on Poverty" program.

Rumsfeld's bill would:

—Restructure the office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) by programs to other Federal departments, with the exception of the Community Action and VISTA programs.

—Double the funds provided for Headstart and place more emphasis on state and local responsibility.

—Reorganize the Job Corps program.

—Establish a new Industry Youth Corps for on-the-job training of the unskilled by private industry.

—Permit the elderly and retired to work for a liveable income without loss of Social Security benefits.

—Reduce the poverty-fighting cost of $300 million.

IN INTRODUCING the bill this week, Rumsfeld said: "The approach of the Opportunity Crusade is to unite local, state and Federal governments with private efforts in launching a comprehensive program of training, education and motivation for the poor."

He pointed out that the excesses and failures of the "War on Poverty" have handicapped its effectiveness. He said it has been "tragically self-defeating" to build up the hopes of the poor with a program which could not satisfy these hopes.

Rumsfeld condinued: "In 1964, I favored an approach to poverty sponsored by my colleague, Rep. Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen. I voted for a Motion to Recommit so that the Frelinghuysen bill might be substituted for the Administration's 'War on Poverty' package, but the Motion to Recommit failed passage and HR 11050 — The Human Resources Development Act — was thus pushed aside. As a result, I voted against the Administration bill because I was convinced it could not work as well as the Frelinghuysen proposal and would create as many problems as it was supposed to solve.

"I agreed with the goals of the Administration bill . . . but, as many, I could see the difficulties which were to be encountered by it. Since that time, repeated revelations on the ineffectiveness and maladministration of the present poverty program have convinced me of the accuracy of these predictions.

"Now the Congress has an opportunity to correct its action of 1964."

The Opportunity Crusade Act was developed by Republican Members of Congress under the leadership of Congressmen Quie, Minn., and Goodell, N.Y.

Retain Nutrients In Serving Cabbage

Have you been throwing away the best part of your cabbage? The dark green outer leaves of all vegetables are more nutritious than inner leaves, stem or midribs. When you discard the green outer leaves of cabbage, you are throwing away parts of the vegetable containing vitamin C and other nutrients.

Cooking "strong-flavored" vegetables such as cabbage in a large amount of water was once thought to make them milder. That wastes nutrients. Even "strong-flavored" vegetables can be cooked in a small amount of water if they are cooked briefly—just long enough to make them tender.

Be sure to cover the pan with a tight lid so the cabbage will retain its natural color. Season boiled cabbage (green) with onion, celery seed or paprika. Try allspice or tarragon with red cabbage.

OF COURSE, when cabbage is served raw you need not worry about losing nutrients. Cole slaw is a year-round favorite for enhancing meals. Try it fruited for summer menus.

CREAMY FRUIT SLAW

4 c. chopped Illinois cabbage
½ c. chopped pitted dates
1 c. drained, chilled canned pineapple chunks, halved; or 1 c. orange sections
½ c. sliced celery
¼ c. mayonnaise
¼ c. commercial sour cream
2 Tbsp. syrup drained from pineapple; or 2 Tbsp. orange juice
1 Tbsp. vinegar
½ tsp. sugar
½ tsp. salt

Toss cabbage with dates, pineapple and celery. Mix mayonnaise with rest of ingredients; add cabbage; toss and serve. Makes 4 servings.

Illinois-grown cabbage is now coming from Cook, Lake and McHenry Counties. Harvesting will continue through October.

Ravinia Tour Scheduled On WBKB

A television tour of Ravinia Park, home of one of the world's foremost music festivals, will be featured in a one hour show at 9 p.m. tonight (Thursday) over WBKB-TV.

Commonwealth Edison Co. will sponsor the "Sound of Ravinia — Music Under the Stars." The story of one of the Chicago areas' outstanding cultural landmarks will be told through highlights of the 1966 Ravinia season.

THE PROGRAM will feature recent performances by Seiji Ozawa, conducting the Chicago Symphony Orchestra; Roberta Peters, Nancy Wilson, The Ramsey Lewis Trio and the Back Porch Majority. Miss Peters will be accompanied by Joseph Krips, conducting the Chicago Symphony.

Ozawa, music director of the Toronto Symphony, is in his third season as music director of the Ravinia Festival.

Norman Ross will be host of the show which will be staged in Ravinia's 36-acre setting of gardens, lawns and towering trees.

Little City Is Seeking S&H Stamps

Little City, a training and treatment center for mentally retarded children, will get a second egg farm if Chicago and suburban residents support a trading stamp campaign this weekend, Aug. 12, 13 and 14.

The four Keystone-United car wash centers have agreed to donate to Little City the same number of S & H Green Stamps as are given to customers with their purchases those three days.

LITTLE CITY Foundation officials are hoping for a quarter- to a half-million stamps.

Children operate the egg farm on their training center in Palatine. It is considered part of their treatment.

Car wash center locations are at: 3150 S. Ashland, 918 W. Jackson Blvd., 3218 W. Irving Park, and 1001 W. Jackson.

Proviso Class Of '41 to Meet

Class of '41, Proviso East High School in Maywood, will hold its 25-year reunion Oct. 1, at O'Hare Inn, Mannheim and Higgins Roads.

Class members are asked to make reservations before Sept. 1. They should contact Mrs. Ann Mossner Boggess, 335 Gale Ave., Rover Forest (FO 9-6072); or John Dahlberg, 212 S. Lorraine Road, Wheaton (MO 8-6372). (A15

Postal Arrests Hit Record High

Arrests by the Postal Inspection Service reached a record high of 13,270 in the 1966 fiscal year, according to Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien.

The total was up 3.8 per cent over the previous year's 12,790 arrests, also a record. Convictions for postal crimes also showed an increase, rising 2.2 per cent to 11,371.

Among the major crime increases in the past year was theft from letter boxes. Other action was taken by the inspection service in the areas of mail fraud, chain referral promotions and obscenity. (A15 Kissner is outgoing commander of the ninth district, made up of 41 posts from the northwest side of Chicago and the northwest suburbs. (A(P

Physician Dies in Chicago After Overdose of Drugs

A Northwest Community Hospital resident physician was found dead Sunday in the hallway of a Chicago rooming house.

Dr. Frank Tuzzolino, 41, of 1729 Winona St., Chicago, had been a physician at Northwest Community for more than a year. A Cook County coroner ruled that Tuzzolino died of chronic alcoholism and an overdose of barbituates.

When his body was found, Chicago police charged a 22-year-old woman with failure to report a death and illegal possession of narcotics.

Mrs. Josie Costello told detectives of the Damen Avenue homicide unit that Tuzzolino had given her an injection of narcotics. She said that after he gave himself an injection, he collapsed and she dragged him outside into the hallway. Police found three packets of heroin in her room.

Mrs. Costello was found hanged in her cell Sunday at central police headquarters in Chicago.

NORTHWEST Community Hospital officials indicated that Tuzzolino had not been at work for two weeks prior to his death. Lutheran General Hospital reported the doctor was admitted to the hospital July 31, treated and released Aug. 5.

Tuzzolino had been slated to appear before Arlington Heights Circuit Court on charges of sexual assault and unlawful restraint Aug. 15.

According to Palatine police records, a 24-year-old Palatine mother said Tuzzolino restrained her against her will in his office several hours on July 27.

THE WOMAN told police he gave her two shots of narcotics and molested her. Palatine Police Chief Robert Centner said the woman had been molested but not raped.

Centner said police "found numerous lewd photographs and home movies" in the doctor's car after police obtained a search warrant.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, 690 W. Belmont, Chicago. Burial will be at Queen of Heaven Cemetery, 1400 S. Wolf, Hillside.

TUZZOLINO was trained as a doctor in Holland and did his internship in a Chicago hospital.

He is survived by his wife, Helena, and two children, Ingrid and Marchus.

VIRGINIA TERRACE

Terese Renee, daughter of the Ronald Landrys, 1418 N. Race, was baptized Sunday, Aug. 7, at St. Thomas of Villanova Catholic Church in Palatine. Rev. John T. McEnroe officiated at the 2 p.m. ceremony. Sponsors for the baby were Ed Mateski of Niles and Terese's aunt, Mrs. Richard Koch of Chicago. The Landrys hosted a party after the services. Attending were the sponsors and their families; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hynes; aunts, Martha, Jo, Brigid, and Erin Hynes; and an uncle, Jerry Hynes, all of Des Plaines. Sisters, Michelle and Jeannine, and brother, Timothy, were also a part of the celebration.

The Terrace welcomes Gerald and Diana Olson and their 3-week-old son, Todd. The Olsons moved to 1334 N. Chicago from Des Plaines on July 30. Jerry is employed by IBM of Chicago. Golf is one of Jerry's hobbies; Diana likes bridge; both enjoy working on their new home and in the yard. The Olsons attend the Catholic church.

Joe and Betty Hanrahan, 1404 N. Race, motored to Rolling Prairie, Ind., Saturday where they attended a reunion of members of Joe's family at the home of his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Higgins, now of Rolling Prairie but formerly of Arlington Heights. Others attending were sisters and their families, the Emmett Maloneys and the Holmes Lawsons, and a brother and family, the James Hanrahans — all of Chicago. Other relatives were also present.

ON SUNDAY, July 31, Ray and Gail Israel and children, Jean, Kevin, and Liane, 1247 N. Chicago, attended a family reunion for members of Ray's family at Deer Grove. It was the 25th year the reunion had been held, and Ray has attended all 25.

Ray was on vacation last week and the family took a vacation at home. In the area they visited Santa's Village, the Field Museum, Shedd Aquarium, the Prudential Building, and Cantigny, the Robert McCormick museum in Wheaton. They also attended an air show in Rockford. Traveling a little farther away, the Israels went to St. Anne, Ill., where they visited Gail's great grandmother, her grandmother, and aunts and uncles. From there the family drove to Morocco, Ind., to visit other relatives.

Jim and Janice Murphy and children, Gail, Jimmy, and Chrissie, 1326 N. Chicago, returned home Tuesday, Aug. 2, after spending a week in Minneaplis and St. Paul. While in the twin cities Jim met a grade school friend who took the family out to dinner and entertained them at his home. A sorority sister of Jan's, who recently moved to Minneapolis, showed Jan and the children points of interest. On the way home the Murphys stopped in Dubuque, Iowa.

Delores Bracht, an ex-Terrace resident now living in California, visited in Arlington Heights last week. On Tuesday, Vaneta Kellogg, 1341 N. Wilke, gave a coffee in Delores' honor. Since her home was being remodeled, the coffee was held at the Kenneth Stevenses' home; the Stevenses are also past Terrace residents. Terrace women attending the coffee were Ruth Rollefson, Jo Anne Herndon, Lena Duss, Anne Cardinell, and Jean Stevens. Friday Vaneta and Delores went shopping in the city. Delores left by train for Terre Haute Friday to return to the home of her parents, where her children stayed while she was away.

"Grandma" Larson, mother of Ted Larson, 1202 N. Race, returned home Monday after visiting a cousin in Muskegon, Mich., since July 2.

AUG. 4 WAS the seventh birthday of Lars Bloom, son of the Carl Blooms, 1345 N. Illinois. Lars celebrated at a party on the 3rd attended by Paul Platte, Jerry Milligan, Chuck Robinson, and Lars' brother, Eric. Cheryl and Wendy Bloom were also a part of the celebration. A Batman theme was followed for the party. After refreshments at the Blooms' the guests saw "Mary Poppins" at the Meadows Theatre.

A family party was given for Lars the afternoon of his birthday. Helping him celebrate were his grandparents, the Sven Dahlbergs and the Elmer Blooms of Arlington Heights.

Turning 4 on Aug. 5 was John Brahm, son of the Jack Brahms, 1401 N. Chicago. John enjoyed an early celebration of his birthday on July 27. Party-goers were David Stevens, Cheryl and Tammy Vonderheide, Jimmy Rudolph, Tommy Flesch, Kenny Von Ebers, Jeannie Charleston, and a Hasbrook friend, Patrick Takash, and Pat's mother.

Loni Larson, daughter of the Ted Larsons, 1202 N. Race, was 12 on July 23. She celebrated at a slumber party on Aug. 5. Party guests were Kathy and Vicki Schmidt and Sue Cleary.

Coming from Louisville, Ky., Tuesday to spend a week with Robert and Diane Peterson, 1210 N. Yale, were Diane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lichner, and her brother, Bill.

Dick and Mary Soby and children, Ricky, Danny, and Joyce, 1208 N. Chicago, went to the home of Mary's parents, the Robert Watsons, in Genoa City, Wis., Saturday for a farewell party for Mary's nephew, who is going into the service. Members of Mary's family were in attendance. The honored guest was Arnie Rowe, son of the Arnon Rowes, of Des Plaines.

THE TERRACE bids farewell to Sgt. Leroy Turner, his wife, Pat, and sons, Robert and Tommy. The Turners had only lived at 1256 N. Chicago for two months when Leroy's transfer from the Nike Base in Arlington Heights to Germany came. The family moved this week.

Visiting the Werner Beckers, 1440 N. Race, from July 28 to Aug. 1 were Werner's brother, wife, and five children, the George Beckers of Granada, Minn. On Sunday, July 31, the Becker families attended a family reunion picnic at Jewel Tea in Barrington. They have held their reunions there for the past ten years.

This weekend the Beckers spent with their son, Ronald Becker in Joliet. Ron's wife was in the hospital and the grandparents helped care for their two grandchildren.

Visiting the Jack Martins, 1337 N. Chicago, is Jack's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Martin of Peoria. Mrs. Martin arrived Sunday to spend a few days with her son and family.

Terrace newcomers are Frederick and Netty Wellman and their daughters, Linda, 4, and Sandra, almost 2. The Wellmans moved to 1217 N. Chicago from Alma, Mich., on Aug. 1. Fred is employed by Michigan Chemicals, and moved to this area because the office of the company moved to Chicago. Both Fred and Netty enjoy bowling, picnicking, and outdoor sports—golf is a favorite of Fred's. The Wellmans are Methodists.

Ron and Dureen Gasser and children, Tommy, Michael, and Kathryn, 1255 N. Chicago, vacationed in Minnesota from July 21 to Aug. 6. They visited their parents. Ron's family, the Rudolph Gassers, live in St. Cloud; Dureen's parents, the Alf Engers, reside in Minneapolis. Mike Gasser celebrated his 3rd birthday July 25 while the family was away.

Before leaving on vacation, Mike was honored at a party on July 15 attended by Jeannie and Kevin Israel, Stephen and Dan Soisson, Kevin Schafer, Donald Ziegler, Nancy Klussmann, and Mike's brother and sister, Tommy and Kathryn.

LAURA LEE Henderson, daughter of the Tom Hendersons, 1334 N. Yale, was 3 on Aug. 8 and celebrated at a party on that date. Party-goers were Missy and Mandy Vogt; Paula Pollard; John and Mark Fenzel; Becky, John, Theresa and Louis Ries; Michelle and Alise Minard; and cousins, Julie Apostle of Des Plaines, and Lisa and Ralph Menotti of Niles.

Monday evening a family party was held. Attending were grandparents, aunts, and uncles of Laura Lee.

Aug. 2 was the first birthday of Louis Ries, son of the Paul Rieses, 1346 N. Yale. Louis' aunt, Kathleen Link of Sioux City, joined the Ries family to celebrate the birthday. She visited from Aug. 2 to 4.

Janet Fluhrer, daughter of the Hal Fluhrers, 1433 N. Race, was 12 on Aug. 3. She celebrated with her parents, sister, Linda, and brother, "Skip."

Jerry and Nancy Pollard, 1400 N. Yale, and children, Paula and Bradley, spent Sunday touring Brookfield Zoo.

Visiting the Ralph Wiederholds, 1322 N. Chicago, on Sunday, July 31, were Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Brink and children of Princeton, Ind. The Brink family were just beginning a camping trip to Canada. When they left, Kevin Wiederhold joined them for the trip. Cards from Kevin tell that the campers enjoyed some time in the Dells, where they visited Fort Dells, and also a visit to Ontario, Canada.

BECOMING a teenager on Aug. 6 was Karen Garland, daughter of the Jack Garlands, 1317 N. Chicago. On Aug. 5, Karen, her mother, and Shirley Rozdalovsky went to Sweden House for lunch and then went bowling. Sunday a family party was given in Karen's honor. Grandparents, aunts and uncles enjoyed the cook-out at the Garlands.

Aug. 8 was the 11th birthday of David Herndon, son of the Brodie Herndons, 1333 N. Wilke. David celebrated with his parents and brother, Wayne.

Diane Duda, daughter of the Dan Dudas, 1337 N. Wilke, was 1 on Aug. 4. She shared honors with sister, Peggy, who was 7 on July 30, at a family party on her birthday. Guests were grandparents, the Joseph Dudas of Chicago, and Peggy's godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Casey Ladowski, also of Chicago.

House guests of Don and Linetta Schmidgall, 1216 N. Race, are Minneapolis friends, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butterfield, and their granddaughter, Jane. The guests arrived Saturday for a two-week visit.

Monday guests of the Schmidgalls were Linetta's brother and family, Capt. and Mrs. Warren Yoder and their four children, also from Minnesota. The Yoders left for Michigan Tuesday and planned to return for a few days after their Michigan visit.

Pat Ross and children, Billy and Cindy, 1252 N. Chicago, returned Monday after spending two weeks visiting Pat's parents, the James McNeills, in Bellport, Long Island. Vacation highlights included swimming in the ocean, attending a matinee in New York City, and visiting friends and relatives in New York State. The Rosses were fortunate in getting reservations on American Airlines so were able to fly on their yearly summer visit to New York.

A birthday luncheon party in his North Pine Court home last Saturday afternoon observed the occasion for 5-year-old David Woehlck. Joining him for the games and goodies were Ralph Sass, Trudy Rateike, Frank Daletsik, David Weidinger, Freddie and Angie Damiano, sister, Mary Beth, and brothers, Bob and Kenny. The previous Saturday Kenny celebrated his third birthday with a luncheon party and the same young friends.

Back home and recuperating from recent surgery is Mrs. Jim Lindsey of North Douglas who spent 10 days in Holy Family Hospital the latter part of July.

Recent houseguests in the Don Bark home on North Hickory were a niece and family, the Larry Kettlesons of Clinton, Iowa. Sightseeing trips to Chicago and the suburbs kept the pace active during their four-day visit the last week in July.

SUMMER VACATION for the Don Heffernan family of North Beverly Lane and the John Langhenry family of East Olive was a two-week stay at Duck Point Resort near Tomahawk, Wis. Joining them for the first week of swimming, fishing, golf and relaxation was the Robert Dougherty family of St. Charles.

The last day of July was also the last day of their vacation trip west for the Al Radcliffe family of North Hickory. Their first week was spent in the Denver - Colorado Springs area, touring the mint, sightseeing Pikes Peak and other tourist attractions, including a day's hike at Mt. Audubon. During the last week they dude ranched at Peaceful Valley near Estes Park, enjoying the riding, swimming, tours of mines, ghost towns and many planned social activities.

A week's visit with relatives in Fort Wayne, for the Harlan Lee family of East Clarendon Court late in July was more than just a family gathering. Their son and daughter, the James Lees and Steven Metcalfs had planned a 25th wedding anniversary party for their parents. Thirty-some relatives and friends gathered at the home of aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weaver, on July 23 to fete the couple. The occasion also observed the first birthday of their first grandson, James Robert Lee.

ALSO CELEBRATING their 25th wedding anniversary were Mr. and Mrs. William Miller of North Hickory, whose plans for dinner out Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Koren were changed. Arriving at the South Donald home of the Korens, former Greens residents, the Millers were greeted by shouts of surprise from the Russell Bedfords, John Farrs, Al Radcliffes, Ron Lundells, Robert Bradshaws and their houseguests, the Rudy Stierles of New York.

On Sunday, Mrs. Miller hosted a bridal shower for her niece, Miss Barbzra Miller of Morton Grove. Fifteen friends and relatives of the bride-to-be gathered for the afternoon yard party, which moved indoors when the rains came. Later in the evening the men arrived for a cook-out party, winding up the day's festivities.

Miss Arlene Roby of North Beverly Lane spent last weekend swimming and relaxing with friends at Cedar Lake, Ind.

THE AGE OF AIRPLANE FLIGHT BEGINS AS ORVILLE & WILBUR WRIGHT MAKE HISTORY AT KITTY HAWK

It seems incredible in this day of jet airplanes and space travel that as comparatively recently as Dec. 16, 1903 nobody in the world had ever flown an airplane—anywhere, anytime.

Then on Dec. 17, 1903, one of the great achievements in the march of mankind took place near Kitty Hawk, N.C., as 32-year-old Orville Wright made history's first successful man-carrying, motor-driven flight in a heavier-than-air vehicle.

He stayed aloft just 12 seconds. But the airplane was born. Later in the day, Orville's 36-year-old brother, Wilbur, stayed up 59 seconds.

The Wright brothers had started their careers making, of all things, bicycles. They had a bicycle shop in Dayton, Ohio.

But the most amazing aspect of the story of the airplane is its fantastic development since that December day of not too long ago.

VIRGINIA TERRACE

Terese Renee, daughter of the Ronald Landrys, 1418 N. Race, was baptized Sunday, Aug. 7, at St. Thomas of Villanova Catholic Church in Palatine. Rev. John T. McEnroe officiated at the 2 p.m. ceremony. Sponsors for the baby were Ed Mateski of Niles and Terese's aunt, Mrs. Richard Koch of Chicago. The Landrys hosted a party after the services. Attending were the sponsors and their families; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hynes; aunts, Martha, Jo, Brigid, and Erin Hynes; and an uncle, Jerry Hynes, all of Des Plaines. Sisters, Michelle and Jeannine, and brother, Timothy, were also a part of the celebration.

The Terrace welcomes Gerald and Diana Olson and their 3-week-old son, Todd. The Olsons moved to 1334 N. Chicago from Des Plaines on July 30. Jerry is employed by IBM of Chicago. Golf is one of Jerry's hobbies; Diana likes bridge; both enjoy working on their new home and in the yard. The Olsons attend the Catholic church.

Joe and Betty Hanrahan, 1404 N. Race, motored to Rolling Prairie, Ind., Saturday where they attended a reunion of members of Joe's family at the home of his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Higgins, now of Rolling Prairie but formerly of Arlington Heights. Others attending were sisters and their families, the Emmett Maloneys and the Holmes Lawsons, and a brother and family, the James Hanrahans — all of Chicago. Other relatives were also present.

ON SUNDAY, July 31, Ray and Gail Israel and children, Jean, Kevin, and Liane, 1247 N. Chicago, attended a family reunion for members of Ray's family at Deer Grove. It was the 25th year the reunion had been held, and Ray has attended all 25.

Ray was on vacation last week and the family took a vacation at home. In the area they visited Santa's Village, the Field Museum, Shedd Aquarium, the Prudential Building, and Cantigny, the Robert McCormick museum in Wheaton. They also attended an air show in Rockford. Traveling a little farther away, the Israels went to St. Anne, Ill., where they visited Gail's great grandmother, her grandmother, and aunts and uncles. From there the family drove to Morocco, Ind., to visit other relatives.

Jim and Janice Murphy and children, Gail, Jimmy, and Chrissie, 1326 N. Chicago, returned home Tuesday, Aug. 2, after spending a week in Minneaplis and St. Paul. While in the twin cities Jim met a grade school friend who took the family out to dinner and entertained them at his home. A sorority sister of Jan's, who recently moved to Minneapolis, showed Jan and the children points of interest. On the way home the Murphys stopped in Dubuque, Iowa.

Delores Bracht, an ex-Terrace resident now living in California, visited in Arlington Heights last week. On Tuesday, Vaneta Kellogg, 1341 N. Wilke, gave a coffee in Delores' honor. Since her home was being remodeled, the coffee was held at the Kenneth Stevenses' home; the Stevenses are also past Terrace residents. Terrace women attending the coffee were Ruth Rollefson, Jo Anne Herndon, Lena Duss, Anne Cardinell, and Jean Stevens. Friday Vaneta and Delores went shopping in the city. Delores left by train for Terre Haute Friday to return to the home of her parents, where her children stayed while she was away.

"Grandma" Larson, mother of Ted Larson, 1202 N. Race, returned home Monday after visiting a cousin in Muskegon, Mich., since July 2.

AUG. 4 WAS the seventh birthday of Lars Bloom, son of the Carl Blooms, 1345 N. Illinois. Lars celebrated at a party on the 3rd attended by Paul Platte, Jerry Milligan, Chuck Robinson, and Lars' brother, Eric. Cheryl and Wendy Bloom were also a part of the celebration. A Batman theme was followed for the party. After refreshments at the Blooms' the guests saw "Mary Poppins" at the Meadows Theatre.

A family party was given for Lars the afternoon of his birthday. Helping him celebrate were his grandparents, the Sven Dahlbergs and the Elmer Blooms of Arlington Heights.

Turning 4 on Aug. 5 was John Brahm, son of the Jack Brahms, 1401 N. Chicago. John enjoyed an early celebration of his birthday on July 27. Party-goers were David Stevens, Cheryl and Tammy Vonderheide, Jimmy Rudolph, Tommy Flesch, Kenny Von Ebers, Jeannie Charleston, and a Hasbrook friend, Patrick Takash, and Pat's mother.

Loni Larson, daughter of the Ted Larsons, 1202 N. Race, was 12 on July 23. She celebrated at a slumber party on Aug. 5. Party guests were Kathy and Vicki Schmidt and Sue Cleary.

Coming from Louisville, Ky., Tuesday to spend a week with Robert and Diane Peterson, 1210 N. Yale, were Diane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lichner, and her brother, Bill.

Dick and Mary Soby and children, Ricky, Danny, and Joyce, 1208 N. Chicago, went to the home of Mary's parents, the Robert Watsons, in Genoa City, Wis., Saturday for a farewell party for Mary's nephew, who is going into the service. Members of Mary's family were in attendance. The honored guest was Arnie Rowe, son of the Arnon Rowes, of Des Plaines.

THE TERRACE bids farewell to Sgt. Leroy Turner, his wife, Pat, and sons, Robert and Tommy. The Turners had only lived at 1256 N. Chicago for two months when Leroy's transfer from the Nike Base in Arlington Heights to Germany came. The family moved this week.

Visiting the Werner Beckers, 1440 N. Race, from July 28 to Aug. 1 were Werner's brother, wife, and five children, the George Beckers of Granada, Minn. On Sunday, July 31, the Becker families attended a family reunion picnic at Jewel Tea in Barrington. They have held their reunions there for the past ten years.

This weekend the Beckers spent with their son, Ronald Becker in Joliet. Ron's wife was in the hospital and the grandparents helped care for their two grandchildren.

Visiting the Jack Martins, 1337 N. Chicago, is Jack's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Martin of Peoria. Mrs. Martin arrived Sunday to spend a few days with her son and family.

Terrace newcomers are Frederick and Netty Wellman and their daughters, Linda, 4, and Sandra, almost 2. The Wellmans moved to 1217 N. Chicago from Alma, Mich., on Aug. 1. Fred is employed by Michigan Chemicals, and moved to this area because the office of the company moved to Chicago. Both Fred and Netty enjoy bowling, picnicking, and outdoor sports—golf is a favorite of Fred's. The Wellmans are Methodists.

Ron and Dureen Gasser and children, Tommy, Michael, and Kathryn, 1255 N. Chicago, vacationed in Minnesota from July 21 to Aug. 6. They visited their parents. Ron's family, the Rudolph Gassers, live in St. Cloud; Dureen's parents, the Alf Engers, reside in Minneapolis. Mike Gasser celebrated his 3rd birthday July 25 while the family was away.

Before leaving on vacation, Mike was honored at a party on July 15 attended by Jeannie and Kevin Israel, Stephen and Dan Soisson, Kevin Schafer, Donald Ziegler, Nancy Klussmann, and Mike's brother and sister, Tommy and Kathryn.

LAURA LEE Henderson, daughter of the Tom Hendersons, 1334 N. Yale, was 3 on Aug. 8 and celebrated at a party on that date. Party-goers were Missy and Mandy Vogt; Paula Pollard; John and Mark Fenzel; Becky, John, Theresa and Louis Ries; Michelle and Alise Minard; and cousins, Julie Apostle of Des Plaines, and Lisa and Ralph Menotti of Niles.

Monday evening a family party was held. Attending were grandparents, aunts, and uncles of Laura Lee.

Aug. 2 was the first birthday of Louis Ries, son of the Paul Rieses, 1346 N. Yale. Louis' aunt, Kathleen Link of Sioux City, joined the Ries family to celebrate the birthday. She visited from Aug. 2 to 4.

Janet Fluhrer, daughter of the Hal Fluhrers, 1433 N. Race, was 12 on Aug. 3. She celebrated with her parents, sister, Linda, and brother, "Skip."

Jerry and Nancy Pollard, 1400 N. Yale, and children, Paula and Bradley, spent Sunday touring Brookfield Zoo.

Visiting the Ralph Wiederholds, 1322 N. Chicago, on Sunday, July 31, were Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Brink and children of Princeton, Ind. The Brink family were just beginning a camping trip to Canada. When they left, Kevin Wiederhold joined them for the trip. Cards from Kevin tell that the campers enjoyed some time in the Dells, where they visited Fort Dells, and also a visit to Ontario, Canada.

BECOMING a teenager on Aug. 6 was Karen Garland, daughter of the Jack Garlands, 1317 N. Chicago. On Aug. 5, Karen, her mother, and Shirley Rozdalovsky went to Sweden House for lunch and then went bowling. Sunday a family party was given in Karen's honor. Grandparents, aunts and uncles enjoyed the cook-out at the Garlands.

Aug. 8 was the 11th birthday of David Herndon, son of the Brodie Herndons, 1333 N. Wilke. David celebrated with his parents and brother, Wayne.

Diane Duda, daughter of the Dan Dudas, 1337 N. Wilke, was 1 on Aug. 4. She shared honors with sister, Peggy, who was 7 on July 30, at a family party on her birthday. Guests were grandparents, the Joseph Dudas of Chicago, and Peggy's godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Casey Ladowski, also of Chicago.

House guests of Don and Linetta Schmidgall, 1216 N. Race, are Minneapolis friends, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butterfield, and their granddaughter, Jane. The guests arrived Saturday for a two-week visit.

Monday guests of the Schmidgalls were Linetta's brother and family, Capt. and Mrs. Warren Yoder and their four children, also from Minnesota. The Yoders left for Michigan Tuesday and planned to return for a few days after their Michigan visit.

Pat Ross and children, Billy and Cindy, 1252 N. Chicago, returned Monday after spending two weeks visiting Pat's parents, the James McNeills, in Bellport, Long Island. Vacation highlights included swimming in the ocean, attending a matinee in New York City, and visiting friends and relatives in New York State. The Rosses were fortunate in getting reservations on American Airlines so were able to fly on their yearly summer visit to New York.

Stewardess Alumnae Clubs

They've Been Grounded

LOOKING BACK ON flying days Mrs. Russell Lundstrom, 1137 E. Kitson Dr., Palatine, displays souvenirs of her own airborne life as well as those of her husband, now a TWA pilot. Now an active member of the TWA Clipped Wings Mrs. Lundstrom lectures and recruits for her alma mater airline. (Staff photo)

by DIANE SARGOL
Staff Writer

Their wings are clipped, the angels fallen and, like their New Zealand namesake, the kiwi, they have been grounded.

"They" are former airline stewardesses who now are members of TWA or United's Clipped Wings, American's Kiwis or Delta's Fallen Angels.

With the reality of the "wild blue yonder" gone, the ex-stewardess can hold its memories in her grasp via a stewardess alumnae club.

THOUGH MOST of these airline alumnae have been grounded by marriage, they generally agree that the stewardess life was an experience they would gladly repeat if those years could be relived.

Mrs. Peter Cappas, 1216 Robbin Lane, Mount Prospect, a new Kiwi member, says she would advise any girl with "itchy feet" to accept the challenge of being a stewardess.

"It's a marvelous experience for any young girl," she declared.

But her flight training was not an asset only in the air. It was during the strike in 1959 that she left the airline. Not working and unable to pay rent and other bills, she said, "I used my flying experience to get into the work I had been trained for in high school and college. . .I went into radio and TV work."

NOW AFTER flight experience, a communications career, three years of marriage, two children and a new home, Mrs. Cappas has joined the Kiwis, a club which she found to be full of fun-loving people.

In a similar fashion, TWA Clipped Wing Mrs. Russell Lundstrom, 1137 E. Kitson Drive, Palatine, explained, "I always wanted to fly." So after 2½ years of college she took it up as a career.

Two years and two months later she left the air to marry a TWA pilot with whom she had never flown. She had been based in San Francisco and he in Chicago. After nine months of seeing each other four times a week, they decided the phone and gas bills were too high and that marriage was the best solution.

MRS. LUNDSTROM is able to keep in contact with the flying world now through her husband's work.

She commented, "If I had it to do over, I'd do it the same way I did it before."

But the life of the stewardess today is quite different from that of these alumnae. Mrs. Cappas pointed out that the jet age is making the job of a stewardess much more difficult than it was in her time. When she flew with American in 1958 and 1959, the stewardess had more time to do her work.

In fact, Mrs. Cappas continued, the stewardess generally had opportunity to meet and talk with each passenger for at least 15 minutes, and there was a 30-hour lay-over between flights.

"Jet travel is just so fantastic," she exclaimed.

WITH THE world preparing itself for the new supersonic jets which will hold several hundred persons and travel between the U.S. and Europe in a couple of hours, the airlines will be unable to afford the necessary 30 to 40 stewardesses plus a crew, Mrs. Cappas calculated. And current comment indicates the eventual elimination of young girls as stewardesses.

"I hope that doesn't happen," said Mrs. T. P. Crigler, a former resident of Addison and member of United Airlines Clipped Wings.

"Flying is a wonderful career for a girl," she maintains.

"When I was going through training the first jet was inaugurated," explained Mrs. Lundstrom, "and the whole airline industry took a turn then and there."

"BUT TIME will never take the place of personality," she continued, emphasizing the need for girls to assume the career of airline stewardesses. "There always has to be someone there for the passengers' satisfaction and to offer the personal touch," she added.

"They (the girls) make the trip," she continued.

Even if there is no meal to be served on a short flight, the conversation which the girls afford is a diversion from the hectic daily life of the businessman-commuter.

As a service to their alma mater airline, all of these clubs do public relations work. The 60 Kiwi chapters assist American Airlines by recruiting potential stewardesses and aiding field workers in question and answer sessions for schools and community organizations.

AND IN the same manner Mrs. Carlyle Larson, the 1965-66 president of the local chapter of the United Airlines Clipped Wings, explained, "We are involved in their recruitment program, particularly in Chicago."

When United receives a request from a school or other group for a lecturer, the Clipped Wing members answer the call.

"We will probably do even more in the future," she continued, for the demands are getting heavier and United hopes to fill all requests.

AS AN ACTIVE member of the TWA Mary Gordon Program, Mrs. Lundstrom joins Mrs. Connie Henkel of Roselle in doing public relations work for the line. The two women are lecturers in the program and will serve in this capacity until December.

Mary Gordon is the woman's travel adviser in Chicago for TWA, and these two women are her Chicago area assistants. They represent the line before clubs and other interested groups in demonstrating the art of suitcase packing, displaying international costume and explaining varied customs.

All of these women plus other stewardess alumnae have joined their clubs in participating in charity work, locally, nationally and internationally.

THE PROCEEDS of the Kiwis' annual fashion show for the past few years have gone to the Park Lawn School for the mentally retarded. The Kiwis have been credited as the largest outside donor to the school in recent years.

In a similar vein the United Clipped Wings Chicago chapter is involved in two of its own projects plus participating with the 26 other chapters in the national project. The national association undertakes a new selling project each year, the proceeds of which are put toward research in mental retardation.

The Chicago chapter has adopted the Austin Special School for the Mentally Retarded and the Florence Crittenden and Anchorage House for Unwed Mothers as the recipients of its donations.

AND FOR the first time, TWA Clipped Wings this year have moved out of the local environment and have joined the international organization in participating in Project Hope.

The SS Hope is a charity ship staffed by volunteer doctors and nurses. Medically equipped like a hospital, the ship travels around the world, offering its supplies and services to the people of depressed nations. As a money-making campaign for Project Hope, the TWA Clipped Wings held a champagne brunch aboard a plane at O'Hare and a fashion show of international costumes also was presented.

Delta's Fallen Angels are not yet predominant in this area.

SO THE EXCITEMENT of the airborne life has not died for these women. As Mrs. Lundstrom puts it, "A flying career is what the individual makes of it; it's a high prestige job for a girl."

And this prestige is maintained by these grounded stewardesses in such organizations as Kiwis, Fallen Angels and Clipped Wings.

ANY GIRL WITH itchy feet should consider a flying career advises Mrs. Peter Cappas, 1216 Robbin Lane, Mount Prospect, as she places her own flight cap on her daughter. A former American Airline stewardess, Mrs. Cappas is a new member of American's Kiwi Club. Before marrying, Mrs. Cappas used her flight training in radio and TV work, the field for which she trained in college. (Staff Photo

News Clinics Slated

A down-to-earth session on writing club publicity releases and the plain facts on the use of pictures will be given to all club presidents and news chairmen submitting copy to the Paddock Publications' newspapers Sept. 8 and 9 in the chain's third annual morning coffee and publicity clinic.

Hundreds of women attended the clinics held the past two years. Because of the popularity of the sessions and the many requests for a repeat, the newspaper chain will present two clinics on two separate mornings: Thursday, Sept. 8, for women in DuPage County, and Friday, Sept. 9, for women in Cook County.

Designed to help publicity chairmen write releases of interest to all readers and therefore perform a greater service to area clubs, the clinics will be held from 9:15 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. with a coffee and roll break in midmorning.

THE SESSION for DuPage women will be held at Ehlen's Green Tree Inn, Irving Park Road, Bensenville, and the session for Cook County women will be held at the new Holiday Inn on Algonquin Road, Rolling Meadows. The 11:30 closing hour has been set so that busy homemakers can be home with their school children by lunch time.

Conducted by Paddock Publications' Women's Editor, Marianne Scott, the clinic will include important data on copy preparation, what is "news," hints on writing style, deadlines, the need for accuracy, the use of names and an explanation of Paddock Publications' news policies.

Popular in past years has been the discussion of news photos presented by a Paddock Puublications photographer. This year's photo discussion will be presented by Bob Finch, staff photographer, and will again include slides and posters.

VALUABLE pamphlets will be passed out to those in attendance and it is expected that there will also be time for a question and answer period.

Club presidents and news chairmen are requested to make reservations for the clinics by phoning Mrs. Shaughnessy at Extension 232, CLearbrook 3-1520 or 773-1520.

Potluck Picnic

Mount Prospect Homemakers will hold their annual potluck picnic on Wednesday, Aug. 17, at the home of Mrs. J. E. Lockhart in Mundelein.

Their next regular meeting is set for Sept. 21 at Mount Prospect Community Center.

It's Summer in the Suburbs

by BILLIE BACHHUBER

If you really want to get acquainted quickly and intimately with your suburban neighbors, move into a new neighborhood during the summer months. In a very short time, with no effort on your part, all the secrets of suburban living will be revealed to you.

Tastes and temperaments of the families around you will become a part of your life without either your consent or curiosity as the heat and humidity melt away the natural privacy assured by colder weather and closed-in houses. The soft tinkling of youthful giggles blend with racious male guffaws, low chuckles, quiet feminine laughter or shrill cackles as neighbors, friends and relatives take to backyard living.

The tantalizing fragrance of meat broiling over charcoal, the perfume of flowering shrubs and trees mingle with suntan oils and lotions and the rich, earthy smell of sprinklers on grass and gardens.

BEFORE BECOMING acquainted or friendly with those around you, you will guess the ages and the talents of their children. Electric guitars twang and drums beat relentlessly as "combos" wail out their tunes. As they usually are amplified by electronic devices, the results of youthful zest and exuberance (if not talent) are shared by all for several blocks away.

Slightly quieter but very determined and dedicated are the piano players, the clarinet clamorers, the trumpt tootlers and the violin virtuosos. Those who are not personally participating are helping to perpetuate the musical cacophony by playing record players and transistor radios at their highest volume.

If you prefer Brahms to the Beatles, you will have to go indoors, close all the doors and windows and turn on the air conditioner. That will tune out the musicales of the younger set but not the screaming whines of the jets that zoom over your house if you're in the take-off and landing patterns. Retreat indoors also may help to deaden the roar of the power lawn mowers.

YOU WILL observe that the hot summer sun is the source and springboard for the seasonal suburban yard-and-garden rites. In some families this will be strictly for the male members although many suburban ladies are exceptionally well-suited (bikinis, sunsuits, short shorts and bell-bottoms) for it!

The male addicts to yard worship couldn't care less what fashion dictates as they don their oldest and most shapeless and often paint-splattered clothes. If their beards grow a little dark and their fingernails get dirty, this adds to the flavor of the going-back-to-nature rites of weeding - and - seeding, spading, planting, watering, clipping and mowing.

As the summer progresses, you will see that the lady gardeners grow healthily deeper and deeper in color, good-naturedly vying one with another in a status race-of-tan. As they are old hands at this game, their skin is smooth and golden, but the teenage initiates too often acquire a painful, lobster-red sunburn which peels and grows blotchy before they learn to accept Mother's wisdom of "taking it easy."

YOU WILL note the constant action of growing males in their cut-off jeans or bright bermudas as they play catch, swing baseball bats, shoot basketballs in the hoops attached to garages, lunge at badminton birdies and whang the oversized wooden balls in croquet games. Their near manly voices banter back and forth in a running commentary on anything pertaining to sports, girls and ugh! school.

Some of this energy ultimately (and miraculously) is utilized by fathers for help in washing cars once the boys approach the drivers license age! Then they are joined by the lovely teenage tantalizers and their girlish giggles as they scoot around on their "hondas" or zip in and out of driveways in their four-wheeled "white chargers."

When girls can be girls, they loll on blankets in the sun, their skin oiled and bared to the sun and their maidenly tresses coiled in large rollers. Some suburban maidens (and matrons) venture to the supermarkets and shopping centers in this "under-done" condition.

SUMMERTIME brings the clatter of roller skates and skatesboards, the barking and yapping of dogs, the rolling-clacking of coaster wagons, the chants of little girls as they skip rope, the squeals of children as they run through sprinklers or splash in back yard pools, the song of the birds and the clothes flapping in the sunshine.

You will see fat, little legs flashing by on tricycles and older children whizzing past on their bikes heading for a cooling dip in the park pool or the "Y," mothers relaxing with a glass of iced tea or something else cool, chatting by twos or in friendly groups. Warm evenings bring "patio parties" sometimes on the riotous side, others for a friendly cup of coffee or glass of beer and quiet discussions before bedtime.

Very shortly you will find that the temperments and social habits of your neighbors are an open book. There are those who inadvertantly capture their neighbors for an unwilling audience as they stage their nightly quarrels, or scream out their frustrations at their children.

OTHERS WILL enchant you as they lovingly and happily care for their families with a joyous acceptance of life that filters through to you across the hedges.

You will find anything you are looking for here or anywhere you find people. Happiness and sadness, noise and clam, the ordinary and the exceptional, sickness and good health, babies to senior citizens.

Bored by Dr. Spock? AAUW Promises More

College graduates eager for more stimulating fare than Dr. Spock's newest edition are invited to become members of the Arlington Heights branch of the American Association of University Women at a tea which will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 25, at the home of Mrs. Charles Aldag, 409 S. Yale, Arlington Heights.

AAUW offers prospective members an opportunity to join an art, literature, music or China study group which meets monthly to exchange ideas and opinions. A morning discussion group and couple's study group are two new additions.

Each study group concentrates on one of the following themes: "Education, An Antidote to Poverty," "The Law and the Citizen," "Revolution in Modern China" and "Science, A Creative Discipline." Members "learn in depth" for this is the second year of a 2-year study.

"WE LIVE amidst rapid change and growth in knowledge, with which only persons who continue to learn and inquire can hope to keep pace," said Dr. Althea Hottel, president of the International Federation of University Women, in a recent speech in Chicago.

The president of the Arlington Heights branch, Mrs. Paul Davis, and board members will be present at the tea to answer any questions about AAUW.

Preparations for the tea have been planned by the chairman, Mrs. Beaver Waring, and her committee: Mrs. Aldag, Mrs. James Andrew, Mrs. Paul Davis, Mrs. John Kinney, Mrs. Thomas Lally and Mrs. Thomas Rusk.

Interested alumnae may call the membership chairman, Mrs. James Andrew, Arlington Heights, at 252-1346 for further information. (S

LOOKING BACK ON flying days Mrs. Russell Lundstrom, 1137 E. Kitson Dr., Palatine, displays souvenirs of her own airborne life as well as those of her husband, now a TWA pilot. Now an active member of the TWA Clipped Wings Mrs. Lundstrom lectures and recruits for her alma mater airline. (Staff photo)

Stewardess Alumnae Clubs

They've Been Grounded

by DIANE SARGOL
Staff Writer

Their wings are clipped, the angels fallen and, like their New Zealand namesake, the kiwi, they have been grounded.

"They" are former airline stewardesses who now are members of TWA or United's Clipped Wings, American's Kiwis or Delta's Fallen Angels.

With the reality of the "wild blue yonder" gone, the ex-stewardess can hold its memories in her grasp via a stewardess alumnae club.

THOUGH MOST of these airline alumnae have been grounded by marriage, they generally agree that the stewardess life was an experience they would gladly repeat if those years could be relived.

Mrs. Peter Cappas, 1216 Robbin Lane, Mount Prospect, a new Kiwi member, says she would advise any girl with "itchy feet" to accept the challenge of being a stewardess.

"It's a marvelous experience for any young girl," she declared.

But her flight training was not an asset only in the air. It was during the strike in 1959 that she left the airline. Not working and unable to pay rent and other bills, she said, "I used my flying experience to get into the work I had been trained for in high school and college. . .I went into radio and TV work."

NOW AFTER flight experience, a communications career, three years of marriage, two children and a new home, Mrs. Cappas has joined the Kiwis, a club which she found to be full of fun-loving people.

In a similar fashion, TWA Clipped Wing Mrs. Russell Lundstrom, 1137 E. Kitson Drive, Palatine, explained, "I always wanted to fly." So after 2½ years of college she took it up as a career.

Two years and two months later she left the air to marry a TWA pilot with whom she had never flown. She had been based in San Francisco and he in Chicago. After nine months of seeing each other four times a week, they decided the phone and gas bills were too high and that marriage was the best solution.

MRS. LUNDSTROM is able to keep in contact with the flying world now through her husband's work.

She commented, "If I had it to do over, I'd do it the same way I did it before."

But the life of the stewardess today is quite different from that of these alumnae. Mrs. Cappas pointed out that the jet age is making the job of a stewardess much more difficult than it was in her time. When she flew with American in 1958 and 1959, the stewardess had more time to do her work.

In fact, Mrs. Cappas continued, the stewardess generally had opportunity to meet and talk with each passenger for at least 15 minutes, and there was a 30-hour lay-over between flights.

"Jet travel is just so fantastic," she exclaimed.

WITH THE world preparing itself for the new supersonic jets which will hold several hundred persons and travel between the U.S. and Europe in a couple of hours, the airlines will be unable to afford the necessary 30 to 40 stewardesses plus a crew, Mrs. Cappas calculated. And current comment indicates the eventual elimination of young girls as stewardesses.

"I hope that doesn't happen," said Mrs. T. P. Crigler, a former resident of Addison and member of United Airlines Clipped Wings.

"Flying is a wonderful career for a girl," she maintains.

"When I was going through training the first jet was inaugurated," explained Mrs. Lundstrom, "and the whole airline industry took a turn then and there."

"BUT TIME will never take the place of personality," she continued, emphasizing the need for girls to assume the career of airline stewardesses. "There always has to be someone there for the passengers' satisfaction and to offer the personal touch," she added.

"They (the girls) make the trip," she continued.

Even if there is no meal to be served on a short flight, the conversation which the girls afford is a diversion from the hectic daily life of the businessman-commuter.

As a service to their alma mater airline, all of these clubs do public relations work. The 60 Kiwi chapters assist American Airlines by recruiting potential stewardesses and aiding field workers in question and answer sessions for schools and community organizations.

AND IN the same manner Mrs. Carlyle Larson, the 1965-66 president of the local chapter of the United Airlines Clipped Wings, explained, "We are involved in their recruitment program, particularly in Chicago."

When United receives a request from a school or other group for a lecturer, the Clipped Wing members answer the call.

"We will probably do even more in the future," she continued, for the demands are getting heavier and United hopes to fill all requests.

AS AN ACTIVE member of the TWA Mary Gordon Program, Mrs. Lundstrom joins Mrs. Connie Henkel of Roselle in doing public relations work for the line. The two women are lecturers in the program and will serve in this capacity until December.

Mary Gordon is the woman's travel adviser in Chicago for TWA, and these two women are her Chicago area assistants. They represent the line before clubs and other interested groups in demonstrating the art of suitcase packing, displaying international costume and explaining varied customs.

All of these women plus other stewardess alumnae have joined their clubs in participating in charity work, locally, nationally and internationally.

THE PROCEEDS of the Kiwis' annual fashion show for the past few years have gone to the Park Lawn School for the mentally retarded. The Kiwis have been credited as the largest outside donor to the school in recent years.

In a similar vein the United Clipped Wings Chicago chapter is involved in two of its own projects plus participating with the 26 other chapters in the national project. Famous Garden to Be Feature of Bonsai Show

The D. Hill Nursery will recreate the world-famous Ryoan-ji Garden of Kyoto, Japan, durint the eighth annual Midwest Bonsai Show, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, Aug. 19, 20, and 21, in Dundee.

The Midwest Bonsai exhibit is held each year at the D. Hill Nurseries in Dundee, Routes 31 and 72, and is open each day from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. All plant lovers are invited to attend. Admission is free.

The original Ryoan-ji Stone Garden is considered one of the most unusual in the world. In this garden fine gravel is carefully raked, 15 rocks are arranged in groupings of two, three and five—five groupings in all. This original flat symbolic garden is 75 feet long and 31 feet wide, and was created almost 500 years ago.

IT IS SAID that the Garden of Ryoan-ji comes as close to a work of pure art as can be. It has no functional purpose, other than enjoyment through viewing. The proportions, the balance and the rhythm stand free of distraction.

At approximately 1:30 p.m. each day of the bonsai show, Kaneji Domoto will create one portion of this famous garden, adapted to Western style, using fine gravel, rocks, ground cover, sculptured evergreens, hedges and other plant materials. (SSD

Kiwi's to View Movies of Luau

Movies of a recent summer luau for Kiwi's and their husbands will be shown at the Wednesday, Aug. 17, meeting of the Chicago Kiwi Club. Hostess will be Mrs. Donald Swinarski of Oak Lawn.

First on the agenda will be a discussion of the club's annual spring fashion show to be held at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago.

All former American Airlines stewardesses are welcome to join the Kiwi's in their charitable and social activities.

For Fall Hair Fashions

Curves Make Big News

The Astro Curve will be the new hair fashion for Fall '66 according to five area hairdressers who have recently returned from Houston, site of the national convention of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, Inc.

Meeting in the Shamrock Hotel, the group attended lectures, demonstrations and workshops in which the Astro Curve was featured. Representing Affiliate 47 of the Illinois Hairdressers and Cosmetologists, were Carol Breust, Marlene Frost, and Armand Gentile, all of Arlington Heights, Ruth Montgomery of Mount Prospect and Adeline Pedersen of McHenry.

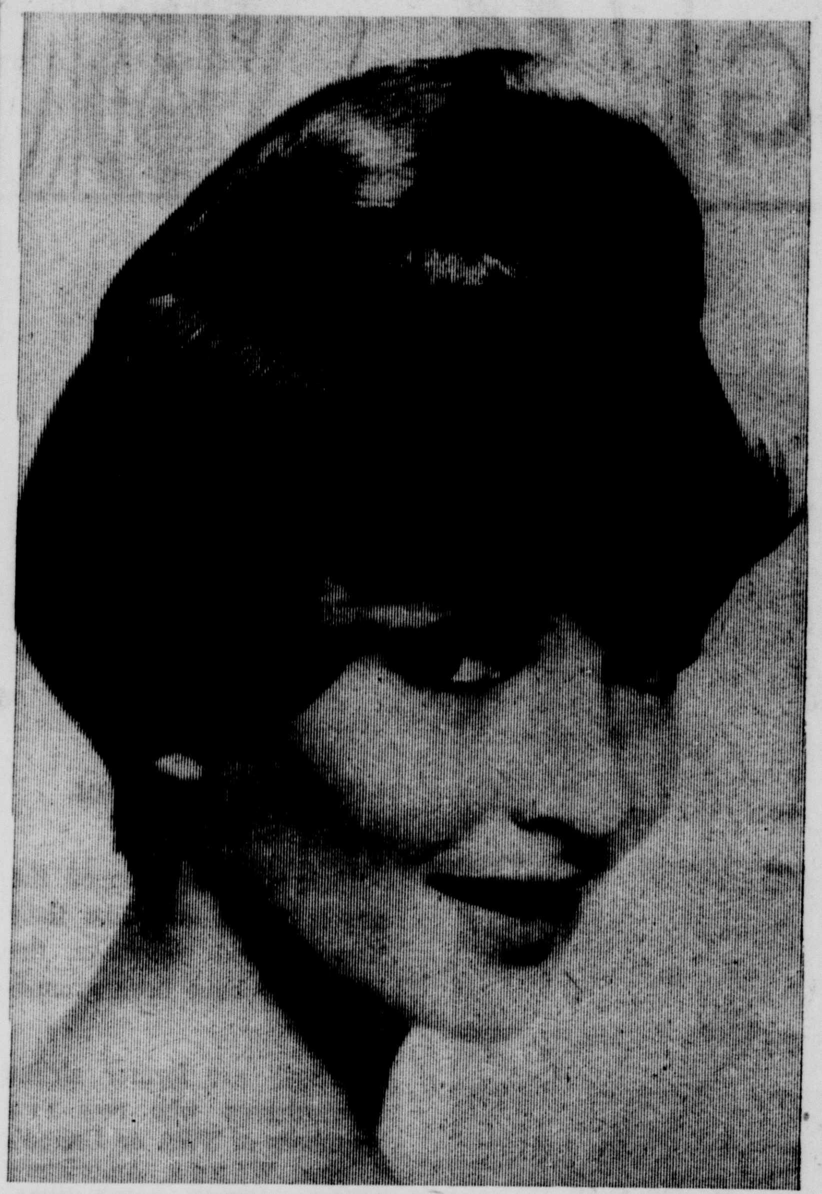
Big curves, little curves, inside curves and outside curves, all kinds of curves are being dressed into the hair to give a flowing movement of line in design as well as to emphasize a soft and curvy silhouette of the head. Curves are also cut into the hair, particularly into the "orbit bangs" and the "comet tails," formerly called guiche curls. Curves are even colored into the hair to give bright curvy accents.

ESSENTIALLY, the new Astro Curve hair fashions feature a small head look and for added excitement, satellite hair pieces are added. The hairdo is fitted closely on one side of the head only; the other side is dressed out and away from the head with most of the volume located above and behind the ear. All of the new coiffures hug the face and the nape of the neck, with longer hair at the volume area. Exact lengths, of course, are dependent upon individual needs, according to the hairdressers.

Hair coloring is also an integral part of the Astro Curve. Two and three colors of hair are used as contrasting highlights in combination with natural shadings. Newest shade for blondes is pink mink and for brunettes it's paprika highlighted with gold as an accent color.

FALL AND winter make-up, too, was featured at the national convention. False eyelashes will continue to be big, both in popularity and size. Flesh tones in eye shadows, lipsticks and nails will tend towards darker shades to add more dash and vigor.

At the first fall meeting of Affiliate 47, to be held Wednesday evening, Sept. 7 in Uncle Andy's Cow Palace, Palatine, the area "conventioneers" will demonstrate to the membership their versions of the Astro Curve, as adapted for suburban women. (SSD



NEW FALL ASTRO CURVE features an easy flow of soft curves brushed closely to the head on the right side and over the forehead as a counterpoint to the flight of curves dressed high and out from the head for volume on the left.

A Modern Miracle

Have you ever wondered why a new product becomes popular in a very short time? Take fabric softeners, for example. Just a few years ago no one had heard of such a thing. Yet today they are among the fastest growing laundry products.

It really is no wonder that fabric softeners are popular when you consider all the things they do. They make fabrics softer, fluffier and easier to iron, minimize wrinkling, eliminate static cling and some even have a mild germicidal action.

Without getting too technical, fabric softeners work because they lubricate the fibers in fabric, allowing them to move more readily against each other. It is this movement that minimizes wrinkling, makes fabrics feel soft to the touch and lends fluffiness to towels. It is especially nice for diapers because it makes them soft for baby's tender skin and makes the diapers easier to pin.

IN THE wintertime, fabric softeners provide an added benefit for wearers of synthetic fabrics. Ever since nylon slips were first put on the market, women have complained about the way their skirts cling when the air is cold and dry. This is caused by static charges that build up in fabrics.

Natural fibers, such as cotton, have an innate moisture that dissipates this static. Synthetics, however, have very little natural moisture, so the static continues to build up, causing clinging slips and an occasional shock when you touch something.

But, when fabric softener is used, the lubricating film prevents the accumulation of static in much the same way natural fibers do.

MOST FABRIC softeners (not to be confused with water conditioners) are not compatible with detergent. In fact, if the two are put in the same tub of water, neither will be effective. For this reason, fabric softeners should be used only in the final rinse of the regular washing cycle.

Because fabric softener attaches itself to fabric, the amount needed for each load depends on the amount of fabric, not the amount of water in the washer.

Fabric softeners may not be a real modern miracle, but when you see what they do for your laundry, you'll think they are. (S

Disease Prevention Should Begin Early

It is almost never too soon to protect your children from such life-threatening diseases as diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, polio, measles and smallpox.

This timely reminder for parents comes from the American Academy of Pediatrics which recommends that immunization against the first four be begun at between two and three months of age.

THE ACADEMY notes that three doses of DTP vaccine, for the first three diseases, as well as oral polio vaccine, should be given simultaneously at four to six-week intervals. A fourth dose and the polio vaccine should be given one year later. Another DTP should be given at three years of age.

Boosters are important to maintain the immunizations. Tetanus - diphtheria boosters should be given at 6 and again at 12, while children about to enter school should receive another dose of oral polio vaccine, the Academy says.

Vaccination against smallpox should be given to toddlers of 15 to 18 months, during a relatively cool season, and should be repeated at 6 and 12.

HAPPILY, children need no longer suffer through a bout of measles, with its possibly serious complications. The Academy recommends that all infants be immunized "by the end of the first year of life." In addition children should be tested for tuberculosis at between 9 and 11 months of age, annually until four, and every two years after four.

Since Americans move so frequently, the Academy recommends keeping a careful record of each child's immunizations.

Girls Need Not Tower Over Peers

Many a young girl's dream of becoming a long-stemmed American beauty has turned into a nightmare when she found herself growing too tall, towering above boys and girls her own age.

Averting this heartbreak is now possible, according to Dr. Robert B. Greenblatt, chairman of the department of endocrinology at the Medical College of Georgia.

Dr. Greenblatt told physicians attending a recent medical symposium on the adolescent growth of 40 young girls who showed unmistakeable signs that they would be unusually tall women unless steps were taken.

FOR AN AVERAGE of about two years the physician treated the girls with various hormones, keeping the youngsters under close observation during that entire period. The therapy hastened the closure of the growing ends of the bones, thus slowing their growth.

Such treatment is best begun, the doctor noted, when girls of only 11 and 12 have already reached a height of 5 feet 5 or more and have one parent who is over 6 feet tall. Bone X-rays will show whether growth will continue or whether it is substantially over. Of course, this treatment may not be suitable for all girls, and may not be effective for some.

Leftover Pork

Wonderful way to serve the last of the pork roast is in Waldorf salad, that time-tested favorite which uses apples, celery, walnuts or pecans.

Add diced cooked pork and enough mayonnaise to moisten.

Hello Hostess

by MARY KAY ROBBINS

You are really "in" these days if you wear pop or op art on your back or on your walls. Whether you take the art seriously or not, it is a perfect foil for madcaps when POP AND OP ART GO TO A PARTY.

Invitations: Be your own pop artist by cutting up colorful advertisements and pasting the pieces montage-fashion on your invitation. Or try a design of op art or pop art. Suggest to costume-shy adults the use of can labels stapled to old skirts, comic pages or ads attached to hats or optical illusions drawn with felt pen on old shirts.

Decorations: Hang some of your originals on a clothes line stretched at one corner of the room (or outdoors, if this is Pop Art in the Park). Try painting a large lone hot dog or a girl's face. Put up signs such as "EAT," using your fanciest lettering. Cover a lamp shade with paper on which you've copied a trade-mark. Let the first comers try their talents and hang an exhibition.

Entertainment: Group your guests into teams of four to eight persons. Give each team a box of similar articles, all of which must be used in a sculpture. Provide an assortment of household and garage articles, such as cereal boxes, soup cans, egg beaters, wooden spoons, pieces of garden hose, coat hangers, etc. The first team to arrange all of its objects in one balanced sculpture is the winner.

Round jig-saw puzzles that have become today's rage will also fit the op art theme. Give each person a white paper plate. Ask him to cut the rim away, then draw with black ink an optical art design. Next, cut the plate into eight or ten pieces. Pass these to the person sitting beside him to put together.

Perhaps your crowd prefers dancing to games. If so, stack the records and transform your room into a discotheque. Pop and op art make a swinging theme for doing the frug.

Refreshments: Cut your place mats from op art patterned fabric. Both adults and teens will vote first place ribbons to Sandwich Originals. They pop their masterpieces together with a variety of cold cuts, cheese, sandwich fillings. Complete the fare with cold drinks or coffee.

R.S.V.P. Does this Pop Art Party sound familiar to you? It may be—if you were a "Hello, Hostess" reader last fall. But some have requested reprints, and there are always new readers who may have missed some columns. That's why we plan, from time to time, to re-run selected columns. So please write us which columns you've especially liked or would like to have repeated. Send your request to "Hello, Hostess," c/o this newspaper.

PARTY LINE: Many of you have written that you clip and save your "Hello, Hostess" columns in a special folder. Why not start your own party file today?

GAME OF THE WEEK: Give guests three minutes to write their versions of "Insecurity is . . ." They might also define Happiness or Love. (SSD

Famous Garden to Be Feature of Bonsai Show

The D. Hill Nursery will recreate the world-famous Ryoan-ji Garden of Kyoto, Japan, durint the eighth annual Midwest Bonsai Show, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, Aug. 19, 20, and 21, in Dundee.

The Midwest Bonsai exhibit is held each year at the D. Hill Nurseries in Dundee, Routes 31 and 72, and is open each day from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. All plant lovers are invited to attend. Admission is free.

The original Ryoan-ji Stone Garden is considered one of the most unusual in the world. In this garden fine gravel is carefully raked, 15 rocks are arranged in groupings of two, three and five—five groupings in all. This original flat symbolic garden is 75 feet long and 31 feet wide, and was created almost 500 years ago.

IT IS SAID that the Garden of Ryoan-ji comes as close to a work of pure art as can be. It has no functional purpose, other than enjoyment through viewing. The proportions, the balance and the rhythm stand free of distraction.

At approximately 1:30 p.m. each day of the bonsai show, Kaneji Domoto will create one portion of this famous garden, adapted to Western style, using fine gravel, rocks, ground cover, sculptured evergreens, hedges and other plant materials. (SSD

Movies of a recent summer luau for Kiwi's and their husbands will be shown at the Wednesday, Aug. 17, meeting of the Chicago Kiwi Club. Hostess will be Mrs. Donald Swinarski of Oak Lawn.

First on the agenda will be a discussion of the club's annual spring fashion show to be held at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago.

All former American Airlines stewardesses are welcome to join the Kiwi's in their charitable and social activities.

For Fall Hair Fashions

Curves Make Big News

The Astro Curve will be the new hair fashion for Fall '66 according to five area hairdressers who have recently returned from Houston, site of the national convention of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, Inc.

Meeting in the Shamrock Hotel, the group attended lectures, demonstrations and workshops in which the Astro Curve was featured. Representing Affiliate 47 of the Illinois Hairdressers and Cosmetologists, were Carol Breust, Marlene Frost, and Armand Gentile, all of Arlington Heights, Ruth Montgomery of Mount Prospect and Adeline Pedersen of McHenry.

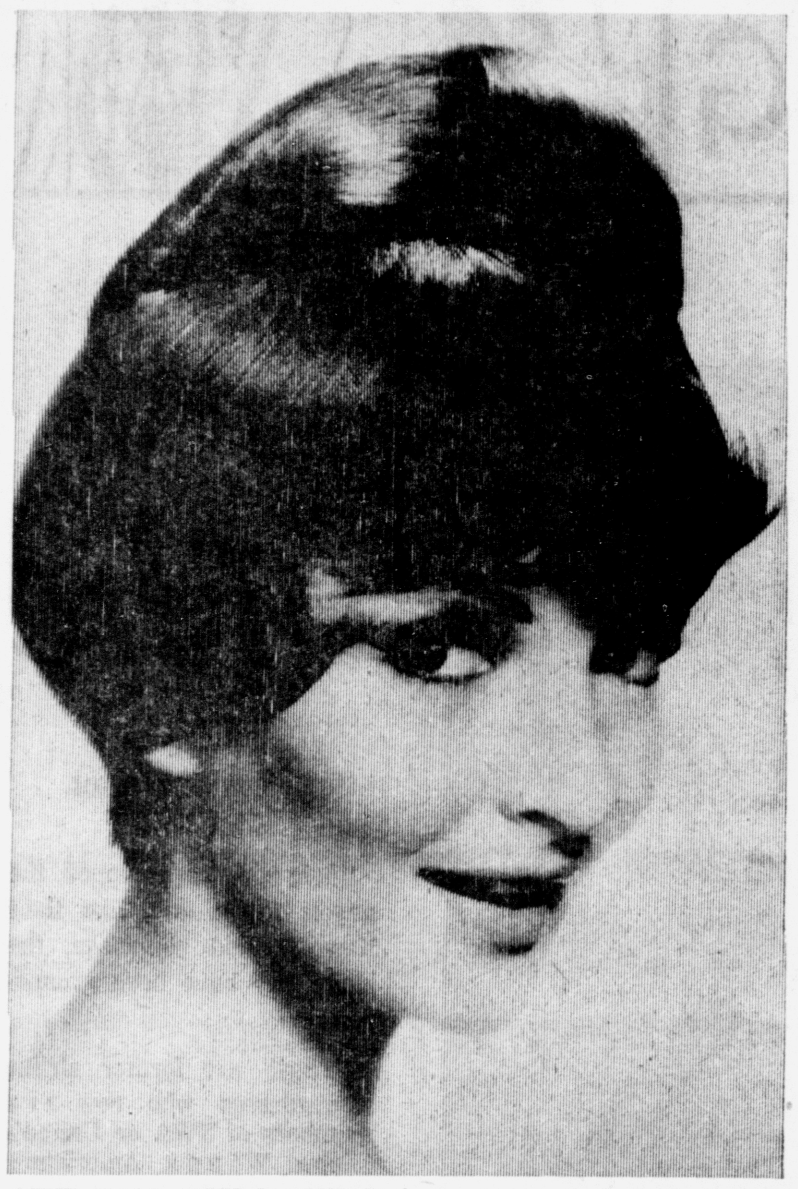
Big curves, little curves, inside curves and outside curves, all kinds of curves are being dressed into the hair to give a flowing movement of line in design as well as to emphasize a soft and curvy silhouette of the head. Curves are also cut into the hair, particularly into the "orbit bangs" and the "comet tails," formerly called guiche curls. Curves are even colored into the hair to give bright curvy accents.

ESSENTIALLY, the new Astro Curve hair fashions feature a small head look and for added excitement, satellite hair pieces are added. The hairdo is fitted closely on one side of the head only; the other side is dressed out and away from the head with most of the volume located above and behind the ear. All of the new coiffures hug the face and the nape of the neck, with longer hair at the volume area. Exact lengths, of course, are dependent upon individual needs, according to the hairdressers.

Hair coloring is also an integral part of the Astro Curve. Two and three colors of hair are used as contrasting highlights in combination with natural shadings. Newest shade for blondes is pink mink and for brunettes it's paprika highlighted with gold as an accent color.

FALL AND winter make-up, too, was featured at the national convention. False eyelashes will continue to be big, both in popularity and size. Flesh tones in eye shadows, lipsticks and nails will tend towards darker shades to add more dash and vigor.

At the first fall meeting of Affiliate 47, to be held Wednesday evening, Sept. 7 in Uncle Andy's Cow Palace, Palatine, the area "conventioneers" will demonstrate to the membership their versions of the Astro Curve, as adapted for suburban women. (SSD



NEW FALL ASTRO CURVE features an easy flow of soft curves brushed closely to the head on the right side and over the forehead as a counterpoint to the flight of curves dressed high and out from the head for volume on the left.

A Modern Miracle

Have you ever wondered why a new product becomes popular in a very short time? Take fabric softeners, for example. Just a few years ago no one had heard of such a thing. Yet today they are among the fastest growing laundry products.

It really is no wonder that fabric softeners are popular when you consider all the things they do. They make fabrics softer, fluffier and easier to iron, minimize wrinkling, eliminate static cling and some even have a mild germicidal action.

Without getting too technical, fabric softeners work because they lubricate the fibers in fabric, allowing them to move more readily against each other. It is this movement that minimizes wrinkling, makes fabrics feel soft to the touch and lends fluffiness to towels. It is especially nice for diapers because it makes them soft for baby's tender skin and makes the diapers easier to pin.

IN THE wintertime, fabric softeners provide an added benefit for wearers of synthetic fabrics. Ever since nylon slips were first put on the market, women have complained about the way their skirts cling when the air is cold and dry. This is caused by static charges that build up in fabrics.

Natural fibers, such as cotton, have an innate moisture that dissipates this static. Synthetics, however, have very little natural moisture, so the static continues to build up, causing clinging slips and an occasional shock when you touch something.

But, when fabric softener is used, the lubricating film prevents the accumulation of static in much the same way natural fibers do.

MOST FABRIC softeners (not to be confused with water conditioners) are not compatible with detergent. In fact, if the two are put in the same tub of water, neither will be effective. For this reason, fabric softeners should be used only in the final rinse of the regular washing cycle.

Because fabric softener attaches itself to fabric, the amount needed for each load depends on the amount of fabric, not the amount of water in the washer.

Fabric softeners may not be a real modern miracle, but when you see what they do for your laundry, you'll think they are. (S

Try These Party Dips

Here are two dip recipes that will really be a hit with your guests.

One recipe is a dieter's dream. It is made with zippy American blue cheese and creamy cottage cheese. The accompanying dunks, also low in calories, could be rye crisp, carrot sticks, celery stalks or raw radishes and cauliflower buds.

The other tasty dip for your guests who are not watching their waistlines is a combination of smooth sour cream, sweet and tart cranberry sauce and tangy American blue cheese. This is an exceptional dip to serve with cooked meat cubes.

DIETER'S DIP

(Makes about two cups)

¾ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 4 ounces)
1½ cups cottage cheese
⅛ teaspoon black pepper
1 tablespoon chopped green onion

Beat cheese together until almost smooth. Add pepper and onion. Mix well. Chill. Serve with rye crisp or raw vegetable sticks.

RED, WHITE AND AMERICAN BLUE

(Makes about two cups)

1 cup sour cream
1 cup jellied cranberry sauce
¼ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 1¼ ounces)

Mix all ingredients well. Serve with cubes of turkey, chicken or ham. (SH

Sandwich Kebabs

Summer's a time when the cooking should be easy; with a little ingenuity, it can be. One for instance: a bite-size sandwich on a stick that endears itself to everyone, indoors or out.

It's so simple, you don't even need a recipe. Start with long skewers — pretty ones, please. Alternately arrange generous cubes of process American cheese slices, squares of sturdy, brown bread, ham cubes, firm cherry tomatoes, mushroom caps, stuffed olives and tangy pickle slices or other favorites.

Cheese cubes are quick to make; just cut a six-ounce, eight-slice package of cheese into thirds, both length, and crosswise. When the gathering's larger, substitute the economical, 12-, 16- or 24-ounce size.

To get a party off to a delicious start present the kebabs on a platter alone or accompanied by other nibblers. And don't fret about leftovers—the refrigerator raiders will take care of them when next they seek a snack. (SH

Lose Pounds with Low Calorie Fruits

With warmer weather almost everyone resolves to eat less, lose pounds, become more attactive. One way to achieve this goal is to eat low calorie canned fruits which can be prepared in so many pleasing, satisfying ways. Serve a low calorie fruit and cheese salad with a refreshing yoghurt dressing laced with strawberry jam. It is suitable for a light lunch on your patio, or to complement your course for dinner.

FRUIT AND CHEESE SALAD WITH YOGHURT DRESSING

1 cup yoghurt
1 tablespoon vinegar or lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons strawberry jam, low calorie
1 cup cottage cheese, large or small curd, creamed
2 teaspoons whipped dressing
1½ tablespoons snipped chives
2 16 oz. cans low calorie fruits for salad
Salad greens

For yoghurt dressing, combine yoghurt, vinegar, ¼ teaspoon salt and strawberry jam. Chill thoroughly. Blend large or small curd cottage cheese with low calorie whipped dressing, chives and remaining ¼ teaspoon salt. Chill in covered container for one hour.

For salad, drain low calorie fruits and arrange on a bed of salad greens on serving platter. Scoop out cottage cheese mixture to form one inch balls and arrange in center area of platter. Serve with yoghurt dressing. Yields 4 servings of only 168 calories each. (If made with regular canned fruits 284 calories per portion, a saving of 116 calories.) (SH

Athletics Do Little Harm

Although there is some risk that children between the ages of 9 and 14 who compete in sports may injure their growing bones in ways that may hamper growth or result in deformity—the dangers have been exaggerated.

In reviewing 1,388 athletic injuries in the Eugene, Ore., area, physicians have found that one out of five of those injured were 14 or under. However, growth disturbances resulting from these injuries were the exception rather than the rule, they found.

BUT ACTIVITIES such as the base-runner's slide in baseball, pitching curve balls and too many innings of pitching do seem hazardous.

Youngsters who are obese, or who are unusually tall, lanky and uncoordinated, with poor muscle development, seem especially prone to injuries that might hamper growth or result in deformity. They should postpone sports activity, the doctors recommend, unless such activities are well supervised.

Ease Cleaning Outdoor Grill

To make the fire bowl of the out-of-doors cooking unit easy to clean, line with heavy duty aluminum foil. Right next to this use a fire base of gravel or other similar material to give the fire a chance "to breathe." This will give the coals a chance to give more heat.

It will take from four to six "barbecues" before this bowl needs to be cleaned and aluminum foil replaced.

Grids on the grill can be kept cleaner if you rub with a piece of suet before placing the meat on the grill. This will prevent sticking. (SH

LAS CRUCES, N. M., is the first home for Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Arnold, June newlyweds. The bride is the former Lana Jeppe, daughter of the Edwin Jeppes of Des Plaines, and the groom is the son of former Arlington Heights residents, Lt. Col. (ret.) and Mrs. Robert Arnold who now reside in Germany. Both young people are graduates of Bradley University and the groom is now working as an aerospace technologist for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at White Sands Test Facility.

TEACHING IN SOUTHERN Illinois this fall will be June newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. August H. Boehm Jr. The bride is the former Nancy DeRocker, daughter of the Frank DeRockers of Coal Valley, and the groom is the son of Palatine residents, the senior August H. Boehms. The young couple are both graduates of Illinois State University at Normal. The new Mrs. Boehm will be teaching physical education at Tonica High in Tonic while the groom will be teaching mathematics and coaching cross country and track at LaSalle-Peru High in LaSalle.

Try These Party Dips

Here are two dip recipes that will really be a hit with your guests.

One recipe is a dieter's dream. It is made with zippy American blue cheese and creamy cottage cheese. The accompanying dunks, also low in calories, could be rye crisp, carrot sticks, celery stalks or raw radishes and cauliflower buds.

The other tasty dip for your guests who are not watching their waistlines is a combination of smooth sour cream, sweet and tart cranberry sauce and tangy American blue cheese. This is an exceptional dip to serve with cooked meat cubes.

DIETER'S DIP

(Makes about two cups)

¾ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 4 ounces)
1½ cups cottage cheese
⅛ teaspoon black pepper
1 tablespoon chopped green onion

Beat cheese together until almost smooth. Add pepper and onion. Mix well. Chill. Serve with rye crisp or raw vegetable sticks.

RED, WHITE AND AMERICAN BLUE

(Makes about two cups)

1 cup sour cream
1 cup jellied cranberry sauce
¼ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 1¼ ounces)

Mix all ingredients well. Serve with cubes of turkey, chicken or ham. (SH

Lose Pounds with Low Calorie Fruits

With warmer weather almost everyone resolves to eat less, lose pounds, become more attactive. One way to achieve this goal is to eat low calorie canned fruits which can be prepared in so many pleasing, satisfying ways. Serve a low calorie fruit and cheese salad with a refreshing yoghurt dressing laced with strawberry jam. It is suitable for a light lunch on your patio, or to complement your course for dinner.

FRUIT AND CHEESE SALAD WITH YOGHURT DRESSING

1 cup yoghurt
1 tablespoon vinegar or lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons strawberry jam, low calorie
1 cup cottage cheese, large or small curd, creamed
2 teaspoons whipped dressing
1½ tablespoons snipped chives
2 16 oz. cans low calorie fruits for salad
Salad greens

For yoghurt dressing, combine yoghurt, vinegar, ¼ teaspoon salt and strawberry jam. Chill thoroughly. Blend large or small curd cottage cheese with low calorie whipped dressing, chives and remaining ¼ teaspoon salt. Chill in covered container for one hour.

For salad, drain low calorie fruits and arrange on a bed of salad greens on serving platter. Scoop out cottage cheese mixture to form one inch balls and arrange in center area of platter. Serve with yoghurt dressing. Yields 4 servings of only 168 calories each. (If made with regular canned fruits 284 calories per portion, a saving of 116 calories.) (SH

Ease Cleaning Outdoor Grill

To make the fire bowl of the out-of-doors cooking unit easy to clean, line with heavy duty aluminum foil. Right next to this use a fire base of gravel or other similar material to give the fire a chance "to breathe." This will give the coals a chance to give more heat.

It will take from four to six "barbecues" before this bowl needs to be cleaned and aluminum foil replaced.

Grids on the grill can be kept cleaner if you rub with a piece of suet before placing the meat on the grill. This will prevent sticking. (SH

Sandwich Kebabs

Summer's a time when the cooking should be easy; with a little ingenuity, it can be. One for instance: a bite-size sandwich on a stick that endears itself to everyone, indoors or out.

It's so simple, you don't even need a recipe. Start with long skewers — pretty ones, please. Alternately arrange generous cubes of process American cheese slices, squares of sturdy, brown bread, ham cubes, firm cherry tomatoes, mushroom caps, stuffed olives and tangy pickle slices or other favorites.

Cheese cubes are quick to make; just cut a six-ounce, eight-slice package of cheese into thirds, both length, and crosswise. When the gathering's larger, substitute the economical, 12-, 16- or 24-ounce size.

To get a party off to a delicious start present the kebabs on a platter alone or accompanied by other nibblers. And don't fret about leftovers—the refrigerator raiders will take care of them when next they seek a snack. (SH

Although there is some risk that children between the ages of 9 and 14 who compete in sports may injure their growing bones in ways that may hamper growth or result in deformity—the dangers have been exaggerated.

In reviewing 1,388 athletic injuries in the Eugene, Ore., area, physicians have found that one out of five of those injured were 14 or under. However, growth disturbances resulting from these injuries were the exception rather than the rule, they found.

BUT ACTIVITIES such as the base-runner's slide in baseball, pitching curve balls and too many innings of pitching do seem hazardous.

Youngsters who are obese, or who are unusually tall, lanky and uncoordinated, with poor muscle development, seem especially prone to injuries that might hamper growth or result in deformity. They should postpone sports activity, the doctors recommend, unless such activities are well supervised.

LAS CRUCES, N. M., is the first home for Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Arnold, June newlyweds. The bride is the former Lana Jeppe, daughter of the Edwin Jeppes of Des Plaines, and the groom is the son of former Arlington Heights residents, Lt. Col. (ret.) and Mrs. Robert Arnold who now reside in Germany. Both young people are graduates of Bradley University and the groom is now working as an aerospace technologist for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at White Sands Test Facility.

Dads Useful At Delivery, Says Doctor

The presence of her husband in the delivery room may not give some women important psychological support; it may benefit the child as well.

Dr. Edgar L. Engel, obstetrician of Evansville, Ind., told a recent medical meeting that women require less analgesia and anesthetic when their husbands are in the delivery room with them, and therefore fewer drugged babies are born.

Before fathers are permitted in the delivery room, however, Dr. Engel noted, the following circumstances must be established:

THE FATHER must want to be in attendance and the mother must really want him to be there.

The attending physician must have the final word on whether the father may attend the birth —since only he can determine whether or not a delivery is likely to be uncomplicated.

The father must agree to leave the delivery room at once if requested by the doctor.

Dr. Engel is chief of obstetrics and gynecology at St. Mary's Hospital in Evansville, Ind.

Palatine Church Is Scene Of Price-Sproul Nuptials

The Presbyterian Church of Palatine was the setting for the July 2 afternoon wedding of a local couple, Miss Lynne Price and Dean H. Sproul. The bride's parents are the Thomas E. Prices of 1344 E. Chicago Ave., and the groom is the son of the M. R. Sprouls of 1860 Durham Drive, Inverness.

A yellow and white color scheme accented the sanctuary as the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white silk organza over taffeta dress, styled with a scooped neckline, short sleeves adorned with re-embroidered Alencon lace and with the same lace trimming the empire bodice and front of the bell skirt. A train was attached at the back waistline with a flat bow.

THE BRIDE wore a headpiece of organza flowers with an elbow-length illusion veil attached and carried a bouquet of stephanotis and ivy.

Her three attendants wore the yellow of the color scheme, their floor-length dresses fashioned of yellow crepe in an empire-styled bodice with boat neckline. They wore a yellow ribbon bow in their hair and carried white daisies, pompons and ivy.

Maid of honor was Shirley Ritschard of Monroe, Wis., and the two bridesmaids were Mrs. Sandy Ahlburn of Unionville, Ohio, and Miss Ruth Jordan of Wheaton.

ESCORTING them at the ceremony were William Lukes of Berwyn, who served the groom as best man, and Thomas Price, brother of the bride, and Thomas Timmens of Chicago, who seated the guests.

The Rev. John Talbot united the couple in double ring rites at 4 o'clock and later 100 guests were greeted by the newlyweds at a reception at Arlington Carousel Restaurant.

IN THE RECEIVING line, Mrs. Price wore a celery colored silk 2-piece dress with a beaded neckline, and Mrs. Sproul wore a blue silk 2-piece ensemble. Each mother wore a stephanotis corsage at her shoulder.

The bridal pair are living in a new home in Forest Park, and the bride will teach first grade in the Oak Park school district and the groom will enter his second year at Loyola Dental School.

Both are Palatine High School graduates. The bride then earned her degree at Elmhurst College and for the past two years has been teaching at Central Road School in Rolling Meadows. The groom attended Lincoln College and Elmhurst College before starting dental school.

Gardeners Decorate Box Lunches for Nature Hike

Palanois Park Garden Club planned a decorated box luncheon and a guided nature hike for its meeting today (Thursday).

The members will meet at the home of Mrs. Hugh Hamilton, 15 S. Linden Ave., at 11 a.m., and will go in cars to a picnic area in Deer Grove for lunch. The decorated lunch boxes will be judged by Mrs. Thomas Bouffard and her committee, and prizes will include awards for the prettiest and funniest.

At 1 p.m. the group will proceed to Camp Reinberg, located in the forest preserve area, for a guided tour of the camp and a nature hike through the surrounding woods.

"Camp Reinberg is a unique camp, dedicated to serving the Chicago-area welfare agencies who cannot afford to operate their own camps for needy children and offers these young people a world of outdoors throughout the four seasons," commented Mrs. Harold Payne, president of the garden club.

Recommends Mandatory Pap Smear

Noting that cancer of the uterine cervix is usually curable—when detected and treated early enough--Dr. Leopold G. Koss, attending pathologist at the Memorial Hospital for Cancer and Allied Diseases in New York, recently proposed that a Papanicolaou test for the disease be made mandatory.

The American Cancer Society points out that cancer of the uterus is potentially one of the most curable forms of the disease. Despite this more than 14,000 women will die of uterine cancer this year. Why? For the most part because it is not detected early enough.

Dr. Koss proposed that all women from the age of 20 on who had borne one or more children have the Pap test once a year. Short of this, he urged that all women be tested during their prenatal visits to private physicians or clinics.

Note to women: Don't wait for legislation. Arrange to have a Pap smear at least once a year. (S

New Range Adds Space To Kitchen

Does your kitchen have an old-model range and too-few kitchen cabinets?

You can solve both problems at once by replacing the old stove with either of two new electric ranges.

In the built-in surface element range, cooking units are dropped into a countertop and a wall oven is placed above it on an adjoining wall or elsewhere in the kitchen.

FOR GREATER cooking capacity, a built-in rotisserie-grill can be added to the countertop, and double wall ovens can be used.

An eye-level oven range offers similar conveniences. In this model, the range sits on a cabinet base or hangs from a wall. Single or double ovens are attached at eye-level.

LIKE OTHER model electric ranges, these units are available with a number of automatic features. These include: push-button or dial temperature controls, thermostatically controlled surface elements that maintain the right cooking temperature without readjustment, and low-temperature oven controls that turn heat down when food is cooked—to hold it at serving temperature for several hours. Age Doesn't Cool Desire For a Home

Senior citizens are a growing influence on the housing market.

Last year, the country's 1.25 million people over 65 had an estimated annual income of more than $25 billion, and much of this went for new homes, remodeling and general housing expenses.

BUILDERS point out that senior citizens receive special consideration for comfort and safety. Older homeowners generally want a compact house with all the rooms on one floor, and with whatever built-in conveniences they can afford.

Exterior maintenance is equally important. A siding that doesn't need painting is a great time and labor saver for a man who no longer finds it easy to do his own repairs.

Heavyweight asphalt shingle roofs, which require little or no maintenance, protect against the weather and are fire-resistant, are the kind of materials they look for in a home.

FOR SAFETY'S sake, many also look for hand-bars in the bathroom, non-skid floor coverings, elimination of door thresholds and a level yard without steps or slopes.

House-hunting among senior citizens is generally in the $11,000 bracket. Since many have owned homes before, they have definite ideas about what their new homes should offer. (S

Ironing Tip

July 23 Ceremony Unites Jane Ott, Pat McDonnell

A week's honeymoon in Bermuda followed the July 23 wedding of the former Jane Blanche Ott, 201 Kennedy Pkwy., Elk Grove Village, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron D. Ott of Beaver, Pa., and Pat Hoy McDonnell of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence P. McDonnell of Minneapolis. Rev. J. Ward Morrison officiated at the noon ceremony in Queen of the Rosary Church in Elk Grove Village.

For her wedding the bride chose an ivory crepe sheath gown with an empire cut. The waist, deep hemline and bell sleeves were adorned with re-embroidered Alencon lace and the back of the dress was accented with a detachable cathedral train. The bride's bouffant silk illusion veil was caught by a pearled crown, and she carried a crescent hand-tied bouquet of off-white cymbidiums and stephanotis with ivy vines.

MATRON OF honor Marilyn Hoffman, the bride's sister from Omaha, wore a mint green crepe gown fashioned after the bride's wedding dress. She carried a single glamellia and glad with a floret tent in a soft shade of blue. Dressed like the matron of honor was Lois Pritchard of Los Angeles, the bridesmaid.

Serving as best man was the groom's cousin, Paul Q. Walters of Chicago. Ushers were Charles DeMars of Chicago, David C. Moran of Omaha, E. William Rapp Jr. of Elk Grove Village and another of the groom's cousins, P. Kevin Hoy of Chicago.

IMMEDIATELY following the ceremony the newlyweds greeted 170 guests at the Maitre d' Restaurant in Elk Grove Village.

The residence of the new Mr. and Mrs. McDonnell is 1360 N. Sandburg Terrace in Chicago.

The bride, who attended Bloomsburg State College in Pennsylvania, is employed by United Air Lines. Her husband attended St. Thomas College in Minnesota and is now with Continental Casualty Co. (S

AAUW Summer Benefits Help Fellowships Fund

A veriety of social events are taking place this summer as fund-raising projects for the Northwest Suburban Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Luncheons, bridge parties, swimming parties and coffees are being hosted by members in the area who invite all branch members interested in the individual type of party.

SPONSORED BY the fellowships committee of the branch, these parties benefit a fund to aid an American woman graduate student. Goal of the fund is $500. Membership dues and proceeds from the branch bridge group also help the fund.

An afternoon coffee party is the next event scheduled, Mrs. R. G. Ulrich of Mount Prospect to serve as hostess on Aug. 16. On Aug. 25 Mrs. W. C. Childs and Mrs. A. A. Amling will co-hostess a luncheon in Mrs. Childs' home in Park Ridge.

Members interested in attending either of the August affairs may call Fellowships Chairman Mrs. E. M. Roschke at 824-2615.

Sliding Doors From Hardboard

Sliding doors can be made quickly and inexpensively by cutting to size prefinished Marlite paneling, which does not require painting or refinishing. This one-quarter inch plastic-finished hardboard paneling will not shrink or expand, resists hard wear, and is easy to cut and fit.

Available at local lumber dealers in modern colors and high-fidelity woodgrains, as well as an eye-catching gold lace pattern, Marlite can be used to harmonize or contrast with the dominant color theme. (S

Dads Useful At Delivery, Says Doctor

The presence of her husband in the delivery room may not give some women important psychological support; it may benefit the child as well.

Dr. Edgar L. Engel, obstetrician of Evansville, Ind., told a recent medical meeting that women require less analgesia and anesthetic when their husbands are in the delivery room with them, and therefore fewer drugged babies are born.

Before fathers are permitted in the delivery room, however, Dr. Engel noted, the following circumstances must be established:

THE FATHER must want to be in attendance and the mother must really want him to be there.

The attending physician must have the final word on whether the father may attend the birth—since only he can determine whether or not a delivery is likely to be uncomplicated.

The father must agree to leave the delivery room at once if requested by the doctor.

Dr. Engel is chief of obstetrics and gynecology at St. Mary's Hospital in Evansville, Ind.

Palatine Church Is Scene Of Price-Sproul Nuptials

The Presbyterian Church of Palatine was the setting for the July 2 afternoon wedding of a local couple, Miss Lynne Price and Dean H. Sproul. The bride's parents are the Thomas E. Prices of 1344 E. Chicago Ave., and the groom is the son of the M. R. Sprouls of 1860 Durham Drive, Inverness.

A yellow and white color scheme accented the sanctuary as the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white silk organza over taffeta dress, styled with a scooped neckline, short sleeves adorned with re-embroidered Alencon lace and with the same lace trimming the empire bodice and front of the bell skirt. A train was attached at the back waistline with a flat bow.

THE BRIDE wore a headpiece of organza flowers with an elbow-length illusion veil attached and carried a bouquet of stephanotis and ivy.

Her three attendants wore the yellow of the color scheme, their floor-length dresses fashioned of yellow crepe in an empire-styled bodice with boat neckline. They wore a yellow ribbon bow in their hair and carried white daisies, pompons and ivy.

Maid of honor was Shirley Ritschard of Monroe, Wis., and the two bridesmaids were Mrs. Sandy Ahlburn of Unionville, Ohio, and Miss Ruth Jordan of Wheaton.

ESCORTING them at the ceremony were William Lukes of Berwyn, who served the groom as best man, and Thomas Price, brother of the bride, and Thomas Timmens of Chicago, who seated the guests.

The Rev. John Talbot united the couple in double ring rites at 4 o'clock and later 100 guests were greeted by the newlyweds at a reception at Arlington Carousel Restaurant.

IN THE RECEIVING line, Mrs. Price wore a celery colored silk 2-piece dress with a beaded neckline, and Mrs. Sproul wore a blue silk 2-piece ensemble. Each mother wore a stephanotis corsage at her shoulder.

The bridal pair are living in a new home in Forest Park, and the bride will teach first grade in the Oak Park school district and the groom will enter his second year at Loyola Dental School.

Both are Palatine High School graduates. The bride then earned her degree at Elmhurst College and for the past two years has been teaching at Central Road School in Rolling Meadows. The groom attended Lincoln College and Elmhurst College before starting dental school. (Jenart(S

Palanois Park Garden Club planned a decorated box luncheon and a guided nature hike for its meeting today (Thursday).

The members will meet at the home of Mrs. Hugh Hamilton, 15 S. Linden Ave., at 11 a.m., and will go in cars to a picnic area in Deer Grove for lunch. The decorated lunch boxes will be judged by Mrs. Thomas Bouffard and her committee, and prizes will include awards for the prettiest and funniest.

At 1 p.m. the group will proceed to Camp Reinberg, located in the forest preserve area, for a guided tour of the camp and a nature hike through the surrounding woods.

"Camp Reinberg is a unique camp, dedicated to serving the Chicago-area welfare agencies who cannot afford to operate their own camps for needy children and offers these young people a world of outdoors throughout the four seasons," commented Mrs. Harold Payne, president of the garden club.

Recommends Mandatory Pap Smear

Noting that cancer of the uterine cervix is usually curable—when detected and treated early enough—Dr. Leopold G. Koss, attending pathologist at the Memorial Hospital for Cancer and Allied Diseases in New York, recently proposed that a Papanicolaou test for the disease be made mandatory.

The American Cancer Society points out that cancer of the uterus is potentially one of the most curable forms of the disease. Despite this more than 14,000 women will die of uterine cancer this year. Why? For the most part because it is not detected early enough.

Dr. Koss proposed that all women from the age of 20 on who had borne one or more children have the Pap test once a year. Short of this, he urged that all women be tested during their prenatal visits to private physicians or clinics.

Note to women: Don't wait for legislation. Arrange to have a Pap smear at least once a year. (S

New Range Adds Space To Kitchen

Does your kitchen have an old-model range and too-few kitchen cabinets?

You can solve both problems at once by replacing the old stove with either of two new electric ranges.

In the built-in surface element range, cooking units are dropped into a countertop and a wall oven is placed above it on an adjoining wall or elsewhere in the kitchen.

FOR GREATER cooking capacity, a built-in rotisserie-grill can be added to the countertop, and double wall ovens can be used.

An eye-level oven range offers similar conveniences. In this model, the range sits on a cabinet base or hangs from a wall. Single or double ovens are attached at eye-level.

LIKE OTHER model electric ranges, these units are available with a number of automatic features. These include: push-button or dial temperature controls, thermostatically controlled surface elements that maintain the right cooking temperature without readjustment, and low-temperature oven controls that turn heat down when food is cooked—to hold it at serving temperature for several hours. Pasties Make Nutritious Meal-in-One Dish

Unusual Cake Uses Ground Peanuts

by Lois Seiler

There have been Cornish, Welsh and Finnish versions of Pasties, the hearty meat-filled pastries which miners often took to work with them because they were filling, nourishing and delicious.

Mrs. Richard J. Henning of Wheeling, who grew up in Iron River, Mich., when mining was still an important industry, well remembered the Cornish Pasties that were popular in the northern Michigan area. She devised an Americanized version of this recipe which has become a family favorite.

"The Cornish pasties were often made from leftover meats such as roast beef or lamb," Mrs. Henning explained. "I use ground beef in mine," she potatoes, carrots, onion and rutabaga."

She does not make a gravy base, but instead adds a little water to her meat-vegetable mixture and bakes it in a tightly-sealed crust.

"I don't even prick the crust." Mrs. Henning explained, "and thus all the natural meat and vegetable juices are retained within the pasties."

Therefore, these pasties are moist, but not runny and extremely flavorful.

Alice Henning also prefers using a pie dough that is not too rich, and the pasties themselves are an economical meal-in-one that need only a salad as an accompaniment. Alice suggests tossed greens or a lettuce and tomato salad, and for dessert something light such as Jello.

Although pasties are especially appealing in cool weather, they are nice for an occasional summertime meal too, as there are no pots and pans to clean up after the dinner.

Another of this good cook's specialties is an unusual and delicious Salted Peanut Cake. Basically a yellow cake made with sour milk, the batter contains ¼ cup ground Spanish peanuts. Baked in an oblong pan, Mrs. Henning frosts it with a Seven Minute Icing and sprinkles additional ground peanuts over the top.

"This recipe makes a very tasty cake that has a moist texture and an appealing peanut flavor," Mrs. Henning commented.

She likes to serve it as an afternoon or evening dessert, and it is ideal for taking to pot luck suppers.

Both the pasties and the salted peanut cake are enjoyed by the Hennings' four children: Gail, 15, who is a junior at Wheeling High School; Robert, 14, a freshman; Richard, 11, a sixth grader at Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr. High, and Rosemary, 4.

The Henning family lives at 98 Manchester in Wheeling. Mrs. Henning is a member of the Ladies Missionary Society at the Forest River Evangelical Free Church.

AMERICAN VERSION OF CORNISH PASTIES

Pastry:

- 3 cups flour
- 6 rounded tablespoons vegetable shortening
- ½ cup cold water
- 1 teaspoon salt

Blend shortening into flour and salt with knives or a pastry blender. Add water gradually and lightly shape dough into a ball.

Roll out dough into four individual rounds. Fill with the following meat and vegetable mixture:

- 4 medium-size potatoes, sliced thin
- 3 large carrots, sliced
- 1 large onion, minced
- 1 pound ground chuck
- ¼ small rutabaga, sliced thin
- Salt and pepper to taste
- ½ cup water

Combine all ingredients in a large bowl and mix well.

Place one-fourth of the meat and vegetable mixture on half of each pastry round. Fold the other half of the dough across the mixture and pinch the edges together. Do not prick the crust.

Bake at 350 degrees approximately 50 minutes. Makes four servings.

SALTED PEANUT CAKE

- ½ cup margarine
- 1 cup granulated sugar (or ½ cup granulated and ½ cup brown sugar)
- 2 egg yolks
- 1½ cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 cup sour milk (1 cup milk soured with 1 tbls. vinegar)
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ½ cup Spanish salted peanuts with skins, ground

Cream shortening and sugar together thoroughly. Add egg yolks and beat well.

Sift flour and soda together and add to batter. Blend in sour milk and vanilla and beat for four minutes at medium speed. Add ¼ cup of the ground nuts to batter.

Turn into a greased and floured 8 by 12-inch cake tin. Bake for 30 minutes at 350 degrees. Frost with the following:

SEVEN MINUTE ICING

- 1 egg white
- ¾ cup granulated sugar
- Pinch of salt
- 1/8 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine the egg white, sugar, salt and cream of tartar in the top of a double boiler. Beat over boiling water approximately seven minutes or until frosting holds soft peaks. Remove the inside of the double boiler from heat and blend in vanilla. Frost cake and sprinkle remaining peanuts on top of the icing.

Slow Heat Best For Meat Taste

Roasts and steaks are much better tasting if they're cooked by slow, rather than fast, heat penetration.

Fast cooking will often char the outside of the meat while the inside remains underdone. Then, if you should want to cook the roast or steak to the proper degree of doneness, the outside will be too overcooked for palatibility. (SH

Spices Booklet Now Available

"A Glossary of Spices" is the title of a new booklet just published by the American Spice Trade Association. The 24-page text includes descriptive sections on all spices, herbs and seasoning products which are nationally marketed today.

It is illustrated attractively with antique botannical drawings, and there is a world map inside the covers, showing the sources of spices.

Copies are available from the American Spice Trade Association, 76 Beaver St., New York, N. Y. 10005, at 25 cents a copy, covering postage and handling. Orders must be accompanied by payment. (SH

Week's Best Food Buys

There are limited market opportunities as the supply lag persists. The hog supply is at the seasonal low point with wholesale costs erratic. Beef continues in fair volume with forecasts of more sales.

Forequarter beef is featured often with blade cut chuck roasts ranging from 39 to 45 cents a pound as retailers review low profit margins. Chuck steaks start at 49 cents a pound. Boneless rump roasts are low at 89 cents, mostly 99. Round steak still quotes at the 79-cent popular promotional level while sirloins are priced at 89 and porterhouse is lowest at $1.09 to $1.19.

FRYERS dip in cost another one to two cents. Retails firm in expectation of first government purchases pending. More stores maintain a general fryer price of 43 cents a pound for cut-up birds. Consumer weight turkeys range from 39 to 49 cents a pound.

Produce markets are unusually firm for the season. Some local produce has dropped in cost.

Chicago area food values: Poultry: whole fryers, smaller turkeys. Meats: blade cut chuck roasts, chuck steaks, ground beef, rolled rump roasts, round and sirloin steak. Produce: sweetcorn, green beans, cucumbers, onions, potatoes; plums, cantaloup, peaches and pears.

Marinate Beef Kabobs

Sirloin steak or sirloin roast or tip steak, cut into one and one-half inch size pieces for kabobs, responds to marinating for interesting flavor.

A good marinade for this purpose uses ½ cup salad oil mixed with 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ¼ cup chopped onion, ½ teaspoon garlic salt, ½ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper.

Allow the cubes of beef to marinate in this several hours or overnight. After threading on a skewer, grilling time will be from 15 to 20 minutes, depending upon the degree of doneness desired. (SH

Pasties Make Nutritious Meal-in-One Dish

AMERICAN VERSION OF CORNISH PASTIES

Pastry:

- 3 cups flour
- 6 rounded tablespoons vegetable shortening
- ½ cup cold water
- 1 teaspoon salt

Blend shortening into flour and salt with knives or a pastry blender. Add water gradually and lightly shape dough into a ball.

Roll out dough into four individual rounds. Fill with the following meat and vegetable mixture:

- 4 medium-size potatoes, sliced thin
- 3 large carrots, sliced
- 1 large onion, minced
- 1 pound ground chuck
- ¼ small rutabaga, sliced thin
- Salt and pepper to taste
- ½ cup water

Combine all ingredients in a large bowl and mix well.

Place one-fourth of the meat and vegetable mixture on half of each pastry round. Fold the other half of the dough across the mixture and pinch the edges together. Do not prick the crust.

Bake at 350 degrees approximately 50 minutes. Makes four servings.

SALTED PEANUT CAKE

- ½ cup margarine
- 1 cup granulated sugar (or ½ cup granulated and ½ cup brown sugar)
- 2 egg yolks
- 1½ cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 cup sour milk (1 cup milk soured with 1 tbls. vinegar)
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ½ cup Spanish salted peanuts with skins, ground

Cream shortening and sugar together thoroughly. Add egg yolks and beat well.

Sift flour and soda together and add to batter. Blend in sour milk and vanilla and beat for four minutes at medium speed. Add ¼ cup of the ground nuts to batter.

Turn into a greased and floured 8 by 12-inch cake tin. Bake for 30 minutes at 350 degrees. Frost with the following:

SEVEN MINUTE ICING

- 1 egg white
- ¾ cup granulated sugar
- Pinch of salt
- 1/8 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine the egg white, sugar, salt and cream of tartar in the top of a double boiler. Beat over boiling water approximately seven minutes or until frosting holds soft peaks. Remove the inside of the double boiler from heat and blend in vanilla. Frost cake and sprinkle remaining peanuts on top of the icing.

Week's Best Food Buys

There are limited market opportunities as the supply lag persists. The hog supply is at the seasonal low point with wholesale costs erratic. Beef continues in fair volume with forecasts of more sales.

Forequarter beef is featured often with blade cut chuck roasts ranging from 39 to 45 cents a pound as retailers review low profit margins. Chuck steaks start at 49 cents a pound. Boneless rump roasts are low at 89 cents, mostly 99. Round steak still quotes at the 79-cent popular promotional level while sirloins are priced at 89 and porterhouse is lowest at $1.09 to $1.19.

FRYERS dip in cost another one to two cents. Retails firm in expectation of first government purchases pending. More stores maintain a general fryer price of 43 cents a pound for cut-up birds. Consumer weight turkeys range from 39 to 49 cents a pound.

Produce markets are unusually firm for the season. Some local produce has dropped in cost.

Chicago area food values: Poultry: whole fryers, smaller turkeys. Meats: blade cut chuck roasts, chuck steaks, ground beef, rolled rump roasts, round and sirloin steak. Produce: sweetcorn, green beans, cucumbers, onions, potatoes; plums, cantaloup, peaches and pears.

Marinate Beef Kabobs

Sirloin steak or sirloin roast or tip steak, cut into one and one-half inch size pieces for kabobs, responds to marinating for interesting flavor.

A good marinade for this purpose uses ½ cup salad oil mixed with 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ¼ cup chopped onion, ½ teaspoon garlic salt, ½ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper.

Allow the cubes of beef to marinate in this several hours or overnight. After threading on a skewer, grilling time will be from 15 to 20 minutes, depending upon the degree of doneness desired. (SH

Unusual Cake Uses Ground Peanuts

by Lois Seiler

There have been Cornish, Welsh and Finnish versions of Pasties, the hearty meat-filled pastries which miners often took to work with them because they were filling, nourishing and delicious.

Mrs. Richard J. Henning of Wheeling, who grew up in Iron River, Mich., when mining was still an important industry, well remembered the Cornish Pasties that were popular in the northern Michigan area. She devised an Americanized version of this recipe which has become a family favorite.

"The Cornish pasties were often made from leftover meats such as roast beef or lamb," Mrs. Henning explained. "I use ground beef in mine," she potatoes, carrots, onion and rutabaga."

She does not make a gravy base, but instead adds a little water to her meat-vegetable mixture and bakes it in a tightly-sealed crust.

"I don't even prick the crust." Mrs. Henning explained, "and thus all the natural meat and vegetable juices are retained within the pasties."

Therefore, these pasties are moist, but not runny and extremely flavorful.

Alice Henning also prefers using a pie dough that is not too rich, and the pasties themselves are an economical meal-in-one that need only a salad as an accompaniment. Alice suggests tossed greens or a lettuce and tomato salad, and for dessert something light such as Jello.

Although pasties are especially appealing in cool weather, they are nice for an occasional summertime meal too, as there are no pots and pans to clean up after the dinner.

Another of this good cook's specialties is an unusual and delicious Salted Peanut Cake. Basically a yellow cake made with sour milk, the batter contains ¼ cup ground Spanish peanuts. Baked in an oblong pan, Mrs. Henning frosts it with a Seven Minute Icing and sprinkles additional ground peanuts over the top.

"This recipe makes a very tasty cake that has a moist texture and an appealing peanut flavor," Mrs. Henning commented.

She likes to serve it as an afternoon or evening dessert, and it is ideal for taking to pot luck suppers.

Both the pasties and the salted peanut cake are enjoyed by the Hennings' four children: Gail, 15, who is a junior at Wheeling High School; Robert, 14, a freshman; Richard, 11, a sixth grader at Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr. High, and Rosemary, 4.

The Henning family lives at 98 Manchester in Wheeling. Mrs. Henning is a member of the Ladies Missionary Society at the Forest River Evangelical Free Church.

Slow Heat Best For Meat Taste

Roasts and steaks are much better tasting if they're cooked by slow, rather than fast, heat penetration.

Fast cooking will often char the outside of the meat while the inside remains underdone. Then, if you should want to cook the roast or steak to the proper degree of doneness, the outside will be too overcooked for palatibility. (SH

Spices Booklet Now Available

"A Glossary of Spices" is the title of a new booklet just published by the American Spice Trade Association. The 24-page text includes descriptive sections on all spices, herbs and seasoning products which are nationally marketed today.

It is illustrated attractively with antique botannical drawings, and there is a world map inside the covers, showing the sources of spices.

Copies are available from the American Spice Trade Association, 76 Beaver St., New York, N. Y. 10005, at 25 cents a copy, covering postage and handling. Orders must be accompanied by payment. (SH

New Role for Bensenville Homemaker

She's Nursemaid to 12 Pups

PROUD AND PROTECTIVE mother is Lady, German shepherd dog belonging to Mrs. Jack Saracino and her family of 17W311 Deerpath, Bensenville. Lady recently gave birth to 14 puppies, a larger litter than is usual for her breed. Of the original litter, 12 pups still are living and getting loving care from both the mother dog and the Saracino family. (Staff photo) (SSD

Mrs. Jack Saracino, 17W311 Deerpath, Bensenvile, has played nursemaid to several litters of kittens, but this is her first experience with puppies, and she's going in for it in a big way.

The Saracinos' pet German Shepherd, Lady, recently gave birth to 14 pups, 12 of them still living. According to Mrs. Saracino, the usual litter is 7 or 8.

Her main task, says the Bensenville homemaker, is keeping Lady well-nourished. A nursing dog needs to be well-fed just as much as a human mother, and Lady gets meals four times a day. Her menu includes cooked liver, oatmeal, cooked egg, cottage cheese, calcium pills and vitamins.

Lady really belongs to the Saracinos' son, Hugh, 10. His mother says he is very understanding about Lady and has helped to keep visitors from making the mother dog nervous. Lady still is very protective toward her family, Mrs. Saracino explains.

About the only time neighbors and other interested persons could see and hold the puppies is when Mrs. Saracino takes Lady for her daily walk into the wooded area behind their home. That's when the mother dog's bed is changed, too, because she is very fussy about anyone touching her children while she is with them.

However, even this slight attention to her puppies was sensed by the mother dog and UPSET HER SO Mrs. Saracino finally has had to bar all visitors, and Lady has calmed down, reports Mrs. Saracino.

Lady noramlly sleeps with Hugh, and she was quite insistent about having her puppies born in his bed, says Mrs. Saracino. But the first baby fell into the crack between the built-in bed and the mattress so Mrs. Saracino moved the reluctant mother to the utility room, and that is where the rest of the litter was born. It's also the place where Lady now tends her large family.

Lady's bed is an old crib mattress. While it is being aired, she and her babies sleep on a pile of rugs and a sleeping bag. Concerned that the two puppies who died may have been smothered by the mother unawares, Mrs. Saracino spent several nights sleeping on a lawn lounge chair in the utility room to make sure that did not happen again.

By the time the puppies are three weeks old—and that will be soon—they should be eating cereal as well as their mother's milk and able to fend more for themselves, according to Mrs. Saracino. When they are seven or eight weeks old, their mother probably will be ready to let them go completely.

"I think that's the way nature intended it," commented the Bensenville homemaker. "When it's the proper time, the mother is willing to let her children go. We human mothers should be ready to let loose too."

Father of the large-sized brood is a pedigree German shepherd who lives in the same neighborhood. Mrs. Saracino says Lady definitely shows a preference for him and discourages any other suitors. This is the mother dog's second litter. All the puppies from her first one died.

The entire experience has been both fun and educational for the Saracino family, which includes three other children besides Hugh: college students Lynn, at the University of Illinois, and Jay, at the University of Arkansas, and Jill, 13, a student at Fenton High School.

Because Lady nearly died in a bout with pneumonia last winter, they are especially grateful that she could give birth and then nurture her big family so well, says Mrs. Saracino.

WELCOME WAGON

PRACTICAL is the word for this cotton knit summer playsuit which looks like dotted swiss. A bold floral applique adds fashion impact to the easy-care ensemble by Carter's.

Finger Foods

When you serve guests finger foods like fried chicken or spareribs, borrow a Japanese custom that's both practical and elegant. Pass around a basket of hot, moist terry towels—the small hand size.

To prepare, wring out the cotton towels in hot water that has been scented with cologne. Roll up the damp towels or fold them in pads. (S

Bump Healer

One mother keeps a box on a high shelf labeled "bump healers." Into it go small toys, crayons, packets of hard candy.

When a toddler is learning to walk there are plenty of tumbles and older children take spills, too. After examining the bruised knee or elbow, next consolation is a trip to the box for a "bump healer." (S

Convenient Oven

Electric wall ovens have a double advantage. They can be installed at a height convenient to the homemaker. And, since they needn't be placed adjacent to the electric range, can be located anywhere in the kitchen.

Some homemakers create a baking center by placing the oven near cabinets that hold baking utensils and appropriate supplies. (S

Painting Tip

If you want to change the color of your combination aluminum entrance door, here's a painting tip from the Aluminum Association.

Use yellow zinc chromate as a primer and cover it—after it dries completely—with two coats of exterior grade enamel.

Good Proportion

How does one determine the amount of ingredients to use with ground meat for meat loaves?

A good proportion includes ½ cup milk, 1 egg (slightly beaten), 1 teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper for each pound of ground beef, fresh pork, lamb or veal. (S

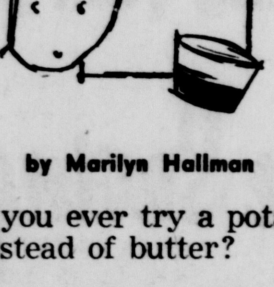
POTATO PRINTING



by Marilyn Hallman

Did you ever try a potato with paint instead of butter?

It won't taste as good, but it's a good way to print!

Slice a potato in half. Then scoop a design on the cut side with a table knife, apple corer or a grapefruit spoon.

(Remember, the design will appear backwards when you print.)

To print, dip your design in some thick tempera or finger paint. (A small pie pan or cereal bowl makes a good container). Then press it on paper.

You can turn your designs into place mats, book covers or stationery.

Doctor in the Kitchen

by Dr. W. W. Bauer

Nutrition can be discussed in general terms for normal people. For those with illnesses or metabolic deficiencies, the diet must be "tailored" to each individual, just as a well-fitted garment must be. Diet for diabetics falls into this class. One can, of course, give certain general principles, but the details must be:

a) advised by the attending physician after physical examination, history of illness and laboratory tests;

b) closely supervised at intervals varying with the severity of the condition, and

c) modified from time to time as conditions change.

Diabetes is an inability of the body to cope with the chemical handling (metabolism) of sugars in the body. It is due to deficiency in a secretion produced by specialized cells in the pancreas, called after their discoverer, the islands of Langerhans. The secretion is called insulin.

While diabetes is a deficiency in sugar metabolism, it involves other classes of foods. Starches are quickly converted into sugar; proteins in excess of needs are also changed into sugar. The handling of fats is impaired by the deficiency in sugar chemistry. It is obvious that the entire diet must be controlled.

These controls usually involve:

a) reduction on total calories, except where body weights are normal or below (many diabetics are overweight);

b) elimination of all sugar as such;

c) restriction of starchy foods;

d) adjustment of fat intake to dietary needs.

In addition to dietary controls, diabetics may require injections of insulin, or in the case of older and milder cases, one of the pills which help metabolize sugar. These pills are not insulin. Insulin must be injected.

Diabetics, like everyone else, must have an adequate diet in order to maintain health and strength. The diabetic diet, in addition to its emphasis on strict quantity control and sugar elimination, stresses the adequacy of protein intake. It also demands ample vitamin and mineral supplies, derived from vegetables and fruits relatively low in sugars.

A few of the useful books for diabetics are listed here: "Diabetic Manual," Elliott P. Joslin. Lea & Febiger, 10th ed.; "Your Diabetes and How to Live with It." Rogers, Leverton, and Hervert, Univ. of Nebraska Press, 1961; "Diabetes, a Way of Life," T. S. Danowski, Coward,-McCann, 1964; "Diabetics Handbook," A. M. Sindoni, Ronald Press, 1959; "Diabetic Menus, Meals, Recipes," Betty M. West, Doubleday, 1959; "Cookbook for Diabetics," American Diabetes Association, 1 E. 45th St., New York, 10017, 1959, and "How to Live with Diabetes," Henry Dolger and Bernard Seeman, W. W. Norton, 1959.

Any of these books is obtainable through any book store.

Shelf Edging

Edges of shelves can be made much more attractive by fastening pieces of molding cut to the proper length.

Pick out the right width of molding from the stock of western wood carried at any lumber yard. The strips may be fastened with woodworking glue or brads, or both. (S

Nailing Boards

Tongue and groove panel boards should be blind-nailed through the tongue so that the nail is covered up by the groove of the adjacent board.

Boards more than eight inches wide should be face-nailed. (S

Terry Covers

Use heavy cotton terry beach towels to make covers for children's pillows, chairs or bunk beds. They're easy to wash and new styles come in bright colors and whimsical prints. (S

Autopsies Important To Medical Science

Jack Snyder, a man in his mid-sixties, suffered nausea, aching muscles and a high fever of unknown origin. His symptoms were common to many minor and serious illnesses. But before doctors could diagnose his condition, he died.

An autopsy showed the patient had died of tuberculosis, a highly communicable disease. Immediately the family physician ordered TB tests and chest x-rays for the entire family. They revealed that Mr. Snyder's youngest son had a very active form of the disease. Fortunately, the condition was caught in time to be effectively treated, and the rest of the family was spared the risk of infection.

THE BENEFITS of an autopsy are far-reaching, not only to families, but to medical research. Through this type of examination, new knowledge is acquired about such diseases as cancer, heart trouble, stroke, blood diseases, etc.—knowledge that helps to control and, eventually, prevent them. Autopsies also enable medical science to find explanations for symptoms which don't fit in with a disease and help to make correct diagnoses in the future.

Because of their importance to medical science, many countries require autopsies by law in every death. But here, in the United States, permission must be obtained from the nearest of kin.

Unfortunately, many people refuse permission. Some refuse on the grounds that an autopsy will disfigure the body. This is not true. An autopsy is not a "practice" operation. It's carried out in the hospital laboratory with the same skill, dignity and care as in an operating room. Nothing in the procedure changes the appearance of the deceased.

OTHERS REFUSE because of religious beliefs, but there are very few religions holding such beliefs. In fasct, the Jewish, Roman Catholic and most Protestant sects encourage the performance of autopsies.

Withholding permission also can be due to fear and ignorance. However, these two factors can be easily dispelled once the role that autopsies play in controlling and preventing disease is fully understood. (S

New Role for Bensenville Homemaker

She's Nursemaid to 12 Pups

PROUD AND PROTECTIVE mother is Lady, German shepherd dog belonging to Mrs. Jack Saracino and her family of 17W311 Deerpath, Bensenville. Lady recently gave birth to 14 puppies, a larger litter than is usual for her breed. Of the original litter, 12 pups still are living and getting loving care from both the mother dog and the Saracino family. (Staff photo)

(SSD

Mrs. Jack Saracino, 17W311 Deerpath, Bensenvile, has played nursemaid to several litters of kittens, but this is her first experience with puppies, and she's going in for it in a big way.

The Saracinos' pet German Shepherd, Lady, recently gave birth to 14 pups, 12 of them still living. According to Mrs. Saracino, the usual litter is 7 or 8.

Her main task, says the Bensenville homemaker, is keeping Lady well-nourished. A nursing dog needs to be well-fed just as much as a human mother, and Lady gets meals four times a day. Her menu includes cooked liver, oatmeal, cooked egg, cottage cheese, calcium pills and vitamins.

Lady really belongs to the Saracinos' son, Hugh, 10. His mother says he is very understanding about Lady and has helped to keep visitors from making the mother dog nervous. Lady still is very protective toward her family, Mrs. Saracino explains.

About the only time neighbors and other interested persons could see and hold the puppies is when Mrs. Saracino takes Lady for her daily walk into the wooded area behind their home. That's when the mother dog's bed is changed, too, because she is very fussy about anyone touching her children while she is with them.

However, even this slight attention to her puppies was sensed by the mother dog and UPSET HER SO Mrs. Saracino finally has had to bar all visitors, and Lady has calmed down, reports Mrs. Saracino.

Lady noramlly sleeps with Hugh, and she was quite insistent about having her puppies born in his bed, says Mrs. Saracino. But the first baby fell into the crack between the built-in bed and the mattress so Mrs. Saracino moved the reluctant mother to the utility room, and that is where the rest of the litter was born. It's also the place where Lady now tends her large family.

Lady's bed is an old crib mattress. While it is being aired, she and her babies sleep on a pile of rugs and a sleeping bag. Concerned that the two puppies who died may have been smothered by the mother unawares, Mrs. Saracino spent several nights sleeping on a lawn lounge chair in the utility room to make sure that did not happen again.

By the time the puppies are three weeks old—and that will be soon—they should be eating cereal as well as their mother's milk and able to fend more for themselves, according to Mrs. Saracino. When they are seven or eight weeks old, their mother probably will be ready to let them go completely.

"I think that's the way nature intended it," commented the Bensenville homemaker. "When it's the proper time, the mother is willing to let her children go. We human mothers should be ready to let loose too."

Father of the large-sized brood is a pedigree German shepherd who lives in the same neighborhood. Mrs. Saracino says Lady definitely shows a preference for him and discourages any other suitors. This is the mother dog's second litter. All the puppies from her first one died.

The entire experience has been both fun and educational for the Saracino family, which includes three other children besides Hugh: college students Lynn, at the University of Illinois, and Jay, at the University of Arkansas, and Jill, 13, a student at Fenton High School.

Because Lady nearly died in a bout with pneumonia last winter, they are especially grateful that she could give birth and then nurture her big family so well, says Mrs. Saracino.

WELCOME WAGON

PRACTICAL is the word for this cotton knit summer playsuit which looks like dotted swiss. A bold floral applique adds fashion impact to the easy-care ensemble by Carter's.

Finger Foods

When you serve guests finger foods like fried chicken or spareribs, borrow a Japanese custom that's both practical and elegant. Pass around a basket of hot, moist terry towels—the small hand size.

To prepare, wring out the cotton towels in hot water that has been scented with cologne. Roll up the damp towels or fold them in pads. (S

Bump Healer

One mother keeps a box on a high shelf labeled "bump healers." Into it go small toys, crayons, packets of hard candy.

When a toddler is learning to walk there are plenty of tumbles and older children take spills, too. After examining the bruised knee or elbow, next consolation is a trip to the box for a "bump healer." (S

Convenient Oven

Electric wall ovens have a double advantage. They can be installed at a height convenient to the homemaker. And, since they needn't be placed adjacent to the electric range, can be located anywhere in the kitchen.

Some homemakers create a baking center by placing the oven near cabinets that hold baking utensils and appropriate supplies. (S

Painting Tip

If you want to change the color of your combination aluminum entrance door, here's a painting tip from the Aluminum Association.

Use yellow zinc chromate as a primer and cover it—after it dries completely—with two coats of exterior grade enamel.

Good Proportion

How does one determine the amount of ingredients to use with ground meat for meat loaves?

A good proportion includes ½ cup milk, 1 egg (slightly beaten), 1 teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper for each pound of ground beef, fresh pork, lamb or veal. (S

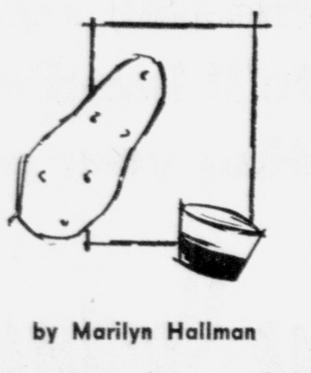
POTATO PRINTING



by Marilyn Hallman

Did you ever try a potato with paint instead of butter?

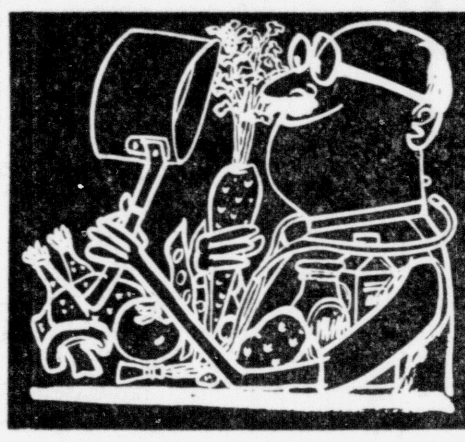
It won't taste as good, but it's a good way to print!

Slice a potato in half. Then scoop a design on the cut side with a table knife, apple corer or a grapefruit spoon.

(Remember, the design will appear backwards when you print.)

To print, dip your design in some thick tempera or finger paint. (A small pie pan or cereal bowl makes a good container). Then press it on paper.

You can turn your designs into place mats, book covers or stationery.



Doctor in the Kitchen

by Dr. W. W. Bauer

Nutrition can be discussed in general terms for normal people. For those with illnesses or metabolic deficiencies, the diet must be "tailored" to each individual, just as a well-fitted garment must be. Diet for diabetics falls into this class. One can, of course, give certain general principles, but the details must be:

a) advised by the attending physician after physical examination, history of illness and laboratory tests;

b) closely supervised at intervals varying with the severity of the condition, and

c) modified from time to time as conditions change.

Diabetes is an inability of the body to cope with the chemical handling (metabolism) of sugars in the body. It is due to deficiency in a secretion produced by specialized cells in the pancreas, called after their discoverer, the islands of Langerhans. The secretion is called insulin.

While diabetes is a deficiency in sugar metabolism, it involves other classes of foods. Starches are quickly converted into sugar; proteins in excess of needs are also changed into sugar. The handling of fats is impaired by the deficiency in sugar chemistry. It is obvious that the entire diet must be controlled.

These controls usually involve:

a) reduction on total calories, except where body weights are normal or below (many diabetics are overweight);

b) elimination of all sugar as such;

c) restriction of starchy foods;

d) adjustment of fat intake to dietary needs.

In addition to dietary controls, diabetics may require injections of insulin, or in the case of older and milder cases, one of the pills which help metabolize sugar. These pills are not insulin. Insulin must be injected.

Diabetics, like everyone else, must have an adequate diet in order to maintain health and strength. The diabetic diet, in addition to its emphasis on strict quantity control and sugar elimination, stresses the adequacy of protein intake. It also demands ample vitamin and mineral supplies, derived from vegetables and fruits relatively low in sugars.

A few of the useful books for diabetics are listed here: "Diabetic Manual," Elliott P. Joslin. Lea & Febiger, 10th ed.; "Your Diabetes and How to Live with It." Rogers, Leverton, and Hervert, Univ. of Nebraska Press, 1961; "Diabetes, a Way of Life," T. S. Danowski, Coward,-McCann, 1964; "Diabetics Handbook," A. M. Sindoni, Ronald Press, 1959; "Diabetic Menus, Meals, Recipes," Betty M. West, Doubleday, 1959; "Cookbook for Diabetics," American Diabetes Association, 1 E. 45th St., New York, 10017, 1959, and "How to Live with Diabetes," Henry Dolger and Bernard Seeman, W. W. Norton, 1959.

Any of these books is obtainable through any book store.

Shelf Edging

Edges of shelves can be made much more attractive by fastening pieces of molding cut to the proper length.

Pick out the right width of molding from the stock of western wood carried at any lumber yard. The strips may be fastened with woodworking glue or brads, or both. (S

Nailing Boards

Tongue and groove panel boards should be blind-nailed through the tongue so that the nail is covered up by the groove of the adjacent board.

Boards more than eight inches wide should be face-nailed. (S

Terry Covers

Use heavy cotton terry beach towels to make covers for children's pillows, chairs or bunk beds. They're easy to wash and new styles come in bright colors and whimsical prints. (S

Autopsies Important To Medical Science

Jack Snyder, a man in his mid-sixties, suffered nausea, aching muscles and a high fever of unknown origin. His symptoms were common to many minor and serious illnesses. But before doctors could diagnose his condition, he died.

An autopsy showed the patient had died of tuberculosis, a highly communicable disease. Immediately the family physician ordered TB tests and chest x-rays for the entire family. They revealed that Mr. Snyder's youngest son had a very active form of the disease. Fortunately, the condition was caught in time to be effectively treated, and the rest of the family was spared the risk of infection.

THE BENEFITS of an autopsy are far-reaching, not only to families, but to medical research. Through this type of examination, new knowledge is acquired about such diseases as cancer, heart trouble, stroke, blood diseases, etc.—knowledge that helps to control and, eventually, prevent them. Autopsies also enable medical science to find explanations for symptoms which don't fit in with a disease and help to make correct diagnoses in the future.

Because of their importance to medical science, many countries require autopsies by law in every death. But here, in the United States, permission must be obtained from the nearest of kin.

Unfortunately, many people refuse permission. Some refuse on the grounds that an autopsy will disfigure the body. This is not true. An autopsy is not a "practice" operation. It's carried out in the hospital laboratory with the same skill, dignity and care as in an operating room. Nothing in the procedure changes the appearance of the deceased.

OTHERS REFUSE because of religious beliefs, but there are very few religions holding such beliefs. In fasct, the Jewish, Roman Catholic and most Protestant sects encourage the performance of autopsies.

Withholding permission also can be due to fear and ignorance. However, these two factors can be easily dispelled once the role that autopsies play in controlling and preventing disease is fully understood. (S

Request Program For Final Concert

The 1966 summer concert series by the Palatine Village Band comes to a close Friday evening with an all-request program beginning at 8 p.m. at the bandshell in Palatine Community Park.

Featured in this final program of the season, to be directed by guest conductor Byron Roderick, will be "Two Gaelic Folk Songs"; Ferde Grofe's "On the Trail," from the Grand Canyon Suite"; "El Festivo," by Ployar; and Strauss' "The Waltz King."

Requests from popular music fans will include "I Left My Heart in San Francisco," "Beguine for Young Moderns" and "The Pink Panther," while march enthusiasts have selected "Semper Fidelis," "Ponderosa March," and "Under the Double Eagle."

THE END of the summer concert series means no let-up in activity for members of the band, who will be heard next week accompanying the Park District festival program. In September they will begin preparation for the fall, winter and spring indoor concert season, which will be followed by another series of open air concerts beginning in June, 1967.

Adult instrumental musicians are invited to apply for membership in the band, sponsored jointly by the Palatine Park District and the Village of Palatine. Those interested should call Paul Siegert at 358-2518, or Albert Isaacs at CL 5-9432.

Present membership of the band is composed of men and women from various suburban communities in Cook, DuPage and Lake Counties. (P

ESTABLISHMENT OF the new B'rith chapter in the Hoffman Estates area is of particular satisfaction to Mrs. Lawrence Graff, its first president. The chapter was founded largely through her efforts and those of a friend who formerly resided in the area. (Staff photo)

For Mrs. Lawrence Graff of Hoffman Estates the presidency of B'nai B'rith Women, Aliyah Chapter, is something very special. The fact that there is a president and a presidency means that her months of work to establish a chapter in the area have been successful.

The young woman and a friend who has since moved from the northwest suburbs had discussed the idea of a B'nai B'rith chapter and decided to act rather than just talk. Mrs. Graff called the loop office and was told she'd need 25 members to receive a charter. When installation was held a few weeks ago, there were 28 charter members.

Mrs. Graff had been a member of B'nai B'rith Girls and Young Women's groups and had held offices in both organizations. An active woman, she is now a member of Sisterhood of Beth Tikvah Congregation and has helped raise funds and been on the membership committee.

BOTH SHE AND her husband are members of Joel Elowe Memorial Foundation in Skokie, and her jobs have included fund raising, ad book chairman, bulletin and publicity chairman and corresponding secretary.

The Graff family includes Debbie, almost 7; Karin, 4, and Marc, 14 months. Although Mrs. Graff devotes a lot of time to her organization, she said that the main thing in her and her husband's lives are the children and that most of the couple's decisions are made with them in mind. Since the children are still quite young, the Graffs haven't taken many trips with them other than to Grandma's or a museum or zoo.

The Graffs moved to Hoffman Estates three years ago from Chicago. He is an accountant for Herst-Allen Co., Chicago.

MRS. GRAFF likes to do creative work. She has made several pictures of stone and colored glass for their home and likes to knit, sew and cook different menus. But most of the president's spare time now goes toward a newly discovered love, writing for a local newspaper. She had never been on a newspaper staff but always liked to write. Though she works mainly in her home, Mrs. Graff said she "covers" local events and has been doing more interviews.

When asked what she might like to do in the future, Mrs. Graff speculated for a few minutes and said she might enjoy the woman's club. Then she thought again and said it would probably be difficult to do right now because of her involvement in B'nai B'rith.

One goal she would like to see the chapter achieve is to start a girl's group. The program for teens would involve sports, Jewish education, religious programs, community service, recreation, social activities and leadership training. (S

Backache Is Subject Of Fitness Movie

If you're a typical American woman, chances are better than ever that you'll have back problems before you're 40.

That's the word from medical specialists at Aetna Life & Casualty, which is distributing a public service movie on physical fitness in hopes of improving the odds.

Aetna Life & Casualty, one of the nation's leading writers of health insurance, says lack of proper exercise, poor posture and unsafe home or office work habits lead the "back attack."

"OUR SOCIETY generally discourages women from strenuous physical activity," Aetna points out. "And the multitude of labor-saving conveniences we have makes it that much more difficult for women to get in top condition, even in their youth.

"Few women enjoy perfect posture and taller women are especially vulnerable to 'slouching,' which increases chances of back muscle strain. Combine unconditioned muscles and poor posture with the strain induced by bad work habits and back pain often pops up."

Aetna's color film, called "Maximum," features the Royal Swedish Ballet. The troupe uses dance techniques to demonstrate the proper—and safe—way to perform household and office chores. Examples:

1. WHEN vacuuming, keep your back straight. If you bend to clean under furniture, do it at the knees.

2. The back-straight, knees-bent rule also applies to lifting, even when the object is light. If you must lift something heavy, hold it close to your body. This allows you to keep your back straight and in balance, and puts the strain on stronger leg and thigh muscles.

3. Sit, don't stand, to do such chores as peeling potatoes.

4. Plan your work schedule so that you don't "overdo it." Rest periodically, preferably in a chair that provides good back support.

5. IF YOU work in an office, keep your back straight and your feet firmly on the floor when working at a desk.

6. "Maximum" also points out that posture and general health can be improved by a sound exercise program. It can range from a few minutes of calisthenics at home to relatively strenuous outdoor sports. The film recommends swimming, bowling, cycling and anything that requires plenty of walking.

Aetna Life & Casualty will lend "Maximum" free to women's organizations and other groups interested in health and safety. Write to the Information and Education Department, Aetna Life & Casualty, Hartford, Conn. 06115. (S

Beth Tikvah Sisterhood Seeks New Members

The annual drive for new members of Beth Tikvah Sisterhood, now in progress, will culminate in a tea on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 11, from 1 to 3 at the synagogue in Hoffman Estates. Any interested newcomer who would like further information on the Sisterhood or who would like to attend the tea may call Mrs. N. Shalett, 437-2580.

Purpose of the membership tea is to acquaint women with the varied activities of the Sisterhood.

EACH YEAR there are several social events, as well as charitable and religious activities in which members participate. There are also bridge and mah jong tournaments, a bowling league, sewing and knitting groups and literary study sessions.

All meetings of the Sisterhood are held at the synagogue, 275 Hillcrest Blvd., Hoffman Estates, which serves residents of the entire northwest suburban area.

New Tube Adhesive

A new adhesive easily puts do-it-yourself paneling in the realm of "woman's work."

Any nome handyman, or woman for that matter, can use this no-nails method of paneling a room or even a basement, according to John Concord, home improvement consultant to Masonite Corp.

Until this adhesive came along in easy-to-use tubes, hours of hard work were required just drilling holes into basement concrete walls for lumber furring strips.

"WITH ROYALCOTE adhesive," Concord says, "the furring can be attached permanently in a matter of minutes. The paneling then is bonded in the same manner to the wood strips—again without nails."

Matching vinyl-clad moldings, which give the installation a finished appearance, may be attached quickly with more of the same adhesive.

"Unlike contact cement," Concord explains, "adhesive gives the installer time to position the panel before the bond becomes permanent."

USED IN A "gun" of the type used for calking, general purpose Royalcote adhesive has many other uses around the home. Use it for attaching shelves to framing, linoleum to stair treads, floor coverings to floors, chair rails to walls, Peg-Board to backing strips.

The adhesive is available at lumber and building material dealers. It was developed by Masonite to give home owners and carpenters a time and work saving means of installing Royalcote woodgrain panels. (S

Sorority Activities

Alpha Phi's Set Finale, Chi Omega's at Send-off

The northwest suburban alumnae chapters of two sororities are planning social events within the week—one to conclude summer activities and the other as a send-off to collegians who will return to campus life in September.

For Alpha Phi alums, a morning coffee will provide conversation on summer vacations and fall schedules; for Chi Omegas, a swim party will be relaxing fare.

Local members of Chi Omega Sorority, including alumnae, actives and pledges, are invited to a swim and sun party Sunday afternoon, Aug. 14, at the Lake Briarwood home of Mrs. Earl Terp, 2935 Briarwood, Arlington Heights.

ALTHOUGH invitations have been mailed, it is possible that not all Chi Omegas living in this area will be contacted. Therefore, Mrs. Terry Leighty of Palatine, president of the alumnae group, emphasizes that all members are welcome to attend. The party will bring together old friends and new acquaintances and will encourage an exchange of ideas with girls of various campuses.

Those wishing to attend the swim party are asked to contact Mrs. Terp, 437-2891, or Mrs. Putzier, 392-6244.

THE ALPHA Phi alumnae of the northwest suburbs will conclude their summer schedule with a coffee on Wednesday, Aug. 17, at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. John Bannister of Mount Prospect.

The alums and their husbands recently attended a dinner party at Jim Saine's Trallee Farm in Barrington Hills, where Mrs. James Saine, a member of the group, took them on a tour of the new restaurant and the estate grounds.

NEW OFFICERS of the Alpha Phi's will be taking over their duties when the Fall flurry of activities begins.

Mrs. Donald Trull of Park Ridpge is the new resident; Mrs. William Cameron, Park Ridge, vice president; Mrs. Gordon Maves, Arlington Heights, secretary; Mrs. William Bailey, Palatine, treasurer; Mrs. Maxwell Robinette, Park Ridge, in charge of philanthropy; Mrs. John St. Germaine, Arlington Heights, quarterly correspondent; Mrs. Donald Everhart, Arlington Heights, and Mrs. John Bannister, Mount Prospect, Panhellenic representatives. Rainbow Girls Go West to Round-up

Wheeling Assembly 81, International Order of Rainbow for Girls, was represented by four girls at the "Rainbow Round-up in the Rockies" in Denver July 23-29. Donna Stevenson, Grand Representative of California, and Janis Meacham, Hope, traveled by train with 125 other Rainbow Girls and sponsors.

Also attending from this area were Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Miller of Arlington Heights, who went by plane to the round-up. Mr. Miller is a member of the advisory board, and Mrs. Miller is mother advisor of the Wheeling group.

One of the most inspiring sights was a double rainbow that appeared over the stage of the Red Rock Theater prior to the Hawaiian pageant given by Rainbow Girls from the islands. The Koshares Indian Dancers from LaJunta, Calif., also performed that evening after a chuck wagon dinner for the girls and sponsors.

There were over 9,000 present.

Inside Randhurst

Birthday Party Has Fun Slated for All

By MAGGIE IRWIN

Randhurst has something big and beautiful. It's 24 feet in diameter at the bottom, 16 feet in diameter at the top, is 8 feet high, it is white, pink and yellow and luscious looking and crowning its top are 4 white cylinders, 2 feet in diameter and 6 feet high and can be found in the center of Randhurst under the dome.

In case you don't know what all those figures represent . . . they all add up to our fourth birthday cake. Yes! I said fourth, for it has been four years since Randhurst opened wide its doors to welcome you to a new experience in shopping in the largest covered-mall shopping center in the world.

OUR BIRTHDAY officially starts August 11. By now you should have received, in your mail, the Randhurst Shopper, in which are listed some of the great values to be found in the center. This is an excellent time to take advantage of the sales, to buy your children "back to school" clothes, your husband a suit or overcoat, yourself a woolen outfit in one of the lovely new shades, and don't forget your home, the stores are having great "white" sales.

Bring your children to see the jolly mannequin clowns, the animated elephant and giraffe, the colorful decorations, the enormous pink lollypop tree with free lollypops for all the children; and best of all, "Medals" the clown will make your children any kind of balloon animal they wish.

Friday night, August 12 from 9:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m., the world famous, fabulous Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra, under the direction of Lee Castle, will entertain us in the mall with old as well as new favorites. Please enjoy this great music with us, there is no charge.

A CIRCUS IS coming to Randhurst, Monday, Aug. 15 through Friday, Aug. 19 and the mall will resound with the distinctive gaiety of a calliope. There will be three circus rings set up, one in each end of the mall. An aerial ballet, dancing dolls, trampoline, and Jinx the Chimp will perform in all 3 rings at the same time.

Show times will be 10 a.m., 3 p.m., and 9:30 p.m. The shows will last approximately 40 minutes, and if this isn't enough, a spectacular fireworks display will top off all the festivities, Friday night, August 19th at approximately 10 p.m. (Rh

Your Garden . . . Day by Day

by MAGGIE B. GOOD

August 11

Did you know the purple martin house, erected by the Arlington Heights Garden Club in Pioneer Park, was smashed and shattered by vandals? They did a grave injustice to the birds as well as the community, as a single martin consumes better than 2,000 mosquitoes a day. Perhaps we may get a "Restore the Birdhouse Campaign" going. It's food for thought, if not for the birds!

August 12

Onions should be dug when the tops turn brown, then left out to ripen for several days before going into the salad, soup or stewpot.

August 13

Meet me at the fair!—the Illinois State Fair in Springfield, that is. There will be floriculture, 4-H, recording stars like Robert Goulet and Jack Jones, something for everyone through Aug. 21. For information write c/o Box 362, Arlington Heights, or Springfield State Fair, Springfield.

August 14

Insects driving you buggy? The 106-page "Handbook on Garden Pests" tells how to whip them, the correct use of pesticides, and over 120 pictures of various garden offenders. You can obtain it through the Brooklyn Botanic Gardens, Brooklyn, N. Y. 11225, for $1.25.

August 15

How's your Christmas poinsettia summering outdoors? Now's the time to cut it back to 2 or 3 buds per stem.

August 16

Slugs a problem? Use slug bait or traps of hollow orange skins, lettuce leaves or bran. Lime, coal cinders or dry Bordeaux can be sprinkled around perennials when slugs are on the surface.

August 17

Single flowering varieties of petunias are more floriferous and tolerate wet weather much better than the doubles. To increase bloom production, keep on pinching off spent blossoms bi-weekly.

Randhurst to Present Jimmy Dorsey Concert

The famous Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra, conducted by Lee Castle, will give a concert Friday at 9:30 p.m. in Randhurst shopping center, Mount Prospect.

The two-hour concert will be a highlight of the giant center's fourth anniversary celebration.

JIMMY DORSEY, the world's greatest saxophonist, was credited by many recording men with the success and extablishment of the juke box industry, just as Milton Berle is credited as the man responsible for the sale of most television sets.

Jimmy Dorsey's introduction to music came right in his own home in Shenandoah, Pa. where his father taught him to play cornet. Young Dorsey was all of 8 years old, and it was no small accomplishment when he was accorded a place of his own in his father's band which played for the local parades.

The senior Dorsey realized the importance to a budding musician of having as many "doubles" as possible, and accordingly Jimmy was given his first saxophone—a second hand sax with a double register key.

By the time he was ten, Jimmy had convinced his Dad that he had learned enough to rate a brand new alto sax. This became his Number One instrument and eventually the key to national fame. Later, Jimmy adopted the clarinet as his second instrument (though he never took a formal lesson on the "licorice stick") and decided to keep the cornet as his third.

JIMMY WAS "discovered" by a scout when he was playing at a dance in Reading, Pa. He was 18, and the aggregation was known as the Dorsey Novelty Band. The following week the band played its first steady engagement in Baltimore, Md., where they broadcasted over one of that city's first radio stations. A bid to play saxophone and clarinet with the Scranton Sirens (famous "hot" band of the day) initiated 12 years of appearances as instrumentalist with the top bands in the nation.

Jimmy's brilliant career as an instrumentalist gathered momentum with each successive appearance with such top outfits of the day as the original California Ramblers, Jean Goldkette and Paul Whiteman. Soon he was sought by the leading radio orchestras who acknowledged him to be the leading saxophone and clarinet virtuoso extant. He performed regularly with such radio bands as Victor Young, Lennie Hayton, Dave Rubinoff, Freddie Rich, Nat Shilkret and Rudy Vallee.

In the early thirties, Jimmy and his trombone-playing brother, Tommy, won nation-wide acclaim with the Dorsey Brothers Orchestra. Then Jimmy struck out on his own—and the result was an orchestra that ranked as one of the greatest during the dance band era of the late 1930's and the early 1940's. Emphasizing a sweeter, more subdued approach to the top tunes of the day, Jimmy evolved his "Contrasts in Music" style.

SUCH TUNES as "Amapola," "Maria Elena," "Green Eyes," "I Hear a Rhapsody" and "Besame Mucho," as recorded by the Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra, have now achieved the status of standards.

One of the proudest Jimmy Dorsey accomplishments was the sale of more than 40 million J. D. phonograph records. Many recording men credit him with the success and establishment of the juke box industry on a large scale. Whether by coincidence or as a result of his efforts, juke boxes came into widespread popularity at the time when Dorsey emerged as one of the nation's leading record sellers. His "John Silver" was one of the first million-sales recordings.

His "Date to Dance" orchestra featuring "The Original Dorseyland Band" gave impetus to the recent Dixieland craze and the widespread Charleston dance revival.

Jimmy's place in the hierarchy of American musican greats is assured by his legion of fans who were devoted to the music of the man "who painted for the ear with instruments." (Rh

Inside Randhurst

Birthday Party Has Fun Slated for All

By MAGGIE IRWIN

Randhurst has something big and beautiful. It's 24 feet in diameter at the bottom, 16 feet in diameter at the top, is 8 feet high, it is white, pink and yellow and luscious looking and crowning its top are 4 white cylinders, 2 feet in diameter and 6 feet high and can be found in the center of Randhurst under the dome.

In case you don't know what all those figures represent . . . they all add up to our fourth birthday cake. Yes! I said fourth, for it has been four years since Randhurst opened wide its doors to welcome you to a new experience in shopping in the largest covered-mall shopping center in the world.

OUR BIRTHDAY officially starts August 11. By now you should have received, in your mail, the Randhurst Shopper, in which are listed some of the great values to be found in the center. This is an excellent time to take advantage of the sales, to buy your children "back to school" clothes, your husband a suit or overcoat, yourself a woolen outfit in one of the lovely new shades, and don't forget your home, the stores are having great "white" sales.

Bring your children to see the jolly mannequin clowns, the animated elephant and giraffe, the colorful decorations, the enormous pink lollypop tree with free lollypops for all the children; and best of all, "Medals" the clown will make your children any kind of balloon animal they wish.

Friday night, August 12 from 9:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m., the world famous, fabulous Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra, under the direction of Lee Castle, will entertain us in the mall with old as well as new favorites. Please enjoy this great music with us, there is no charge.

A CIRCUS IS coming to Randhurst, Monday, Aug. 15 through Friday, Aug. 19 and the mall will resound with the distinctive gaiety of a calliope. There will be three circus rings set up, one in each end of the mall. An aerial ballet, dancing dolls, trampoline, and Jinx the Chimp will perform in all 3 rings at the same time.

Show times will be 10 a.m., 3 p.m., and 9:30 p.m. The shows will last approximately 40 minutes, and if this isn't enough, a spectacular fireworks display will top off all the festivities, Friday night, August 19th at approximately 10 p.m. (Rh

Seek Volunteers For Crippled Children Work

The Illinois Children's Hospital-School is looking for men and women who enjoy working and playing with crippled children and who have time to give on a regular basis.

GARDENING TIPS

FROM THE ARLINGTON HEIGHTS
GARDEN CLUB

Your Garden . . .
Day by Day

by MARY B. GOOD

August 11

Did you know the purple martin house, erected by the Arlington Heights Garden Club in Pioneer Park, was smashed and shattered by vandals? They did a grave injustice to the birds as well as the community, as a single martin consumes better than 2,000 mosquitoes a day. Perhaps we may get a "Restore the Birdhouse Campaign" going. It's food for thought, if not for the birds!

August 12

Onions should be dug when the tops turn brown, then left out to ripen for several days before going into the salad, soup or stewpot.

August 13

Meet me at the fair!—the Illinois State Fair in Springfield, that is. There will be floriculture, 4-H, recording stars like Robert Goulet and Jack Jones, something for everyone through Aug. 21. For information write c/o Box 362, Arlington Heights, or Springfield State Fair, Springfield.

August 14

Insects driving you buggy? The 106-page "Handbook on Garden Pests" tells how to whip them, the correct use of pesticides, and over 120 pictures of various garden offenders. You can obtain it through the Brooklyn Botanic Gardens, Brooklyn, N. Y. 11225, for $1.25.

August 15

How's your Christmas poinsettia summering outdoors? Now's the time to cut it back to 2 or 3 buds per stem.

August 16

Slugs a problem? Use slug bait or traps of hollow orange skins, lettuce leaves or bran. Lime, coal cinders or dry Bordeaux can be sprinkled around perennials when slugs are on the surface.

August 17

Single flowering varieties of petunias are more floriferous and tolerate wet weather much better than the doubles. To increase bloom production, keep on pinching off spent blossoms bi-weekly.

Randhurst to Present Jimmy Dorsey Concert

The famous Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra, conducted by Lee Castle, will give a concert Friday at 9:30 p.m. in Randhurst shopping center, Mount Prospect.

The two-hour concert will be a highlight of the giant center's fourth anniversary celebration.

JIMMY DORSEY, the world's greatest saxophonist, was credited by many recording men with the success and extablishment of the juke box industry, just as Milton Berle is credited as the man responsible for the sale of most television sets.

Jimmy Dorsey's introduction to music came right in his own home in Shenandoah, Pa. where his father taught him to play cornet. Young Dorsey was all of 8 years old, and it was no small accomplishment when he was accorded a place of his own in his father's band which played for the local parades.

The senior Dorsey realized the importance to a budding musician of having as many "doubles" as possible, and accordingly Jimmy was given his first saxophone—a second hand sax with a double register key. By the time he was ten, Jimmy had convinced his Dad that he had learned enough to rate a brand new alto sax. This became his Number One instrument and eventually the key to national fame. Later, Jimmy adopted the clarinet as his second instrument (though he never took a formal lesson on the "licorice stick") and decided to keep the cornet as his third.

JIMMY WAS "discovered" by a scout when he was playing at a dance in Reading, Pa. He was 18, and the aggregation was known as the Dorsey Novelty Band. The following week the band played its first steady engagement in Baltimore, Md., where they broadcasted over one of that city's first radio stations. A bid to play saxophone and clarinet with the Scranton Sirens (famous "hot" band of the day) initiated 12 years of appearances as instrumentalist with the top bands in the nation.

Jimmy's brilliant career as an instrumentalist gathered momentum with each successive appearance with such top outfits of the day as the original California Ramblers, Jean Goldkette and Paul Whiteman. Soon he was sought by the leading radio orchestras who acknowledged him to be the leading saxophone and clarinet virtuoso extant. He performed regularly with such radio bands as Victor Young, Lennie Hayton, Dave Rubinoff, Freddie Rich, Nat Shilkret and Rudy Vallee.

In the early thirties, Jimmy and his trombone-playing brother, Tommy, won nation-wide acclaim with the Dorsey Brothers Orchestra. Then Jimmy struck out on his own—and the result was an orchestra that ranked as one of the greatest during the dance band era of the late 1930's and the early 1940's. Emphasizing a sweeter, more subdued approach to the top tunes of the day, Jimmy evolved his "Contrasts in Music" style.

SUCH TUNES as "Amapola," "Maria Elena," "Green Eyes," "I Hear a Rhapsody" and "Besame Mucho," as recorded by the Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra, have now achieved the status of standards.

One of the proudest Jimmy Dorsey accomplishments was the sale of more than 40 million J. D. phonograph records. Many recording men credit him with the success and establishment of the juke box industry on a large scale. Whether by coincidence or as a result of his efforts, juke boxes came into widespread popularity at the time when Dorsey emerged as one of the nation's leading record sellers. 4-H Beef Featured At Dominick Stores

Dominick's Finer Food Stores are displaying championship quality 4-H beef obtained from Iowa county fairs, exhibitions and shows. It is a traditional yearly event which was started 15 years ago.

Every year Dominick's buyers visit Iowa with the purpose in mind of obtaining as much 4-H beef as possible. It is processed and U.S. Government inspected and stamped and then offered for sale to Dominick's customers.

4-H champion-quality beef reflects all the loving care and nurturing that 4-H Club members can bestow upon their charges. 4-H Club members who direct their efforts to husbandry, select their calves quite early and then in the following months lavish all their time and attention in developing their selection. Eventually the cattle are exhibited with the hope they will receive coveted honors and ribbons.

WHILE ALL 4-H cattle are not awarded recognition, entries are of exceptional standards and afford a rare eating opportunity. Because Dominick's buyers are aware of the superior quality of 4-H beef, extra special efforts are made to obtain as much as possible.

4-H Club members are usually between the ages of 10 and 20. The purpose of 4-H is to make boys and girls good farmers, homemakers and citizens. The clubs are supervised and aided by the extension service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture and is also a part of the educational program of state agricultural colleges. (BB

Sales Increase to 23 Per Cent Told

Arlington Realty announced record sales for the first seven months of 1966.

Sales totalling $4,250,000 was an all time high for the firm, and an increase of 23 per cent from the same period a year ago.

For the first seven months of 1965, Arlington Realty reported sales totalling $3½ millions.

Arlington Realty has set new record highs each year since 1960, and based on projected sales 1966 will set another record for the firm. Herb Carl, one of the owners, estimates this year's sales should exceed $7 million "barring unforeseen developments in our real estate market or our economy."

Carl states that the tightness in the mortgage money market has not as yet put a serious crimp in the real estate market in our area.

"Interest rates are up to 6¼ per cent to 6½ per cent in most cases," he added, "but mortgage money is still available to qualified home buyers."

Arlington Realty, with two offices in Arlington Heights, located at 535 S. Arlington Heights Road and 550 W. Northwest Highway., is a member of MAP multiple listing service, and the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors. (RE

New Plant For Tri-Par Is Opened

Tri-Par Die & Mold Corp. has opened a new facility in the Higgins Road Section of Centex Industrial Park, the nation's fastest growing industrial park, located in Elk Grove Village.

The new facility at 221 King St., replaces the firm's former quarters in Skokie which were outgrown.

The 8,000-square-foot Centex facility is located on a 25,000-square-foot site to provide for future expansion. The site was selected because of Centex's fully developed cites with all utilities in up to the property line and streets constructed prior to any sale, its proximity to the Illinois superhighway system and its Chicago-based truck and rail freight rates.

Cooperating brokers for the real estate transaction were Ralph Gerstenfeld of Kenroy Realty and Howard G. Frafsur of Bennett & Kahnweiler, developer of the 2,000-acre industrial park. (BB

Electronics Firm Leases New Plan

S. Himmelstein and Company has consummated a major expansion with greater emphasis on manufacturing through acquisition of a new plant in Centex Industrial Park adjacent to O'Hare International Airport.

Sidney Himmelstein, president of the firm, said a 7,600-square-foot building has been leased from Allen Aircraft Radio Inc. which built another new building in the Park.

Located at 2500 Estes Ave., Elk Grove Village, the new Himmelstein facility gives the firm nearly four times as much space as it formerly occupied at 6015 N. Ridge Avenue, Chicago.

The firm specializes in the research, development and manufacture of such electronic equipment as magnetic tape recorders for scientific and industrial use and multi-channel rotary transformers which replace slip rings on antennas, recorders and instrumentation test equipment.

Himmelstein explained that the move to the nation's fastest growing industrial park was designed to provide his nationwide firm with expanded facilities which will permit it to place greater emphasis on manufacturing in order to meet a growing demand for the products the firm develops. (BB

The Law Serves You

A Public Service of the
ILLINOIS STATE BAR ASSOCIATION

Do you stand to lose your house if you fall behind in your mortgage payments?

Not necessarily. Your bank or other mortgagor may bring foreclosure proceedings because of your non-payment, and your house and lot may be sold at public auction to satisfy the debt, but Illinois law bestows upon you the right to recover your property within a limited time.

Foreclosure itself isn't automatic even if you fall behind in your payments. The mortgage lender must go to court to obtain a judgment, in which case you would be notified and have an opportunity to defend yourself. Often, the court and the lender will be lenient if you give promise of meeting your obligations.

HOWEVER, it is your lender's right in case of default to treat the entire balance of your loan as due. And the court may direct that the house and lot be sold by an officer of the court at a public sale, and that your debt be paid from the proceeds of the sale.

If the sale does not bring enough money to pay off the balance of the mortgage, plus court costs, a judgment may be entered against you for the deficiency. If there is excess money, it is paid to you.

But this is not the conclusion of the matter. Illinois law provides that if a mortgage is foreclosed and a sale is held by the Court, you still may redeem the property at any time within one year. To redeem, you must pay the person who purchased the property at the sale the full amount of his purchase plus interest at 6 per cent.

Miller Builders Buys Skokie Site

Miller Builders, Inc., has just concluded negotiations for the purchase of the 18 acres of land at the southeast corner of Cicero Avenue and Simpson Street (Golf Road) in Skokie, it was announced today by Albert J. Miller, president.

With extended frontage on Cicero and on Simpson, the property represents a prime traffic and business location, diagonally opposite the Old Orchard Shopping Center and close to many of Skokie's business and entertainment activities. The corner is now occupied by a Henry's Drive-In unit of the national franchise chain which is adjoined to the east by a kiddine amusement park, and other enterprizes. The development is expected to be around $12 to $15 million when completed.

CONTEMPLATED for the site is a large hotel, modern office buildings and select commercial facilities. Preliminary plans are being prepared now, ready for early submission to the village of Skokie. Miller Builders, Inc., has created many new suburban living areas, industrial parks and commercial facilities in many north, northwest and west ern suburbs. Currently there are two developments in Arlington Heights, Greenbrier and Surrey Ridge. (RE

Mrs. Swaby has been a resident of Arlington Heights for 17 years and will specialize in residential sales from the firm's south office at 535 S. Arlington Heights Road.

Mrs. Swaby has been active in PTA affairs, serving on the PTA board and council. She has also been active in Girl Scout work and the Arlington Heights Woman's Club.

Her husband, C. W. Swaby, is vice president of Garvey Grain, Inc., and manages the Illinois branch at the Board of Trade in Chicago.

The Swabys have three children: Bill at the University of Wyoming, Mary at Iowa State University, and Allan, a senior at Arlington High School. They are members of the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights.

MRS. SWABY is versed in residential real estate in the northwest suburban area and has several years experience in sales, construction and management. Her appointment to Arlington Realty gives the firm 15 full-time, licensed real estate sales people.

Arlington Realty's second sales office is at 550 W. Northwest Highway. The firm is a charter member of MAP multiple listing service and belongs to the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors. They are the exclusive representatives in the area for HOMERICA, the nation's oldest and largest home referral service, serving all major cities from coast to coast. (RE

Electronics Firm Leases New Plan

S. Himmelstein and Company has consummated a major expansion with greater emphasis on manufacturing through acquisition of a new plant in Centex Industrial Park adjacent to O'Hare International Airport.

Sidney Himmelstein, president of the firm, said a 7,600-square-foot building has been leased from Allen Aircraft Radio Inc. which built another new building in the Park.

Located at 2500 Estes Ave., Elk Grove Village, the new Himmelstein facility gives the firm nearly four times as much space as it formerly occupied at 6015 N. Ridge Avenue, Chicago.

The firm specializes in the research, development and manufacture of such electronic equipment as magnetic tape recorders for scientific and industrial use and multi-channel rotary transformers which replace slip rings on antennas, recorders and instrumentation test equipment.

Himmelstein explained that the move to the nation's fastest growing industrial park was designed to provide his nationwide firm with expanded facilities which will permit it to place greater emphasis on manufacturing in order to meet a growing demand for the products the firm develops. (BB

The Law Serves You

A Public Service of the
ILLINOIS STATE BAR ASSOCIATION

Do you stand to lose your house if you fall behind in your mortgage payments?

Not necessarily. Your bank or other mortgagor may bring foreclosure proceedings because of your non-payment, and your house and lot may be sold at public auction to satisfy the debt, but Illinois law bestows upon you the right to recover your property within a limited time.

Foreclosure itself isn't automatic even if you fall behind in your payments. The mortgage lender must go to court to obtain a judgment, in which case you would be notified and have an opportunity to defend yourself. Often, the court and the lender will be lenient if you give promise of meeting your obligations.

HOWEVER, it is your lender's right in case of default to treat the entire balance of your loan as due. And the court may direct that the house and lot be sold by an officer of the court at a public sale, and that your debt be paid from the proceeds of the sale.

If the sale does not bring enough money to pay off the balance of the mortgage, plus court costs, a judgment may be entered against you for the deficiency. If there is excess money, it is paid to you.

But this is not the conclusion of the matter. Illinois law provides that if a mortgage is foreclosed and a sale is held by the Court, you still may redeem the property at any time within one year. To redeem, you must pay the person who purchased the property at the sale the full amount of his purchase plus interest at 6 per cent.

Morarity Wins $150 Scholarship

William Morarity, supervisor of ramp services for American Airlines at O'Hare Airport, was recipient of a $150 scholarship recipient of a $150 scholarship.

Morarity, of 581 Gilbert, Wood Dale, was awarded the scholarship on the basis of a report submitted by management supervisors. (BB

Miller Builders Buys Skokie Site

Miller Builders, Inc., has just concluded negotiations for the purchase of the 18 acres of land at the southeast corner of Cicero Avenue and Simpson Street (Golf Road) in Skokie, it was announced today by Albert J. Miller, president.

With extended frontage on Cicero and on Simpson, the property represents a prime traffic and business location, diagonally opposite the Old Orchard Shopping Center and close to many of Skokie's business and entertainment activities. The corner is now occupied by a Henry's Drive-In unit of the national franchise chain which is adjoined to the east by a kiddine amusement park, and other enterprizes. The development is expected to be around $12 to $15 million when completed.

CONTEMPLATED for the site is a large hotel, modern office buildings and select commercial facilities. Preliminary plans are being prepared now, ready for early submission to the village of Skokie. Miller Builders, Inc., has created many new suburban living areas, industrial parks and commercial facilities in many north, northwest and west ern suburbs. Currently there are two developments in Arlington Heights, Greenbrier and Surrey Ridge. (RE

PUD Concept Called 'Shape of the Future'

"This used to be farmland a few years ago. . .and not very good farmland at that. This was right in the middle of a developed area — houses all around. . .and had a nice, new high school right across the street. And no one knew how to utilize the land until PUD came along. Now look at it."

The speaker was Fred Peterman, director of sales for United Development Co. of Chicago. And, in place of that farmland of which he spoke, Peterman stood in the midst of the rising, thriving new subdivision of Regent Park, an area in Arlington Heights developed through the "PUD" concept of his company.

As he spoke of what "PUD" had done, Peterman pointed to the development's combination of single-family homes, town- and country houses, and condominiums, all pleasantly blended through attractive landscaping and grouped around the region's own seven-acre springfed lake.

THIS — REGENT PARK — stands as an example of what "PUD" is all about. While not the original in this concept of community development, Regent Park, nonetheless, appears to be the standard for the shape of communities of the futures.

But, what is "PUD?" What is there about it that differentiates it from other community development idea?

SIMPLY DEFINED, "PUD" is a planned unit development involving smaller building sites with common green areas, either publicly or privately owned. Its essential feature devotes the area to the exclusive and private use of the resident. Regent Park's plan devotes smaller lots to the town-and-garden homes and the common area, consisting of the lake, swimming pool and tennis courts, are shared by town-and-garden and condominium home-owners.

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS

Real Estate Section

Deeply entrenched in environmental planning, "PUD" provides an esthetic improvement for the overall betterment of a community's appearance. The heart of the "PUD" idea is to offer residents the opportunity to own and enjoy facilities in common — such as a lake, pool or clubhouse — things which they could rarely afford as individuals.

While the planned unit development is relatively new to the Chicago area, it is one which developers look on as "the future" of their trade. Peterman contends that "ultimately, PUD is the direction community planning will take. There will be a break away from grid street planning to — and perhaps even a step beyond — the planned unit development."

The village recognized that the site where Regent Park now stands was 45-acres of wasted land sitting in the center of a developed area. Its lake restricted the use of the property, making costs of erecting single-family homes so prohibitive no builder could afford to take a chance developing the area.

H. C. BEST, director of building and zoning in Arlington Heights, called the project "about as nice a development should be further developed here. Of course, though, I don't think we'll ever get another one to equal this."

Best notes that the Regent Park project "took advantage of property that couldn't have been used in any other way. The developer made good use of the contours of the land and its natural attribute — the lake. This entire project has not only added an esthetic value to this area but has meant more dollars and cents to the village."

Best, who has been with the village of Arlington Heights for 10 years — about six of which have been in the building department — says Regent Park represents "good, conscientious, honest planning. It is planning for the future, not just the present.

"ALL WE ASK of a developer when he comes here," said Best, "is to give us a good, solid plan. That's what we got in Regent Park." (RE

Flick-Reedy Shows Automation Exhibit

"What Makes America Great," a traveling educational exhibit on display at Flick-Reedy Corp., Bensenville, presents the story of automation—what it is, what it does and wha it affects.

This outstanding exhibit is timely because it explains the fundamentals of how we live. It explains these fundamentals in a way that people can understand and apply their daily activities as students or workers, owners or renters, buyers or consumers. The lesson people learn from "What Makes America Great" are the factors in modernization and automation that act as guidelines to job education, employment security, investment profitability, manufacturing productivity and the price of goods and services.

"What Makes America Great" signals the fact that there is nothing to fear from automation, but the lack of it. Only by modernizing and employing technological improvements for greater productivity can our growing population be sustained with the highest standard of living and the world.

This is the fifth educational exhibit created by Leighton A. Wilkie, board chairman of the DoAll Company as a public service. All have been highly acclaimed, because of the interest and knowledge conveyed.

Frank Flick, president of Flick-Reedy Corp., said "We are more than pleased to cooperate with the DoAll Co. in providing the widest possible audience for their extremely educational efforts in telling the story of automation. Every American should see this exhibit." (BB

A fascinating new column, "The World of Real Estate," will appear in Paddock Publications beginning next week. It will be written by famed Realtor Howard L. Shonting, backed by a staff of experts in every aspect of this stimulating subject.

In addition, readers will be invited to send their questions concerning real estate to Mr. Shonting for professional opinion, by mail.

"The World of Real Estate" will discuss and explain every aspect of real estate, in non-technical language. One column may deal with mortgage financing, the next with architecture, the next with ways to find your dream house, the next on how to employ a Realtor to sell your house or find you one, real estate investing, on buying acreage, finding an apartment, or finding a retirement home. The columns will not only amuse and entertain you, but will educate and save you money.

Howard L. Shonting, the column's creator, could perhaps better be described as a tall distinguished fire-cracker than as a Realtor. When he isn't involved with real estate he can be found working at his hobby—giving magic shows of professional calibre, making bird cages vanish and cards materialize from thin air, for audiences of children and adults. On the other hand, as a Colonel in the USAF Reserves he might be discovered in his capacity as Liaison Officer, counseling students for the United States Air Force Academy.

Any listing of Mr. Shonting's real estate credits and activities would overflow these pages. For example, he is an instructor in real estate at the well known Pohs Real Estate Institute in New York City. He is the Executive Assistant to the President of the Real Estate Board of New York, Inc., a member of numerous real estate societies, clubs and councils including the New York Society of Real Estate Appraisers, the National Institute of Real Estate Brokers, the International Real Estate Federation. He is also President of the Real Estate Research Institute.

Astonishingly enough, Mr. Shonting still finds time to be a licensee real estate broker in New York and Connecticut. How? He's a magician, as reported previously! Watch what he tells you in the magic world of real estate, beginning next week.

Can You Give A Successful Party?

By Jane Sherrod Singer, M. A., University of California

Former U. S. Ambassador to Luxembourg, Perle Mesta, known as the "hostess with the mostest" on two continents, says that the one ingredient basic to successful entertaining is a sincere interest in people.

"Anyone who doesn't like people can't really be a good host - - or hostess." In addition, however, she has a number of more specific hints. How would you answer these questions?

	YES	NO
1. Children should be included in the guest list for evening dinners.	( )	( )
2. Your guests should be selected from the same occupations, professions or at least have many interests in common.	( )	( )
3. If you forget a name, honestly admit it.	( )	( )
4. At a sit-down-dinner it is permissible to leave your guests at the table while you prepare the last minute details.	( )	( )
5. As a host or hostess, wisdom lies in being conservatively dressed.	( )	( )
6. If an unpleasant subject comes up, quickly change the topic.	( )	( )
7. The same kinds of foods should be served at a buffet dinner as at a sit-down dinner party.	( )	( )
8. As a host or hostess you should spend most of your time with your shy guests.	( )	( )
9. Your guests should be urged into joining planned activities after dinner.	( )	( )
10. The best parties just happen spontaneously.	( )	( )
11. The more your party shows the "personal touch" of your own planning, cooking, etc., the more successful it is likely to be.	( )	( )
	( )	( )

PERLE MESTA'S ANSWERS:

1. No. "Not until your children are over 18 and adult in their behavior should they be privileged to be guests."
2. No. "A cross-section of guests is much more interesting. People in different occupations are more curious about each other - - - ."
3. No. "The name comes back if you talk for a little while. But any trick is better than letting a person think you have forgotten his or her name."
4. No. "Everything should be cooked in advance. Guests would rather have something simple and have their hostess with them than to have something time-consuming which deprives them of her company."
5. Yes. "Always let your guests' gowns outshine yours."
6. Yes. "Never make a reference or argue with an embarrassing statement. Change the subject - - abruptly if necessary."
7. No. A buffet table should include only foods which can be easily eaten without cutting. "One of my favorites for buffets is Chicken a la King, hot peas and fruit salad. I also like to build a supper around a casserole of baked beans which most people enjoy."
8. No. "A good hostess enjoys her own party and does not spend all her time hovering over her guests. I meet my guests, make sure they know everybody and then enjoy my own party."
9. No. "I never force quests to participate in doing anything, but I always have music as background for my parties. Charades are fun. Some may prefer cards. Unrelieved conversation can be wearing."
10. No. "Chance is rarely on your side. Plan your guest list - - plan the type of party and the menu well in advance. Write things down."
11. No. "I think home is the best place for parties, but more and more it's proper to entertain in clubs and restaurants. Even at home, the tremendous growth of catering services makes it easier for hostesses to lean on expert services - - if there is one thing a party doesn't need it's a nervous, tired hostess."

MAJ. THOMAS F. BURKE is shown being promoted to his present rank. He is supply officer of the 2nd Battalion, 24th Marines, USMCR, Chicago. After promoted by the commanding officer, Lt. Col. Jack M. Frisbie (right) the major's wife, Joyce, proudly pins on his new rank insignia. Also assisting is the Burkes' 4-year-old son, Tommy. The Burkes reside at 1721 Lilac Terrace in Arlington Heights. Major Burke is presently employed by the Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Co. as an assistant manager.

Lessons in English

Do not say, "I must first eat dinner before I go." "First" is redundant, and should be omitted.

OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED

Speak of a "Scotsman," not a "Scotchman." "Scotchman" is obsolescent, and the Scottish people prefer the form "Scotsman."

Servile. Pronounce last syllable as "vill," not as "vile."

Schism (division or separation). Pronounce sizz'm.

Orion (constellation). Pronounce oh-righ-un, accent on second syllable.

Abstractly. Accent FIRST syllable, not the second.

Sahib (form of address used in India for Europeans). Pronounce saw-ibb, acent first syllable.

OFTEN MISSPELLED

Marshal (an officer), only one "l"; marshall (the Pacific islands); two "l's"; martial (warlike). Jointer (machine for making joints); jointure (woman's estate). Barricade, two "r's"; baritone, only one "r." Loath (adjective, meaning slow, reluctant, indisposed); loathe (verb, meaning to hate). Irascible, only one "r"; irrational, two "r's." Pistil (flower part); pistol (firearm).

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

INADVERTENT; not turning the mind to a matter; heedless. "An inadvertent step is often the cause of disaster."

CONVERSE (adjective); turned about; opposite or contrary in direction or action. (Accent second syllable). "Converse statements by the witnesses delayed the trial."

IMPASSE; a position from which there is no escape; deadlock; blind alley. (Pronounce im-pass, accent second syllable). "The negotiations between the two countries have reached an impasse."

DISSEMINATE; to spread abroad. (Accent second syllable). "His words were disseminated throughout the community."

REPREHEND; to reprove or find fault with; rebuke; censure; blame. "The hypercritical woman was prone to reprehend on the slightest provocation."

IRREFUTABLE; incapable of being disproved; indisputable. (Accent second syllable). "These figures are irrefutable."

OFTEN MISUSED

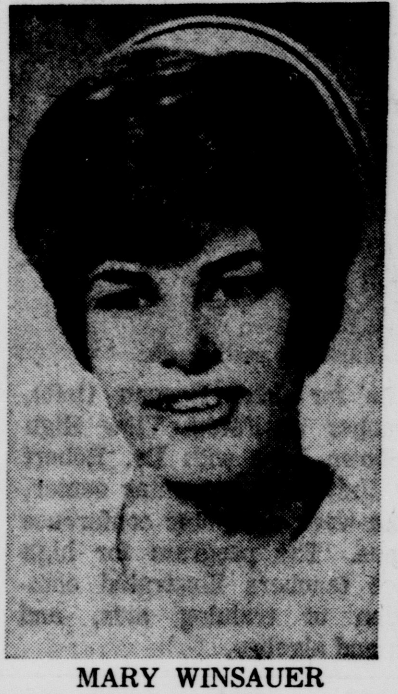
Do not say, "He is different than his brother in that respect." Say, "different FROM his brother."

The distinction between the words CATALOGUE and CATEGORY is that a "catalogue" is a list arranged according to some scheme, whereas a "category" is a CLASS of things."

At St. Therese

Mary Louis Winsauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Winsauer, 3 N. Maple St., Mount Prospect; Rita Maria Bandaccari, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bandaccari, 68 Patricia Lane, Prospect Heights, and Catherine Tribbey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Tribbey, 721 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, received their diplomas in nursing education from St. Therese Hospital School of Nursing in Waukegan recently.

After receiving the diplomas and reciting the Florence Nightingale Nurses' pledge, a commencement Mass was celebrated by the chaplain of the hospital.



MARY WINSAUER

Miss Winsauer will reside in South Carolina following her marriage to Larry Shelton.

Miss Bandaccari was class treasurer in her junior year, class disciplinarian in her senior year, C.S.N.C. representative during her freshman year and sang in the XET honor choir all three years. She will work at Holy Family Hospital in Des Plaines.

Miss Tribbey was class vice-president during her junior year and belonged to the XET honor choir. She plans to work at Northwest Community Hospital.

All were graduated from St. Patrick Academy in Des Plaines. (10CC

Ever notice how when products compete with each other, they get better.

THE $25,900 SOUTHWICK model in northwest suburban Timbercrest has four bedrooms, three (one full, two half) baths, an attached garage and a finished family room. The four-level home looks deceptively ranch-like from the curb. (RE

Eight-Room Multi-level Sells Big in Timbercrest

A home that looks like a ranch from the curb yet has eight rooms on four different levels has been one of the most popular sellers in northwest suburban Timbercrest.

"The price has been quite a factor in the demand for the Southwick model, too," said Irv Miller of Mor-Well General Contractors, Timbercrest's developers. The four bedroom, three (one full, two half) bath multi-level is tagged at $25,900 including an attached garage and a finished 26-foot family room. The 70-foot lot, fully improved with all utilities underground, is also included in the price.

The only room on the Southwick's entry level is a large entry foyer which overlooks the sunken living room, two steps below. A pair of stairways at the rear of the entry hall lead down five steps to the ground level and up eight risers to the bedroom level.

The ground level contains the garage, the kitchen, dining area, powder room and paneled family room, which has sliding glass patio doors.

All four bedrooms are on the upper level along with a full bath and a private half-bath off the master bedroom. Both are ceramic tiled and feature built-in vanities with long, cultured marble tops. A wrought iron railed balcony overlooks the entry foyer from the upstairs hall.

Miller said the fact that the Southwick's garage is not directly beneath its bedrooms has been an important selling point to some families.

Other furnished model homes in Timbercrest include a three bedroom, 1½ bath multi-level with family room and garage for $27,900; a three bedroom, 1½ bath split-level with family room and garage for $24,950; a three bedroom, 1½ bath bi-level with family room and garage for $24,200 and a four bedroom, two bath tri-level with family room and garage for $26,500.

The models have easy up-keep exteriors of face brick, rough-sawn cedar and aluminum siding. Timbercrest is located on Schaumburg Road one mile west of Roselle Road. The furnished models are open daily and Sunday from 10 a.m. to dark. (RE

Cambridge's Contemporary Home Sales Reported Brisk

"Contrary to the popular belief that only contemporary homes will sell in the medium price range, traditional homes at Cambridge have sold at a very brisk pace in the short time since their introduction," according to Richard J. Brown. "During the 90 days prior to our premiere showing," said Brown, builder of Cambridge, "we have sold over $2 million worth of traditional homes.

"We were faced with a rather knotty problem," continued Brown. "Most people who saw our homes during the preview were quite intrigued with our floor plans. Since we are building a customized community, in order to diversify the appearance and profile of the homes situated in any one block, we decided to offer a very wide range of traditional exteriors.

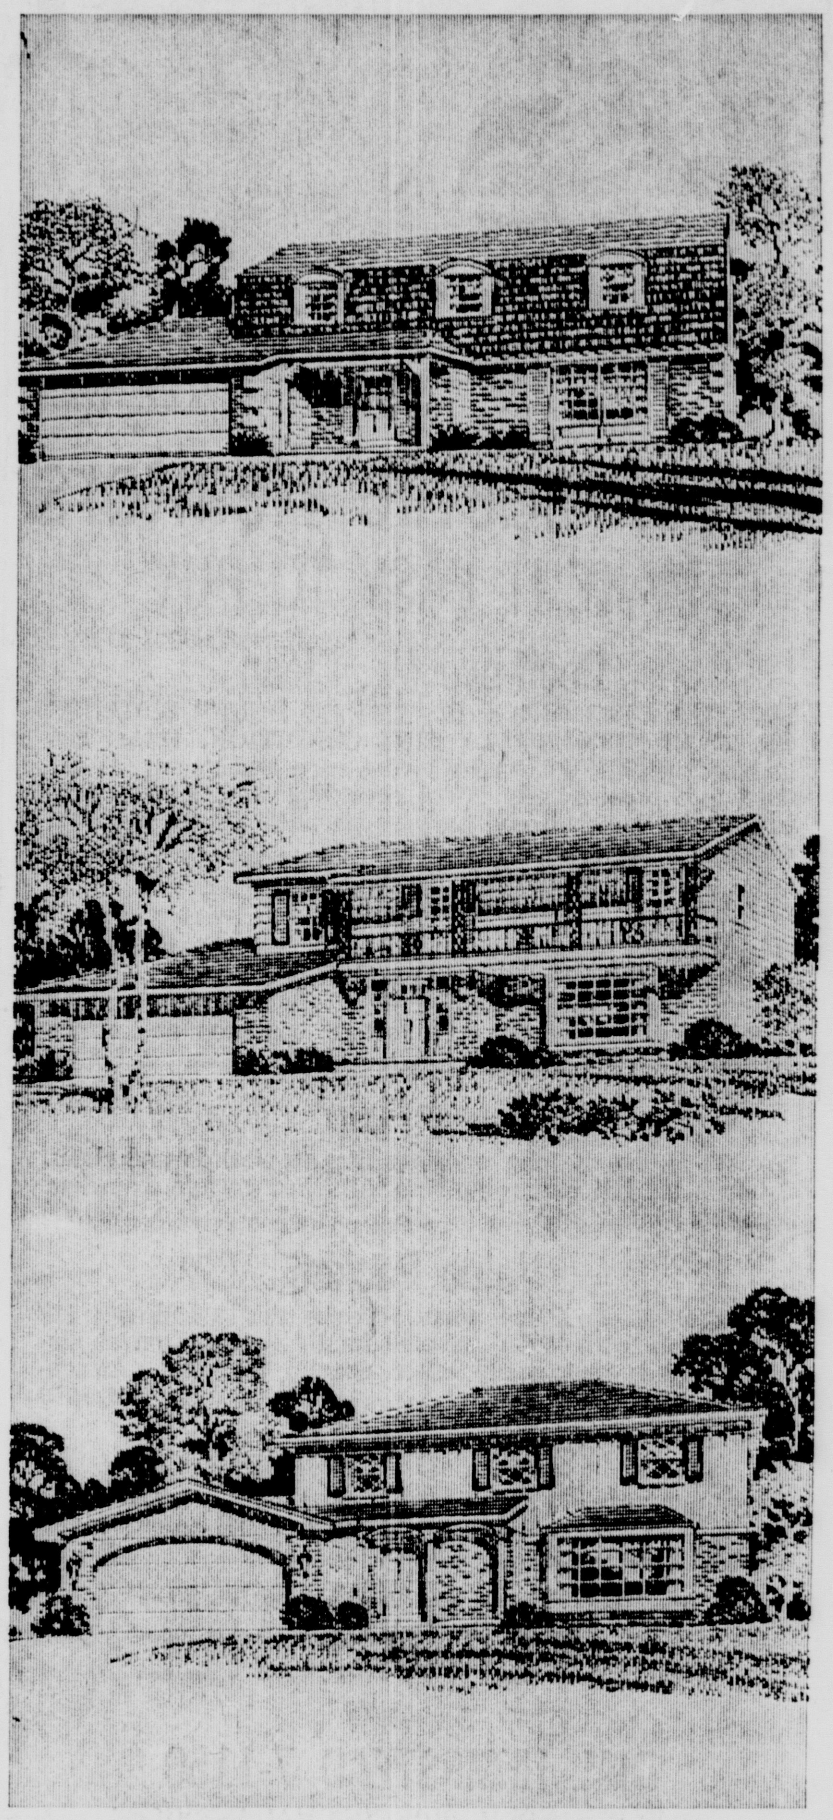
"The York model," Brown stated, "is an excellent example. It is available with 4, 5 or 6 bedrooms, and with six different, traditional styles—English Countryside, American Heritage, New Orleans Colonial, New England Colonial, French Provincial and Early American. Some of the designs will be standard, and some will be reversed, giving each buyer a choice of more than a dozen variations of this one particular design."

BROWN does not attribute the public acceptance of Cambridge to only the offering of traditional design in the $25,000 to $31,000 price range, even though such design is not usually expected at this level.

"Purchasers to date," Brown indicated, "have shown considerable interest in the fact that Cambridge homes are carpenter-built, and that changes can be made to suit their particular requirements. The little extra touches have caused quite a bit of comment too — laundry chutes, broom closets, pantries and other things that women don't expect to find in homes in the moderate price range. And, of course, few men object to being across the road from the 18-hold golf course at beautiful Arlington Country Club."

Cambridge, located on the site of a nursery which it owns, provides planned landscaping which minimizes yard work during the first year of residence. It includes grading, seeding and fertilizing the lawn, front and back, planting shrubs and trees from its own stock, fertilizing and keeping them properly trimmed. This allows the family to enjoy the golf course, the country atmosphere, and other recreational facilities in the area.

CAMBRIDGE is located on Dundee Road (Route 68), between Elmhurst Road (Route 83) and Arlington Heights Road.



THE YORK, being shown at Cambridge is available with six different traditional exterior designs, of which three are shown. The same floor plan is used for the different versions. The York is priced at $30,950.

Eight-Room Multi-level Sells Big in Timbercrest

A home that looks like a ranch from the curb yet has eight rooms on four different levels has been one of the most popular sellers in northwest suburban Timbercrest.

"The price has been quite a factor in the demand for the Southwick model, too," said Irv Miller of Mor-Well General Contractors, Timbercrest's developers. The four bedroom, three (one full, two half) bath multi-level is tagged at $25,900 including an attached garage and a finished 26-foot family room. The 70-foot lot, fully improved with all utilities underground, is also included in the price.

The only room on the Southwick's entry level is a large entry foyer which overlooks the sunken living room, two steps below. A pair of stairways at the rear of the entry hall lead down five steps to the ground level and up eight risers to the bedroom level.

The ground level contains the garage, the kitchen, dining area, powder room and paneled family room, which has sliding glass patio doors.

All four bedrooms are on the upper level along with a full bath and a private half-bath off the master bedroom. Both are ceramic tiled and feature built-in vanities with long, cultured marble tops. A wrought iron railed balcony overlooks the entry foyer from the upstairs hall.

Miller said the fact that the Southwick's garage is not directly beneath its bedrooms has been an important selling point to some families.

Other furnished model homes in Timbercrest include a three bedroom, 1½ bath multi-level with family room and garage for $27,900; a three bedroom, 1½ bath split-level with family room and garage for $24,950; a three bedroom, 1½ bath bi-level with family room and garage for $24,200 and a four bedroom, two bath tri-level with family room and garage for $26,500.

The models have easy up-keep exteriors of face brick, rough-sawn cedar and aluminum siding. Timbercrest is located on Schaumburg Road one mile west of Roselle Road. The furnished models are open daily and Sunday from 10 a.m. to dark. (RE

"Contrary to the popular belief that only contemporary homes will sell in the medium price range, traditional homes at Cambridge have sold at a very brisk pace in the short time since their introduction," according to Richard J. Brown. "During the 90 days prior to our premiere showing," said Brown, builder of Cambridge, "we have sold over $2 million worth of traditional homes.

"We were faced with a rather knotty problem," continued Brown. "Most people who saw our homes during the preview were quite intrigued with our floor plans. Since we are building a customized community, in order to diversify the appearance and profile of the homes situated in any one block, we decided to offer a very wide range of traditional exteriors.

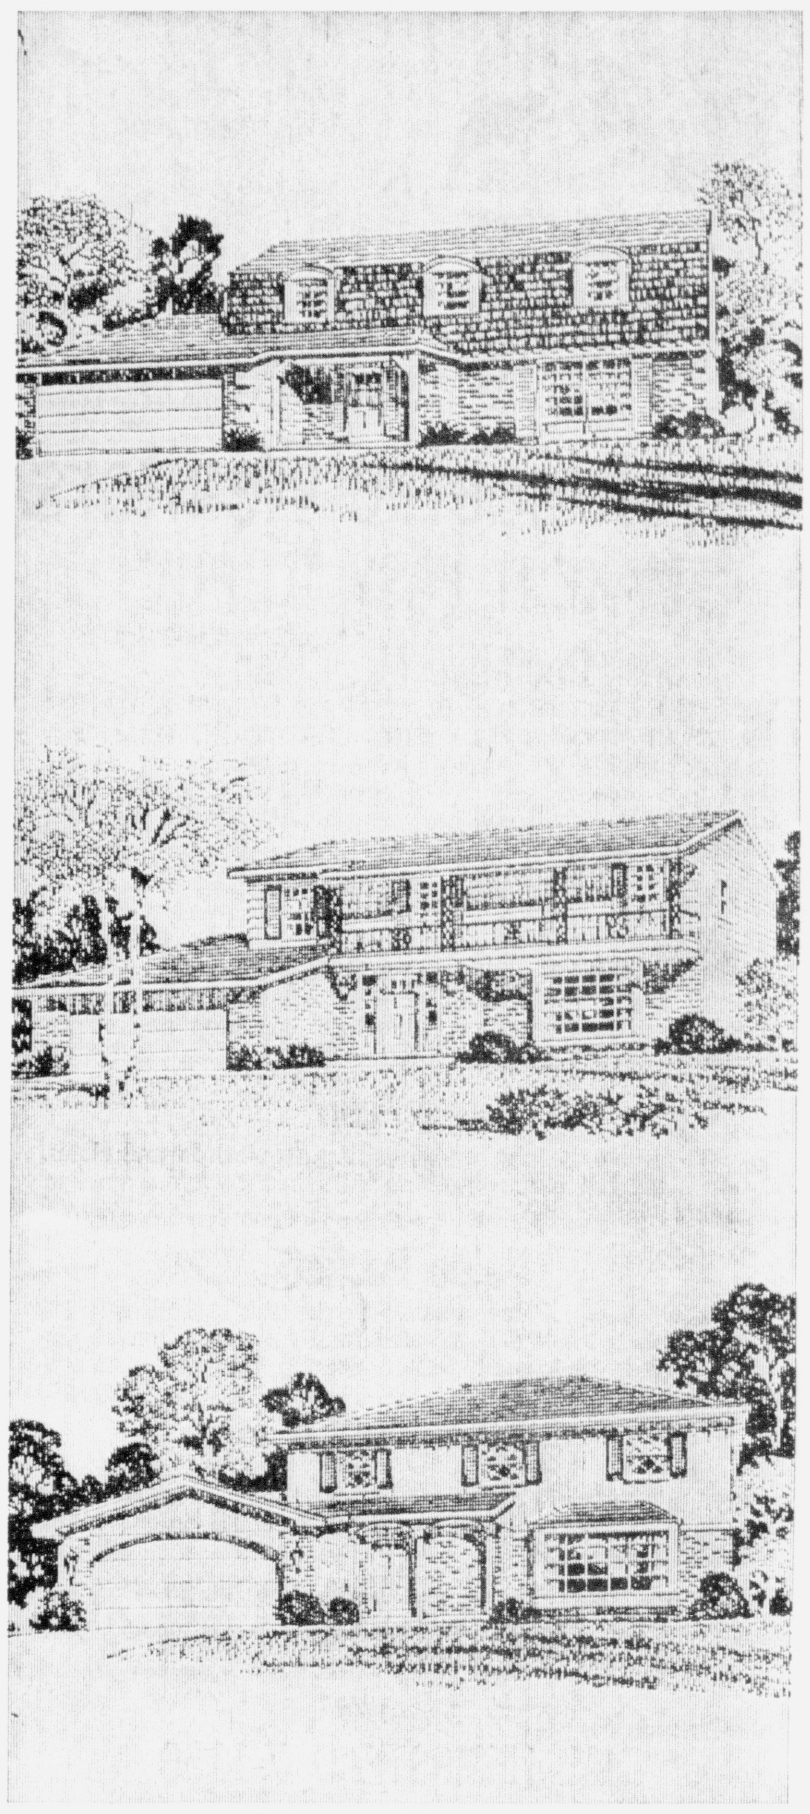
"The York model," Brown stated, "is an excellent example. It is available with 4, 5 or 6 bedrooms, and with six different, traditional styles—English Countryside, American Heritage, New Orleans Colonial, New England Colonial, French Provincial and Early American. Some of the designs will be standard, and some will be reversed, giving each buyer a choice of more than a dozen variations of this one particular design."

BROWN does not attribute the public acceptance of Cambridge to only the offering of traditional design in the $25,000 to $31,000 price range, even though such design is not usually expected at this level.

"Purchasers to date," Brown indicated, "have shown considerable interest in the fact that Cambridge homes are carpenter-built, and that changes can be made to suit their particular requirements. The little extra touches have caused quite a bit of comment too — laundry chutes, broom closets, pantries and other things that women don't expect to find in homes in the moderate price range. And, of course, few men object to being across the road from the 18-hold golf course at beautiful Arlington Country Club."

Cambridge, located on the site of a nursery which it owns, provides planned landscaping which minimizes yard work during the first year of residence. It includes grading, seeding and fertilizing the lawn, front and back, planting shrubs and trees from its own stock, fertilizing and keeping them properly trimmed. This allows the family to enjoy the golf course, the country atmosphere, and other recreational facilities in the area.

CAMBRIDGE is located on Dundee Road (Route 68), between Elmhurst Road (Route 83) and Arlington Heights Road.



THE YORK, being shown at Cambridge is available with six different traditional exterior designs, of which three are shown. The same floor plan is used for the different versions. The York is priced at $30,950.

Here's Suggestion For Adding Space

Looking for a way to ease the bathroom traffic jam at your house? If you have one of those big old-fashioned bathrooms, try compartmentizing it, the formation. Bureau advises. Sometimes the room is big enough to be divided into two full bathrooms. If it isn't, then put the water closet on one side of a partition, and the tub and lavatory on the other. Sometimes there's room on the water closet side for a shower enclosure.

Another way to increase the efficiency of an existing bathroom is to replace an old-fashioned lavatory with a twin-bowl countertop type that enables two people to groom at the same time.

MANY OLDER homes have lots of waste space that's plenty big enough for the installation of a full bathroom or a downstairs powder or mud room. Closets, hall nooks, stair wells and pantries all lend themselves to this type of conversion. The attic or basement of your home are other likely places, and you can usually locate your new facility near existing water pipes.

Regardless of the type of additional bathroom facilities you decide upon, it will pay you to buy top-quality products. They cost surprisingly little more than the cheaper kind, and are quieter, easier to keep clean and retain their luster longer.

Arboretum Shrubs Provide Showplace

Salt on the table may be insignificant, but it's the basis for the Chicago Morton Salt family fortune. On this fortune in turn is based the world famous Morton Arboretum at Lisle.

This September the Arboretum takes a big step when it appoints Dr. Marion Hall the second director in its history. Clarence Godshalk the present director is retiring after 45 years of service.

It was under Godshalk that the Arboretum grew from a rolling piece of farm land to its present collection of 4,800 species, varieties and hybrids of woody plants.

SPECIAL FEATURES of the collection include the largest hedge demonstration planting in the nation. This collection is of special use to nurserymen, landscapers, and gardeners in the midwest. A careful study of the planting reveals those plants that are especially adaptable as hedging in this area. Rather than being restricted to only yew and privit a gardener can choose from dozens of possibilities. Those plants that are less suited for hedging are also included in the collection. This enables the horticulturist to discriminate between the good and the very best in the 195 plant collection.

The Morton Arboretum is also helpful to horticulturists seeking groundcover substitutes for grass. The big three groundcovers in this area are thorndale ivy, myrtle and pachysandra. The groundcover collection however, exhibits such shade loving plants as carpet bugle and epimedium. For sun a variety of sedums plus many other plants are featured.

Lilacs are one of the best flowering shrubs for this area. An extensive collection is located at the Arboretum. Unfortunately most of this year's mid-May bloom was killed by the late frost. The Arboretum collection plus those in a nearby Lombard park make this the lilac capital of the mid-west.

OF SPECIAL interest is the crabapple collection. Here one may determine the size, shape and vigor of a particular variety of crabapple at various stages in its life. As shown in the collection, a crab apple may be quite upright and compact during its first 10 years but become rangy and spreading during later life.

Dr. Hall, the new director, comes to the Arboretum from the University of Oklahoma. His teaching included genetics, cytology, ecology and conservation. His research was devoted to the juniper and pine families.

The Morton Arboretum is located on route 53 just south of Lombard. (O

Here's Suggestion For Adding Space

Looking for a way to ease the bathroom traffic jam at your house? If you have one of those big old-fashioned bathrooms, try compartmentizing it, the formation Bureau advises. Sometimes the room is big enough to be divided into two full bathrooms. If it isn't, then put the water closet on one side of a partition, and the tub and lavatory on the other. Sometimes there's room on the water closet side for a shower enclosure.

Another way to increase the efficiency of an existing bathroom is to replace an old-fashioned lavatory with a twin-bowl countertop type that enables two people to groom at the same time.

MANY OLDER homes have lots of waste space that's plenty big enough for the installation of a full bathroom or a downstairs powder or mud room. Closets, hall nooks, stair wells and pantries all lend themselves to this type of conversion. The attic or basement of your home are other likely places, and you can usually locate your new facility near existing water pipes.

Regardless of the type of additional bathroom facilities you decide upon, it will pay you to buy top-quality products. They cost surprisingly little more than the cheaper kind, and are quieter, easier to keep clean and retain their luster longer.

Arboretum Shrubs Provide Showplace

Salt on the table may be insignificant, but it's the basis for the Chicago Morton Salt family fortune. On this fortune in turn is based the world famous Morton Arboretum at Lisle.

This September the Arboretum takes a big step when it appoints Dr. Marion Hall the second director in its history. Clarence Godshalk the present director is retiring after 45 years of service.

It was under Godshalk that the Arboretum grew from a rolling piece of farm land to its present collection of 4,800 species, varieties and hybrids of woody plants.

SPECIAL FEATURES of the collection include the largest hedge demonstration planting in the nation. This collection is of special use to nurserymen, landscapers, and gardeners in the midwest. A careful study of the planting reveals those plants that are especially adaptable as hedging in this area. Rather than being restricted to only yew and privit a gardener can choose from dozens of possibilities. Those plants that are less suited for hedging are also included in the collection. This enables the horticulturist to discriminate between the good and the very best in the 195 plant collection.

The Morton Arboretum is also helpful to horticulturists seeking groundcover substitutes for grass. The big three groundcovers in this area are thorndale ivy, myrtle and pachysandra. The groundcover collection however, exhibits such shade loving plants as carpet bugle and epimedium. For sun a variety of sedums plus many other plants are featured.

Lilacs are one of the best flowering shrubs for this area. An extensive collection is located at the Arboretum. Unfortunately most of this year's mid-May bloom was killed by the late frost. The Arboretum collection plus those in a nearby Lombard park make this the lilac capital of the mid-west.

OF SPECIAL interest is the crabapple collection. Here one may determine the size, shape and vigor of a particular variety of crabapple at various stages in its life. As shown in the collection, a crab apple may be quite upright and compact during its first 10 years but become rangy and spreading during later life.

Dr. Hall, the new director, comes to the Arboretum from the University of Oklahoma. His teaching included genetics, cytology, ecology and conservation. His research was devoted to the juniper and pine families.

The Morton Arboretum is located on route 53 just south of Lombard. (O

A Half-Century of Respected Service

The difference is people

A funeral home is more than a building — just as a home is more than a house. And the difference is in the people.
We are proud of the staff whose sympathetic service brings comfort and understanding to those who use our "home."

A MESSAGE TO CLASSIFIED USERS

Before you call an ad-visor to place your

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS AD

consider this:

You are about to invest money for an ad and you are entitled to get results. To accomplish this it is necessary for you to TELL ALL about the details of your offer. Be sure you don't make any of the following errors that prevent results:

1. DON'T OMIT THE ADDRESS

Many out-of-town readers will write you, but will not spend money for a long distance call.

2. DON'T OMIT THE PHONE NUMBER

Many readers will call you but do not find it convenient to come to your home.

3. DON'T USE BLIND BOX NUMBERS

Avoid them if at all possible. They are difficult to answer and many people are suspicious of them.

4. DON'T CONCEAL THE PRICE DESIRED

Surveys show that a high percentage of readers will not answer an ad unless the price is given.

5. DON'T LEAVE HOME ON THE DAYS YOU ADVERTISE

Many good prospects will not call the second time if your phone is unanswered.

6. DON'T OMIT IMPORTANT WORDS TO SAVE MONEY

Readers can't guess on important details. Remember, a well written informative ad will get results faster and amount to much less in the long run.

7. DON'T OVERLOOK OUR LOWER RATE FOR CONSECUTIVE INSERTIONS

You'll get the biggest parade of readers at the lowest price. Your Needs Satisfied thru Paddock Publications Classified.

Election Campaign Nears Final Phase

The 1966 election campaigns will move into their final and most vigorously contested phase shortly after Labor Day. In Illinois, a number of offices of varying importance will be filled.

One race has attracted international interest. It has a young, liberal Republican running against an aging, liberal Democrat for U. S. Senator. GOP candidate Charles H. Percy is expected to give veteran Sen. Paul H. Douglas a most difficult test.

One state race, on the other hand, has attracted little attention. One of the candidates has even been quoted as expecting the office to be dull; you may expect both candidates to be talking about other offices, other issues and other candidacies.

We hope northwest suburban voters will regard the period between Labor Day and the November 8 election as a time when they can look over each man, without regard to party affiliation, before making final choices. Voters should examine the quality of each man, his sincerity and the degree to which he has proven his ability to handle the job he seeks. They should demand that each candidate stick to the issues affecting his office, that he stick to the relevant points and avoid campaigning on issues over which he will have no influence if elected.

To help voters reach a decision in each of the major contests, Paddock Publications will provide the most extensive and carefully planned election coverage in its history.

We will carry news of the candidates and their campaigns, stressing as always the "suburban angle" you won't find outside the community press. We will ask candidates questions we feel you will want to have answered before making your decision. We will try to convey the character of each man, as we see it. And we will make recommendations in contests where we feel such will be of assistance to you.

Our most time-consuming effort along these lines will be the unique Paddock Publications staff interviews. In more than 20 offices where we feel a significant contest will occur, we have scheduled these interviews. The sessions allow our staff members to sit down informally with the candidates to discuss the campaign at length.

We feel these staff interviews, originally developed by Paddock Publications in 1960, have been worth the major investment of staff time they have required. We solicit your comments on our efforts as the campaign progresses and invite you to follow this election with us.

A Basic Necessity

Although park and recreational programs might be regarded as "frills" and "the last order of business" for residents of these fast-growing, tax conscious northwest suburbs, we have supported efforts to improve such facilities as enthusiastically as we have supported improvements in educational and municipal services. We have consistently encouraged voters to approve bond referenda to expand park and recreation facilities, even though such action meant increases in taxes.

We have done so with the attitude that programs which improve the community also improve the people of the community. Taxpayers on the whole have agreed with us.

Now there is evidence that parks are an asset to business as well as people. Robert O. Pohl, director of industrial development at the La-Salle National Bank, recently assured park directors of this. Quoting from Mr. Pohl's talk:

"Since thousands of communities are physically able to meet industry's physical demands, the final choice in many new locations is the livability of an area. One of industry's principal concerns is availability of high quality labor to operate its modern plants. Quality labor wants to live and work in a community which possess all the amenities of good living, parks, quality schools, cultural activities, etc.

"Many communities have an impression that they are ready for today's industrial moves. In many cases, they are not. A month's subscription to the local paper can prove this point. Local news stories will point out lack of planning, juvenile problems, lack of recreational activities, maybe a school or park bond voted down, low level political activity, etc.

"In their role, parks and recreation programs represent not a frill or luxury but a basic necessity to the future well-being of a community."

Still Awaiting Action

Emergency action is long overdue to ease serious traffic congestion on Irving Park Road.

To drive the eight miles of Irving Park Road between York Road in Bensenville and Bloomingdale Road in Roselle during the 5 to 6 p.m. rush hour takes 45 to 60 minutes—an average of 5 to 7 minutes per mile.

Employees leaving work late in the afternoon are anxious to get home. Not only are they attempting to do this on the direct route between Bensenville and Roselle, but they are also pouring out of side streets or turning onto Irving Park Road from major north-south thoroughfares. A 10-minute wait for a left-turn motorist at York Road or Route 53 is not uncommon.

These motorists are traveling through increasingly populated areas where students are returning home late from schools, housewives are hurrying to meet commuter husbands at depots, shops and service stations lining the route are busy with late-day trade.

For daytime and Sunday drivers, the road provides just as serious problems. Potholes, rutted shoulders, narrow lanes, sudden egress from roadside parking lots, and other distractions interfere with safe driving and slow the flow of traffic.

Traffic congestion leads to hazardous driving. Hazardous driving leads to accidents, vehicle damage, personal injuries, and sometimes death.

On July 16, 1964, a delegation of Bensenville business and civic leaders extracted a promise from the division of highways that a study of the situation would be made immediately.

Other villages, watching eagerly for signs of progress, grew despondent when Irving Park widening did not begin, as hoped, in 1965.

On Oct. 8, 1965, the state highway division district 1 office said: "The summer of 1966."

In the spring of 1966, the office said: "Probably in October."

The latest word from the state is: "The summer of 1967 at the latest."

We wonder what they'll be saying next summer.

NLRB Actions Need Balance

by ED MURNANE
Staff Writer

For as long as there will be employers and employes, there will also be labor unions to insure that the rights of the worker are not violated.

Through the use of a strike, the union is able to put the demands of the worker on the same table as the demands of the owners and president.

Usually a compromise is reached that is both agreeable and beneficial to both sides.

There is no doubt that labor unions are necessary in most cases. Management controls the money and the profits. It would not be hard for them to keep the profits and ignore the workers.

But as good as unions are, there are times when they can be a severe detriment to society and a well-meaning management.

ONE SUCH CASE is the airline strike. The union members rejected what everyone, from the White House down, thought would be an agreeable solution.

Another much less heralded case, on a more local level, is the pending decision against a firm in Addison.

The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) has found Newman-Green Inc., a leader in Addison's industrial district, guilty of violating certain sections of the National Labor Relations Act.

ON SEVERAL occasions, employes at Newman-Green voted against the establishing of a union. But they did indicate to management that they wanted some form of representation.

So they asked officials at Newman-Green, and were granted, the right to form grievance committees which would meet with management to iron out any problems which the workers had.

On several occasions, a secretary of the company recorded minutes of the committee meetings.

According to a NLRB trial examiner, this violates a clause in the Act that forbids management supporting or assisting employe activities.

ANOTHER violation charged to Newman-Green concerned employe insurance benefits which the company intended to sponsor.

The announcement that the company would pay the premium came shortly before there was to be another election to determine if employes wanted a union.

Because the election was near, the NLRB said Newman-Green planned the insurance benefits to dissuade employes from voting for the union. This was considered illegal.

THE COMPLAINT against Newman-Green was filed by a man who claimed he had been fired by the firm because of his union activities. But the day he was fired, he reportedly came to work intoxicated.

The decision of the trial examiner admitted that the man was intoxicated, and admitted that he had been intoxicated on several occasions, but still said that he was fired for his union activities.

The NLRB has severly damaged the reputation of a firm that tried to make conditions better for employes.

Most companies have some form of insurance benefits for employes. But because Newman-Green started such a program before an election, it was held illegal.

THE DANGER in allowing an employe to work while intoxicated is obvious, especially when the employe worked on a machine. But because he was a supporter of the union, it was considered illegal to release him, even when he was intoxicated in the eyes of the NLRB.

In most cases, labor unions are good. But when an employer is making a sincere effort to promote good relations between labor and management, a forced union can do nothing but harm.

For several years, I held a summer job in a General Motors factory, and was glad there was a union. Collective bargaining resulted in better wages, better working conditions and shorter hours.

BUT IT ALSO built a wall between the workers and the bosses. Foremen were not supposed to be friends with the workers. They were always on different sides of the fence.

The workers themselves found numerous ways to avoid work, because they had the protection of the union.

Such a state of affairs is necessary in most industries because either labor or management at some time tried to get away with something that they shouldn't have.

But in the rare cases when a union is not necessary, when management is willing to help employes without a union, the NLRB should be happy.

Newman-Green is such a case. The NLRB would be wise to disregard the decision of the trial examiner when the appeal comes before the entire board. (FP

'A Great Profession'

Sold and selling, that's Jim Warriner.

He's been sold on Arlington Heights as a first rate place to live ever since he moved here in 1957, and he's selling other people on the idea every day.

For him, participation in community affairs and "personalized" real estate service have gone hand in hand. His reputation as a Realtor has been complemented by his work in the local school system, the Chamber of Commerce, the Lions Club and the Metropolitan Crusade of Mercy.

JIM WARRINER

SITTING IN his warm, homelike office, the president of the Mount Prospect-Arlington Heights-Palatine Multiple Listing Service (M.A.P.) said, "Real estate is a great field and a great profession."

Warriner smiled a little as he recalled how he had left his high pressure job as Chicago District Sales Manager of the Ford Motor Co. to join a local real estate firm eight years ago.

"I wanted some sort of job, as I didn't really want to retire, and both my wife and I wanted to stay here," he said. "So, I went to the man who had sold me my house and asked him if he knew of any jobs that I might look into."

WARRINER WENT to work with his own real estate agent, Charles H. Wilson, and began his second career in 1958.

It was a new type of sales job for him and quite a change from the 23 years he had spent in the automobile business, he said.

Warriner bought the Charles H. Wilson firm four years ago, finally changed the name in January 1966. Wilson had retired but came back to work for his former salesman last April.

Now president of his own firm, Warriner will be host to the Gallery of Homes national convention this week at the Sheraton-O'Hare Motel.

THE GALLERY of Homes, he explained, is a nation-wide group of Realtors who maintain similar high selling standards and who try to convey a feeling of "buying in living room comfort."

"It's the image that is important," Warriner said. "We try to make our customers feel at home. This is the biggest purchase most people make in their lifetimes, and time should mean nothing to us."

The convention that Warriner is hosting will give the 70-some Gallery of Homes Realtors a chance to get better acquainted and discuss their mutual problems.

WARRINER SAID his firm tries to give the buyer the total picture of the community into which he is moving.

"This is a great transfer area," he said, "I've sold the same house as many as three times in one year."

To make certain that the people that he is selling homes to find the same friendly atmosphere that he and his wife, Ruth, did, Warriner has his salesmen acquaint the neighbors with the names of new homeowners and their families before they move in.

"I've lived all over the country," he said, "and this is the first community where Ruth and I found that your neighbor cared if you got up in the morning."

WHEN ASKED about the large number of boards and organizations he has worked with in the community, Warriner said, "You have to be a part of a community if you're going to live there."

He added that the only way to find out what a group stands for and is doing is to participate in it.

Following up these personal convictions, Warriner seldom says "no" to a new post and only occasionally says "maybe next year."

HE IS NOW serving on the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, Clearbrook School for Retarded Children and the Lions Club. He is president of the Mr. and Mrs. Fellowship Club of First Presbyterian Church.

Warriner is the immediate past chairman of the Caucus Committee for Candidates for the Board of Education of School District No. 25 and was the local chairman of the Industrial and Commercial Division of the 1965 Metropolitan Crusade of Mercy.

Proud of his business and prouder still of his community, Warriner vows: "I want to give efficient, personal service."

Reverence for Beatles?

By DAN BAUMANN
Managing Editor

Teenagers and disc jockeys were busy last week trying to change an impression.

The impression, as reportedly stated by Beatle John Lennon, was that the Beatles were more popular than Jesus and that Christianity is on its way out.

Hearing the quote, many radio stations, particularly in our religious south, and many teenagers were offended. So, indeed, were many parents.

BAUMANN

Now where would John Lennon get such an impression?

Could it be that the Beatles played a bigger role in the lives of many teenagers and disc jockeys than Jesus?

COULD IT be that disc jockeys, in the south and elsewhere, pushed the "music" of this funny group from Liverpool and encouraged a kind of modern worship of them?

Could it be that as they were greeted by mobs of screaming, semi-hysterical children the Beatles came to wonder whether this greeting could be any less worshipful than the greetings accorded Jesus as He went from place to place?

Just as relics associated with Jesus are revered, aren't bits of cloth, locks of hair and such — if they're associated with the Beatles — held in great esteem by some segments of the teen and preteen population?

PICTURES. Many homes have pictures of Jesus in them. How many more have pictures of the Beatles?

The Beatles' faces were printed on cheap pillow cases. I don't think Jesus' face was.

Could it be He escaped that indignity only because He was, indeed, less popular than John Lennon and his comrades?

Could John Lennon be rightc

I WONDER, if Lennon was wrong, why the same groups who went to such trouble to give him his false impression are now going to such bother to disprove him.

Many stations have banned the Beatles and scheduled bonfires to burn Beatle records. In the name of Jesus?

Many have said they would halt their vindictiveness if Lennon apologizes.

To Jesus?

NLRB Actions Need Balance

by ED MURNANE
Staff Writer

For as long as there will be employers and employes, there will also be labor unions to insure that the rights of the worker are not violated.

Through the use of a strike, the union is able to put the demands of the worker on the same table as the demands of the owners and president.

Usually a compromise is reached that is both agreeable and beneficial to both sides.

There is no doubt that labor unions are necessary in most cases. Management controls the money and the profits. It would not be hard for them to keep the profits and ignore the workers.

But as good as unions are, there are times when they can be a severe detriment to society and a well-meaning management.

ONE SUCH CASE is the airline strike. The union members rejected what everyone, from the White House down, thought would be an agreeable solution.

Another much less heralded case, on a more local level, is the pending decision against a firm in Addison.

The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) has found Newman-Green Inc., a leader in Addison's industrial district, guilty of violating certain sections of the National Labor Relations Act.

ON SEVERAL occasions, employes at Newman-Green voted against the establishing of a union. But they did indicate to management that they wanted some form of representation.

So they asked officials at Newman-Green, and were granted, the right to form grievance committees which would meet with management to iron out any problems which the workers had.

On several occasions, a secretary of the company recorded minutes of the committee meetings.

According to a NLRB trial examiner, this violates a clause in the Act that forbids management supporting or assisting employe activities.

ANOTHER violation charged to Newman-Green concerned employe insurance benefits which the company intended to sponsor.

The announcement that the company would pay the premium came shortly before there was to be another election to determine if employes wanted a union.

Because the election was near, the NLRB said Newman-Green planned the insurance benefits to dissuade employes from voting for the union. This was considered illegal.

THE COMPLAINT against Newman-Green was filed by a man who claimed he had been fired by the firm because of his union activities. But the day he was fired, he reportedly came to work intoxicated.

The decision of the trial examiner admitted that the man was intoxicated, and admitted that he had been intoxicated on several occasions, but still said that he was fired for his union activities.

The NLRB has severly damaged the reputation of a firm that tried to make conditions better for employes.

Most companies have some form of insurance benefits for employes. But because Newman-Green started such a program before an election, it was held illegal.

THE DANGER in allowing an employe to work while intoxicated is obvious, especially when the employe worked on a machine. But because he was a supporter of the union, it was considered illegal to release him, even when he was intoxicated in the eyes of the NLRB.

In most cases, labor unions are good. But when an employer is making a sincere effort to promote good relations between labor and management, a forced union can do nothing but harm.

For several years, I held a summer job in a General Motors factory, and was glad there was a union. Collective bargaining resulted in better wages, better working conditions and shorter hours.

BUT IT ALSO built a wall between the workers and the bosses. Foremen were not supposed to be friends with the workers. They were always on different sides of the fence.

The workers themselves found numerous ways to avoid work, because they had the protection of the union.

Such a state of affairs is necessary in most industries because either labor or management at some time tried to get away with something that they shouldn't have.

But in the rare cases when a union is not necessary, when management is willing to help employes without a union, the NLRB should be happy.

Newman-Green is such a case. The NLRB would be wise to disregard the decision of the trial examiner when the appeal comes before the entire board. (FP

Birch Society Chapter Adds To Comment on Hensel Story

In reply to yuor article published July 7, 1966, entitled "Area Police Cool To Birch Society Slogan" regarding the "Support Your Local Police" campaign, we, the Bensenville Chapter of the John Birch Society, would like to state that it was indeed unfortunate that in an article of over 1,100 words, you found room for only a nine word quote from our Midwest office in Glenview. It was also unfortunate that in your quoting from a "Support Your Local Police" flyer which was distributed by our chapter, your readers were not given the benefit of a quote therein from the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee's booklet entitled "A Communist Plot Against The Free World Police" which stated: "Our police are among the foremost guardians of freedom and thus a major target of the Communists." In testimony about Communist efforts to destroy the police in other countries, the booklet said: "A smear campaign attempted to discredit the leaders among the rank and file—the Communist press specializes in playing up and discrediting all police action against rioters and mobs."

Your readers also missed a statement quoted in that flyer, in which J. Edgar Hoover stated in regards to Civilian Review Boards for Police: "When carefully considered, it is clear this drive for external boards is an ill - advised maneuver. It amounts to the usurpation of authority rightfully belonging to the police commander. It is a practice which could damage effective law enforcement and reduce the orderly processes of community life to petty bickering, suspicion, and hatred."

Your article makes reference to "A study completed recently by a committee of the New York State Legislature. The committee ruled that 'simultaneous membership on the police force and in the John Birch Society is unlawful.' The ruling followed a decision that the society is a political, not an educational organization." To set the record straight, we quote from the John Birch Society Bulletin of June, 1966 which points out that "On May 26, New York City's Corporation Counsel, J. Lee Rankin, delivered to Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary, his official opinion, which had been requested in March, on whether or not policemen could legally be forbidden to join The John Birch Society on the grounds that the Society was a political organization. The eight page statement held that the Society was not a political organization within the meaning of the State Penal Code and the City Charter. Considerable publicity was given recently to a finding by a two-man subcommittee of the New York State Legislature that the Society was political. Since this statement went out of its way to condemn the Society, without a scintilla of evidence or justification for all kinds of things of which we could never be guilty, it could hardly be considered a judicial opinion. What is more important, it is our understanding that this 'subcommittee' was really the self-continuing residue of one which had officially ceased to exist, and no longer had any legal status. The New York Times reported that the subcommittee's opinion concerning the Society had no legal authority whatsoever. We are ad, thre, to have the sit-ua oitn glad, therefore, to have the situation clarified, entirely in our favor, by an opinion which is official and does carry the full weight of duly constituted authority," In view of the fact that you chose to make reference to the findings of a non-official non-existent "committee" which had no legal status or authority, rather than refer to the official opinion of the Corporation Counsel of New York City acting in his legal capacity, leads us to believe that you are (1.) not aware of the official report at all, (2.) not aware of the nation-wide news release by the Society concerning the report, (3.) not aware that all John Birch Society Bulletins are available to the public by subscription or at any American Opinion Library. Ignorance of any of these points certainly does not constitute responsible reporting.

Further, the article quotes an unnamed Mount Prospect village official as suggesting that the slogan has a double meaning: "When they say 'Support Your Local Police' they really mean 'Get Support From Your Local Police." The implication in this statement is that John Birch Society projects and activities are such that they need the cooperation of the police department to enable them to continue. We would like to ask this anonymous official, which of our activities he feels needs police support? Do we need their support when we encourage citizens to write to their state and national representatives to express their feelings on upcoming legislation: Do we need police protection to operate bookstores tection to operate bookstores and libraries making conservative literature available to the public? Or how about holding public presentations of the John ch Sy, or study and dis-cu s Birch Society, or study and discussion groups to better understand national and international events? If this village official was not anonymous we could ask him personally, but as it is the press will have to do it for us.

The attitude held by Police Chief Newell Esmond of Mount Prospect regarding police membership in the John Birch Society can best be explained by his very first statement, "I don't know very much about the John Birch Society." We hope we have corrected this lack of information by inviting him to attend a presentation meeting and by sending him an introductory packet which anyone may obtain by writing to our chapter.

We feel that Mount Prospect Village Pres., Dan Congreve is doing an injustice to village employees by stating that he refuses to allow their membership in any civic organization. What better way is there to get local understanding of village problems and to arrive at the most efficient solutions, than to allow village employees active membership in organizations such as the Lions, Rotary, American Legion, V. F. W., Jaycees, Knights of Columbus and the John Birch Society? He would be shortchanging his village by refusing to permit some of the most vaulable and qualified citizens to participate in these constructive organizations.

The article stated that "No matter where a John Birch meeting is being held there almost always are a couple of policemen on the scene." The meetings referred to are the public speaking engagements and presentations. But rather than just a couple, we would like to invite all the police officers, as well as the private citizens, to these functions. May we add, that there also are many policemen in attendance at local chapter meetings, as members. One very good reason for this membership is explained very well in your article: "The intelligence quotient of police in metropolitan areas is, on the average, high. It ranks in the top third, along with the I.Q.'s of the professions."

Finally, to the Bensenville village official, who declined to be named, who stated: "Some are Birchers and some are Communists. What's the difference?" we would like to say that if you don't know the difference between the International Communist Criminal Conspiracy, and the strongest anti-Communist organization in existence, the John Birch Society, then please, for your own sake, as well as the sake of our country, get the facts at the nearest American Opinion Library, or write to our Chapter at P. O. Box 395, Bensenville, Ill. Then, maybe, next time you are interviewed on the subject, you won't be ashamed to state your name.

Crusades Report 'Comprehensive' Says Director

We would like to express our sincere appreciation for the excellent write-up in the paper about the work of Literature Crusades. Mrs. Rechner's article gave a very comprehensive view of the work and was interestingly written.

We have been in the Prospect Heights area for almost a year now and have enjoyed very much the friendliness of the people and the warmth of the neighborhood. We are glad to share with them the details of the work we are trying to do.

Thank you once again for this very good article.

Says Park District Backed Off from Promise of Park

We, residents along the "park" creek side, north of Anderson, on Williams Drive, are very unhappy homeowners these days in Winston Park.

Nearly three years ago, when we purchased our homes, we were told, and given a map showing, the area in back of these homes was to be a park. This was the biggest attraction in purchasing our homes, to be able to have both "city and country" living at its best.

Now suddenly and abruptly, word was out, the land which is supposedly a "peat bog" was refused by the park and homes were to be built. We were all under the impression this "park" area was included in the voting last year, in the massive park plan approved by the voters. How then, can this land be refused by the park commission and not notify the voters before doing so?

If this was not the case, then our information, given to us by the builder, was false and the map misinforming. Also, the excuse that the land would cost too much to develop for a park —how then can homes be built? Why not leave the land vacant then for future years? A little cleaning up was all that it needed, and a fence put up along the creek.

Today the bull-dozer dug out the last of the trees, the haven for birds and animal life gone, plus our "city and country" living. Now we are asked to vote once more for a new school so they can build more homes on what was to be park land. I'm sure anyone can guess what our votes will be

Kids Willingly Paid for Mishap

One day last month three 15-year-olds in our suburb borrowed a tandem bicycle and got involved in some sort of accident that smashed a wheel. They took their own money, for which they had many other uses I'm sure, bought parts and repaired it in first class condition. It cost nearly $18.

These young people were responsible for their actions. They did a little experimenting as every one must do in growing up, they had an accident, and they paid for it. You read so much about irresponsible kids and adults, I thought I'd like to share this incident.

Local Woman Sings With Harmonizers

When the 60 - voice North Shore Harmonizers barbershop harmony chorus presents its annual concert Thursday, Aug. 25, among the singers will be Mrs. Sydney Mertz, 1741 N. Wilshire, Arlington Heights.

The Harmonizers, affiliated with the Wilmette Recreation Board, draw their members from all over Chicagoland so it's not unusual that Mrs. Mertz makes the trip to Wilmette every Thursday night to rehearse.

Their concert Aug. 25 will be in the Wilmette Bowl on the lake front in Gillson Park, just north of Baha'i Temple.

BESIDES THE women's barbershop chorus, the program will feature a number of men's barbershop quartets. These will be the Midnight Oilers, the Road Runners and the Windy City Four. Also singing will be a guest men's chorus, the Chorus of the Dunes from Gary, Ind.

Master of ceremonies will be Bob Haeger from Westchester. Organist Henri Shephard of Evanston will play for an hour prior to the program, which begins at 8 p.m. Admission is free. (Bill

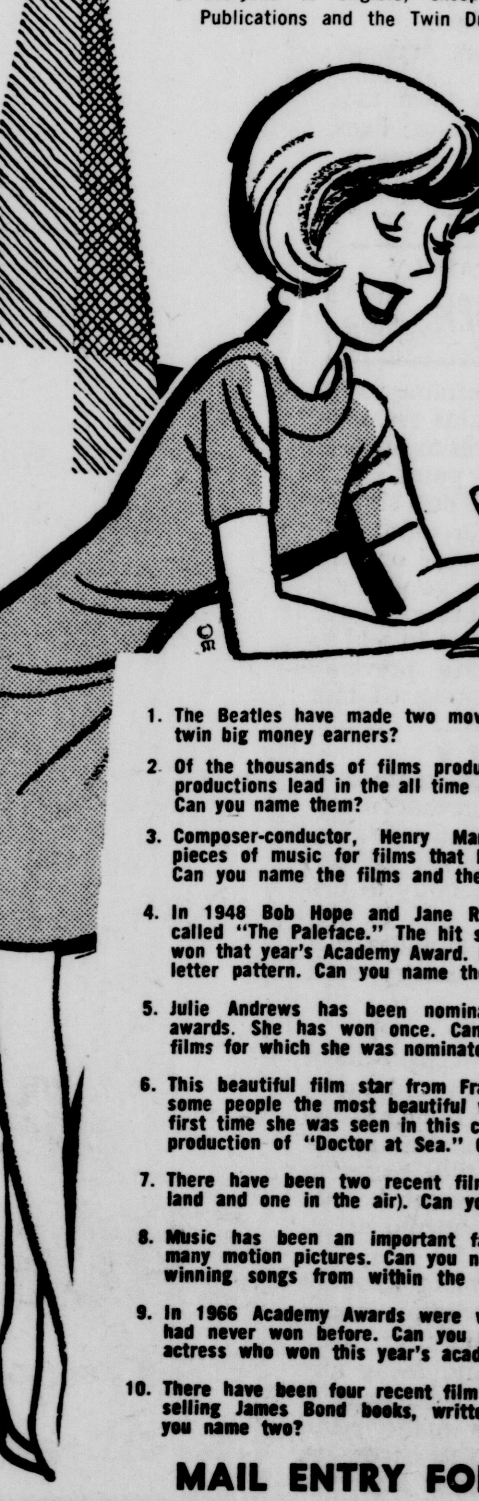
In keeping with the double screen concept of the new Twin Drive-in Theatre (located at the southwestern corner at Milwaukee Avenue and Hintz Road in Wheeling Township, Illinois, opening August 19), all questions will have a double letter or two part answer. Mystery stars will have the same first and last initials.



1. The Beatles have made two movies—can you name these twin big money earners?
2. Of the thousands of films produced by the industry, two productions lead in the all time gross volume of business. Can you name them?
3. Composer-conductor, Henry Mancini, has written two pieces of music for films that have to do with Animals. Can you name the films and the songs?
4. In 1948 Bob Hope and Jane Russell starred in a film called "The Paleface." The hit song from this production won that year's Academy Award. It too, follows the double letter pattern. Can you name the song?
5. Julie Andrews has been nominated twice for academy awards. She has won once. Can you name the two top films for which she was nominated?
6. This beautiful film star from France has been called by some people the most beautiful woman in the world. The first time she was seen in this country was in the British production of "Doctor at Sea." Can you name her?
7. There have been two recent films about races, (one on land and one in the air). Can you name these films?
8. Music has been an important factor in the success of many motion pictures. Can you name two Academy Award winning songs from within the last five years?
9. In 1966 Academy Awards were won by two people who had never won before. Can you name the actor and the actress who won this year's academy awards?
10. There have been four recent film adaptations of the best selling James Bond books, written by Ian Fleming. Can you name two?

Theatre Benefit Planned

A benefit preview of the American Conservatory Theatre's engagement at Ravinia is scheduled for Monday, Aug. 22.

The affair will begin with a supper on the lawn north of the Murray Theatre at 6 p.m. followed by the pre-opening performance of Pirandello's "Six Characters in Search of an Author." After the performance there will be a champagne party to meet the cast.

Information about the benefit may be obtained from Mrs. Ralph Falk II, P.O. Box 144, Lake Forest.

THE AMERICAN Conservatory Theatre, making its debut in the Chicago area, will open its engagement the next night, Aug. 23, presenting six plays through Sept. 18.

In addition to "Six Characters" the repertory theatre's schedule includes Chekhov's "Uncle Vanya," Thomas's "Charley's Aunt," Albee's "Tiny Alice," Shaw's "Misalliance" and the revue, "Beyond the Fringe." (Bill

PAUL NEWMAN and Julie Andrews are fearful of being discovered in the audience viewing a ballet in an unfriendly country in Alfred Hitchcock's thriller, "Torn Curtain." It opens one week from tomorrow (Friday) at the Catlow Theatre.

©1966 WALT DISNEY PRODUCTIONS

DICK VAN DYKE, as a stranded Navy pilot, recruits a chimp as his caddy in Walt Disney's comedy-adventure, "Lt Robin Crusoe, U.S.N." Nancy Kwan and Akim Tamiroff also star in the Technicolor production which opens tomorrow (Friday) at the Arlington Theatre with matinees for the first 10 days. On the same bill is "Run, Appaloosa, Run" with Adele Palacios and Rex Allen.

Casting Is Announced

Principal casting for the New York City Ballet's one-week engagement at the Ravinia Festival, Aug. 16 through 21, has been announced by the renowned ballet company, which will be making its seventh visit to the world-famous festival.

The principal dancers who will appear at the outdoor pavilion in Ravinia Park on Chicago's north shore are: Suzanne Farrell, Melissa Hayden, Patricia McBride, Mimi Paul, Violette Verdy, Jacques d'Amboise, Anthony Blum, Conrad Ludlow, Nicholas Magallanes, Francisco Moncion and Edward Villella.

MEMBERS OF the Chicago Symphony Orchestra will play for the seven performances, six evenings and one matinee, and the conductors will be Robert Irving, musical director of the New York City Ballet, and his associate Hugo Fiorato. George Balanchine and John Taras are listed as ballet masters, and Lincoln Kirstein is the general director.

Three of the ballets in the repertoire will be Chicago premieres: "Variations" by Stravinsky, "Dim Lustre" by Richard Strauss and "Brahms-Schoenberg Quartet."

For program and ticket information, readers may call ID 3-1236 or 273-3500 after 5 p.m. (Bill

Theatre Benefit Planned

A benefit preview of the American Conservatory Theatre's engagement at Ravinia is scheduled for Monday, Aug. 22.

The affair will begin with a supper on the lawn north of the Murray Theatre at 6 p.m. followed by the pre-opening performance of Pirandello's "Six Characters in Search of an Author." After the performance there will be a champagne party to meet the cast.

Information about the benefit may be obtained from Mrs. Ralph Falk II, P.O. Box 144, Lake Forest.

THE AMERICAN Conservatory Theatre, making its debut in the Chicago area, will open its engagement the next night, Aug. 23, presenting six plays through Sept. 18.

In addition to "Six Characters" the repertory theatre's schedule includes Chekhov's "Uncle Vanya," Thomas's "Charley's Aunt," Albee's "Tiny Alice," Shaw's "Misalliance" and the revue, "Beyond the Fringe." (Bill

PAUL NEWMAN and Julie Andrews are fearful of being discovered in the audience viewing a ballet in an unfriendly country in Alfred Hitchcock's thriller, "Torn Curtain." It opens one week from tomorrow (Friday) at the Catlow Theatre.

DICK VAN DYKE, as a stranded Navy pilot, recruits a chimp as his caddy in Walt Disney's comedy-adventure, "Lt Robin Crusoe, U.S.N." Nancy Kwan and Akim Tamiroff also star in the Technicolor production which opens tomorrow (Friday) at the Arlington Theatre with matinees for the first 10 days. On the same bill is "Run, Appaloosa, Run" with Adele Palacios and Rex Allen.

Casting Is Announced

Principal casting for the New York City Ballet's one-week engagement at the Ravinia Festival, Aug. 16 through 21, has been announced by the renowned ballet company, which will be making its seventh visit to the world-famous festival.

The principal dancers who will appear at the outdoor pavilion in Ravinia Park on Chicago's north shore are: Suzanne Farrell, Melissa Hayden, Patricia McBride, Mimi Paul, Violette Verdy, Jacques d'Amboise, Anthony Blum, Conrad Ludlow, Nicholas Magallanes, Francisco Moncion and Edward Villella.

MEMBERS OF the Chicago Symphony Orchestra will play for the seven performances, six evenings and one matinee, and the conductors will be Robert Irving, musical director of the New York City Ballet, and his associate Hugo Fiorato. George Balanchine and John Taras are listed as ballet masters, and Lincoln Kirstein is the general director.

Three of the ballets in the repertoire will be Chicago premieres: "Variations" by Stravinsky, "Dim Lustre" by Richard Strauss and "Brahms-Schoenberg Quartet."

For program and ticket information, readers may call ID 3-1236 or 273-3500 after 5 p.m. (Bill

FATHER LARAMIE, past of St. James Catholic Church in Arlington Heights, accepts a check for the parish from the St. James Theatre Group, presented by Roy Quid, former president of the theatre group's board of directors. The check is from profits from St. James' spring play, "Seven Nuns from Las Vegas."

Dick Van Dyck Star Of Golf Mill Comedy

Dick Van Dyke, is back on the screen in Walt Disney's new laugh-loaded, adventure-packed comedy, "Lt. Robin Crusoe U.S.N.," which starts tomorrow (Friday) at the Golf Mill Theatre.

Van Dyke is cast as a Navy pilot whose adventures carry him from the shark-infested waters of the South Pacific to a girl-infested paradise.

CO-STARRED in the Disney feature is Nancy Kwan, who proves herself a deft comedienne as the exotic Polynesian charmer who encounters the cast-away and remains to become his girl Wednesday. Adding to the fun is a poker playing space chimp, who having missed his orbital mark, ends up on the island as Crusoe's house-guest.

Filmed in Technicolor against some of Hawaii's most lush and picturesque natural backgrounds, the Disney adventure comedy is as appealing to the eye as it is to the funny bone.

New Officers Named By Music On Stage

A new slate of officers has been named by Music On Stage Inc. to lead the 10-year-old nonprofit theatre group through its coming season.

Elected at a recent MOS meeting were Harold Daniels, Des Plaines, president; Frank Randall of Lake Zurich, first vice president; Louise Lindemann of Arlington Heights, second vice president; Hattie Daniels, secretary, and Roy Quid, Arlington Heights, treasurer.

Members voted to stage the Jules Styne musical, "Bells Are Ringing," as their next production to be given in March at Prospect High School.

DEVOTED TO bringing musical comedy to the northwest suburbs, Music On Stage has members from Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Des Plaines, Prospect Heights, Palatine, Mundelein, Northlake, Barrington, Elk Grove Village, Lake Zurich and Wheeling. Its most recent productions have been "The Music Man," "Kismet," "Plain and Fancy" and "Wildcat."

New members are welcome. Anyone of high school age or older may join the group. Interested persons should contact Daniels, 296-2553, or Quid, CL 3-3905. (Bill

STEVE MCQUEEN and Brian Keith are co-starred in Joseph E. Levine's epic western, "Nevada Smith," based on the character created for "The Carpetbaggers." The Technicolor and Cinemascope adventure starts its second week tomorrow (Friday) at the Mount Prospect Cinema.

DEAN MARTIN as Matt Helm, playboy-photographer and special agent, shares coffee and kisses with his secretary, Beverly Adams as Lovely Kravezit, in "The Silencers." Stella Stevens, Dahlia Lavi and Cyd Charisse also star in the Columbia picture starting tomorrow (Friday) at the Oasis Drive-In. (Bill

by BOB FRISK
Sports Editor

Northbrook Eyes World Series . . .

Most players on Northbrook's American Legion baseball team probably had never heard of Orangeburg, S. C. before this summer.

All that has changed now. Today, a visit to Orangeburg, a city of 20,000 people, is uppermost in the thoughts of every young man on this rugged Northbrook team which last Sunday won the Illinois state title.

Getting to Orangeburg for the American Legion World Series won't be easy.

They have to stop off at Athens, Ohio first and wade through the stiff challenges offered by state champions from Indiana, Michigan, Missouri, Wisconsin, Ohio, and Kentucky.

Regional play is set to begin next Thursday, Aug. 18, in Athens with Northbrook tangling with the Indiana titlist in a first round tussle.

Northbrook does have the talent to stage an impressive march into the World Series. They're stocked with exceptional hitters, a capable defense, and deep pitching staff.

But we still feel pitching may be their big problem.

Although there's depth on that mound staff, there's also the lack of a classy No. 1 boy, the hill ace in the Tom Lundgren class from Arlington's 1965 national finalist. We'd also rate lefty, Paul Splittorff, Arlington's No. 2 pitcher in 1965, higher than Northbrook's best.

You need that exceptional pitcher or pitchers as you advance along the tourney trail.

This is not to say that Northbrook doesn't have good pitching. They do. But from here on out you need more than just good pitching. You need depth and you need real quality at the top.

The state of Illinois has a strong representative in this George W. Benjamin Post from Northbrook, and we can only hope that Coach Art Kunde's squad shoves aside the opposition in Ohio next week and earns a crack at national honors in Orangeburg, S. C. from August 28 to September 4.

It's been a long dry spell for Illinois entries in national competition.

Illinois last won a national championship in American Legion baseball in 1933 when National Post No. 467 of Chicago whipped Trenton, N. J. in New Orleans, La. Two years earlier another Chicago entry, South Chicago Post 493, ruled the World Series in Houston, Tex.

Outside of those two national titles, the best finishes by an Illinois entry were seconds by Berwyn in 1939 and 1941 and by Winnetka in 1953.

Arlington Heights had to play six games before it could claim the state Legion championship in Carmi last summer. Northbrook, thanks to a bye, needed only three outings to annex the 1966 crown. The new champs belted Springfield 9-2 and then whipped Edwardsville twice, 9-3 and 8-4. Arlington didn't draw a bye and then also lost a game to make things more difficult.

Propose New Golf Series . . .

Are American golf professionals so good in their television appearances that they've taken away the reality of the game played by millions of golfers in this country?

In an interesting editorial this week TV Guide suggests that televised golf needs a golf series featuring golfers in the 85-95 category — golfers who play much more like the millions of golfers in the land.

"What television needs is some typical golfers," TV Guide says. "What a thrill for a chronic slicer to watch someone on the screen hit a banana ball that all but comes back to the tee. Or to see the same player miss a dozen short putts in one round," the magazine said.

It suggested starting a TV series featuring the best golfers in the 85-95 category.

"Select them from the clubs and public links, fly them to championship courses, and let 'em play — club men against public links men. Winners get ten lessons from their choice of Palmer, Nicklaus, or Player," the magazine concluded.

Not a bad idea. We can only hope it is given some serious thought because we certainly

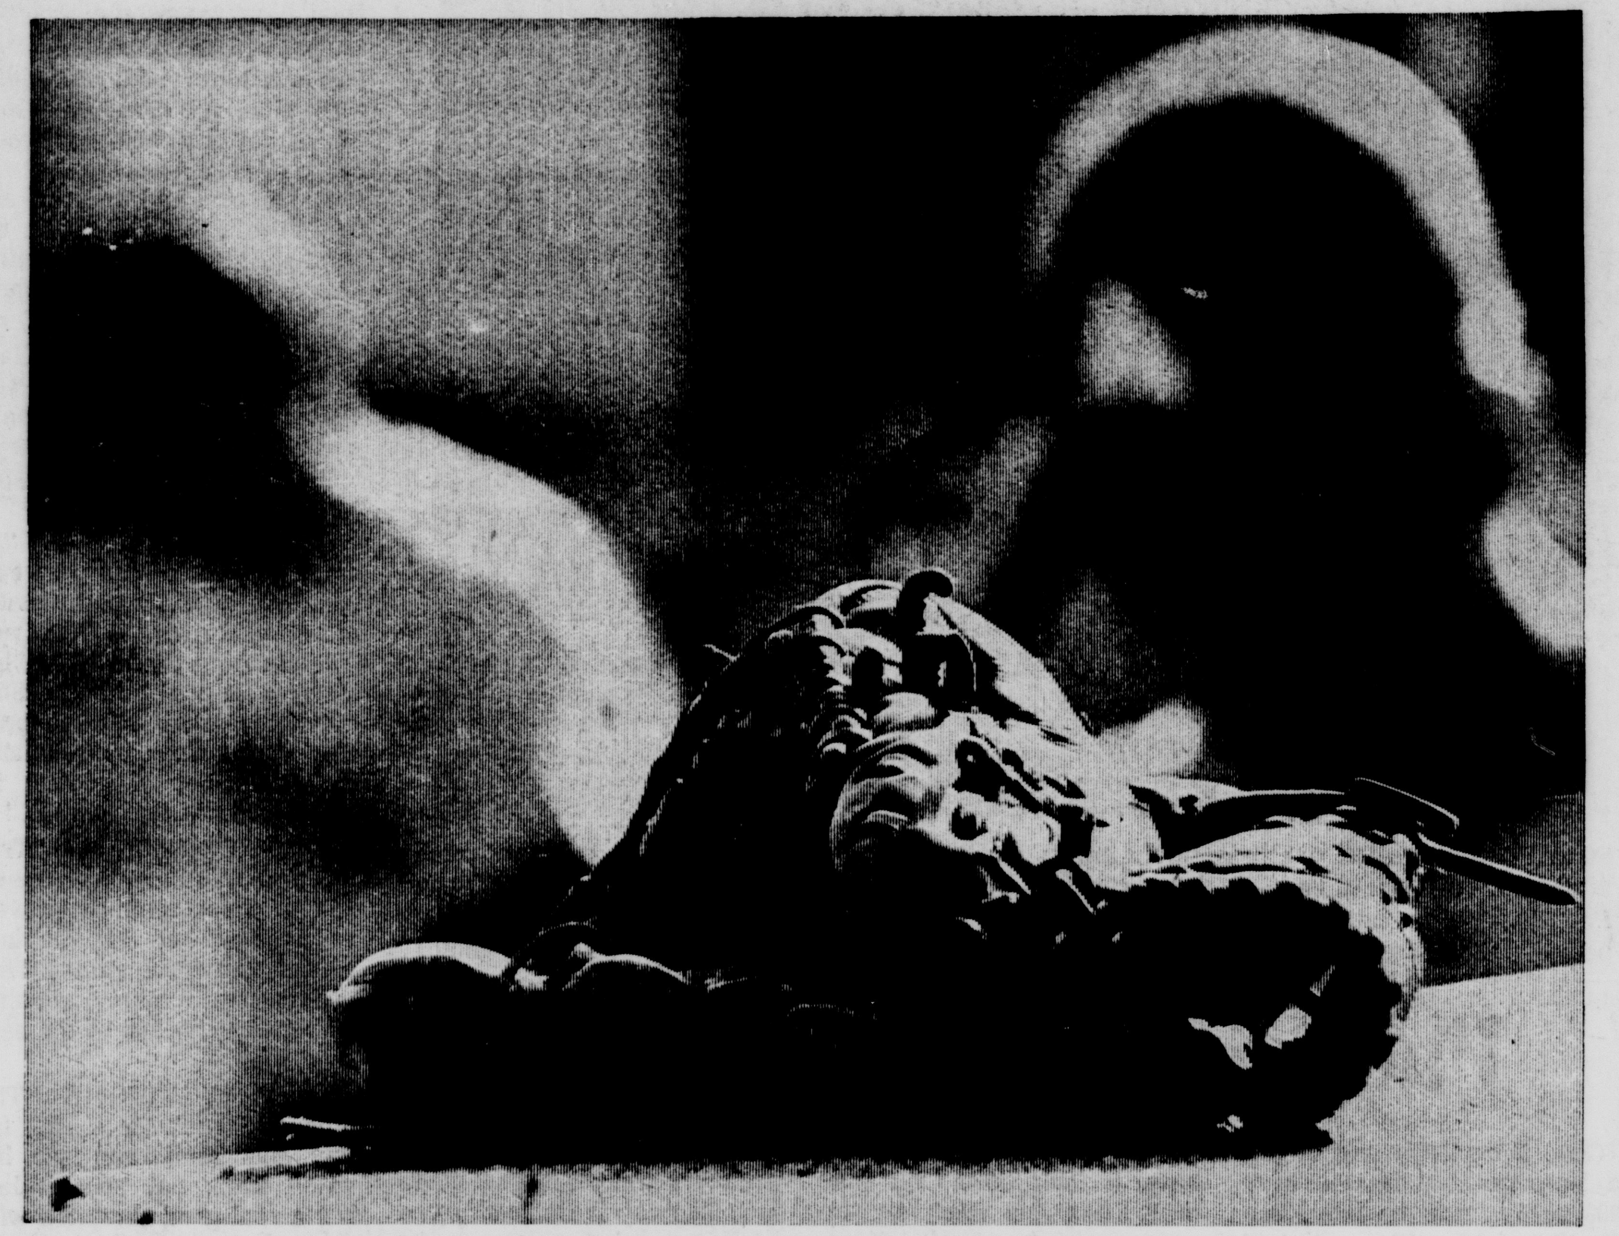
Farewell to the Baseball Season



SUMMER WANES, and as the days slip almost unnoticed toward autumn, baseball gloves come to rest for another year. Already the playing fields for American Legion, Little League, Pony League and Colt League have gone idle, and of all the area's organized teams, only the Lions of Arlington Heights still patrol the diamonds. When their gloves fold, and when the last sandlot player sets aside his spikes, another season will be gone. (Staff photo)

The seventeenth annual Paddock Golf Tournament for the leading teams in the twilight leagues of the area will be played Sunday, August 21, at George Sloan's Golden Acres Country Club on Roselle Road just south of Hoffman Estates.

We played the course in unusual heat just before five inches of rain fell the last week in July. The course was pretty badly burned as are all daily fee layouts in the area. Sufficient rain can do a lot to improve the fairways this month and the decision to play summer or winter rules will be decided the week of the meet.

We found the greens to be very good, with one or two exceptions. They will hold good shots and are fine for putting. Sloan has added a lot of traps to go with the numerous bunkers which have featured this new course.

The Red Nine has several water holes and numerous traps which are well maintained. Most of the lengthy holes are dog legs. Rough is not a problem and a player may cut across a dog leg without much trouble. The only out of bounds are the fences bordering the course. The greens are good but require careful putting as there will be many side hill lies. It is a sporty, exacting, course which can be easy for the player with accurate shots yet present plenty of trouble for the wayward shooter.

The course was taken over by Sloan, a retired manufacturer, in 1961, and he has done much to toughen it, particularly in improvement of greens and the addition of sand traps. The course operates largely as daily fee with a few memberships. Locker room and dining facilities are excellent.

We think that this is a course where tournament players will gain by playing a round in advance of the tournament.

The Red Nine:

Hole 1—485 yards-Par 5— This is a dog leg to the right. On one side is a pond and the other high bunkers. Keep right as rough is same as fairway. There is a trap about 15 yards in front of the green. A pond is located behind the green.

G. A. McElroy

Hole 2—375 yards—Par 4— From the tee the drive crosses a pond and goes uphill for 250 yards. From the brow of the hill an eight or nine iron will put you on a small elevated green.

Hole 3—180 yards—Par 3— There is a bunker across the fairway at the right. The green is small and trapped well on the right side. Stay left or land on the green.

Hole 4—320 yards—Par 4— This is a dog leg hole to the left with a road on the left side of the fairway. If you stay too far right you can find trouble at the end of the fairway. An accurate shot can make this an easy hole. The green is irregular in shape, elevated, and side hill putts can be expected.

Hole 5—365 yards—Par 4— A slight dog leg to the left going west with road on the right. Near the green the opening is between a bunker and a pond. A good drive can make this an easy hole. The green holds a shot very well.

Hole 6—450 yards—Par 4— This is a long par 4 but after a blind tee shot the play is down hill most of the way. An out of bounds fence is on the right and a creek crosses the fairway in front of the green. The green was rough and being repaired.

Hole 7—430 yards—Par 4— This is a misleading hole. The pond appears within range of Golden Acres to Host 17th Annual Headliner

by Bob Frisk

The handicap golfer has his day in ten days. The stage is set for the annual summer showdown.

Official team entry blanks have started arriving at tournament headquarters as preparations continue for the seventeenth edition of the popular Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap golf headliner.

Deadline for the entries is this Saturday, Aug. 13.

The links spectacular will unfold on Sunday, Aug. 21, at Golden Acres Country Club as approximately 20 teams, representing the class of the Paddock area golf leagues, shoot for the coveted title currently claimed by Carter Music Shop of Mount Prospect.

A TROPHY, medals, and a dozen golf balls will be passed around to the teams and individuals who survive with the finest efforts for the 18-hole engagement.

The first foursome will go at 9:00 a.m. with seven-minute intervals between groups. Paddock's sports department will compute handicaps and set up foursomes so that no two players from the same league play in the same group.

The complete list of tournament foursomes will be published in the August 18 issue of Paddock's chain of suburban newspapers.

AMONG THE early entries received this week was the representative of the always-formidable Mount Prospect Tuesday golf league, producer of four Paddock championship teams since the tourney was launched in 1950.

Thunderbird Bowl will carry the Mount Prospect Tuesday banner in the 1966 event and hope to equal the classy performance to the 1965 entry, Paddock champion Carter Music Shop.

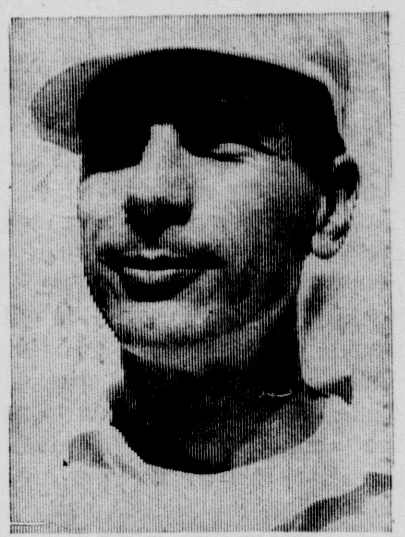
Serving as captain of this Thunderbird outfit is Pat Danna, a key man on Carter's squad last summer at White Pines in Bensenville. Danna, who has had a low round of 37 this season over the Mount Prospect Country Club layout, used a 16 handicap to good advantage in the 1965 tourney, coming home in 82 gross 66 net.

DANNA'S GOLF game has shown marked improvement over the past season. He'll sport a six handicap when he tees off on Sunday, Aug. 21, at Golden Acres.

Joining Pat on that Thunderbird Bowl entry will be Charles Pellino, Karl Pohl, and Richard Elliott. Ed Spletzer is the alternate.

Other leagues reporting in by Tuesday evening were the Arlington Post 981 VFW, Pure Oil Monday and Tuesday, Mount Prospect Friday, and Rob Roy Tuesday.

KEHE, FOY & Snelten will represent the Arlington VFW league with John Kehe low man for this entry. John's handicap will be computed on his five best nine-hole rounds of 36, 39, 40, 40, and 41.



PAT DANNA

Other VFW golfers will be George Snelten, Jake Herr, and Charley Baranowski. Ray Janowiak is the team alternate.

Balance dictates on the Pure Oil Monday squad which calls Golden Acres its home during the league season. Bill Bellamy, H. W. Brown, Ron Mapes, and J. C. Bradford will team up for the Paddock event with Tom Maund ready to step in as the alternate.

HOT-SHOOTING Dennis Harrod will lead the Pure Oil Tuesday group with Harrod bringing a snappy one handicap into the Paddock meet. Harrod has had nines of 35, 37, 37, 37, and 38 at Golden Acres in division action.

Joe Haughey, Robert Sjostrand and Bill Norris will work with Harrod in the tournament. Bill Phares is the alternate.

Doyno Motors will represent the Mount Prospect Friday night league with Dick Wood the low handicapper from this foursome. Wood's best nine at Mount Prospect was a 39 although he has been consistent in the low 40 range.

WORKING with Wood in the tourney will be Roger Roggatz, Ted Small, and Chet Spak. Bill Cook is the alternate.

Also filing an early entry for the Paddock tournament was the Rodewald Dairy squad of the Rob Roy Tuesday league.

Warren Erven has been the key man for Rodewald with four rounds under 40 at Rob Roy. Warren's best was a 36 although two of his teammates also have dipped down to the 36 level this season.

Bob Hornbostel and Len Dunteman can be found more frequently in the 40-plus bracket although they do own one round each of 36 for the '66 campaign. Paul Malchow rounds out the Rodewald quartet, and Paul has been consistent in the mid-40s for nine holes.

Near-Miss For Prospect in Memorable Season

Pitching, Desire Key to Success

They came close in 1966. But, unfortunately, close counts only in horseshoes.

That, in a nutshell, is the story of Mount Prospect's American Legion baseball crew—a team that provided a lot of thrills and a lot of memories but fell one game short of a title in a league packed with talented entries.

All told, Prospect finished with 14-4 conference mark and 19-8 over-all lot (counting a non-league forfeit win.) The locals' best streak came between June 26 and July 11, when they reeled off seven straight victories and 11 wins in 12 tries.

The Prospectors' healthy team batting average of .263 and the hurlers' fantastic earned run average of 1.31 enabled them to score well over twice as many runs as their opponents. In 28 games, including two ties, Prospect averaged 5.2 runs per game to an even 2.0 for its enemies.

Undoubtedly, pitching was the single factor which made this season a success for Manager Mark Thorne's boys. And most of the credit must be given to the key all-around performer on the Prospect entry—Dave Kingman.

Kingman, for whom it is hard to find adequate superlatives, enjoyed the best diamond campaign of any area athlete for some time. Dave, who still has a year of high school left, was the undisputed leader both pitching and batting-wise.

Let's start with the lanky righthander's mound credentials. Probably his most impressive statistic is his ERA of 0.50, based on three earned runs in 53-2/3 innings. Dave was unbeaten and untied in eight league starts and had a perfect season record until losing in the post-season Park Ridge tourney after a costly layoff.

All told, Kingman led the slab staff in every department except walks. Manager Thorne could count on Dave for a victory in any critical game.

If his teammates didn't fetch him enough runs, Dave got them for himself. He was the only Prospector to hit over .400 in league action (.407) and led the club in hits, home runs, and runs batted in. Four of Dave's five homers were either game - winning or game-tying blows.

Though Kingman was clearly the team leader in performance, several others enjoyed fine seasons and were instrumental to the team's success.

Tom Lundstedt, a hefty catcher, was the only hickory-swinger other than Kingman to hit over .300. Lundstedt authored an impressive .363 standard and led the team in doubles. He was second only to Kingman in hits and runs batted in.

Lundstedt was a reliable catcher defensively and was also valuable as a fill-in on the hill. He wrote a 3-1 mound mark, losing only in his final start, and had an eye-opening 1.71 ERA.

J. D. Thorne was the "holler guy" on this year's Prospect edition, keeping the infield alive with his chatter and constantly shouting encouraging words to the pitcher. That is, except when J. D. was on the rubber himself — which was a fair amount of the time.

Thorne worked the next most innings behind Kingman — 46-2/3 in league warfare. He boasted an ERA of 2.12 and exhibited excellent control, walking only 11 batters all year.

J. D.'s mound mark of 2-3 for the conference is deceiving. Two of those three losses came in replays of tie games (1-1 and 2-2). With a little better luck, Thorne's record could have been 4-1.

In the hitting department, Thorne tailed off after a strong start but still had a respectable .241 mark and was second in runs scored.

Ken Traversone and Tom Manderscheid, two refugees from Wheeling High School, were the third and fourth leading hitters. Traversone just missed the .300 mark with the stick and led the team in triples. Manderscheid tied Lundstedt for most extra-base hits and had the most at-bats on the club in compiling a healthy .271 average.

Both outfielders most of the time, Traversone and Manderscheid both possess fine arms.

Manderscheid covered as much ground as any center fielder in the league.

These were the key performers, although the second-place finish was a team effort and all the regulars did their share.

The clutch hit of the year, in this writer's opinion, was rapped by stringy Clyde Whitcomb. Clyde collected only five hits all year for an average he'd rather forget, but had it not been for his triple July 6 off Northbrook ace Frank Battaglia, the rest of the season would hardly have been worth playing.

That hit made the difference in a thrilling 3-2 victory —without doubt the high point of the season for the team. It gave them first place at the time and meant Northbrook had to battle down to the last day of the season for the loop title.

The future? At the moment, the outlook is rosy. Only four regulars from the 1966 unit — Thorne, Manderscheid, Traversone, and Paul Peterson — will be ineligible next summer. All were born before Sept. 1, 1948.

None of the others from this year's squad will have played college ball, so the present controversy on age limits for Legion players (whether or not college performers should be allowed to play Legion ball) will not affect Prospect. Regardless of which way the ruling goes, all except the above four will be eligible in 1967.

Here's how Mark Thorne appraises his 1966 squad, player by player:

PAUL PETERSON — "A versatile ballplayer with real quick hands on the pivot. A pretty tough hitter who usually gets on base. Very aggressive, sometimes too aggressive when he goes after bad pitches."

J. D. THORNE — "One of our most valuable players, both for his pitching and his Northbrook Eyes World Series . . .

Most players on Northbrook's American Legion baseball team probably had never heard of Orangeburg, S. C. before this summer.

All that has changed now. Today, a visit to Orangeburg, a city of 20,000 people, is uppermost in the thoughts of every young man on this rugged Northbrook team which last Sunday won the Illinois state title.

Getting to Orangeburg for the American Legion World Series won't be easy.

They have to stop off at Athens, Ohio first and wade through the stiff challenges offered by state champions from Indiana, Michigan, Missouri, Wisconsin, Ohio, and Kentucky.

Regional play is set to begin next Thursday, Aug. 18, in Athens with Northbrook tangling with the Indiana titlist in a first round tussle.

Northbrook does have the talent to stage an impressive march into the World Series. They're stocked with exceptional hitters, a capable defense, and deep pitching staff.

But we still feel pitching may be their big problem.

Although there's depth on that mound staff, there's also the lack of a classy No. 1 boy, the hill ace in the Tom Lundgren class from Arlington's 1965 national finalist. We'd also rate lefty, Paul Splittorff, Arlington's No. 2 pitcher in 1965, higher than Northbrook's best.

You need that exceptional pitcher or pitchers as you advance along the tourney trail.

This is not to say that Northbrook doesn't have good pitching. They do. But from here on out you need more than just good pitching. You need depth and you need real quality at the top.

The state of Illinois has a strong representative in this George W. Benjamin Post from Northbrook, and we can only hope that Coach Art Kunde's squad shoves aside the opposition in Ohio next week and earns a crack at national honors in Orangeburg, S. C. from August 28 to September 4.

It's been a long dry spell for Illinois entries in national competition.

Illinois last won a national championship in American Legion baseball in 1933 when National Post No. 467 of Chicago whipped Trenton, N. J. in New Orleans, La. Two years earlier another Chicago entry, South Chicago Post 493, ruled the World Series in Houston, Tex.

Outside of those two national titles, the best finishes by an Illinois entry were seconds by Berwyn in 1939 and 1941 and by Winnetka in 1953.

Arlington Heights had to play six games before it could claim the state Legion championship in Carmi last summer. Northbrook, thanks to a bye, needed only three outings to annex the 1966 crown. The new champs belted Springfield 9-2 and then whipped Edwardsville twice, 9-3 and 8-4. Arlington didn't draw a bye and then also lost a game to make things more difficult.

Propose New Golf Series . . .

Are American golf professionals so good in their television appearances that they've taken away the reality of the game played by millions of golfers in this country?

In an interesting editorial this week TV Guide suggests that televised golf needs a golf series featuring golfers in the 85-95 category — golfers who play much more like the millions of golfers in the land.

"What television needs is some typical golfers," TV Guide says. "What a thrill for a chronic slicer to watch someone on the screen hit a banana ball that all but comes back to the tee. Or to see the same player miss a dozen short putts in one round," the magazine said.

It suggested starting a TV series featuring the best golfers in the 85-95 category.

"Select them from the clubs and public links, fly them to championship courses, and let 'em play — club men against public links men. Winners get ten lessons from their choice of Palmer, Nicklaus, or Player," the magazine concluded.

Not a bad idea. We can only hope it is given some serious thought because we certainly

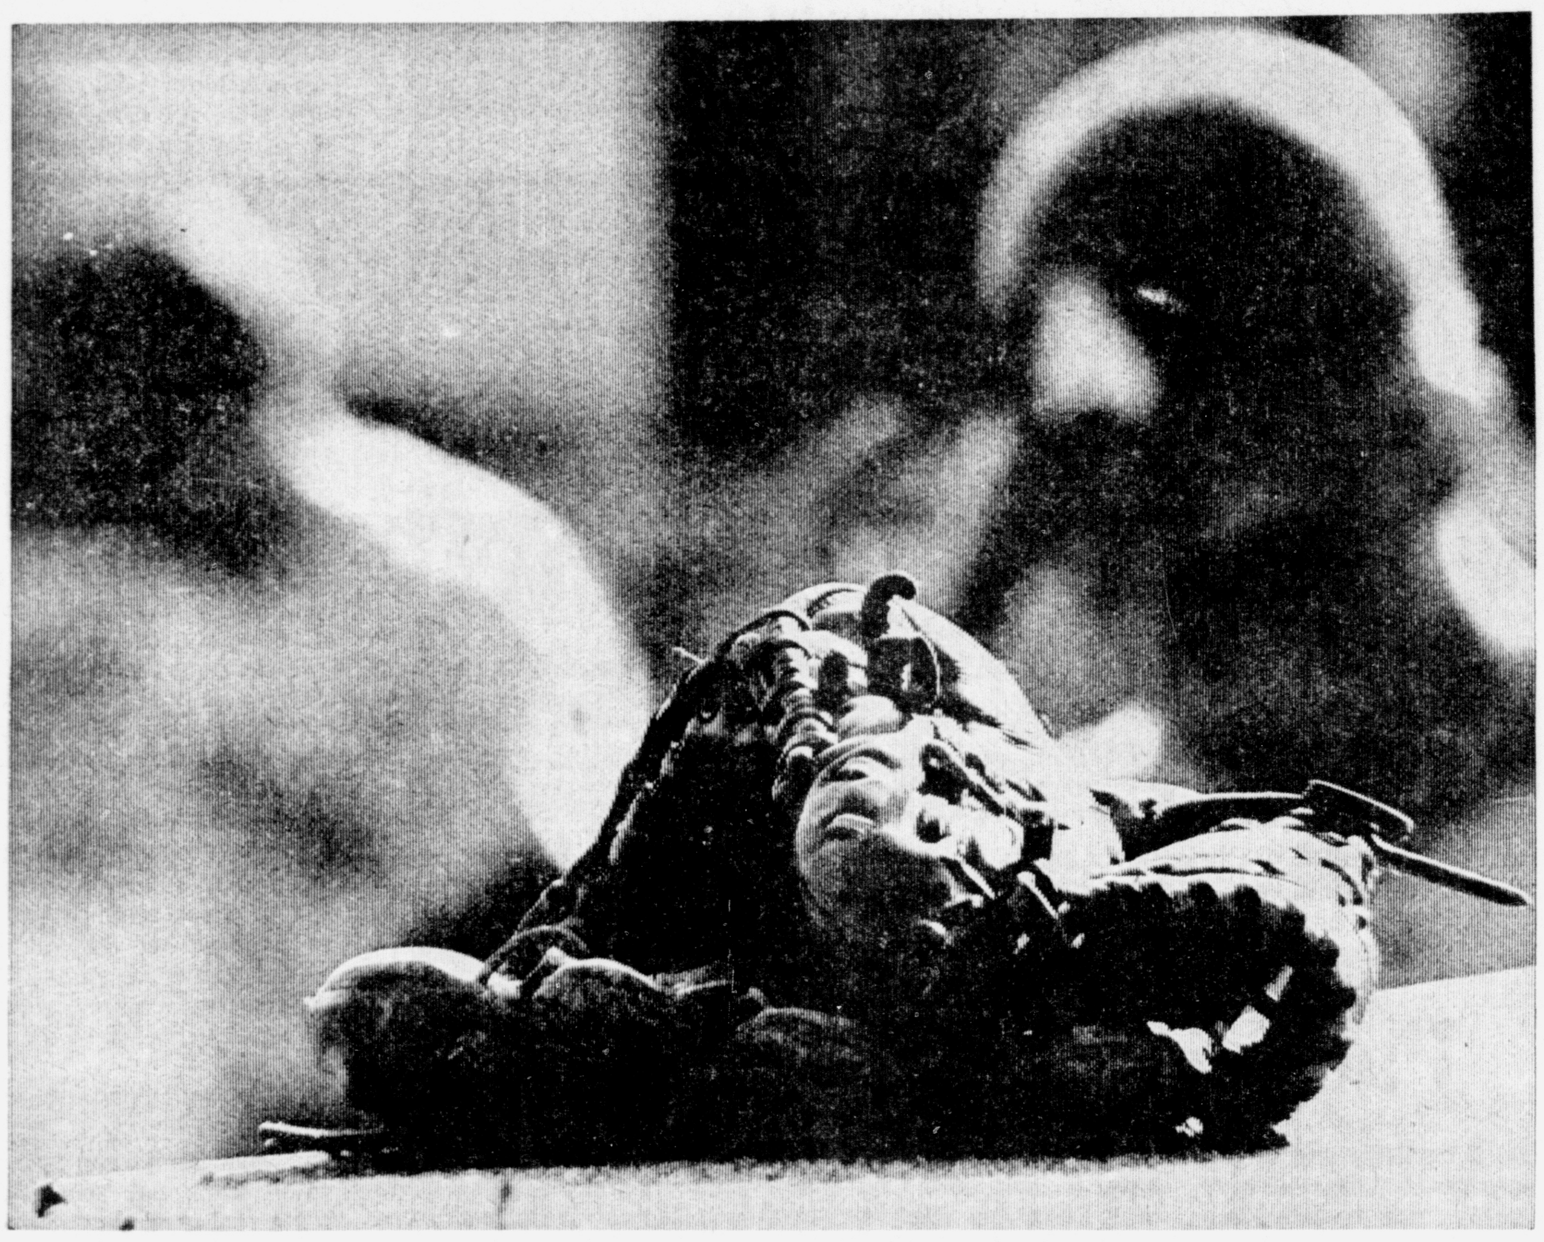
Farewell to the Baseball Season



SUMMER WANES, and as the days slip almost unnoticed toward autumn, baseball gloves come to rest for another year. Already the playing fields for American Legion, Little League, Pony League and Colt League have gone idle, and of all the area's organized teams, only the Lions of Arlington Heights still patrol the diamonds. When their gloves fold, and when the last sandlot player sets aside his spikes, another season will be gone. (Staff photo)

JUST DOGS

By Dave Terrill

"Hero" Is a Hero - -

There will be no problem this year in remembering the name of the dog that has been named the winner of the 13th annual Ken-L Ration gold medal, emblematic of his selection as America's Dog Hero of the Year for 1966.

"Hero," a pure-bred blue merle Collie from Priest River, Idaho, owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Jolley, took part in a spine-chilling exploit last February on the Jolley ranch. The story begins when Mrs. Jolley and her son, Shawn, 3, were atop a haystack in the barn, and Mrs. Jolley was pitching hay down to horses coming in from the pasture through an open door. The first she realized that Shawn was not beside her was when she heard the child scream, and she looked out to see the little fellow racing toward the end of the barn, with a maddened horse racing after him.

Mrs. Jolley shouted for "Hero," although she hadn't the slightest idea where the dog was. At this moment, Shawn attempted to slide under a tractor at the end of the barn, but his clothing caught on a projecting piece of the vehicle. The horse in the meantime reared up and was ready to come down with his front hooves on the little fellow, and then it happened, out of nowhere came a blue and white form sailing through the air. It was "Hero," transformed from his usual friendly and bouncy self into a sudden blaze of fury. Before the horse could descend on the helpless youngster, the dog had clamped onto the horse's nose and was hanging on for dear life.

Turning his attention to the dog gave Mrs. Jolley time to drag under the tractor, and then she joined the fray, which was proving to be a rough one. The horse was hurling the dog against the tractor and in all directions every time the dog would jump up and go after that soft tender nose. Mrs. Jolley grabbed a long stick and started to poke at the horse while the latter continued to pound "Hero" viciously. Suddenly, the animal decided to break off the fight, and raced out the door toward the pasture, with "Hero" right after him. Only after the horse disappeared into the distance did the dog sink to the ground with blood pouring from his nose and mouth.

Mrs. Jolley rushed him to a veterinarian, 45 miles away, where it was found that "Hero" had suffered crushed forefeet, had had five teeth either broken or knocked out and four ribs broken. He came through the ordeal with flying colors and not too many weeks later went on to win three more points at a dog show toward the coveted rating of "champion."

The Jolley family will be in Chicago next week, and on Wednesday evening, Aug. 17, they will be feted with a dinner in the Monroe Room of the Palmer House. All eyes will be on the Collie, "Hero," when the Ken-L Ration gold medal will be hung around his neck, truly a real hero, and the first show dog ever to win this coveted award.

a long shot but is well over 300 yards from the tee. Keep to the right with a second shot from the flat area short of the pond. Out of bounds fence is on the right and a creek in front of the tree. The green is elevated with a bunker on the right.

Hole 8—190 yards—Par 3—Continue with fence on the right and an elevated green with a high bunker on the right. Midway in the fairway is a high bunker on the left. Keep to left side in case you trap tight on left side.

Hole 9—490 yards—Par 5—Dog leg to the right over bunker and could have tree trouble on the right. Ground was very hard and we found two fair shots placed us in a good location to reach the green with a short iron. Green is large and trapped on right side.

The White Nine:

Hole 10—530 yards—Par 5—The dog leg is to the left around a pond and for the first 225 yards the terrain slopes toward the pond. The last 125 yards are uphill over a bunker to an elevated green. There is a hump in the center to provide a sporty hole.

Hole 11—350 yards—Par 4—Keep to the left past a bunker and find a flat spot for a second to the green. The green slopes to the center from all sides except the entrance.

Hole 12—140 yards—Par 3—A tough short hole to an elevated green with a very limited putting surface. Rated one of the easiest on the course and it is if you stay on the green with the tee shot.

Hole 13—510 yards—Par 5—Dog leg to the right following a creek. Keep well to the left as the green opens from that side. Side hill lies are a problem on this hole.

Hole 14—295 yards—Par 4—Drive across a pond 150 yards. Green is elevated with high banks on all sides. Green us large with a ridge across the center. Be careful not to go too far past the pin and have a long down hill putt over the ridge. Don't let the water psych you for it is really an easy par 4 hole.

Hole 15—120 yards—Par 3—A really tough par 3 hole. Green is on a hill with opening at left end. Green is narrow and at some points only 25 feet wide with trap behind it. Easy to go on and off. You will not appreciate the hole until you have played it.

Hole 16—410 yards—Par 4—A slight dog leg to the left around some trees and bunkers. Fairway is flat and green is large and flat.

Hole 17—285 yards—Par 4—There is a big bunker at the right at 150 yards. Fairway is slightly uphill and green is large. An easy par 4 hole.

Hole 18—460 yards—Par 4—A straightaway hole after crossing bunkers in fairway at 150 yards. Green is small but easy to approach.

Advise Prospect High Gridders On Grid Issue

All Prospect High School football candidates, freshmen included, should pick up their equipment the day they register for school.

Registration is scheduled for Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 22-23, with practice getting under way at 7:00 a.m. Wednesday, Aug. 24.

Prospective gridders need their physical, parent's permit card, and insurance number.

Two Area Entries Place in Jamboree

With the running of 23 track events and the presentation of awards in a colorful ceremony, the 11th Annual Illinois Junior Sports Jamboree came to a conclusion Saturday in Granite City.

Two area entries placed in the state show, with one of them taking top honors.

George Busse of Mount Prospect became the "State Champ" in the Midget Boys Broad Jump with a distance leap of 14 feet, 4¼ inches.

Ellen Jahn of Arlington Heights was the only other area entry to place in the meet. Miss Jahn took fourth place in the Junior Girls 75-Yard Dash.

Governor Otto Kerner, Illinois Youth Commission Chairman John A. Troike, and State Jaycee President Wayne Kern of Macomb all took part in the presentation ceremony. The annual Jamboree is presented jointly by the Illinois Youth Commission and the Jaycees.

Each of the 574 contestants went through the winner's arch as his or her name was announced, and each received a trophy or miniature loving cup. In addition to the individual awards, five special awards for outstanding performance and sportsmanship were presented through the courtesy of the Granite Steel Management Club.

ability to move around even though he's a lefty."

TOM MANDERSCHEID — "Real fast, quick; good hitter, good arm, does everything. can hit-and-run and steal. Very aggressive."

TOM LUNDSTEDT — "A fabulous hitter with one fault—he bites on changeups too much. I'd say he's the best catcher in the state. Has a fabulous arm and great spirit and always kept the ball in front of him. He has hustle, desire, and everything a manager could ask for."

KEN TRAVERSONE—"Has a very strong arm and good instincts. He played great ball and his personality was a keynote in our relaxed, fun-type atmosphere."

DAVE KINGMAN — "A great pitcher with lots to work on. He'll be even better with more experience. Improved tremendously as a hitter by learning to use the curve and not going after bad pitches. Has tremendous power and covered a lot of ground in right field. Good instincts."

BOB ROBINSON — "Tremendous outfielder with speed and a strong arm. Improved as a hitter and got the key hit in about three games. Was one of our most valuable players by the end of the season."

CLYDE WHITCOMB—"The type you can't look at for just one game and see his value. He's not spectacular, but a real good shortstop with real quick hands. He was the steadying influence in our infield."

MAURY GALLAGHER — "Handicapped by not being able to play the outfield (his natural position). Did an adequate job at third, got a lot of walks, was a steady player."

DAVE MUSZYNSKI—"Real fast, but over-aggressive at the plate when he goes for bad pitches. A good outfielder who made the adjustment at second base."

MIKE SALTA — "His loss hurt us quite a bit. He didn't play ball this spring, and when he finally worked his arm into shape, he got hurt on his Honda."

JIM GUMZ — "A ballplayer with great potential. Big and strong and learned to play first base. His hitting is real good for a sophomore. I'm expecting him to take up the slack next year when some of our good hitters won't be back. He has good speed and good hands."

can see some interesting possibilities.

Fritz Peterson, the New York Yankees' rookie who prepped at Arlington High, went 15 innings recently without issuing a base on balls, a remarkable record for a young left-hander. He only walked 24 in his first 131 innings of major league work.

Five Teams in Tough Double . . .

Because the youngsters who played on Northbrook's state championship Legion team also played for the state titlist in high school baseball from Glenbrook North, a most obvious question arises:

Was this the first time a group of players has won both the high school and Legion crowns in the same year?

Although it's an extremely difficult double, it has been accomplished on five occasions since the Illinois High School Association initiated is state baseball tournament in 1940.

Morton won the state prep flag in 1943 with a 4-2 victory over East St. Louis, and the boys on this team then went on to win the state Legion championship that summer.

Belleville High School perkformers figured in the next three doubles.

Belleville had a good thing going in the late 1940s. They won the state schoolboy titles in 1947 and 1948 and the state Legion crowns in 1947, 1948, and '49.

In 1954 Belleville again won both the state high school and Legion crowns.

It was Northbrook's (Glenbrook North) turn in 1966 for this very difficult double.

Frank Mariani, former head football and baseball coach at St. Viator High School and now head man in both sports at Holy Cross High, is currently helping out with the Chicago Panthers semi-pro football team. Mariani is working as assistant defensive coach as the Panthers prepare for the Central States season. They're working out at Maine East High School.

Ten Years Ago This Week . . .

The newly-organized Arlington Boosters summer team gave the touted Chicago Yankees a stiff argument before falling, 3-2. . . The Boosters' Johnny Sujack and Yankees' Jim Hansen combined to strike out 25 hitters . . . The Yanks carried an impressive 46-2 record into the game . . .Ten teams were set to tee off in the Paddock Publications golf tournament at the Roselle Golf Club.

Champ is Littelfuse

The regular softball season ended Sunday in the River Trails Park District League and the game to decide the championship was played. Littelfuse and the Rainbow Ridge Cubs came into the final game with 6-1 records and Littelfuse came from behind to win the game and Championship 15-10.

The Cubs started fast and had an 8-4 lead till the fifth inning, but Littelfuse tied the score in the fifth and scored seven more runs in the next inning to ice the game. Tim Anderson hit the only home run for the winners.

Jan Lesniak In AAU Win

Jan Lesniak of Prospect Heights turned in an impressive performance last weekend in a sanctioned AAU swimming meet in Oak Park.

Swimming in the 10-and-under age group, she won the gold medal in the 50 meter backstroke with a winning time of 42 seconds and placed fourth in the 50 meter breastroke.

Plan Competition For Weight-Lifters

Eleven area weight-lifters will compete in the Second Annual Meadows Power Meet Sunday, Aug. 21, at 1:30 p.m.

This meet, sanctioned and sponsored by the AAU, will be staged at 2703 Cardinal Drive, Rolling Meadows. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged to cover purchase of materials necessary for the meet.

Quite a display of brawn will be in store for those who attend. Events will be of a wide variety and will include bench presses up to 350 pounds, squats up to 400 pounds, and dead lifts up to 450 pounds.

George Goets of Arlington Heights and Bob Jennings of Rolling Meadows will be in the spotlight at the Power Meet. Both of these boys are Central AAU record-holders in weight-lifting.

There is also a possibility Bob Gyida will be on hand. Gyida's muscles have won him titles of Mr. U.S.A. and Mr. America. He is presently working towards a PhD in Physical Fitness.

Other contestants in the meet, all from the Arlington Heights-Rolling Meadows area, include Fred Prete, Steve Yakes, Stu Yakes, Fred Bedford, Bill Koleskie, Gary Mager, Otto Wanke, Craig Murrey and Jim Sager.

Lions Tankers Claim Laurels

Glenview's 335-point total was just two markers better than Park Ridge's and good enough for the Championship in the National Division Finals of the Northern Illinois Swim Conference Last Wednesday, Aug. 3.

In third place was the Prospect Heights Lions Swim Team with a total of 324 points. Prospect Heights claimed 18 first-place ribbons, Glenview 13, Park Ridge 11, Barrington 10, and Lombard and Rolling Meadows two each.

Of the 18 first-place winners from Prospect Heights, outstanding performances were turned in by Flip Hibbs, who claimed a total of four—in the 100-yard Freestyle, 100 Yard Individual Medley, and 50 Yard Butterfly. In addition, Hibbs swam anchor on the winning 200 Yard Freestyle Relay along with Richie Lynch, Marty Wendell, and Steve Salerno.

Another top performer again was Jan Lesniak, who walked off with three blue ribbons. Jan's victories were in the 25 Yard Backstroke and 50 Yard Backstroke. She also swam anchor on the triumphant 100 Yard Freestyle Relay. Other members of that quartet were Carol Beisler, Janice Takata, and Andy Sue Hibbs.

Andy Sue also claimed blue ribbons in the 25 Yard Breaststroke and the 25 Yard Butterfly besides helping the relay team.

Mike Salerno won three events, taking first in the 25 Yard Freestyle, 25 Yard Backstroke, and 25 Yard Butterfly.

Other blue ribbons were:

GIRLS 8 AND UNDER—Cheryl Takata won the 25-Yard Breast-stroke and 25-Yard Backstroke. Mary Kay Reichwein topped the 25-Yard Butterfly.

BOYS 11 AND 12—Jim Wendell won the 100-Yard Freestyle and Tom Harrison ruled the 50-Yard Breastroke.

Coach Al Geisler's squad qualified swimmers in 45 of a possible 56 events. In 20 of the 56 events, the Prospect Heights Lions Swim Team qualified two swimmers for the Conference Championship.

Here are the team results of the Division Finals held last Wednesday:

National Division:
Mount Prospect	343½
Arlington Heights	298½
Northbrook	278½
Des Plaines	208½
Skokie	198
Elmhurst	162
American Division:
Glenview	335
Park Ridge	333
Prospect Heights	324

JUST DOGS

By Dave Terrill

"Hero" Is a Hero - -

There will be no problem this year in remembering the name of the dog that has been named the winner of the 13th annual Ken-L Ration gold medal, emblematic of his selection as America's Dog Hero of the Year for 1966.

"Hero," a pure-bred blue merle Collie from Priest River, Idaho, owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Jolley, took part in a spine-chilling exploit last February on the Jolley ranch. The story begins when Mrs. Jolley and her son, Shawn, 3, were atop a haystack in the barn, and Mrs. Jolley was pitching hay down to horses coming in from the pasture through an open door. The first she realized that Shawn was not beside her was when she heard the child scream, and she looked out to see the little fellow racing toward the end of the barn, with a maddened horse racing after him.

Mrs. Jolley shouted for "Hero," although she hadn't the slightest idea where the dog was. At this moment, Shawn attempted to slide under a tractor at the end of the barn, but his clothing caught on a projecting piece of the vehicle. The horse in the meantime reared up and was ready to come down with his front hooves on the little fellow, and then it happened, out of nowhere came a blue and white form sailing through the air. It was "Hero," transformed from his usual friendly and bouncy self into a sudden blaze of fury. Before the horse could descend on the helpless youngster, the dog had clamped onto the horse's nose and was hanging on for dear life.

Turning his attention to the dog gave Mrs. Jolley time to drag under the tractor, and then she joined the fray, which was proving to be a rough one. The horse was hurling the dog against the tractor and in all directions every time the dog would jump up and go after that soft tender nose. Mrs. Jolley grabbed a long stick and started to poke at the horse while the latter continued to pound "Hero" viciously. Suddenly, the animal decided to break off the fight, and raced out the door toward the pasture, with "Hero" right after him. Only after the horse disappeared into the distance did the dog sink to the ground with blood pouring from his nose and mouth.

Mrs. Jolley rushed him to a veterinarian, 45 miles away, where it was found that "Hero" had suffered crushed forefeet, had had five teeth either broken or knocked out and four ribs broken. He came through the ordeal with flying colors and not too many weeks later went on to win three more points at a dog show toward the coveted rating of "champion."

The Jolley family will be in Chicago next week, and on Wednesday evening, Aug. 17, they will be feted with a dinner in the Monroe Room of the Palmer House. All eyes will be on the Collie, "Hero," when the Ken-L Ration gold medal will be hung around his neck, truly a real hero, and the first show dog ever to win this coveted award.

Two Area Entries Place in Jamboree

With the running of 23 track events and the presentation of awards in a colorful ceremony, the 11th Annual Illinois Junior Sports Jamboree came to a conclusion Saturday in Granite City.

Two area entries placed in the state show, with one of them taking top honors.

George Busse of Mount Prospect became the "State Champ" in the Midget Boys Broad Jump with a distance leap of 14 feet, 4¼ inches.

Ellen Jahn of Arlington Heights was the only other area entry to place in the meet. Miss Jahn took fourth place in the Junior Girls 75-Yard Dash.

Governor Otto Kerner, Illinois Youth Commission Chairman John A. Troike, and State Jaycee President Wayne Kern of Macomb all took part in the presentation ceremony. The annual Jamboree is presented jointly by the Illinois Youth Commission and the Jaycees.

Each of the 574 contestants went through the winner's arch as his or her name was announced, and each received a trophy or miniature loving cup. In addition to the individual awards, five special awards for outstanding performance and sportsmanship were presented through the courtesy of the Granite Steel Management Club.

ability to move around even though he's a lefty."

TOM MANDERSCHEID — "Real fast, quick; good hitter, good arm, does everything. can hit-and-run and steal. Very aggressive."

TOM LUNDSTEDT — "A fabulous hitter with one fault—he bites on changeups too much. I'd say he's the best catcher in the state. Has a fabulous arm and great spirit and always kept the ball in front of him. He has hustle, desire, and everything a manager could ask for."

KEN TRAVERSONE—"Has a very strong arm and good instincts. He played great ball and his personality was a keynote in our relaxed, fun-type atmosphere."

DAVE KINGMAN — "A great pitcher with lots to work on. He'll be even better with more experience. Improved tremendously as a hitter by learning to use the curve and not going after bad pitches. Has tremendous power and covered a lot of ground in right field. Good instincts."

BOB ROBINSON — "Tremendous outfielder with speed and a strong arm. Improved as a hitter and got the key hit in about three games. Was one of our most valuable players by the end of the season."

CLYDE WHITCOMB—"The type you can't look at for just one game and see his value. He's not spectacular, but a real good shortstop with real quick hands. He was the steadying influence in our infield."

MAURY GALLAGHER — "Handicapped by not being able to play the outfield (his natural position). Did an adequate job at third, got a lot of walks, was a steady player."

DAVE MUSZYNSKI—"Real fast, but over-aggressive at the plate when he goes for bad pitches. A good outfielder who made the adjustment at second base."

MIKE SALTA — "His loss hurt us quite a bit. He didn't play ball this spring, and when he finally worked his arm into shape, he got hurt on his Honda."

JIM GUMZ — "A ballplayer with great potential. Big and strong and learned to play first base. His hitting is real good for a sophomore. I'm expecting him to take up the slack next year when some of our good hitters won't be back. He has good speed and good hands."

can see some interesting possibilities.

Fritz Peterson, the New York Yankees' rookie who prepped at Arlington High, went 15 innings recently without issuing a base on balls, a remarkable record for a young left-hander. He only walked 24 in his first 131 innings of major league work.

Five Teams in Tough Double . . .

Because the youngsters who played on Northbrook's state championship Legion team also played for the state titlist in high school baseball from Glenbrook North, a most obvious question arises:

Was this the first time a group of players has won both the high school and Legion crowns in the same year?

Although it's an extremely difficult double, it has been accomplished on five occasions since the Illinois High School Association initiated is state baseball tournament in 1940.

Morton won the state prep flag in 1943 with a 4-2 victory over East St. Louis, and the boys on this team then went on to win the state Legion championship that summer.

Belleville High School perkformers figured in the next three doubles.

Belleville had a good thing going in the late 1940s. They won the state schoolboy titles in 1947 and 1948 and the state Legion crowns in 1947, 1948, and '49.

In 1954 Belleville again won both the state high school and Legion crowns.

It was Northbrook's (Glenbrook North) turn in 1966 for this very difficult double.

Frank Mariani, former head football and baseball coach at St. Viator High School and now head man in both sports at Holy Cross High, is currently helping out with the Chicago Panthers semi-pro football team. Mariani is working as assistant defensive coach as the Panthers prepare for the Central States season. They're working out at Maine East High School.

Plan Competition For Weight-Lifters

Eleven area weight-lifters will compete in the Second Annual Meadows Power Meet Sunday, Aug. 21, at 1:30 p.m.

This meet, sanctioned and sponsored by the AAU, will be staged at 2703 Cardinal Drive, Rolling Meadows. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged to cover purchase of materials necessary for the meet.

Quite a display of brawn will be in store for those who attend. Events will be of a wide variety and will include bench presses up to 350 pounds, squats up to 400 pounds, and dead lifts up to 450 pounds.

George Goets of Arlington Heights and Bob Jennings of Rolling Meadows will be in the spotlight at the Power Meet. Both of these boys are Central AAU record-holders in weightlifting.

There is also a possibility Bob Gyida will be on hand. Gyida's muscles have won him titles of Mr. U.S.A. and Mr. America. He is presently working towards a PhD in Physical Fitness.

Other contestants in the meet, all from the Arlington Heights-Rolling Meadows area, include Fred Prete, Steve Yakes, Stu Yakes, Fred Bedford, Bill Koleskie, Gary Mager, Otto Wanke, Craig Murrey and Jim Sager.

Lions Tankers Claim Laurels

Glenview's 335-point total was just two markers better than Park Ridge's and good enough for the Championship in the National Division Finals of the Northern Illinois Swim Conference Last Wednesday, Aug. 3.

In third place was the Prospect Heights Lions Swim Team with a total of 324 points. Prospect Heights claimed 18 first-place ribbons, Glenview 13, Park Ridge 11, Barrington 10, and Lombard and Rolling Meadows two each.

Of the 18 first-place winners from Prospect Heights, outstanding performances were turned in by Flip Hibbs, who claimed a total of four—in the 100-yard Freestyle, 100 Yard Individual Medley, and 50 Yard Butterfly. In addition, Hibbs swam anchor on the winning 200 Yard Freestyle Relay along with Richie Lynch, Marty Wendell, and Steve Salerno.

Another top performer again was Jan Lesniak, who walked off with three blue ribbons. Jan's victories were in the 25 Yard Backstroke and 50 Yard Backstroke. She also swam anchor on the triumphant 100 Yard Freestyle Relay. Other members of that quartet were Carol Beisler, Janice Takata, and Andy Sue Hibbs.

Andy Sue also claimed blue ribbons in the 25 Yard Breaststroke and the 25 Yard Butterfly besides helping the relay team.

Mike Salerno won three events, taking first in the 25 Yard Freestyle, 25 Yard Backstroke, and 25 Yard Butterfly.

Other blue ribbons were:

GIRLS 8 AND UNDER—Cheryl Takata won the 25-Yard Breast-stroke and 25-Yard Backstroke. Mary Kay Reichwein topped the 25-Yard Butterfly.

BOYS 11 AND 12—Jim Wendell won the 100-Yard Freestyle and Tom Harrison ruled the 50-Yard Breastroke.

Coach Al Geisler's squad qualified swimmers in 45 of a possible 56 events. In 20 of the 56 events, the Prospect Heights Lions Swim Team qualified two swimmers for the Conference Championship.

Here are the team results of the Division Finals held last Wednesday:

National Division:

Mount Prospect	343½
Arlington Heights	298½
Northbrook	278½
Des Plaines	208½
Skokie	198
Elmhurst	162

American Division:

Locals Break Even

Loop Victory; 'Best Game' For Nomellini's Lion Nine

by LARRY EVERHART

A win in their only league start, their best performance of the season in 65 games, and an even split in six contests—that was the story of the week for the Lions baseball nine of Arlington Heights.

The league victory came last Wednesday (Aug. 3) against the Hornets at Winnemac Park in Chicago. The contest which Nomellini described as "our best game of the year" was the first game of a doubleheader Sunday, when Mike Miller set down a strong Beloit, Wis. team on three hits, 1-0.

The week's 3-3 split gave the Lions an over-all season slate of 29-35-1 through Monday with the club scheduled for more extensive action throughout the summer.

IN WEDNESDAY'S affair with the Hornets, a four-run uprising in the second inning was all hurler Tom Collins needed as he scattered eight hits in a 4-2 route job.

Every man except one in the Hornets' lineup hit safely, but none got more than one base rap and the hits were well spread out.

Brian Rooney led the Lions' attack with two hits in three trips. He scored in the big second inning after reaching base on an error. The four-run rally was the result of a ridiculuous total of five Hornet errors in that one frame, plus a double by Ken Balinski and a single by John Wendell.

THE LIONS collected just four hits, half as many as their opponents, but the error-riddled second made the difference.

The locals edged Lane Tech Thursday, Aug. 4, by a slim 8-7 margin in a wild, see-saw battle.

The visiting Lane Tech nine nicked starter John Brawley for a run in the first, but Nomellini's boys immediately wiped out that lead with a pair of their own. Brawley and Rich Leitzen drove in the runs with singles after two walks and a fielding miscue.

THE LIONS jumped out to a 5-1 advantage with a three-spot in the second. After a one-out walk and a sacrifice Pat Loughman singled, Dan Collins doubled, and Frank Patzke singled in order. Patzke was thrown out trying to stretch his hit into a two-bagger, ending the inning.

The visitors pecked away at Brawley for two-run innings in the fourth and fifth to knot the count, but the Lions went ahead again in the bottom of the fifth on a walk and a three-base error.

Lane Tech got another pair in the sixth to take a 7-6 lead before Brawley won his own game with his second hit in as many at-bats. After a single, error, and fielder's choice left runners on second and third with two out, Brawley rapped a clutch, two-run single to reward himself with the win.

BESIDES Brawley, Wendell and Loughman also enjoyed 2-for-2 days in the Lions' lusty ten-hit attack.

The Arlington Heights boys' win skein was halted at two Friday when Glenbard West inflicted a 5-1 reversal at the St. Viator field.

Mike Miller was the starter and loser, giving up the visitors' first three tallies. John Wendell mopped up after assuming the slab slope in the fourth.

The locals could manage only three singles, two by Dan Mitsta and one by Balinski. Their only marker came in the third on two free passes and Balinski's hit.

"A COMPLETE giveaway" was the way Nomellini described Saturday's affair at Madison, Wis. in the opener of a three-game "road trip" as the Lions kicked away an 8-3 game.

The St. Viator club was guilty of eight errors in the nine-inning scuffle. The hosts' five-run sixth broke the game wide open, giving them an 8-0 lead.

Tom Collins did a fine job on the hill but was saddled with the loss because of the poor support he got. Mike walked four and gave up six hits in the full nine innings and deserved a better fate.

NOMELLINI'S crew posted all three of its tallies in the seventh after the contest was out of reach. The rally was effected by five walks and only one hit.

Tom Epperly, still recovering from a broken leg but seeing spot duty now for the Lions, pinch hit and singled. The other safeties were singles by Bill Wasilewski and Frank Patzke and a double by Leitzen.

The Lions completed their Wisconsin jaunt by splitting a twin bill Sunday at Beloit, winning the first 1-0 on a mound and fielding masterpiece but getting shelled in the second, 13-1.

IN THE OPENER, Miller made a second-inning tally stand up as he permitted the hosts only three scattered singles. The local nine collected five safeties, two of them extra-base clouts, and committed only one fielding boot in one of their best defensive showings of the year.

The game's only tally came on a walk to Epperly leading off the second, followed by a double by Patzke and a single by Tom Collins. Tom added another base hit later in the game and brother Dan had a single and double.

In the nightcap, a five-run explosion by Beloit in the third inning was decisive as Brawley was charged with the mound setback. Brawley gave up 12 of the hosts' 17 hits through the first four innings before being relieved by John Wendell.

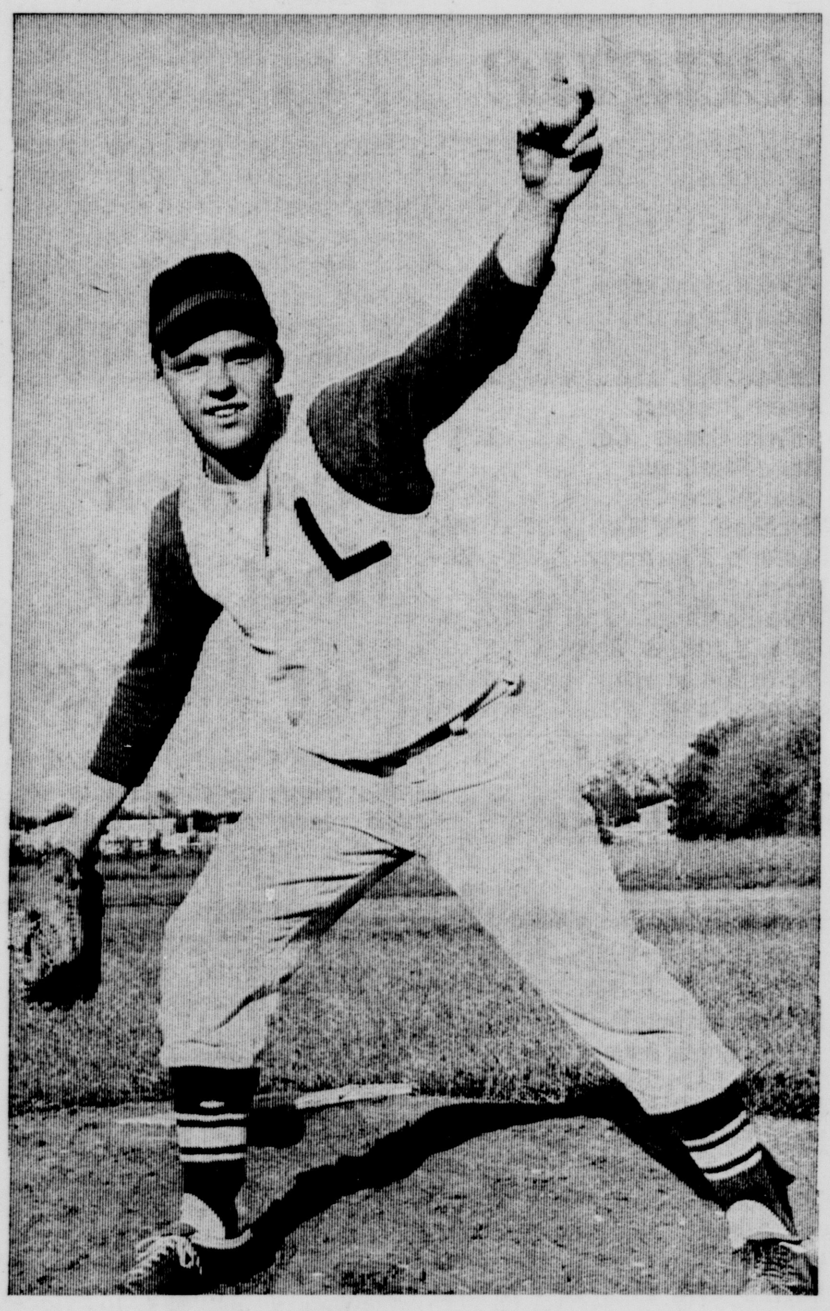
THE GAME was played on a lighted field in the dusk, and according to Nomellini, visibility for the outfielders was bad. Pat Loughman, the Lions' centerfielder, misplayed two fly balls in the gathering darkness which went for extra-base blows and keyed the outburst which put the game out of reach.

The locals managed five safeties, two in the seventh inning when they marked up their only tally.

Miller enjoyed a 2-for-3 night with the hickory, including a double, and Epperly also belted a two-bagger. Other hits were singles by Loughman and Miksta.

The Lions were scheduled to travel to Dundee last night (Wednesday) and have a tentative date set with Northbrook for Thursday (nothing definite).

Friday the locals will tackle the undefeated Spartans in a Winnemac Park League game, and another loop scuffle is set for Saturday. The Lions will return to Arlington Heights Sunday to host Edison Park



MIKE MILLER has been a valuable asset to the Lions baseball club of Arlington Heights this year as both a hitter and hurler. In a doubleheader at Beloit, Wisc. last Sunday, Miller shut out Beloit on a three-hit masterpiece, 1-0, then went two for three in the second game.

Arlington Heights Stars Win Opener

With Steve Balinski and Mike Locascio working on the mound the Arlington Heights North All-Stars crushed Norwood Park Monday evening, 12-2, in a first round game of the 15th Annual Boys Baseball tournament at Thillens Stadium, Devon and Kedzie avenues.

Balinski went the first four innings and allowed only two hits, striking out six, as he fired shutout baseball. He also rapped out three hits on the attack and drove in two runs.

Locascio finished up and struck out two and yielded one hit over the final two innings. The two Norwood Park runs were unearned.

Mike Moser helped out with two hits and played a "sensational game in center field" according to manager Leroy Leister.

Ken Martin had a single and double, driving in two runs, and Dave Zare rapped out a triple and came up with two sparkling plays at shortstop.

"All the boys played heads-up baseball," praised Leister.

Arlington will play again on Tuesday, Aug. 23, in the double elimination tournament.

Assisting Leister with the squad are coaches Rollo Kuebler and Ralph Smith.

Paddock Loops Open Aug. 27

Paddock Classic Traveling Leagues, both men's and women's, will be opening the new bowling season at Rolling Meadows Bowl Aug. 27 when all 14 squads hold a warmup sweeper preparatory to the official opening of the schedule two weeks later.

Special opening ceremonies are being planned that will include introduction of bowlers, sponsors and franchise holders.

Rosters for both leagues are expected to be announced next week.

$40,000 Grassland Attracts Star Runners at Arlington

The $40,000 added Grassland Handicap, sure to attract many of the nation's top turf stars, is headline event Saturday during Washington Park Jockey Club's initial week of racing which begins Monday at Arlington Park.

The new meeting marks the fourth and final phase of the coordinated 103-day season through Mon. Sept. 12, later throwing the spotlight on the $150,000 added Futurity Sept. 10, $100,000 added Lassie Stakes Sept. 3, and $100,000 added Washington Park Handicap Aug 27, among other top attractions.

August Muckler's Climax II, who has used a remarkable local campaign to stake his claim to the 1966 grass-racing championship, and Greentree Stable's O'Hara, a fine stakes-winning West Coast invader, rule the early choices for the Grassland, being restored this season for the first time since 1961.

OTHER TOP candidates to the 1⅛ miles romp around the infield green are: Verna Lea Farm's The Dancer, Herbert C. Herff's Tronado, Charlton Clay's Knight's Plume, George Oliva's Reepute, Charles E. Grinstead's Miss Rincon, Dumbarton Stable's Uncle Percy, Harbor View Farm's Sammyren, North Star Ranch's Lord Date, Juan D'Agostino's Arret and C. V. Whitney's Tom Cat.

It was just about a year ago that Climax II was launching his mercurial turf career. Prior to that time the Italian-bred was merely another struggling runner, who could barely beat claiming performers on the dirt course.

YET WHEN trainer Harold (Baldy) Tinker decided to race him on the grass, it resulted in an altogether different story. For the son of Sedan — Evviva proceeded to win four of five events last August and September along with a runner-up finish in the rich Benjamin F. Lindheimer Handicap.

And he's all but picked up where he left off, winning three consecutive turf events this summer, including the Stars and Stripes and Laurance Armour Handicaps.

Following a lengthy rest, Climax II made his local seasonal debut June 24, closing with a rush in typical fashion to take a 5½ furlongs dash by three-parts of a length over John V. Established the favorite in the $50,000 added Stars and Stripes July 4, the stout bay roared from far back in the clustered 15-horse field and bettered The Dancer during a torrid stretch duel.

HE FOLLOWED this with a three-lengths victory in the Laurance Armour, again moving from off the pace near the top of the stretch while setting a new grass course record for one mile at 1:36 2/5.

Climax II now owns a bankroll of $ 98,052 and holds the upper hand in the battle for a national divisional title. He is expected to follow his engagement in the Grassland with a start in the $50,000 added Lindheimer Mon. Sept. 5 before journeying East for a fall campaign. Bill Hartack, battling with Earlie Fires for the overall Arlington riding crown this year, will again handle the assignment astride Climax II in Saturday's event.

Coming off an impressive score in the $50,000 added Sunset Handicap at Hollywood Park is O'Hara, the English-bred son of Ballymoss — Track Medal. The four-year-old thrives on running a long distance as evidenced by his scintillating effort in the Sunset where he toured 1-5/8 miles in 2:40 2/5, beating Rehabilitate by two solid lengths.

NAMED AFTER former Loyola University star track performer Tom O'Hara, the colt also ran second in the Hollywood Gold Cup and was third in the San Luis Rey 'Cap. Don Pierce, one of the West Coast's top riders, is expected to make the journey to handle the mount.

The Dancer was a strong runner-up finisher to Climax II in the Stars and Stripes; Tronado, with a preference for the dirt course, won the Donn Handicap and finished third in both the John B. Campbell and Inglewood Handicaps; and Knight's Plume, a full brother to the fine three-year-old Table Play, annexed the Queen's City 'Cap and was second in the Laurance Armour.

KNIGHT'S PLUME, ridden by Bill Lucas and owned by Charlton Clay, is expected to be one of the serious challengers for top honors in Saturday's $40,000 Grassland Handicap at Arlington Park. A full brother to Table Play, a fine three-year-old, Knight's Plume's credentials include a victory in the Queen's City 'Cap and second place in the Laurance Armour.

Former R-B Star Tops Dan Mesch

Ed Thompson, former star at Riverside - Brookfield High School, captured the North and West Suburban Tennis League Men's A singles championship Sunday with a 6-1, 6-2 victory over Dan Mesch of Arlington Heights.

Thompson, representing the Riverside Tennis Club, was a varsity net star for three years at Riverside. He is expected to be one of the leading performers next spring on the University of Illinois team.

Arlington Heights sent a team to the finals in B division doubles, but Bob Sir and Roger King were defeated by George Hahn and Tom Kersten of Berwyn, 6-3, 6-0.

Loop Victory; 'Best Game' For Nomellini's Lion Nine

by LARRY EVERHART

A win in their only league start, their best performance of the season in 65 games, and an even split in six contests—that was the story of the week for the Lions baseball nine of Arlington Heights.

The league victory came last Wednesday (Aug. 3) against the Hornets at Winnemac Park in Chicago. The contest which Nomellini described as "our best game of the year" was the first game of a doubleheader Sunday, when Mike Miller set down a strong Beloit, Wis. team on three hits, 1-0.

The week's 3-3 split gave the Lions an over-all season slate of 29-35-1 through Monday with the club scheduled for more extensive action throughout the summer.

IN WEDNESDAY'S affair with the Hornets, a four-run uprising in the second inning was all hurler Tom Collins needed as he scattered eight hits in a 4-2 route job.

Every man except one in the Hornets' lineup hit safely, but none got more than one base rap and the hits were well spread out.

Brian Rooney led the Lions' attack with two hits in three trips. He scored in the big second inning after reaching base on an error. The four-run rally was the result of a ridiculuous total of five Hornet errors in that one frame, plus a double by Ken Balinski and a single by John Wendell.

THE LIONS collected just four hits, half as many as their opponents, but the error-riddled second made the difference.

The locals edged Lane Tech Thursday, Aug. 4, by a slim 8-7 margin in a wild, see-saw battle.

The visiting Lane Tech nine nicked starter John Brawley for a run in the first, but Nomellini's boys immediately wiped out that lead with a pair of their own. Brawley and Rich Leitzen drove in the runs with singles after two walks and a fielding miscue.

THE LIONS jumped out to a 5-1 advantage with a three-spot in the second. After a one-out walk and a sacrifice Pat Loughman singled, Dan Collins doubled, and Frank Patzke singled in order. Patzke was thrown out trying to stretch his hit into a two-bagger, ending the inning.

The visitors pecked away at Brawley for two-run innings in the fourth and fifth to knot the count, but the Lions went ahead again in the bottom of the fifth on a walk and a three-base error.

Lane Tech got another pair in the sixth to take a 7-6 lead before Brawley won his own game with his second hit in as many at-bats. After a single, error, and fielder's choice left runners on second and third with two out, Brawley rapped a clutch, two-run single to reward himself with the win.

BESIDES Brawley, Wendell and Loughman also enjoyed 2-for-2 days in the Lions' lusty ten-hit attack.

The Arlington Heights boys' win skein was halted at two Friday when Glenbard West inflicted a 5-1 reversal at the St. Viator field.

Mike Miller was the starter and loser, giving up the visitors' first three tallies. John Wendell mopped up after assuming the slab slope in the fourth.

The locals could manage only three singles, two by Dan Mitsta and one by Balinski. Their only marker came in the third on two free passes and Balinski's hit.

"A COMPLETE giveaway" was the way Nomellini described Saturday's affair at Madison, Wis. in the opener of a three-game "road trip" as the Lions kicked away an 8-3 game.

The St. Viator club was guilty of eight errors in the nine-inning scuffle. The hosts' five-run sixth broke the game wide open, giving them an 8-0 lead.

Tom Collins did a fine job on the hill but was saddled with the loss because of the poor support he got. Mike walked four and gave up six hits in the full nine innings and deserved a better fate.

NOMELLINI'S crew posted all three of its tallies in the seventh after the contest was out of reach. The rally was effected by five walks and only one hit.

Tom Epperly, still recovering from a broken leg but seeing spot duty now for the Lions, pinch hit and singled. The other safeties were singles by Bill Wasilewski and Frank Patzke and a double by Leitzen.

The Lions completed their Wisconsin jaunt by splitting a twin bill Sunday at Beloit, winning the first 1-0 on a mound and fielding masterpiece but getting shelled in the second, 13-1.

IN THE OPENER, Miller made a second-inning tally stand up as he permitted the hosts only three scattered singles. The local nine collected five safeties, two of them extra-base clouts, and committed only one fielding boot in one of their best defensive showings of the year.

The game's only tally came on a walk to Epperly leading off the second, followed by a double by Patzke and a single by Tom Collins. Tom added another base hit later in the game and brother Dan had a single and double.

In the nightcap, a five-run explosion by Beloit in the third inning was decisive as Brawley was charged with the mound setback. Brawley gave up 12 of the hosts' 17 hits through the first four innings before being relieved by John Wendell.

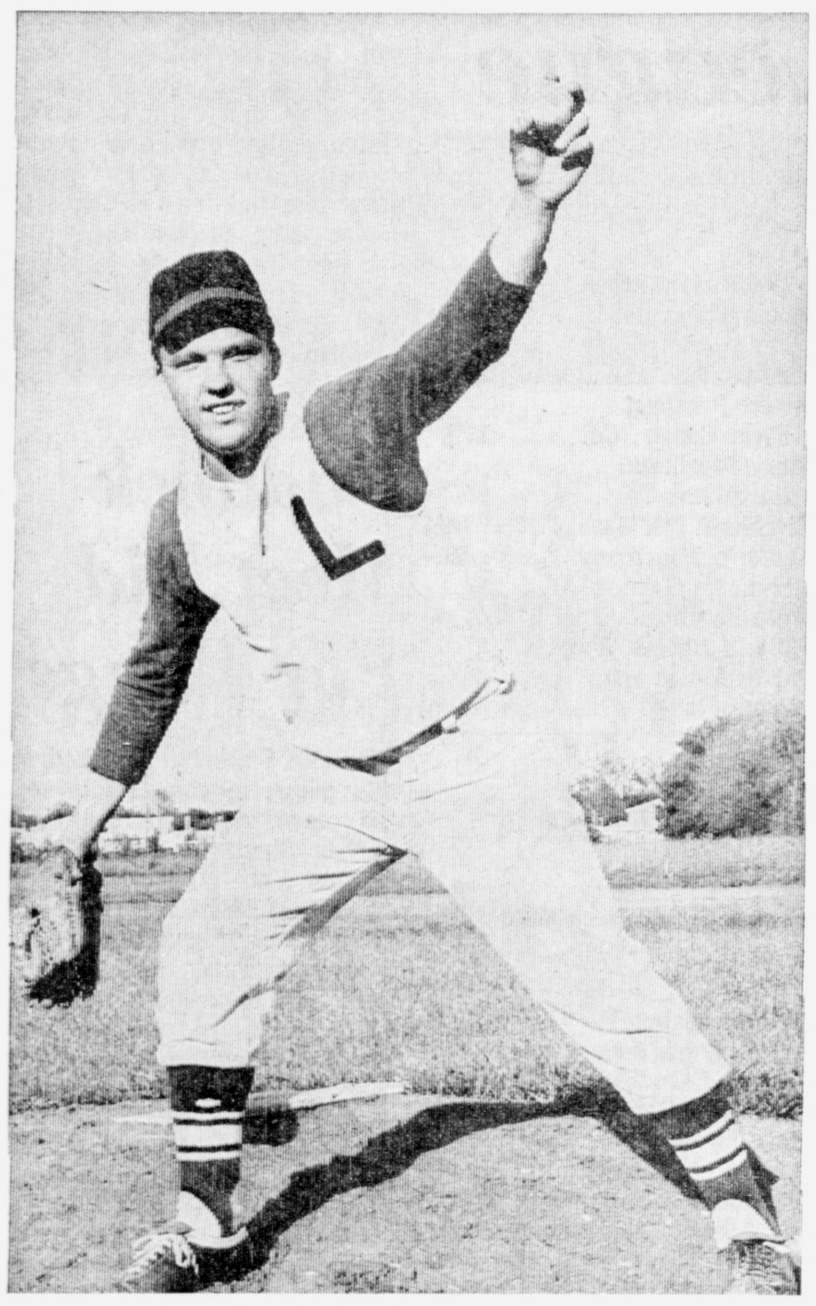
THE GAME was played on a lighted field in the dusk, and according to Nomellini, visibility for the outfielders was bad. Pat Loughman, the Lions' centerfielder, misplayed two fly balls in the gathering darkness which went for extra-base blows and keyed the outburst which put the game out of reach.

The locals managed five safeties, two in the seventh inning when they marked up their only tally.

Miller enjoyed a 2-for-3 night with the hickory, including a double, and Epperly also belted a two-bagger. Other hits were singles by Loughman and Miksta.

The Lions were scheduled to travel to Dundee last night (Wednesday) and have a tentative date set with Northbrook for Thursday (nothing definite).

Friday the locals will tackle the undefeated Spartans in a Winnemac Park League game, and another loop scuffle is set for Saturday. The Lions will return to Arlington Heights Sunday to host Edison Park.



MIKE MILLER has been a valuable asset to the Lions baseball club of Arlington Heights this year as both a hitter and hurler. In a doubleheader at Beloit, Wisc. last Sunday, Miller shut out Beloit on a three-hit masterpiece, 1-0, then went two for three in the second game.

Arlington Heights Stars Win Opener

With Steve Balinski and Mike Locascio working on the mound the Arlington Heights North All-Stars crushed Norwood Park Monday evening, 12-2, in a first round game of the 15th Annual Boys Baseball tournament at Thillens Stadium, Devon and Kedzie avenues.

Balinski went the first four innings and allowed only two hits, striking out six, as he fired shutout baseball. He also rapped out three hits on the attack and drove in two runs.

Locascio finished up and struck out two and yielded one hit over the final two innings. The two Norwood Park runs were unearned.

Mike Moser helped out with two hits and played a "sensational game in center field" according to manager Leroy Leister.

Ken Martin had a single and double, driving in two runs, and Dave Zare rapped out a triple and came up with two sparkling plays at shortstop.

"All the boys played heads-up baseball," praised Leister.

Arlington will play again on Tuesday, Aug. 23, in the double elimination tournament.

Assisting Leister with the squad are coaches Rollo Kuebler and Ralph Smith.

Paddock Loops Open Aug. 27

Paddock Classic Traveling Leagues, both men's and women's, will be opening the new bowling season at Rolling Meadows Bowl Aug. 27 when all 14 squads hold a warmup sweeper preparatory to the official opening of the schedule two weeks later.

Special opening ceremonies are being planned that will include introduction of bowlers, sponsors and franchise holders.

Rosters for both leagues are expected to be announced next week.

$40,000 Grassland Attracts Star Runners at Arlington

The $40,000 added Grassland Handicap, sure to attract many of the nation's top turf stars, is headline event Saturday during Washington Park Jockey Club's initial week of racing which begins Monday at Arlington Park.

The new meeting marks the fourth and final phase of the coordinated 103-day season through Mon. Sept. 12, later throwing the spotlight on the $150,000 added Futurity Sept. 10, $100,000 added Lassie Stakes Sept. 3, and $100,000 added Washington Park Handicap Aug 27, among other top attractions.

August Muckler's Climax II, who has used a remarkable local campaign to stake his claim to the 1966 grass-racing championship, and Greentree Stable's O'Hara, a fine stakes-winning West Coast invader, rule the early choices for the Grassland, being restored this season for the first time since 1961.

OTHER TOP candidates to the 1⅛ miles romp around the infield green are: Verna Lea Farm's The Dancer, Herbert C. Herff's Tronado, Charlton Clay's Knight's Plume, George Oliva's Reepute, Charles E. Grinstead's Miss Rincon, Dumbarton Stable's Uncle Percy, Harbor View Farm's Sammyren, North Star Ranch's Lord Date, Juan D'Agostino's Arret and C. V. Whitney's Tom Cat.

It was just about a year ago that Climax II was launching his mercurial turf career. Prior to that time the Italian-bred was merely another struggling runner, who could barely beat claiming performers on the dirt course.

YET WHEN trainer Harold (Baldy) Tinker decided to race him on the grass, it resulted in an altogether different story. For the son of Sedan — Evviva proceeded to win four of five events last August and September along with a runner-up finish in the rich Benjamin F. Lindheimer Handicap.

And he's all but picked up where he left off, winning three consecutive turf events this summer, including the Stars and Stripes and Laurance Armour Handicaps.

Following a lengthy rest, Climax II made his local seasonal debut June 24, closing with a rush in typical fashion to take a 5½ furlongs dash by three-parts of a length over John V. Established the favorite in the $50,000 added Stars and Stripes July 4, the stout bay roared from far back in the clustered 15-horse field and bettered The Dancer during a torrid stretch duel.

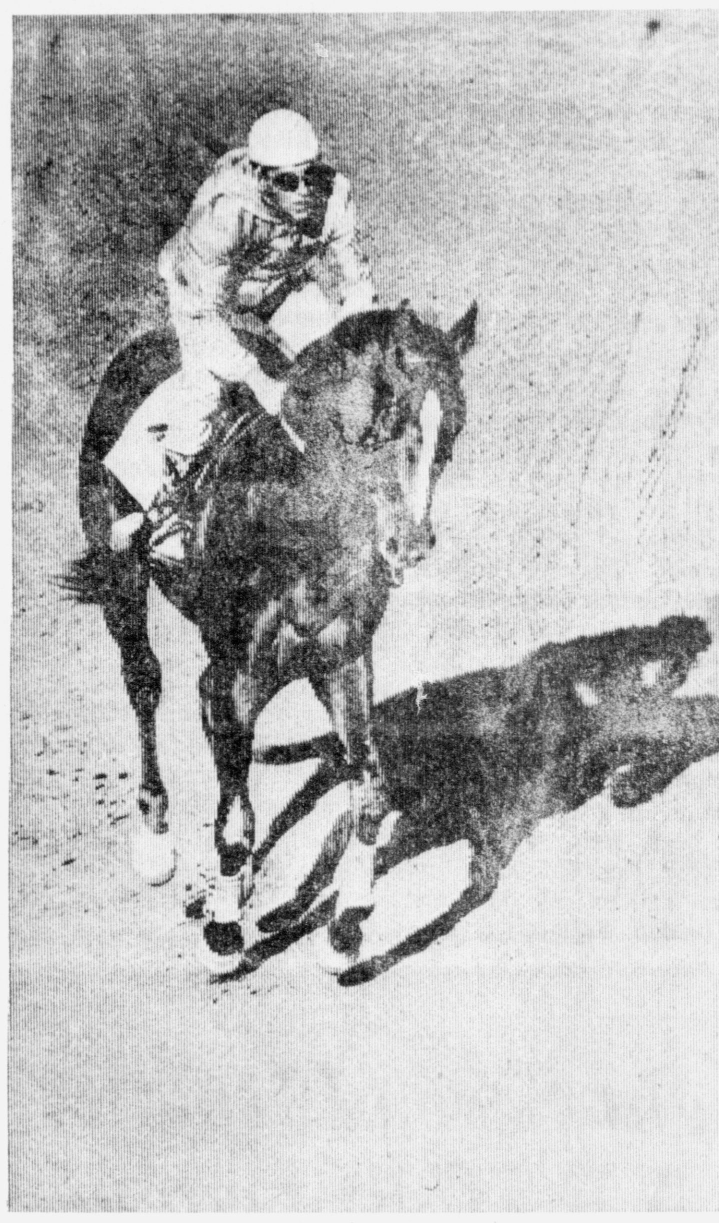
HE FOLLOWED this with a three-lengths victory in the Laurance Armour, again moving from off the pace near the top of the stretch while setting a new grass course record for one mile at 1:36 2/5.

Climax II now owns a bankroll of $ 98,052 and holds the upper hand in the battle for a national divisional title. He is expected to follow his engagement in the Grassland with a start in the $50,000 added Lindheimer Mon. Sept. 5 before journeying East for a fall campaign. Bill Hartack, battling with Earlie Fires for the overall Arlington riding crown this year, will again handle the assignment astride Climax II in Saturday's event.

Coming off an impressive score in the $50,000 added Sunset Handicap at Hollywood Park is O'Hara, the English-bred son of Ballymoss — Track Medal. The four-year-old thrives on running a long distance as evidenced by his scintillating effort in the Sunset where he toured 1-5/8 miles in 2:40 2/5, beating Rehabilitate by two solid lengths.

NAMED AFTER former Loyola University star track performer Tom O'Hara, the colt also ran second in the Hollywood Gold Cup and was third in the San Luis Rey 'Cap. Don Pierce, one of the West Coast's top riders, is expected to make the journey to handle the mount.

The Dancer was a strong runner-up finisher to Climax II in the Stars and Stripes; Tronado, with a preference for the dirt course, won the Donn Handicap and finished third in both the John B. Campbell and Inglewood Handicaps; and Knight's Plume, a full brother to the fine three-year-old Table Play, annexed the Queen's City 'Cap and was second in the Laurance Armour.



KNIGHT'S PLUME, ridden by Bill Lucas and owned by Charlton Clay, is expected to be one of the serious challengers for top honors in Saturday's $40,000 Grassland Handicap at Arlington Park. A full brother to Table Play, a fine three-year-old, Knight's Plume's credentials include a victory in the Queen's City 'Cap and second place in the Laurance Armour.

Former R-B Star Tops Dan Mesch

Ed Thompson, former star at Riverside - Brookfield High School, captured the North and West Suburban Tennis League Men's A singles championship Sunday with a 6-1, 6-2 victory over Dan Mesch of Arlington Heights.

Thompson, representing the Riverside Tennis Club, was a varsity net star for three years at Riverside. He is expected to be one of the leading performers next spring on the University of Illinois team.

Arlington Heights sent a team to the finals in B division doubles, but Bob Sir and Roger King were defeated by George Hahn and Tom Kersten of Berwyn, 6-3, 6-0.

Motormen Earn Paddock Berth

The Mount Prospect Friday Night League's entry in the Paddock Golf Tournament is Doyno Motors as a result of its convincing 8-2 win over Mount Prospect State Bank.

Captain Dick Wood and Roger Roggatz led the victors by downing Ed Berset, while Ted Small and Chet Spak earned halves in their matches with Elmer Blasco and Ken Arnold, respectively.

Keefer's Pharmacy, led by Gordon Stephen, retained its second position although held to a 5-5 tie by the George S. May team, captained by Al Gilso.

The week's outstanding team performance was registered by Pete's Standard Service as they rolled over F.B.K. Realtors, 9-1. Pro Sport Shop moved up a notch in the rankings with a 7.2-2-9 defeat of Bainbridge Apartments, Esquire Barbers trimmed Clayton Courts 6.5-3.5, and Wille Fuel and Lumber bested Arlington Camera Shop 5-3 in the remaining matches.

Tony Ramicone of Pete's Standard toured the difficult back nine in 38 to capture individual scoring honors. Close on his heels were Curt Kotel, Dick Skoog, Don Campbell, and Herman Falldin, all just one stroke behind. Falldin's 32 captured the evening's low net prize.

The birdie-shooters were paced by Wood of the top-ranked Doyno Motors quartet as he beat par on the 11th and 13th holes. One-time birdie shooters were Holmes McLendon, Jim Insolia, Don Odbert, Koe Kurb, Bob Gits, Ed Berset, Bob Tesmer, and Joe Pash as the par-breakers were extremely abundant.

Tight Second Half In N.W. Golf League

The Second Half of the 1966 N. W. Suburban Twilite Golf League is now rolling in full swing, and if the first two weeks is any indication, this will be a "tight" Second Half. At the present time, any one of six teams could end up in first place.

Winner of the First Half was Coloramic Tile and they will meet the Second Half leaders in a playoff. The Y divides its play into sections thus providing teams a "second chance" should they get off to a slow start.

In the Wednesday, August third play there were still no "bell-ringer" Low Gross or Low Net rounds posted, but Ed Then scored the league's second Eagle of the year on no. 15 by almost holing out his second shot off the fairway. He then tapped in a short three-footer for a 3 on this Par 5 hole.

Birdie Shooters were overly common and included Harold Schlicting (no. 13), Bart Kenny and Tom Wade (no. 11), Bob Rohrback (no. 15), Don Vertone (no. 18), Busch (no. 1), and Ed Nixon (no. 1 & 7).

Low Net Honors went to Hal Brodski and John Amato at 34 and Harold Schliching and Mike Schwartz at 35. Low Gross leaders were Ed Nixon (39) Hal Brodski (40) and Harold Schlichting (41).

IN HE SPOTLIGHT SATURDAY in the Grassland Handicap at Arlington Park will be Climax II, shown here with Mike Tinker, son of Harold Tinker. Climax II has enjoyed a banner year and is shooting for the 1966 grass-racing championship. After four victories in five starts in the latter part of last summer, Climax II went on to three straight wins this season, including triumphs in the Stars and Stripes and Laurance Armour Handicaps. Climax II is owned by August Muckler.

But Thunderbird Rules

Big Upset Headlines Tuesday Golf League

Illinois Range, holders of a long lease on the cellar position of the Mount Prospect Twilight Golf League, Tuesday division, rose up from their depths last week to whip first-place Thunderbird Bowl 9-1 in one of the biggest upsets of the 1966 season.

Coming as it did on the eve of the cut-off date for the Paddock Inter-League Tournament, the defeat could have been disastrous for Thunderbird who, a week ago, looked like a shoo-in as the division's representative. Fortunately for Thunderbird, the two closest contenders, Kruse's Tavern and Licht's Paint Store fought to a virtual stand-off with Licht's finally gaining the edge, 5½-4½, and giving neither of them sufficient points to overtake Thunderbird.

Mathematically, by winning a ten-point clean-sweep, Kruse's could have taken over first place provided Thunderbird lost by a similar shut-out. The single point gained by Thunderbird thus saved them the disappointment of a last-minute demotion.

Pat Danna, captain of the team and playing as an alternate for teammate Dick Elliot, was the winner of the crucial single point for Thunderbird as he tied Illinois Range "A" player Ron Scherer 1-1.

Elmer Tietz, substituting for Roland Miller of the Illinois Range team, used a high handicap to good advantage as he took two points from Chuck Pellino, Thunderbird's flashy but erratic "C" player.

Fred "Hawk" Erickson, also an alternate replacing Jim Viger, won another two points for Illinois Range. His victim was Harold Wolff.

Jim Dick, one of the few regulars appearing for Illinois Range, turned in his best game of the season, a 49 gross and net 32, which gave him two points in his match with Karl Pohl and also gave him half of the bonus point with the other half going to teammate Elmer Tietz.

Illinois Range took the final point for scoring low team aggregate net.

In other team matches, Mount Prospect Electric Constr. Co. shocked Moler's Barber Shop with a 7-3 victory to retain fourth place position, while Busse-Biermann bombed Kersting Garden Center 8½-1½ to take fifth place and dumping the Gardeners out of the first division.

Finally, Kirchhoff Insurance dumped Keefer's Pharmacy 6½-3½, and Carter Music Shop bowed to Wille Fuel 6-4.

Low shooters for the session were Ed Lauing and Ed Spletzer with 39s. Birdies were reported by Tom Glass and A. Raab no. 9 and R. Carncross no. 18.

Marketers Menace; Realtors Hug Lead

J & B Market picked up five big points but George Busse Realtors tenaciously clung to an eyelash ½-point lead in the Mount Prospect Monday Twilight League.

Busse Realtors thus becomes eligible for the Paddock Tourney Aug. 21 after topping one of the hottest races in any area golf league.

Annen & Busse Realtors, league-leaders just two weeks ago, slipped to third but remained only a scant 1½ points off the pace. Morton Pontiac and Mufich Buick each moved up a notch and are just 3½ and eight points behind the leaders, respectively.

Four birdies were recorded, as the par-busters included J. Paredes on no. 1, H. Foster on no. 10, L. Johnson on no. 12, and D. Fox on no. 15.

Low gross honors were grabbed by Len Johnson with a 42, while Don Patelle's 43-11-32 was good for low net.

Art Peterson was the highest individual scorer with a total of 18 points. Paul Seleski was right behind with 16, Dave Brome with 15½, Bob Kramer with 15, and Dick Fox with 14.

Portage Auto Parts Cops Spot in Paddock Tourney

Portage Auto Parts survived the onslaught by Gunnell's to nail down the Paddock Publications tournament berth from the Friday night league at Arlington Country Club.

Portage finished with a half-point margin over Joy-Di as the league staged its final night of play before determining the Paddock entry.

Making up the Portage Auto Parts team are Capt. Russell Knight, Fred Jauman, Paul Forslund, Bob Oboyle, and Maurie Weil. Jauman will be on vacation so an alternate will be named.

Al Snell picked up three birdies to lead the Friday night par-busters. He birdied 11, 14, and 17 and had a gross of 38.

Lucksinger, Steingraber, McDonald, and Williams birdied the 16th, Mueller the 13th, and Lucksinger again on the 18th.

Mueller had low gross of 36. Leonard Wegryn had 43-13, -30.

Active Heating Linksmen Take 3rd in VFW Action

By virtue of a clean-sweep over Pitzen Cartage the Active Heating team has forged into 3rd place in the Arlington VFW golf league.

Glidden Country Store moved back into 1st place with a 20-4 win over Canopy Beauty Salon as Kehe, Foy & Snelten, the league's Paddock Tournament representative, fell to 2nd place as they were held to a 10-10 stand-off with Nebel Insurance.

Other action saw Koelling & Leach tumble to 4th place due to their 16-8 loss to 5th place General Electric, while L'Nor Cleaners moved from 9th to 6th place whipping Heights Wall and Floor 22-2. Annen & Busse came out 13-7 victors over the Cake Box.

Best round of the night was a 38 carded by Stew Sage while Earle Strehlow took low net by firing his best game of the year, a 40-9-31.

At Prospect High . . .

Dog Obedience Show Scheduled On Aug. 21

Dogs will be on parade Sunday, August 21, as the Northwest Obedience Club's ninth annual obedience trial unravels at Prospect High School's fieldhouse.

Members of the sponsoring club, who train on Wednesday evenings in Palatine, have invited the public to use the opportunity to witness first-hand the results of obedience training.

There will be three different classes of obedience work, and the dogs earning the highest scores will be in the competition for some 100 trophies and ribbons. The club is expecting an entry of more than 200 purebred dogs from all over the Chicago and suburban area, typical of the outpouring for the show in past years.

THE SHOW is slated to start at 9:00 a.m. at Prospect high, and continue throughout the day with the dogs performing in four different rings.

The last such offering in this area was at the Cook County 4-H fair last Sunday, where the public had a chance to see the kind of obedience work that will be on display in the forthcoming event.

The demonstrations — as they will at Prospect — included walking at heel, figure eights, retrieving and jumping, scent discrimination and hand signals.

Anyone desiring further information on the show is asked to contact Mrs. Walter Ross, 1720 S. Roselle Rd. in Palatine, whose telephone number is 358-1660. Mrs. Ross is the publicity kchairman for the Northwest Obedience Club.

RETRIEVING DUMBBELLS is one of the exercises this German Shepherd will perform at Northwest Obedience Club's annual show Sunday, Aug. 21 in Prospect High School Field House. Awaiting commands is Princess. Both dogs are owned by the Walter Rosses of Palatine.

Paddock Meet Bid For Drugs

Roselle State Bank picked up 16½ points to charge into second place, ahead of Golf-Rose Barber Shop, in the Hoffman Estates Men's Golf League.

Snyder's Hoffman Drugs, still leading the league by a comfortable margin, made a 13½-point gain to keep the top spot by six points and assure themselves of eligibility in the Paddock Tourney coming up Aug. 21.

Roselle State Bank took the low team net with a 180 total, while there were ties for low individual net and gross.

Don Kolp and Don Specht deadlocked for low individual net honors with identical 31's and Bob Powell, Roy Palmer, and Specht ended in a three-way jam for low individual gross with 39's.

Structural Steel Gets Paddock Bid

Arlington Structural Steel earned a berth in the Paddock Golf Tournament to be held Aug. 21, as they scored high for the second straight week to take over the league lead in the Arlington Heights Twilight League.

Structural Steel won four of five matches from Heights Cleaners to rack-up a 9-3 win and a 1 point lead with three nights of play remaining.

Former leader, Springs Shell Service, suffered a setback when they lost to Crest Heating and Air Conditioning 7-5. Only 1½ points off the pace, National Conveyer and Supply split with Horcher Decorators 6-6.

City Welding Sales came in with a 6-6 match with Bruns Real Estate, while Koops Mustard edged Harris Pharmacy 6½-5½. To round out the evenings action Lauterburg and Oehler handled New Emerald Cleaners 8-4.

Hank Stycrykowski, playing with Crest Heating, led the night's scoring with a par round of 36. Hank recorded three birdies during the round. Gordon Otto, Jack Lesile, and Joe McGrath each scored two birds.

3—in One Day?!

Only once in major league history has three games been played by the same two teams in one day. On Oct. 2, 1920, the Pittsburgh Pirates and Cincinnati Redlegs started at noon and played a tripleheader (Cincinnati won two).

Dunteman Aids Pace-Setters

Rodewald Dairy continued their steam roller tactics in the Rob Roy Tuesday league by trouncing Prospect Heights Barber 6-1.

In this match Len Dunteman, in the No. 3 spot, for the Dairy squad was the sensation of the evening when he carded a 36-5-31 for league low gross and low net honors. Len shot the best round of his long golf career and certainly made the No. 1 and No. 2 men, who are in the habit of taking low gross honors, sit up and take notice. Len also had fine support from his teammates: Erven 42-3-39, Hornbostel 41-4-37, and Malchow 46-9-37.

Fred Groh also had his best night of the season coming thru with a 37-4-33 on the back nine to lead Joy-Di to a 6-1 win over Webber Paint. Fred had three birdies on this round and also took honors for being closest to the hole on No. 12.

Prospect Heights Pharmacy actually gained ½ point on the leaders when they defeated Rankin Radio 6½-½. Bob Peterson clubbed around the back nine in 40-6-34 to tie Elmer Frelk of Rankin for team low net honors in this match.

L-Nor Cleaners lost ground in third place as the best they could do against C. P. Floor and Wall Tile was a close 4 - 3 victory. Atkins was the star performer for the cleaners in this tussle as he shot a 45-11-34 in the No. 4 spot, good for two points.

Pro Sport Shop moved up a notch in the rankings with a 7.2-2-9 defeat of Bainbridge Apartments, Esquire Barbers trimmed Clayton Courts 6.5-3.5, and Wille Fuel and Lumber bested Arlington Camera Shop 5-3 in the remaining matches.

Tony Ramicone of Pete's Standard toured the difficult back nine in 38 to capture individual scoring honors. Close on his heels were Curt Kotel, Dick Skoog, Don Campbell, and Herman Falldin, all just one stroke behind. Falldin's 32 captured the evening's low net prize.

The birdie-shooters were paced by Wood of the top-ranked Doyno Motors quartet as he beat par on the 11th and 13th holes. One-time birdie shooters were Holmes McLendon, Jim Insolia, Don Odbert, Koe Kurb, Bob Gits, Ed Berset, Bob Tesmer, and Joe Pash as the par-breakers were extremely abundant.

Tight Second Half In N.W. Golf League

The Second Half of the 1966 N. W. Suburban Twilite Golf League is now rolling in full swing, and if the first two weeks is any indication, this will be a "tight" Second Half. At the present time, any one of six teams could end up in first place.

Winner of the First Half was Coloramic Tile and they will meet the Second Half leaders in a playoff. The Y divides its play into sections thus providing teams a "second chance" should they get off to a slow start.

In the Wednesday, August third play there were still no "bell-ringer" Low Gross or Low Net rounds posted, but Ed Then scored the league's second Eagle of the year on no. 15 by almost holing out his second shot off the fairway. He then tapped in a short three-footer for a 3 on this Par 5 hole.

Birdie Shooters were overly common and included Harold Schlicting (no. 13), Bart Kenny and Tom Wade (no. 11), Bob Rohrback (no. 15), Don Vertone (no. 18), Busch (no. 1), and Ed Nixon (no. 1 & 7).

Low Net Honors went to Hal Brodski and John Amato at 34 and Harold Schliching and Mike Schwartz at 35. Low Gross leaders were Ed Nixon (39) Hal Brodski (40) and Harold Schlichting (41).

IN HE SPOTLIGHT SATURDAY in the Grassland Handicap at Arlington Park will be Climax II, shown here with Mike Tinker, son of Harold Tinker. Climax II has enjoyed a banner year and is shooting for the 1966 grass-racing championship. After four victories in five starts in the latter part of last summer, Climax II went on to three straight wins this season, including triumphs in the Stars and Stripes and Laurance Armour Handicaps. Climax II is owned by August Muckler.

But Thunderbird Rules

Big Upset Headlines Tuesday Golf League

Illinois Range, holders of a long lease on the cellar position of the Mount Prospect Twilight Golf League, Tuesday division, rose up from their depths last week to whip first-place Thunderbird Bowl 9-1 in one of the biggest upsets of the 1966 season.

Coming as it did on the eve of the cut-off date for the Paddock Inter-League Tournament, the defeat could have been disastrous for Thunderbird who, a week ago, looked like a shoo-in as the division's representative. Fortunately for Thunderbird, the two closest contenders, Kruse's Tavern and Licht's Paint Store fought to a virtual stand-off with Licht's finally gaining the edge, 5½-4½, and giving neither of them sufficient points to overtake Thunderbird.

Mathematically, by winning a ten-point clean-sweep, Kruse's could have taken over first place provided Thunderbird lost by a similar shut-out. The single point gained by Thunderbird thus saved them the disappointment of a last-minute demotion.

Pat Danna, captain of the team and playing as an alternate for teammate Dick Elliot, was the winner of the crucial single point for Thunderbird as he tied Illinois Range "A" player Ron Scherer 1-1.

Elmer Tietz, substituting for Roland Miller of the Illinois Range team, used a high handicap to good advantage as he took two points from Chuck Pellino, Thunderbird's flashy but erratic "C" player.

Fred "Hawk" Erickson, also an alternate replacing Jim Viger, won another two points for Illinois Range. His victim was Harold Wolff.

Jim Dick, one of the few regulars appearing for Illinois Range, turned in his best game of the season, a 49 gross and net 32, which gave him two points in his match with Karl Pohl and also gave him half of the bonus point with the other half going to teammate Elmer Tietz.

Illinois Range took the final point for scoring low team aggregate net.

In other team matches, Mount Prospect Electric Constr. Co. shocked Moler's Barber Shop with a 7-3 victory to retain fourth place position, while Busse-Biermann bombed Kersting Garden Center 8½-1½ to take fifth place and dumping the Gardeners out of the first division.

Finally, Kirchhoff Insurance dumped Keefer's Pharmacy 6½-3½, and Carter Music Shop bowed to Wille Fuel 6-4.

Low shooters for the session were Ed Lauing and Ed Spletzer with 39s. Birdies were reported by Tom Glass and A. Raab no. 9 and R. Carncross no. 18.

Marketers Menace; Realtors Hug Lead

J & B Market picked up five big points but George Busse Realtors tenaciously clung to an eyelash ½-point lead in the Mount Prospect Monday Twilight League.

Busse Realtors thus becomes eligible for the Paddock Tourney Aug. 21 after topping one of the hottest races in any area golf league.

Annen & Busse Realtors, league-leaders just two weeks ago, slipped to third but remained only a scant 1½ points off the pace. Morton Pontiac and Mufich Buick each moved up a notch and are just 3½ and eight points behind the leaders, respectively.

Four birdies were recorded, as the par-busters included J. Paredes on no. 1, H. Foster on no. 10, L. Johnson on no. 12, and D. Fox on no. 15.

Low gross honors were grabbed by Len Johnson with a 42, while Don Patelle's 43-11-32 was good for low net.

Art Peterson was the highest individual scorer with a total of 18 points. Paul Seleski was right behind with 16, Dave Brome with 15½, Bob Kramer with 15, and Dick Fox with 14.

Portage Auto Parts Cops Spot in Paddock Tourney

Portage Auto Parts survived the onslaught by Gunnell's to nail down the Paddock Publications tournament berth from the Friday night league at Arlington Country Club.

Portage finished with a half-point margin over Joy-Di as the league staged its final night of play before determining the Paddock entry.

Making up the Portage Auto Parts team are Capt. Russell Knight, Fred Jauman, Paul Forslund, Bob Oboyle, and Maurie Weil. Jauman will be on vacation so an alternate will be named.

Al Snell picked up three birdies to lead the Friday night par-busters. He birdied 11, 14, and 17 and had a gross of 38.

Lucksinger, Steingraber, McDonald, and Williams birdied the 16th, Mueller the 13th, and Lucksinger again on the 18th.

Mueller had low gross of 36. Leonard Wegryn had 43-13, -30.

Active Heating Linksmen Take 3rd in VFW Action

By virtue of a clean-sweep over Pitzen Cartage the Active Heating team has forged into 3rd place in the Arlington VFW golf league.

Glidden Country Store moved back into 1st place with a 20-4 win over Canopy Beauty Salon as Kehe, Foy & Snelten, the league's Paddock Tournament representative, fell to 2nd place as they were held to a 10-10 stand-off with Nebel Insurance.

Other action saw Koelling & Leach tumble to 4th place due to their 16-8 loss to 5th place General Electric, while L'Nor Cleaners moved from 9th to 6th place whipping Heights Wall and Floor 22-2. Annen & Busse came out 13-7 victors over the Cake Box.

Best round of the night was a 38 carded by Stew Sage while Earle Strehlow took low net by firing his best game of the year, a 40-9-31.

Dog Obedience Show Scheduled On Aug. 21

Dogs will be on parade Sunday, August 21, as the Northwest Obedience Club's ninth annual obedience trial unravels at Prospect High School's fieldhouse.

Members of the sponsoring club, who train on Wednesday evenings in Palatine, have invited the public to use the opportunity to witness first-hand the results of obedience training.

There will be three different classes of obedience work, and the dogs earning the highest scores will be in the competition for some 100 trophies and ribbons. The club is expecting an entry of more than 200 purebred dogs from all over the Chicago and suburban area, typical of the outpouring for the show in past years.

THE SHOW is slated to start at 9:00 a.m. at Prospect high, and continue throughout the day with the dogs performing in four different rings.

The last such offering in this area was at the Cook County 4-H fair last Sunday, where the public had a chance to see the kind of obedience work that will be on display in the forthcoming event.

The demonstrations — as they will at Prospect — included walking at heel, figure eights, retrieving and jumping, scent discrimination and hand signals.

Anyone desiring further information on the show is asked to contact Mrs. Walter Ross, 1720 S. Roselle Rd. in Palatine, whose telephone number is 358-1660. Mrs. Ross is the publicity kchairman for the Northwest Obedience Club.

RETRIEVING DUMBBELLS is one of the exercises this German Shepherd will perform at Northwest Obedience Club's annual show Sunday, Aug. 21 in Prospect High School Field House. Awaiting commands is Princess. Both dogs are owned by the Walter Rosses of Palatine.

Paddock Meet Bid For Drugs

Roselle State Bank picked up 16½ points to charge into second place, ahead of Golf-Rose Barber Shop, in the Hoffman Estates Men's Golf League.

Snyder's Hoffman Drugs, still leading the league by a comfortable margin, made a 13½-point gain to keep the top spot by six points and assure themselves of eligibility in the Paddock Tourney coming up Aug. 21.

Roselle State Bank took the low team net with a 180 total, while there were ties for low individual net and gross.

Don Kolp and Don Specht deadlocked for low individual net honors with identical 31's and Bob Powell, Roy Palmer, and Specht ended in a three-way jam for low individual gross with 39's.

Dunteman Aids Pace-Setters

Rodewald Dairy continued their steam roller tactics in the Rob Roy Tuesday league by trouncing Prospect Heights Barber 6-1.

In this match Len Dunteman, in the No. 3 spot, for the Dairy squad was the sensation of the evening when he carded a 36-5-31 for league low gross and low net honors. Len shot the best round of his long golf career and certainly made the No. 1 and No. 2 men, who are in the habit of taking low gross honors, sit up and take notice. Len also had fine support from his teammates: Erven 42-3-39, Hornbostel 41-4-37, and Malchow 46-9-37.

Fred Groh also had his best night of the season coming thru with a 37-4-33 on the back nine to lead Joy-Di to a 6-1 win over Webber Paint. Fred had three birdies on this round and also took honors for being closest to the hole on No. 12.

Prospect Heights Pharmacy actually gained ½ point on the leaders when they defeated Rankin Radio 6½-½. Bob Peterson clubbed around the back nine in 40-6-34 to tie Elmer Frelk of Rankin for team low net honors in this match.

L-Nor Cleaners lost ground in third place as the best they could do against C. P. Floor and Wall Tile was a close 4 - 3 victory. Atkins was the star performer for the cleaners in this tussle as he shot a 45-11-34 in the No. 4 spot, good for two points.

Structural Steel Gets Paddock Bid

Arlington Structural Steel earned a berth in the Paddock Golf Tournament to be held Aug. 21, as they scored high for the second straight week to take over the league lead in the Arlington Heights Twilight League.

Structural Steel won four of five matches from Heights Cleaners to rack-up a 9-3 win and a 1 point lead with three nights of play remaining.

Former leader, Springs Shell Service, suffered a setback when they lost to Crest Heating and Air Conditioning 7-5. Only 1½ points off the pace, National Conveyer and Supply split with Horcher Decorators 6-6.

City Welding Sales came in with a 6-6 match with Bruns Real Estate, while Koops Mustard edged Harris Pharmacy 6½-5½. To round out the evenings action Lauterburg and Oehler handled New Emerald Cleaners 8-4.

Hank Stycrykowski, playing with Crest Heating, led the night's scoring with a par round of 36. Hank recorded three birdies during the round. Gordon Otto, Jack Lesile, and Joe McGrath each scored two birds.

Arlington Park: Dawn's Labor

To most, it is a place of mid-afternoon spectacle, of trumpets, of horses in thundering combat, of torn tickets on a milling grandstand's floor, of money cashed for wagers placed.

But to the others, to the men for whom life is the track, it is as much a place of toil each day, and the race is the one waged with each dawn. Even as night's canopy lifts, before the summer sun's discomfort descends, the men move. The horses, the keystones of the life, must be walked, must be ridden, must be cleansed, must be made ready for the spectacle. And for them, the day's work is often done as the work of others begins.

VICE PRESIDENT
This is a bona fide position that we have been retained to fill in the $30,000 - $40,000 bracket (money is NO problem). This man will be groomed to be President in the next 4 - 5 years.

THE PROBLEM: Where is this man? Why is he so hard to find?

THE ANSWER: He is currently employed earning over $20,000 now. At one time this man was a hot shot Research Engineer but his recent Executive duties in supervising a large group of engineers have taken him out of the R & D "ivory tower" class. The actual title of the position is Vice President of Research & Development but it is his proven executive ability over a large group of people that is of paramount importance. VICE PRESIDENT

This is a bona fide position that we have been retained to fill in the $30,000 - $40,000 bracket (money is NO problem). This man will be groomed to be President in the next 4 - 5 years.

THE PROBLEM: Where is this man? Why is he so hard to find?

THE ANSWER: He is currently employed earning over $20,000 now. At one time this man was a hot shot Research Engineer but his recent Executive duties in supervising a large group of engineers have taken him out of the R & D "ivory tower" class. The actual title of the position is Vice President of Research & Development but it is his proven executive ability over a large group of people that is of paramount importance. Community Landscaping Booklets Now Available

RICHARD DeLANO
Assistant Cook County Farm Adviser in Ornamental Horticulture and Floriculture

Gardeners have struck a bonanza of information in the form of six new University of Illinois publications.

Five of the bulletins emphasize the how and why of landscape planning. The titles are quite descriptive. They include, New Life for Your Business District, Planning for a Better Community Landscape, Planning for a Better Hospital Landscape, Planning for a Better Church Landscape and Trees for Your Community.

The 30 Page booklet, Trees for Your Community, is of special value to the individual home owner. Listed in the booklet are several readily available trees of special value in this area. Small 20 to 35 foot trees that are suggested: are Washington Hawthorn, American Hornbeam, Amur Maple and Redbud.

MEDIUM-SIZED trees suggested are ash, amur corktree, horsechestnut, ruby horsechestnut, littleleaf linden, red maple and pin oak. Giant trees, those that reach over 60 feet, are the slow growing ginkgo and sugar maple, faster growing honeylocust, hackberry, red oak and sycamore.

The booklet is quite candid in what it does not recommend. Poplar varieties, willow varieties, Tree of heaven, elm varieties, black walnut, silver (soft) maples and boxelder are not recommended by the new booklet for planting on home properties or along city street.

THE BOOKLET on Planning a Better Church Landscape is of special value to church or denominational boards. It discusses such topics as design of outdoor bulletin boards with plantings and cemetery design and maintenance.

Street tree planting maintenance and design of small courtyards and malls are discussed in "New Life for Your Business District."

In these days of high food prices the booklet on Growing Small Fruits in the Home Garden will be of special interest. The well planned garden of small fruits that the booklet describes will supply fresh fruit from early spring to frost. Strawberries start the season followed by raspberries and blackberries. Later in the summer blueberries, currant, and gooseberries start production. The season is concluded with the grape harvest.

Copies of these publications may be obtained by sending a postcard to Cook County Farm Advisor, 201 N. Dunton Ave., Arlington Heights. (O

Community Landscaping Booklets Now Available

RICHARD DeLANO
Assistant Cook County Farm Adviser in Ornamental Horticulture and Floriculture

Gardeners have struck a bonanza of information in the form of six new University of Illinois publications.

Five of the bulletins emphasize the how and why of landscape planning. The titles are quite descriptive. They include, New Life for Your Business District, Planning for a Better Community Landscape, Planning for a Better Hospital Landscape, Planning for a Better Church Landscape and Trees for Your Community.

The 30 Page booklet, Trees for Your Community, is of special value to the individual home owner. Listed in the booklet are several readily available trees of special value in this area. Small 20 to 35 foot trees that are suggested: are Washington Hawthorn, American Hornbeam, Amur Maple and Redbud.

MEDIUM-SIZED trees suggested are ash, amur corktree, horsechestnut, ruby horsechestnut, littleleaf linden, red maple and pin oak. Giant trees, those that reach over 60 feet, are the slow growing ginkgo and sugar maple, faster growing honeylocust, hackberry, red oak and sycamore.

The booklet is quite candid in what it does not recommend. Poplar varieties, willow varieties, Tree of heaven, elm varieties, black walnut, silver (soft) maples and boxelder are not recommended by the new booklet for planting on home properties or along city street.

THE BOOKLET on Planning a Better Church Landscape is of special value to church or denominational boards. It discusses such topics as design of outdoor bulletin boards with plantings and cemetery design and maintenance.

Street tree planting maintenance and design of small courtyards and malls are discussed in "New Life for Your Business District."

In these days of high food prices the booklet on Growing Small Fruits in the Home Garden wiil be of special interest. The well planned garden of small fruits that the booklet describes will supply fresh fruit from early spring to frost. Strawberries start the season followed by raspberries and blackberries. Later in the summer blueberries, currant, and gooseberries start production. The season is concluded with the grape harvest.

Copies of these publications may be obtained by sending a postcard to Cook County Farm Advisor, 201 N. Dunton Ave., Arlington Heights. (O

AN HONOR SCOUT, John Zapfel, Mount Prospect, works in silence for a day to show his devotion to service. Here he works on a forestry project.

A LITTLE PAINT and a few feathers convert staff member John Lauer, Skokie, into an Indian for the camp's weekly Indian ceremonies where the campers learn Indian lore.

Days of Summer . . .

Area Boy Scouts have been enjoying the mysteries and adventure of outdoor life in the wilds of Wisconsin's Camp Napowan near Wild Rose, 200 miles away from home.

The Scouts go to the camp in troop force and spend two weeks living in tents, swimming, studying nature, learning campcrafts, canoeing, practicing marksmanship and participating in other Boy Scout activities.

The 300 boys who attend each camp session range in age from 11 to 14. Their camp director is Jack Starke, Palatine. He is assisted by a 45-member staff, including volunteers who help to run the activities at the two-week sessions. Staff members are as young as 16 and as old as 75.

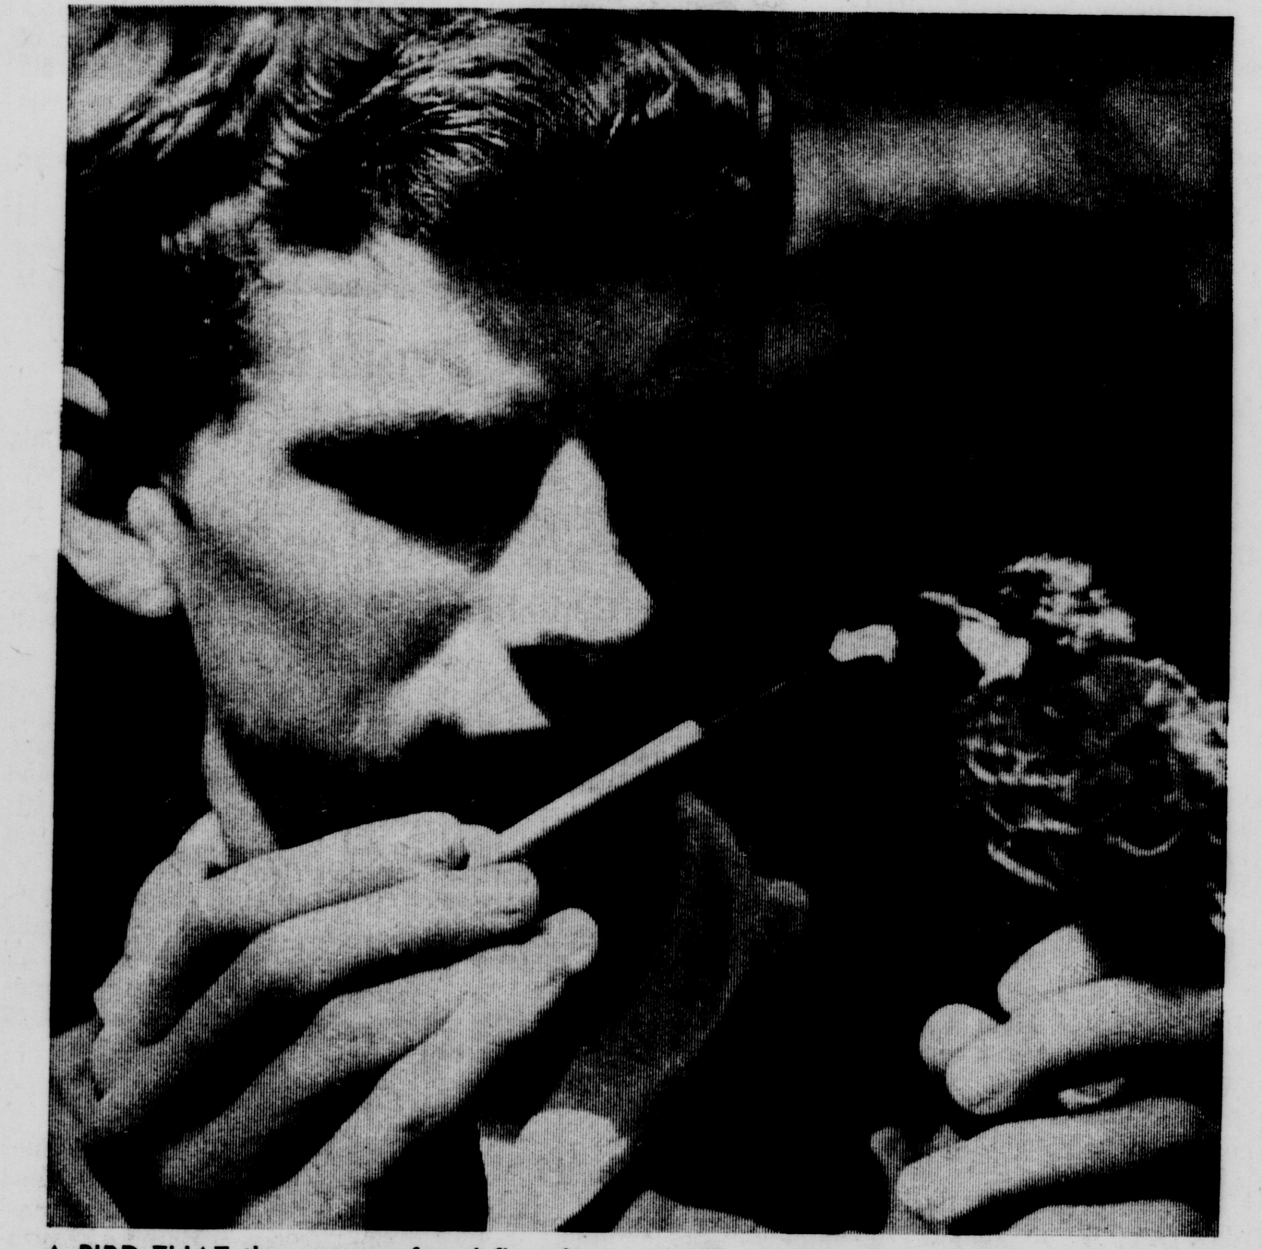
FREE SWIM MEANS fun time for Bill Turner, Robert Neven and Pat Young, all of Palatine, who kick up the sand in their eager sprint to the water.



A BIRD THAT the campers found floundering in the water gets special attention from staff member, Craig Schulze, of Arlington Heights.

COMPANIONSHIP BETWEEN LEADERS and their troops is one of the primary elements in scout camping. Volunteer leaders such as this man work with an average of 35 boys each.

CANOES, A HOT SUN, water and lots of eager Scouts make aquatic activities a favorite at the camp.
